MAYOR CURLEY PAYS BRILLIANT TRIBUTE TO MARTYRS WHOSE BLOOD WAS SHED DURING THE BOSTON MASSACRE, UPON ANNIVERSARY OF EVENT — BROADCASTS ADDRESS EULOGIZING REVOLUTIONARY HEROES AND POINTS TO FACT THAT GOD PROVIDES THE MEN FOR NATION'S NEEDS WHEN TIMES DEMAND, AND TODAY FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT IS THE CHOSEN INSTRUMENT TO SAVE AMERICA.

Mayor Curley, over radio station WNAC, on the anniversary of the Boston Massacre, on March 6, spoke in part as follows:

Friends of the Radio Audience.

This is the anniversary of the Boston Massacre and, in conformity with established custom, the official representatives of the Commonwealth and of the Municipality and of various civic organizations assembled today to place a wreath, symbolic of affection and admiration for the first martyrs in the movement for the establishment of American liberty.

No individual in the history of our nation has paid a more profound and beautiful tribute to the services of these men than the late lamented John Boyle O'Reilly, who was the orator upon the occasion of the dedication of the monument to Crispus Attucks at Boston Common in 1888. Upon that occasion, among other things, Boyle O'Reilly said, speaking of this group of men, consisting of Crispus Attucks, a Negro; Patrick Carr, an Irishman; Samuel Gray, Jonas Caldwell and Samuel Maverick of English extraction:

"O, blood of the people! changeless tide, through century, creed and race!
Still one as the sweet salt sea is one, though tempered by sun and place;
The same in the ocean currents, and the same in the sheltered seas;
Forever the fountain of common hopes and kindly sympathies;
Indian and Negro, Saxon and Celt, Teuton and Latin and Gaul —
Mere surface shadow and sunshine; while the sounding unifies all!
One love, one hope, one duty their's! No matter the time or ken,
There never was separate heart-beat in all the races of men.

But alien is one — of class, not race — he has drawn the line for himself;
He roots drink life from inhuman soil, from garbage of pomp and pelf;
His heart beats not with the common beat, he has changed his life-streams hue:
He deems his flesh to be finer flesh, he boasts that his blood is blue;
Patrician, aristocrat, Tory — whatever his age or name,
To the people's rights and liberties, a traitor ever the same.
The natural crowd is a mob to him, their prayer a vulgar rhyme;
The freeman's speech is sedition, and the patriot's deed a crime.
Wherever the race, the law, the land — whatever the time or throne,
The Tory is always a traitor to every class but his own.

Thank God for a land where pride is clipped, where arrogance stalks apart;
Where law and song and loathing of wrong are words of the common heart;
Where the masses honor straightforward strength, and know, when veins are bled,
That the bluest blood is putrid blood, that the people's blood is red.

And honor to Crispus Attucks, who was leader and voice that day;
The first to defy, and the first to die, with Maverick, Carr and Gray.
Call it riot or revolution, his hand first clenched at the crown;
His feet were the first in perilous place to pull the king's flag down;
His breast was the first one rent apart that liberty's stream might flow:
For our freedom now and forever, his head was the first laid low."

So on this occasion I want to express, in behalf of the entire citizenship of Boston, my thanks and theirs to the Equal Rights League for this annual observance of the anniversary of the Boston Massacre, and I recommend to everyone listening in that some time or other they repair to this monument from whose inscription one may ever glean the necessary measure of patriotism so essential to the preservation of our nation, and read the inscription of Daniel Webster:

"From that moment (meaning the Boston Massacre)
We may date
The severance of
The British Empire."

And the inscription of John Adams:

"On that night the foundation of American Independence was laid."

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"
From Boston Centennial Poem by
NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.

OVER $5,000,000 IN OPERATING ECONOMIES EFFECTED IN PAST THREE YEARS
BY MAYOR CURLEY THROUGH EFFORTS OF HEADS OF DEPARTMENTS AND CITY'S EMPLOYEES WHOSE CONTRIBUTIONS TO UNEMPLOYMENT
HAVE BEEN OVER $1,000,000.

In the past three years it is estimated that economies in operating costs in the various departments of the city, totaling approximately $5,000,000, have been effected under the direction of the Mayor.

The following table indicates the various economies and savings entering into this total:

Voluntary pay roll contributions by city employees	$1,400,000 00
Reduction in pay roll appropriations	1,086,266 57
Vacancies allowed to remain unfilled or filled at lower rates	$663,428 68
Utilization of services of Public Welfare beneficiaries, in place of seasonal temporary employees	200,332 99
Substitution of compensatory time off for cash payments on overtime work	222,504 90
Taking maximum advantage of prevailing low market prices by anticipating departmental requirements and purchasing in bulk	720,044 00
Confining repairs to departmental equipment and property to minimum maintenance requirements	583,962 35
Reduction in allowances for purchase of motor vehicles, resulting partially from adoption of U-Dryvit System	103,169 00
Limiting purchase of new furniture, office equipment, machinery, uniforms, etc., to barest necessities	373,025 00
Reduction in Reserve Fund allowance made possible largely by improved methods in handling legal claims against the city	217,423 93
Downward revision in allowances for public celebrations, conventions, entertainment of distinguished guests, etc.	150,000 00
Limiting departmental allowances for purchase of new books, periodicals, etc.	121,000 00
Lower contract costs for removal of waste	103,169 00
Savings resulting from greater supervision of departmental printing	75,330 00
Utilization of city employees in place of hiring outside experts	37,194 00
Discontinuance of city planning and other investigational activities	30,750 00
Lower street lighting costs resulting from negotiations instigated by city officials	26,460 00
Savings in transportation and carfare expense of employees	20,005 00
Voluntary pay roll contributions by school employees	19,262 00
Voluntary pay roll contributions by county employees	960,000 00
Savings resulting from suspension of annual step-rate increases	140,000 00
	375,000 00
	$6,438,891 85

The first two items, while secured from direct appropriations within the school and county budgets, nevertheless are reflected in the city budget, since the anticipated requirements for public welfare have been reduced to the extent of pay roll contributions to be made by all classes of employees. The third item might be very well claimed as a saving, since, if sliding scale increases had not been suspended, pay roll appropriations in 1933 would necessarily have been considerably larger. I have been conservative in my estimate as to the saving under this particular item, owing to the fact that sliding scale increases in the Police and Fire Departments were not suspended until 1932, whereas in all other departments the suspension dated from 1930.

BROADCAST BY MAYOR CURLEY.

Today they talk in our community of dispensing in the sacred name of economy with observances of days that mean so much in the long, toilsome, uphill march of humanity for the establishment of a higher order of equality and of liberty.

I do not subscribe to their viewpoint and I feel that observance of those holidays that are peculiarly the province of the people of our own section of the United States is essential to patriotism and necessary to the continued existence of the American Republic.

With the passing of the years there comes to us a realization of what an important contribution to the establishment of free government was the martyrdom of Attucks, Grey, Maverick, Carr and Caldwell. The Boston Massacre antedated Concord and Lexington by five years. It was the first baptism of blood to be shed by the people of the colonies in the sacred name of liberty and in all human probability were it not for the sacrifice for liberty made here by Attucks and his fellow patriots the freedom of the colonies might have been long delayed, possibly never achieved; and so it is fitting that we should assemble and pay our meed of tribute to the memories of these men, who with their blood laid the foundation for what we in our day know as the American Republic. This nation has passed through many interesting periods from the day of the Boston Massacre, and yet every crisis has developed its leader. God in His infinite mercy has been exceedingly kind to the people of America, and we sometimes wonder, if, after all, the American Nation is not the instrument especially designed by Almighty God for carrying into execution His mysterious and divine decrees. When we were most weak as a nation He gave us leadership in Washington and statesmanship in Jefferson that helped pave the way for the fruition, if you will, of the dreams, aspirations and ideals of good women and men the whole world over,—liberty. At another critical period in the life of the nation when there was a possibility that all that had been accomplished in the march of human progress in nearly eighteen centuries would be destroyed, He gave us from a log cabin in Kentucky, Lincoln, through whose God-given leadership the shackles were stricken from the black people the world over and the nation preserved without the loss of state to the Union or star to the Flag. At another period when there was a possibility that through the abuse of power and through the development of plutocracy the nation was again threatened, He gave us another leader in the person of the late lamented Woodrow Wilson, who brought us back to the paths that had been trod with success and safety by Lincoln and the predecessors of Lincoln to the day of Washington. America might well be inspired by the courageous and spiritual message given to America and the world by the present great leader of the nation, Franklin D. Roosevelt. His message on Saturday last might well recall to every individual in America that without the aid of God nothing is possible. Franklin D. Roosevelt has pointed out to us not only the necessity for a higher order of brotherhood, but the absolute and imperative necessity of recognizing that God is essential to whatever progress may be achieved in this nation. Under the leadership of Roosevelt in this dark hour of the nation, when the specter of distress threatens every home, we may rejoice that in him, the President of the United States, we have a man equally as courageous in his public utterances as Attucks and Carr and the others were in deeds at another hour of the life of this nation. Under his leadership we will emerge from the valley of sorrow in which we have been plunged for the past four years and once more proceed along the high road, where the sun shines, with God in our hearts and the faith and fortitude that knows only success.

KANSAS CITY WINS POLICE HOME RULE.

The Supreme Court of Missouri has given Kansas City control of its police department.

For years those who wanted the city to operate and control its own police department had been going to the Legislature regularly with bills which would end state control. But conditions were never just right. The city raised the question of the constitutionality of the law under which the department has operated, and the Court held the law unconstitutional in a five-to-two opinion.

The police department of Kansas City had been under the control of the state since 1874. Under the law as it has existed in recent years, the department was administered by a commission of three members, two appointed by the governor and the mayor, ex officio.

The city attacked the law on the ground that it delegated legislative powers to an administrative board. In this contention the city was upheld, the court holding that the limitations in the law were not sufficiently definite to prevent the commissioners from making almost unlimited demands on the city treasury.

WATER SUPPLY FROM WELLS.

The entire water supply of Memphis is taken from wells. The wells penetrate two strata of sand, the upper stratum being 300 to 500 feet below the surface, and the lower stratum roughly 1,000 feet deeper. The upper stratum, known as the LaGrange formation, is the more important and furnishes most of the supply. It is the one commonly used in this vicinity.

The lower stratum has been developed by the city to a limited extent, because wells in it do not interfere with those in the upper stratum, and therefore wells in the respective strata can be placed in close proximity to each other, and a greater capacity obtained from a given area. The LaGrange formation underlies western Tennessee, eastern Arkansas and northern Mississippi. It outcrops in a belt roughly parallel with the Mississippi river and some 40 miles eastward therefrom. Throughout this entire region it furnishes an ample supply to many municipalities and industries. The outcrop area is such that an abundant supply is in sight, for everyone caring to use it, for many years to come. The sands and clays, which are interspersed, are supposed to be deposits formed in prehistoric times, when the entire Mississippi Valley as far north as Cairo was practically an arm of the Gulf of Mexico.

CHICAGO CLEARING FISCAL SNARLS.

Chicago is slowly unraveling the fiscal snarl which has brought its local governments to the verge of complete standstill. The assessing machinery of Cook County has been reorganized and an honest, capable and impartial assessor placed in full charge. Legislative authorization has been obtained, through a special session of the Illinois General Assembly, to bridge the gap until the tax gathering machinery can be made to function normally again. Vigorous efforts are also being made to force the various taxing bodies to reduce current budgets so that the aggregate expenditures of all governments in Cook County in 1932 will fall within sharply decreasing tax collections.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION, EAST BOSTON HIGH SCHOOL

Mr. Albert West of 173 Bennington Street, East Boston, presented a petition on behalf of some three hundred graduates of the East Boston High School, that the newly formed organization be recognized as the only existing East Boston High School Alumni Association, and in connection therewith stated that the original East Boston High School Alumni Association was established about 1883; that since the election of the present president in 1923, there has been, to the knowledge of the petitioners, but one meeting of the organization; that because of this situation many of the alumni have desired to reorganize the association and in pursuance of that desire a meeting was called on January 4, 1933, when it was unanimously voted that the organization be and thereby was reorganized.

Questioned as to provisions of the constitution and by-laws of the existing alumni association, Mr. West stated that he has been unable to secure a copy of the constitution and by-laws.

Mr. West suggested that the School Committee obtain for the petitioners a copy of the constitution and by-laws and direct the president of the Alumni Association to hold a meeting as provided for in the constitution.

The Chairman expressed his personal feeling that in every school there should be an active alumni association, and stated that in his opinion if the Committee can in any way facilitate the activity, it will be rendering a service to the schools. He did not believe that the Committee has authority to direct any graduate organization to hold a meeting.

On motion of Mrs. Pigeon, the petition was received and taken under advisement, the Chairman stating that the Committee will endeavor to make an early reply thereto.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

The four orders laid over at the meeting of Feb. 6, 1933, making changes in the authorized list of text books, were taken up and passed unanimously.

The Committee adjourned.

COMES TO DEFENCE OF EVACUATION DAY CELEBRATION BY BOSTON CITIZENS.

His Honor the Mayor, on March 6, received the following communication from the Chief Marshal, Joseph P. Madden, U. S. N., retired, of the Evacuation Day parade:

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

HONORED SIR,—The pro-British element, who have waged combat for many years against American traditions, have apparently enlisted the aid of the Finance Commission in taking advantage of hard times to dissuade observances of historic events.

If Evacuation Day receives no recognition this year it will be relegated to the ash heap for all time and a major victory will be recorded for the enemies of American tradition.

They would belittle those who advocate the commemoration of historic events. Every true American who knows his nation's history, who loves his country's traditions, who respects the memory of those who died to perpetuate American ideals, will not stand idly by when an attempt is made to discard commemoration of important historical occasions.

The gentlemen of the Finance Commission evidently are not familiar with the importance of Evacuation Day. I doubt if they realize its true significance.

If there were no evacuating of Boston by the British on that eventful night in 1776, it is doubtful if we would have an Independence Day or any other holidays under the Stars and Stripes. Were it not for the entrenchments dug and the cannon mounted on Dorchester Heights the British would never have evacuated Boston and today you would be Lord Mayor and we would all owe allegiance to King George V.

The practical demonstrations commemorating historic events in our national glorious history are too valuable a part of the education of our people to sacrifice them to the whims of any five men. There is plenty of room to practice economy by eliminating fads and frills which are entertaining but not of any material value to our children or to our mature citizens.

This year the South Boston Citizens' Association have been proceeding with plans to celebrate Evacuation Day on the smallest appropriation in years and are keeping within that appropriation but still fittingly honoring the occasion.

Your Honor, realizing the tremendous toll on the city treasury, due to public welfare, made this small allowance rather than see Evacuation Day go by unobserved. I sincerely hope that plans may proceed under the direction of the Director of Public Celebrations and the minimized celebration held as usual.

Faugh a Ballagh for South Boston. Thanking you sincerely for your co-operation, I remain,

Respectfully yours,
JOSEPH PATRICK MADDEN.

Dear Sir,—I beg to acknowledge receipt of your communication relative to order adopted by the City Council asking for information in re printing of this office, and furnish the following. During the year 1932 the printing has been done by the Washington Press of this city and amounted to: Sessions and office printing..... $6,494 66 Daily trial lists..... 7,393 00

It has been sent directly to the printer. The Washington Press is a union shop and I have made it a practise during the last twenty-eight years since I have been clerk to send all work to union shops. I believe that a union label is a guarantee of superior workmanship, and that the work is done under sanitary conditions. I regret that the rules of Court prevent the use of the label on court forms, otherwise I should have "Made in Union Shops" on all printing matter. I propose to continue this good and wholesome practice as long as I am clerk.

Respectfully yours,
FRANCIS A. CAMPBELL,
Clerk.

City of Boston,
Weights and Measures Department,
February 27, 1933.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—In view of the fact that the service of the chief deputy sealer has been terminated, I am of the opinion that the size of this department does not warrant three executive officers, and that the best interests of the city, from an economic viewpoint, will be served by changing the present ordinance to permit the appointment of one additional deputy sealer and the abolition of the position of chief deputy sealer.

Respectfully,
JAMES A. SWEENEY, Sealer.

CONSOLIDATION OF CERTAIN DEPARTMENTS.

Coun. BRACKMAN offered the following:

Ordered, That a committee be appointed to consider the advisability of consolidating certain departments of the City of Boston and to make a report of such hearing to his Honor the Mayor.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, my purpose in offering an order of this kind at this time is because it has come to my attention that various cities of the Commonwealth have conducted research into this situation and have found that some of the departments created during normal economic times could very well be dispensed with during the present crisis. I believe that we should at least make some attempt to ascertain whether we can cut city expenses by possibly consolidating certain departments that may well be dispensed with today without injury to the service of the City of Boston. I respectfully ask that the order be passed.

The order was referred to the Committee on Rules.

RECESS.

The Council voted, at 2.31 p. m., on motion of Coun. ROBERTS, to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled in the Council Chamber and were called to order by President McGRATH at 3.41 p. m.

FINANCE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. KELLY, for the Committee on Finance, submitted the following:

1. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred January 9) that $500,000 be appropriated for Highways, Making of, under provisions of chapter 393 of Acts of 1906—that same ought not to pass, without prejudice.

The report was accepted and the question came on the passage of the order.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, in the absence of the chairman of the Finance Committee I wish to tell the members of the Council that the committee has had two meetings on these loan orders of one million dollars for sewers and $500,000 for the construction of streets. The Committee on Finance reported, with only one dissenter of those present at the last meeting, that we ought to submit this report back to the Council, that the $1,500,000 should not pass at this time. Consequently we have so submitted our report, ought not to pass, without prejudice. Perhaps some of the reasons why the Committee on Finance so reported should be brought to the attention of the other members of the Council. First of all, we felt, so far as the million dollars for sewers was concerned, that that work should be done either by day labor or by men who are now receiving aid from public welfare, thereby saving the taxpayers 52 cents on every thousand dollars' worth of assessed property. We know that in the past this work has been distributed to pet contractors, that these pet contractors have been allowed to go out and hire aliens, nonresidents of Boston, in preference to citizens and residents of Boston, then paying those men any amount of money that they saw fit to pay. There is absolutely no stipulation in the contract with these contractors which calls upon them to pay a decent wage. They can pay absolutely anything they wish. We find that this coming year in Boston we are confronted with very serious problems. Men connected with the city forces will probably have to contribute twice as much as they are contributing now. Also, thousands of our property owners, who had accumulated enough to obtain a small dwelling, people representing the backbone of Boston, are facing the sorrowful fact that they will perhaps have to lose their life's savings as a result of unjustifiably increased taxation. Therefore, Mr. President, in defense of those city employees, and in defense of those property owners who contribute 78 cents out of every dollar spent by the Mayor of Boston, the members of the Finance Committee feel that this is not the proper time to spend this $1,500,000. Upon questioning the Public Works Commissioner in executive session, he said that perhaps $250,000 of this may be used for salaries. Some of the members of the Council may rise after I am seated and say, "We want to keep those men at work in the Public Works Department." I say, "Of course we want to do so," and we will keep them at work. Money sufficient to pay their salaries until the first of April has been appropriated. But we want the experienced men in the Public Works Department to supervise the work done by day labor or by those from the Public Welfare Department. If that is done, those men can be kept at work. The Finance Committee of the Council wants to keep them at work, feeling that they are qualified. No member of the Council can tell the speaker that in our Public Works Department we have not men who can do construction work and supervise construction work on the streets. Also I know men in my ward who are on public welfare who would be perfectly capable of working on the streets or sewers of Boston and would be glad to take it over. And let no one use the argument that if those men are put on the streets no street construction will be done. If you take some of these public welfare men—strong, healthy fellows—and, instead of having them chase a little pile of dirt and marking work, have them do some honest-to-goodness work. I know many of them would be more than pleased to do it, and we should have in the course of a year practically every unaccepted street and every unpaved street in Boston paved and repaired. But if we are forced to go outside of the Public Welfare Department let the work be done by day labor, not by a certain group of pet contractors who come in, as I said before, and hire aliens and nonresidents at whatever figure they want to give. Of course, the argument will be used in regard to the few men that the contractors require—and there would probably be only a few in this machine age—that if they were not doing this work they would be placed on public welfare, at the expense of the city. Well, let us see. I don't think we will have to support nonresidents of the City of Boston in the Public Welfare Department. I don't know of any law that compels us to support such men who may be up against it, and I think many of those men working for the pet contractors who have had the preference for a good many years, have saved up a few dollars and will not be candidates for aid at the hands of our Welfare Department. Now, Mr. President, this particular loan order needs fifteen votes. Every city and town in the state is economizing. Something has got to be done. We heard the Commissioner of Public Works say that $4,000,000 of sewer construction has been placed before him. If we give him a million there must still be three millions of this work that must wait. He says that the loan is customary. There are a lot of things that have been customary that will have to be dispensed with this coming year in order for us to keep going and not become a bankrupt city on the hands of the state. So I feel, Mr. President, in the case of this order, which needs fifteen votes for passage in this Council, that this is not a proper time to spend $1,000,000 that will be placed under the street and never seen. The other $500,000 is for repairs on the streets. Now, why not have these fellows who are pushing brooms around do some of the work of repairing on the different streets? They can do it. The argument will be used that there are no men in the Public Welfare Department capable mentally or physically of doing street construction. I disagree with whoever may advance that particular argument. Some of the cleverest, smartest, hardest-working men in Boston are on the Public Welfare Department, not only in the laboring classes but in the white collar class. Jim Balfe, our statistician upstairs, is compiling reports that are very useful to all members of the Council and to the city in general, and some of the smartest young men in Boston are receiving aid from the city and are up there working eight or nine hours a day. No man can tell me that they are not doing good work, and if we put the public welfare men at this sort of work we will save a million and a quarter dollars. Certainly it is better to do that, giving it to these fellows rather than to pet contractors. Let the City of Boston do the work, not the contractors. Hire laborers by the day and pay them a substantial day's pay.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, we have been talking economy for a long time, and this is an opportunity to exercise real economy that will help conserve the finances of the city and relieve the taxpayers. The expenditure proposed here is half a million. We have trimmed off $10,000 here and $5,000 there, small amounts that will not affect the tax rate very much, but we have an opportunity here to cut off an expenditure of half a million dollars without, I believe, causing any of the taxpayers to suffer. I believe this work can wait for a year; that things are not in such bad shape that that will do a great deal of harm, and then probably by the end of the year we will be in better condition to spend this money. I really think at this time that we would be doing well in voting against this order. As far as day labor is concerned, in my opinion it would be very wise for the Street Laying-Out Department to consolidate with the Public Works Department, and we would then get the benefit of the engineers employed in the Street Laying-Out Department, and under them could put men at work by day labor. In that way we would be performing a real service, because we would be employing men on the civil service list who have been there for two and a half years and not taken off. For that reason I am going to vote against this order.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, the way I feel now I am only going to vote this year for pay rolls, hospitals and welfare. I think what I have been talking about for a long time is going to happen this year, one of the greatest evils we have seen. The important question confronting us will be the pay rolls and taking care of the poor people of Boston. We can do without streets for the time being, and I say that although coming from a ward where the streets are perhaps in worse condition than is the case with all the other members of the Council put together. But we can do without streets for the time being. And we can do without sewers. We have already spent $100,000 on sewers, and there are 250 miles of sewers underground in the City of Boston.

They offer a splendid opportunity for waste of the city's money, because nobody knows anything about them. But, as a matter of fact, Mr. President, we are located on the ocean, and if we went about that in the right way, instead of putting so much into sewers, we could have the ocean do a great deal of the work. The cost of our streets for the last twenty-five years has been considerably larger than for the average American city. But we can get along without $1,000,000 for sewers this year. The important question confronting us, as I say, is the feeding and care of the unemployed and taking care of the pay rolls at City Hall. That is a very serious problem. Boston tried to borrow money last week, and Phil Stockton refused to loan the money for the pay roll. But they were able to cover it in some other way. The moment, however, that the First National Bank refuses a temporary loan, there is no pay roll, and some students of financial matters in the City of Boston claim that after the city has borrowed by next August about $45,000,000, the schools will close for the rest of the year, because we will do well today in Boston to collect $45,000,000 in taxes. We hear a lot of talk about the financial condition of the city. My answer to Rupert Carven and others who tell about the fine financial condition of the city today is to look out the window to see what is going on around you. The shows, the theaters, are paying. The public monopolies like the electric light, telephone and gas companies are paying. But the City of Boston on February 1 of this year asked for bids on a temporary loan of $2,000,000 and there were no bidders. The financial situation in Boston is not on a good basis, because the average building in Boston is assessed for double or more what it is actually worth. How can the finances of the city be good when such conditions prevail? When the time comes that we ask for a loan to pay our policemen and firemen, and the loan is not forthcoming, there will be payless pay days. As I say, we got no offers to take that $2,000,000 loan, but on February 11, ten days later, another bid was put out for $4,000,000, to pay the policemen, firemen and others and to provide food for the needy, and finally the Shawmut Bank agreed to loan $4,000,000 at 3 per cent, and that called forth vigorous objection from the chairman of the Finance Commission, since it was the highest rate of interest that the city has ever paid for a temporary loan in anticipation of taxes. Two weeks later on February 25,—and this is a sample of what we are coming to,—the City of Boston asked for $3,000,000, and no one would bid on it. Not a financial house cared to lend the City of Boston $3,000,000 on February 25, a few days ago, on a temporary loan—which ordinarily is considered in itself a very good risk. But through a private arrangement with the First National Bank, President Stockton agreed to loan the money and the City of Boston has been able to pay its policemen, firemen and other employees this week, and also to take care of our Welfare Department. The First National Bank finally gave $3,000,000 at 4 per cent. If the First National Bank refused two days ago to pay that money, there would have been no pay roll this week and no more money to give to the poor. That is the condition, gentlemen, that faces this city today. Yesterday one of the most brilliant writers in Boston, the editor of the Boston Post, had a little something to say which I think was very good and conservative, gentlemen, extraordinarily conservative. Just imagine these words, published in the Sunday Post, yesterday's paper: "We are now able to see that the present crisis is no ordinary breakdown of business"—we remember the bands about here playing "Happy Days are Here Again," and the cry that "Prosperity is just around the corner"—"we are now able to see that the present crisis is no ordinary breakdown of business, something to be endured for a brief period while industry is getting ready for a fresh start. It is a vast readjustment which will last over a period of years. In the process of this readjustment millions of people will be badly hurt. A great deal of wealth has already disappeared." Dave Walsh says that two out of three homes are threatened. "Thousands of good-sized income taxpayers in the past have very little income now." Frank Goodwin says the way to get over the present crisis is to smash the rich by taxing intangibles. That sounds good, because it doesn't mean much to most people except "tax somebody else." Tax them. Well, if they will show me one single state that taxes intangibles more than Massachusetts does, I will show them a state where the intangibles disappear. Take a thousand-dollar bond—it is the easiest thing in the world to place it in Rhode Island, where there is no tax. Why keep it here? Oh, no state is going to be able to impose any such tax as they suggest. Where they try taxing these incomes any higher than they are now being taxed, they are simply driving this intangible property out of the state. So it is only an idle dream to think that you can tax the wealthy in this way beyond a certain point. When you start out doing it your intangible property disappears, as it can easily do. As the writer in the Post said yesterday: "Thousands of good-sized income taxpayers in the past have very little income now. Thousands of people are living in houses and can't even pay the taxes, let alone mortgage interest. And more and more people as their savings are exhausted are compelled to seek help from the city."

And what will those 110,000 people now asking for something to eat do if in the future the First National Bank refuses to loan money to the city as it did a few days ago? There is one more statement of the editor of the Boston Post to which I would like to call attention. He said:

"Boston sold several thousand tax titles this year, but what will happen when there are ten thousand and fifteen thousand pieces of property on which the taxes are in default? At that point chaos in the city finances is not far off."

In other words, that is what John Bantry says, that when not several thousand but ten thousand or fifteen thousand tax titles are sold, as may happen this year in this city, it means chaos. Therefore, Mr. President, I am voting against the streets, sewers and contracts. I want to keep the pay rolls going for city employees. I don't want to put them in a position where they will not be able to carry on. Why should employees of the City Printing Plant, for example, be laid off? Why not treat all alike? That is the question. I don't want to see the day come when our employees will be laid off. I want to protect those men, and in protecting them I am asking that this year we eliminate sewers and streets and favors to contractors, everything that can be eliminated for the year, and that we take care of our pay rolls and of our Welfare Department. Our problem is to take care of our employees and feed our poor.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, may I inquire whether we are now acting on both the street and the sewer appropriations, or just one?

President McGRATH—Just highways, making of the order providing $500,000. The question is on the passage of the order. The order was rejected (15 votes being required for passage), yeas 14, nays 4:

Yeas: Coun. Barker, Burke, Cox, Donovan, Enclert, Fish, Fitzgerald, Gallagher, Green, Hein, Lynch, McGrath, Power and Ruby—14.

Nays: Coun. Brackman, Kelly, Norton, Roberts—4.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, I desire to offer a substitute order.

Councilor Ruby offered the following:

Ordered, That the sum of $250,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated for Highways, Making of under the provisions of chapter 393 of the Acts of 1906 and that to meet said appropriations the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon the request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

The question came on the passage of the order.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I feel that we ought not to pass this order, and I think all of the four members who voted "no" will feel the same way in regard to this order. If this thing is wrong, uncalled for, nonessential, something that can be eliminated in part, it can be eliminated in whole. So, without going into any lengthy discussion, I am just going to ask the members of the Council to vote "no" and to continue voting "no" on such orders as this, for I see no reason why a quarter of a million dollars should be spent for this purpose.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, this is an important matter. Members have been getting up here and talking about favored contractors and here is an opportunity to show where we stand. It is proposed here that we should give $250,000 for streets, under this order. Now, we can keep that money from these contractors, these favored ones. It is not today a question of sewers or streets but of feeding people and taking care of our pay roll at City Hall.

Coun. GREEN—Mr. Chairman, I should like to ask the gentleman from Hyde Park a question—whether it is not true that, if we don't take some action on the loan order this afternoon, the pay rolls are in jeopardy?

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I thought it was clearly understood that the city pay rolls were taken care of up to April 1. The gentleman acting as chairman of the committee stated that his first interest was in taking care of the poor and second in taking care of the pay roll. Now, I would like to see whether the members here are sincere, when this $250,000 order is presented.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I can perhaps answer the colleague from Charlestown (Coun. Green). According to Christopher Carven, before the Finance Committee, he had enough money to take care of the pay roll until at least the first of April. There is no necessity of letting a man go. We members of the Council may be sure that if this money is spent for day labor or is spent upon the Public Welfare Department, which is costing us close to $12,000,000 a year, those men in the department will keep on the job. There is no reason for letting anybody go. We want them all to stay; and those of us who voted against the appropriation of $500,000 and are now going to vote against this proposed appropriation of $250,000, all believe in keeping those men at work. Their pay is taken care of until April 1. So let us tackle the question that will confront us in that respect on April 1, if there is then no money available to pay them.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, I like sometimes to follow the logic of even those who disagree with me as far as certain orders are concerned, but I am glad that this question of the men being kept on the pay roll has been kept up. We were told a while ago by the acting head of the department that there was money enough to take care of certain employees until April 1, but that statement is now modified by the Public Works Commissioner himself, telling us that in his opinion there will not be money enough to last for the month of March. I believe good business requires that we take no chances. In fact, if there is only enough money to last until April 1, it would certainly be a very proper thing to pass this order now, because that is not far ahead of us, and action before that time will certainly be necessary. Even if there should be money enough to last for the next month or so that is not like a provision of means to keep them going until November or December. It certainly behooves us to take up in proper time the question of meeting salaries and wages. I trust, therefore, that even those who oppose the $500,000 order, realizing that the need is going to arise very soon, by April 1 if not before, will vote for this appropriation of $250,000 to meet the threatened emergency. While I agree with the councilor from Ward 18 (Coun. Norton) that it is incumbent upon us to practice the strictest economy, I don't believe it is economy to improperly postpone a necessary thing; and, while we may differ as to the immediate necessity of it, I believe the largest city in this Commonwealth, with present conditions as they are set forth by the councilor from Ward 18 (Coun. Norton), should be a bit forehanded and should see that we will still continue to function as a city. We must keep our streets passable, in such condition that the people from outside who wish to visit us and to stay here may still come in and do what little business they have to transact even if, looking at it from a pessimistic point of view, and I am not yet pessimistic, they may be simply coming in here to travel our streets. The commissioner has told us about certain streets that are not in good condition. This money will take care of those streets, allowing them to be repaired. Therefore, even granting that in voting for this we are passing an order which is providing for the near future, an order which is supposed to provide for conditions which will exist on April 1, certainly cannot be long delayed. I cannot for the life of me see the logic of the reasoning that by taking welfare workers we are going to help the unemployed. Helping the poor unfortunate people who are being aided by welfare, while very necessary, is not helping people who are not yet applying for welfare aid, and who will receive aid if we pass the appropriation through the work that they will be able to do. I cannot get myself to believe that a man with four or five children, getting $9 a week aid from the Welfare Department, ought to replace a man who should be getting $5 a day, the usual laborer's wage in working on the repair of a street. When men can be employed on the streets at sixty-two and one-half cents an hour, there is no rhyme or reason why we, as public officials, in the name of the man who lives in your district, Mr. President, or my district, and who is getting $9 a week because he has a wife and several children to support, should take action resulting in men from the Public Welfare Department obtaining work for three days, for which they will receive but $9, where $5 a day is the usual pay. I am told that the welfare worker who gets $9 for working three days cannot get the $15 paid to the ordinary laborer. Be that as it may, this is an order proposing to appropriate a quarter of a million dollars for highways, making of, or reconstruction of highways, and most of it is for salaries. Therefore, I trust that the four members who voted against the original order will see the light of day in this matter. I know that they want these men to secure their weekly pay, and they admit that there will not be any money there after the latter part of March. Assuming that we adjourn today for two weeks, we will not come back here until the 13th of March, and there is a serious chance of putting 100 or 200 employees in jeopardy. If we pass this $250,000 order, that risk will be avoided. May I add that this does not mean an increased tax rate, as we would be led to believe. This is a loan order, the money borrowed being paid for over a period of years; $250,000 borrowed today under this appropriation will mean only one half of one cent in the 1933 tax rate. While it may be argued that we have to pay interest under the serial indebtedness plan, nevertheless this will extend over a period of twenty years and it will not appear in our present tax rate. Even if it did we have some obligation to look after the people employed by the city, and I see no injustice to the citizens of Boston in voting for this substitute order.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, I would rise to a point of information. Have we not provided in the budget for the salaries or wages of Public Works employees? Isn't that a part of the appropriation that goes to salaries?

President McGRATH—The payments made under the order before us come out of what are known as street or sewer loans, and do not appear in the budget.

Coun. BRACKMAN—That is so in the repaving of streets as well as the making of streets?

President McGRATH—That is so in regard to the sewer loan or the making of highways loan. Payments out of either of them do not come out of the regular budget.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Do I understand that that applies to all highways being resurfaced, or to construction of new streets?

President McGRATH—The work on a great many of the highways is done by the regular force. But when it comes to highways, making of, there is a loan appropriation from which these men receive their salaries or wages. They depend entirely on the amount provided under the loan orders.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I didn't anticipate that I would find it necessary to ask the question I am now going to ask, in view of what has been brought out here. I am going to ask a specific question, Mr. President. Do you know, of your own knowledge, if this money is not forthcoming, that approximately five hundred temporary employees of the City of Boston will have their services with the city terminated?

President McGRATH—I would not say that there are 500, but there are a number of men whose services will be terminated in the event that this loan order is not passed, and it takes fourteen days, two readings, to pass it.

Coun. BURKE—And that information came to you as President of the Council from the Mayor of Boston?

President McGRATH—That is true.

Coun. BURKE—I think, Mr. President, that any information you get along those lines, pertaining to such a question as is now before the Council, should be transmitted to the Council, so that the members may realize the seriousness of the situation. I, for one, believe in economy, for the Government as well as for the individual. At the same time we have to have common sense with economy, and I think it would not be common sense if we failed to pass an order calling for an expenditure of $250,000 in a matter so closely correlated with the work of the City of Boston, particularly dealing with an important subject matter like this which is brought before the Council year after year. Also, it is represented in a loan which is to be paid for over a period of years, for work which will be beneficial not only to us but to those who come after us, and is to be met by serial bonds which will not to any appreciable degree increase the tax rate. I believe the arguments presented here, particularly that presented by the gentleman from Ward 18 (Coun. Norton), referring to the ordinary loans in anticipation of taxes, should not have any weight with us in dealing with this matter today. This is not the question of the ordinary loan in anticipation of taxes, but it represents the custom, the usage of the City of Boston, from time immemorial; and, although financial conditions generally are not as strong as they might be, an order of this nature is not going to shatter the foundations or impair the financial stability of the city. It would be much worse to take 500 employees and throw them out of work and make them resort to the Welfare Department. That would be a much more serious matter financially to the City of Boston, because every man investigated by the Welfare Department requires the services of visitors and general detailed work by the department over a period of time. As for the Welfare Department, I think I can show you that at the present time 40 per cent of the people provided for there are not citizens at all, although they are entitled to the same treatment as citizens. I understand that 719 in one precinct of the City of Boston are receiving welfare aid. Now, what are you going to do with these men who would be employed if this order is passed, if you do not give them work? You will simply be placing them in the ranks of the unemployed and putting them in the Welfare Department. Again, when you talk about placing these welfare men at work constructing streets, if those men down there were put on such work for eight hours a day, their weekly wages would average 15 or 20 cents an hour—and can you tell me what man is going to work on street construction at 15 to 20 cents an hour? And if you carried out that sort of a plan you would have 40 per cent of the men on the city work aliens, something that we have been talking against for the last year, ever since I have been in the Council. I think the $250,000 order offered by the councilor should be passed, so that the construction work on the streets can be carried on this year as in the past.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, however you may sugarcoat this loan, it is not so easy to pay back. It is a quarter of a million dollars in a year when people are having cuts in their pay and when they are undergoing very serious hardship. It is a quarter of a million dollars of payments on the installment plan, the same as if you went down to a furniture store and bought a piano on the installment plan. It is spending money that people fifteen years from now will be paying for. It is not a question of streets or sewers; it is a question of taking care of our pay rolls and feeding the unemployed and poor of Boston this year.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, so that one argument advanced by my colleague on the left (Coun. Ruby) will not be misunderstood, he made a remark that men with families are working three days for the public welfare and receiving $9 a week. I agree with him. But what is to prevent the men we have there at public welfare working for the city three days, eight hours a day, and getting proper wages for it, on this street work? I am very sure that some of those men would be glad to work each two days on the street and do an honest-to-goodness job, getting a day's pay for it, rather than to work three days simply pushing a broom. We have heard the statement about this money raised by loan being distributed over a long period of years. As I see it, the Mayor of Boston with the City Treasurer and Auditor can allow that money to be borrowed on five-year or ten-year notes, whatever they see fit. It is not necessarily a twenty-year proposition, but it may be a ten-year or a five-year proposition.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, I was not aware that there were pay rolls involved in this expenditure. I would not for one minute be a party to causing further unemployment. When I am informed that possibly 250 men will be laid off because of our failure to provide the means to pay them, I feel it my duty to vote for some appropriation to at least take care of the force at present employed by the city. Therefore, I am acting in all good faith when I vote for this reduced expenditure.

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, I want to make an amendment to that order, reducing it from $250,000 to $100,000.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, so that the members of the Council may understand this, there are two orders at the present time before the Council—one the order for $500,000, recently rejected, for which a substitute order involving $250,000 has been introduced, and the other the $1,000,000 order for sewers. Now, do I understand correctly, when we are talking about the pay roll in the Public Works Department, that that is not affected at all by this $250,000 order, but that that is covered by the order that we are going to discuss in the very near future, the million dollar loan order for sewers?

President McGRATH—That is true.

Coun. KELLY—Then, no member of the Council can get up here and make such claims as have been made in regard to this proposed $250,000 appropriation or a $100,000 appropriation. If such an order is put through, not one dollar of that $250,000 or $100,000 will go for salaries in the Public Works Department, but will go for contractors. I feel that the members have not understood that. They felt that it was necessary in order to maintain the pay roll, when in reality the pay roll in which they are interested will come out of the million-dollar order that we are going to discuss in the very near future.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, is it true that all the money appropriated under this order would be to carry out the plans for construction of the street, salaries of engineers, and so on?

President McGRATH—The money for highways, making of, is spent by the Street Commissioner, and the salaries of certain employees in that department, and the money required for the preparation of the plans, would come out of that. The money to be raised from the sewer loan, that we will later discuss, is to be spent by the Public Works Department, and the salaries of certain employees of that department also come out of that loan. There are two appropriations here, but in each the salaries are paid from the loan rather than from the budget appropriation.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, if there is some pay roll that comes out of this $250,000, what is the entire city pay roll that will come out of the $250,000?

President McGRATH—I am not prepared to state. That is the reason why I had Mr. Rourke come in today, and I don't know how much he said the amount was in his department.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, could you instruct the City Messenger to get in touch with the Public Works Commissioner and find out how much of this is to be spent in salaries? I think we ought to know before we vote, not only in connection with this order but also in connection with the sewer order.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, he stated that there would be approximately $350,000 used for salaries and other expenses in the form of preparing plans.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I disagree with the colleague. The commissioner did not say, on the question put to him today, $350,000 but $250,000, and, in my estimation, $100,000 is a lot of money.

Coun. Roberts' amendment was defeated by roll call, yeas 4, nays 13:

Yeas—Coun. Brackman, Kelly, Norton, Roberts—4.

Nays—Coun. Barker, Burke, Cox, Donovan, Englert, Fish, Fitzgerald, Gallagher, Green, Lynch, McGrath, Power, Ruby—13.

Coun. Ruby's order, appropriating $250,000, was rejected (15 votes being required for passage), yeas 13, nays 3:

Yeas—Coun. Barker, Brackman, Burke, Cox, Donovan, Englert, Fish, Fitzgerald, Gallagher, Green, McGrath, Power, Ruby—13.

Nays—Coun. Kelly, Norton, Roberts—3.

Coun. HEIN moved a reconsideration of the rejection of the order appropriating $500,000 for Highways, Making of.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, this reconsideration motion is a very peculiar motion, especially when it is offered by a gentleman who was in the room when the vote was taken and who, under the rules of the Council, should have voted one way or the other, but refused to cast his vote. This order goes into effect after March 10, 1933, if the Council does not do anything about it. This is the 27th of February. The Council contemplates adjourning over for two weeks in order to give those who wish to be present at the inaugural ceremonies on March 4 an opportunity to do so. That means that the next meeting of the Council will be two weeks from today, on March 13. In other words, if reconsideration is allowed the order would be on the table, without even a vote of the Council upon it, although it has been defeated today. That situation would arise under the peculiarity of our law relating to these loan orders, and the $500,000 of the taxpayers' money would be appropriated, simply because of the thing going over in this way. Is that right, gentlemen of the Council, to allow a technicality like that to defeat a vote of this body? We fellows were sent here either to appropriate or not appropriate on matters that come before us. This order has failed of passage by the body. Those desiring its passage now have no right to allow an order involving half a million dollars to become effective and have the money spent by the Mayor, simply under the cloak of reconsideration. I know, of course, that the proponents of reconsideration of the measure have the votes, and all the oratory that may come from my mouth or from other members of the Council will not avail. No matter how long we talk, the vote of the majority here will be for reconsideration. But I am here to express what I feel are the sentiments of the public of Boston. They don't want a half million of their money spent in this way under any such technicality, having carried out an expenditure which we city fathers have voted should not be allowed. We defeated it here today, and it should stay defeated. The committee report has simply dismissed it without prejudice. There is no immediate hurry for such an appropriation. The pay roll is taken care of for a whole month. They talk about preparedness, how it is necessary to be forehanded in this matter. I remember when we had a vote in this Council on the question of the continuance of the Employment Bureau. The bureau was supposed to be discontinued, was supposed to be without money to carry on. But it is carrying on. For that matter the Council has a right to come in a month afterwards and vote back pay for city employees. We don't have to allow a movement like this for reconsideration to prevail. The thing should either win or lose on its merits today, and on its merits it was defeated today. In my humble judgment, Mr. President, reconsideration should not be allowed.

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, there have recently been some bills before the Committee on Cities at the Legislature dealing with charter revision or amendment, and I think if reconsideration prevails in the present instance and results in defeating the action we took earlier in the day it will afford a striking example under our City Charter of what can happen and how a measure which we have defeated can after all prevail, under a motion to reconsider and lay on the table, which can be adopted by a majority. I am voting against reconsideration of the matter for that reason alone.

Reconsideration was declared carried. Coun. KELLY doubted the vote and asked for the yeas and nays.

Reconsideration of refusal to pass the original $500,000 order prevailed on roll call, yeas 14, nays 4:

Yeas—Coun. Barker, Burke, Cox, Donovan, Englert, Fish, Fitzgerald, Gallagher, Green, Hein, Lynch, McGrath, Power, Ruby—14.

Nays—Coun. Brackman, Kelly, Norton, Roberts—4.

Coun. DONOVAN—Mr. President, I move to lay the matter on the table until a future meeting.

Coun. KELLY—At what time?

Coun. DONOVAN—Not specified.

Coun. KELLY—If laid on the table it goes into effect automatically in ten days.

Coun. DONOVAN—I know that, Mr. President. The motion to lay on the table was declared carried. Coun. KELLY doubted the vote and asked for yeas and nays.

The motion to lay on the table was carried, yeas 12, nays 6:

Yeas—Coun. Barker, Burke, Cox, Donovan, Englert, Fitzgerald, Gallagher, Green, Hein, Lynch, McGrath, Power, Ruby—12.

Nays—Coun. Brackman, Burke, Fish, Kelly, Norton, Roberts—6.

2. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred January 9) that sum of $1,000,000 be appropriated, to be expended under direction of Commissioner of Public Works, for sewerage works—recommending that same ought not to pass, without prejudice.

The report was accepted, and the question came on the passage of the order.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, I understand that the pay roll on this particular type of work amounts to about $350,000. Therefore, I offer an amendment that $500,000 be appropriated.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, according to the commissioner's own statement, the pay roll, when I asked him in executive session what it was, will be coming out of this $1,000,000 for the entire year 1933 to the end of December, $250,000. Now, I have no objection if some member of the Council feels that otherwise something would be taken away from a city employee, to voting for an amendment making the amount $250,000, if it is really felt that it is a necessity. Of course, however, it is not a necessity, as the employees are taken care of for a month to come, and eight months after that we can vote an appropriation for that month. Accordingly, I am against an appropriation of any kind, a million or half a million, unless there is an amendment to the effect that it will be specifically spent for city employees in that department, and for a specific time.

Coun. LYNCH—Mr. President, I move that the matter be laid on the table.

Coun. Lynch's motion was declared carried. Coun. KELLY doubted the vote and asked for the yeas and nays.

Coun. Lynch's motion to lay on the table was carried by roll call, yeas 12, nays 6:

Yeas—Coun. Barker, Cox, Donovan, Englert, Fitzgerald, Gallagher, Green, Hein, Lynch, McGrath, Power, Ruby—12.

Nays—Coun. Brackman, Burke, Fish, Kelly, Norton, Roberts—6.

3. Report on message and loan order (referred February 13) appropriating $300,000, to be expended under direction of Police Commissioner, for coordinated system of communication in Police Department—recommending passage of order in following new draft:

Ordered, That the sum of $75,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated, to be expended under the direction of the Police Commissioner, for police radio system, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon the request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

The report was accepted, and the question came on the rejection of the $300,000 order.

The order was declared rejected.

President McGRATH—The question now comes on the passage of the $75,000 order.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. Chairman, I have just been asked by the councilor from Ward 17 (Coun. Burke)—if I may be permitted to say so—how do I know that the Police Commissioner is going to use it? Under the order as it has been drawn the Police Commissioner will either take the $75,000 for radio or he cannot spend one dollar of it. I sat at the meeting of the Committee on Finance at which were present more than a majority of the committee, as well as Professor Jackson from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and Mr. Hultman, our Police Commissioner. I was also in receipt on the afternoon of the meeting of a copy of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology report on the communication system, for which we spent $8,000 some time ago; and, in spite of the fact that in the Technology report the total of the items recommended by the committee was in the neighborhood of $425,000, we were still informed that for $300,000 he would get the communication system as suggested by the Police Commissioner plus the radio. I am of the opinion that if we accepted the Technology report it would cost us in Boston close to half a million dollars. So, when we come to talk of economy that we are told is necessary, here is a specific instance where savings might be made. The communicating system of the Police Department can well be done from year to year, appropriating a certain sum each year and thereby avoiding the necessity of appropriating for this purpose a large sum at one time. But we for a year and a half have been asking for radio, the leading newspapers of Boston have been asking for a radio-equipped police system. They have been advocating it; and for that reason the committee unanimously substituted the amount of $75,000 for the larger amount that was proposed, so that we might be sure that the Police Commissioner would give us exactly what we were advocating, a radio-equipped system for the Police Department. I trust that the members will in their wisdom see fit to vote for the $75,000.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I maintain now that $75,000 is too much for a radio here in Boston, when the Commonwealth has equipped its whole police radio system for $25,000. So I will move to amend this order to read $30,000 instead of $75,000.

Coun. Fish's amendment was declared lost.

President McGRATH—The question now comes on the order submitted by the committee, providing $75,000.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I don't believe we will get radio with the $75,000. I believe the Police Commissioner will prevent the police from having the radio. For some unknown reason the Police Commissioner for the past three years has been against radio, and when approached on the matter he brings up the question of "dead" spots, too much concentration of buildings in the city, and that sort of thing, and also the suggestion that the crooks will listen in on the radio and police work will suffer accordingly. But in the interim other American cities have come forward and established police radio systems and consider the radio the best method that has yet been devised to combat crime. It works successfully in New York City, where they have one hundred times the concentration, and supposedly many more "dead" spots than we have in Boston. With all those facts confronting him, the Police Commissioner still comes forward with his plan, which he believes is equal to if not better than radio, the red light on the box system. The Police Commissioner merely told the committee of the Council very plainly at the Finance Committee meeting that he would consult experts to ascertain whether or not an expenditure of $75,000 such as we propose would be a waste of money. Therefore, under present conditions, Mr. President, until the Police Commissioner of Boston changes his mind and does the Council the distinct pleasure of putting in a radio system—as he extended to us the courtesy of coming to our meeting—I am of the opinion that he will do nothing. For three long years American cities have used the radio in connection with their police work and have stated that they consider the radio the greatest protection against crime, and yet nothing is done in Boston. In order to bolster up the report of Technology and to back up the commissioner in the position he has taken for the last few years, Prof. Dugald C. Jackson was brought in. I had a very interesting discussion this morning with President Karl Compton of the Institute of Technology. I said, "Mr. President, I am just a layman and understand nothing about the technique of radio, but I am interested when a proposition is made to spend $250,000 or $300,000 on the police telephone system, when what we want and what the public wants is radio. Now, when they talk about fixing up the telephone system of the Police Department of Boston, what has that to do with radio alongside of your desk?" Well, he could not answer that, and I don't believe there is a professor in Technology who can answer it. I think it is going just a little far when the Police Commissioner of Boston influences this good professor who is an electrical engineer to back him up in this matter. As a matter of fact, it is a lay question, it is a very practical and commonsense question. I believe it is really not a question that a technology professor has to be called upon to answer. When we want, and when the public wants, radio and not telephone wires, why is this telephone wire question brought in this way? That is the question, and I think any member of the body as a practical man should be able to answer the question. But it will have to be some power greater than this body that will ask the Police Commissioner of Boston to put the radio in, if any success in that line is hoped for. We are not going to get it, Mr. President. The Police Commissioner practically told the committee that unless he was advised that it was an expenditure of money at the present time which would not mean a waste he would not spend it, and, judging from the reports he has already made and the manner in which he has expressed himself on police radio for several years, we are not going to get a police radio system—unless some body of officials far more important than in City Hall requests it. We have it in the state, we have it in cities all over the country, and why shouldn't we have it here? Wherever it has been introduced it has been acknowledged to be a great success. We have all these splendid reports coming from the metropolises of America, testifying to the wonderful assistance that the radio affords in police work, only two weeks ago the House of Representatives voting for it, and yet the Police Commissioner says to this committee, "You cannot have it!" It is simply another splendid illustration of the one thing that causes so much trouble in the world, stubbornness.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, it is a peculiar fact that we have before us an order for an appropriation for installation of a police radio system, and we don't know whether the Police Commissioner will use the money for this purpose if it is appropriated. I think, for one, before we take any definite action on the appropriation we should at least find out from the Police Commissioner whether or not he is going to use this $75,000 for the introduction of the splendid radio system the wonderful results of which have been so well set forth by my colleague on the right (Coun. Norton), or whether he will simply use the $75,000 to make further investigations at the end of which we will find that we have neither the radio nor the $75,000. I believe that everybody here in the Council feels that we should have a police radio system in the City of Boston. The Police Commissioner himself thinks also that we should have the radio system, but he thinks before we have it we should correct and fix up in some way the wire or cable system that we now have, that it should be repaired. Whether or not, from a police standpoint, what he is asking for in the way of completing the wire system is more important than putting the radio system in, is something we should have more knowledge about. The Police Commissioner has been in that position for some time and undoubtedly knows something about radio, as well as my colleague on the right, and I think we should call the Police Commissioner before the Council and have him tell us exactly what he will do with the $75,000 before we take action on it.

President McGrath—The order reads that the appropriation is to be made for "police radio system." The President will rule, therefore, that under that order, if the money is to be expended at all, it can be expended only for a police radio system. The Police Commissioner has the prerogative of not spending it at all, of course, but if he spends it it must be spent for a radio system.

Coun. COX—Mr. President, I have every confidence in the Police Commissioner of the City of Boston. I did not have the advantage of being present in the meeting of the Finance Committee when this was talked over with the Police Commissioner, however. Before voting for this $75,000 radio system, I would like to hear from the Police Commissioner, who is an engineer of repute and I think is sincerely interested in the welfare of the City of Boston. He has made certain recommendations in the matter of a system of communication for the department, recommendations which are, of course, worthy of consideration, and I would like from him a little more information in the matter. There are certain members of the Finance Committee who might have had the advantage of listening to the Police Commissioner and to the professor from the Institute of Technology, but there are at least fifteen members of the Council who are not on that committee and who have not had that advantage. I think, if we are asked to vote on this thing, we are entitled to know what it is all about. Therefore, I ask that the matter be laid on the table until such time as the engineer from Technology and the Police Commissioner may appear here and advise the members of the Council what, in their opinion, is the proper thing for the City of Boston. I have every confidence that the Police Commissioner is out for the interest of the City of Boston.

Coun. Cox's motion to lay on the table was lost. The order was given its first reading and passage, yeas 17, nays 1:

Yeas—Coun. Barker, Brackman, Burke, Cox, Donovan, Englert, Fish, Gallagher, Green, Hein, Kelly, Lynch, McGrath, Norton, Power, Roberts, Ruby—17.

Nays—Coun. Curtis—1.

RADIOTONE PHOTOS OF VETERANS.

The Council voted to take from the table No. 2 on the calendar, viz.:

2. Ordered, That the Superintendent of Public Buildings be authorized to expend, under the direction of the Mayor, a sum not exceeding $1,000 for radiotone photos of citizens of Boston who died in the service during the World War, to be placed in school buildings or other public buildings; the amount so expended to be charged to the Reserve Fund.

President McGrath—The question is on the passage of the order, and the clerk will call the roll.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I like to have my picture taken, and I think the colleague here (Coun. Burke) does, too. But when it comes to $25 or $40 for a picture, it is another thing. A year ago I opposed putting these pictures in the school halls—not that I do not want to honor the veterans who died for their country, but I claim that these radiotone pictures are not indestructible. Technology looked them over and decided that they were destructible. They are political pictures, sold through high-pressure salesmanship. Last year I was informed by a gentleman who formerly sold the pictures that if you took a little alcohol and put it on them at night, there would be no picture left in the morning, and that if they were left out in the sun for three weeks there would be no picture. Therefore I think, under the circumstances, it is a waste of the city's money, and it is turning over to a favored concern money for pictures in a year when we ought to be considering money for some relief of the people.

Coun. COX—Mr. President, at the last meeting of the Council I asked that this matter might be held up for the purpose of looking into my files regarding the cost of these pictures. I find that I was in error, that these pictures at the time when they were offered to me were offered at a greater price than what is asked today. In addition to that, I was also under the impression that this was a simple process of photo-engraving. While that is true, in order to obtain proper results there must be considerable preliminary work in the way of retouching, and art-brush work, which is a very expensive proposition. Therefore, and because this is merely proposing to finish a job that has been almost completed, I shall vote in favor of the order.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I think I ought to say something. My friend from Ward 8 (Coun. Norton) says he likes to have his picture taken, and so do I, but I don't like to pay $40 for it. Nevertheless, we all remember the talk in the Council Chamber of last year in regard to the order for these pictures. I was told that the pictures were to be of veterans who died during the World War and were to be memorials which would be appreciated by the mothers, fathers and relatives of those boys who gave their lives to the country. And I was, therefore, sincere in making the patriotic speech I made on this floor about a year ago. At that time the same councilor who just spoke to me leaned over and said, "Be careful," and I looked at him and did not know just exactly what he meant. But since then I have found out that this picture business has been foisted upon the City of Boston. What was intended at that time has been carried out, the pictures have been made and properly inscribed and accepted by the city, and they are now in the proper places, where they can be viewed by the children in the schools of the City of Boston and be an inspiration to them from a patriotic standpoint. It does seem that in the past this particular picture order should have been scrutinized more carefully. It came before the Council some time ago, and I then believed that the $10,000, $15,000 or $20,000 then proposed to be spent, last year, would finish the thing up. It was not then known that the picture gallery would not be complete. They now come in and ask for $1,000 more to complete the pictures. I, for one, would vote against the order if it was the last thing I did, if I did not think that this would simply result in completing the job, supplying the lacking pictures of nineteen deceased veterans, so that they can be hung alongside of the pictures already made. I admit that I was taken in previously by some of the information that was given to me by a few members of the Council. However, for the sole purpose of giving the same consideration to all the boys' pictures thus displayed, I am going to vote "yes" on this order.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I understand that $500 will cover the necessary expense, and I therefore move that the order read $500.

President McGrath—The order is not open to amendment, Councilor Fish.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, so that the records in the future will always carry a few remarks from the present speaker on matters of this kind, showing his reason for casting a vote—on this order in the negative—I wish to say a word. When the two previous loan orders to provide pictures in memory of worthy World War veterans who died for Uncle Sam in order that we might live, came into the Council, I was forced to oppose them. I did not believe that we should spend close to $40,000 of the taxpayers' money at $42 per picture, when I knew that each picture was not worth more than about $4. I positively objected, and accordingly voted in the negative. I know what sins can be committed in the name of so-called patriotism, that certain people will stop at nothing, even going over to Flanders Field and resorting to all sorts of practices in digging up information about dead heroes, and I say now that certain powers that be in the City of Boston ought to be ashamed of themselves capitalizing those poor fellows who gave their all for Uncle Sam. Just think of it, paying $42 for a picture approximately 8 by 7! If these poor boys lying in their graves knew that these pictures were being bought at an expense of $40,000, if they could come to life they would go to war again before they would allow the grafters and thieves in Boston who capitalize those boys' services to get away with $40,000 for pictures worth about $4,000. I say once more, as a young man who respects the memory of those boys who died for this country, that I will not favor the appropriation of another cent, to be taken from our people in the way of taxes, to be appropriated under the guise of perpetuating the memory of heroes. That false propaganda will never be stuffed down Kelly's throat, and I know that the honest-to-goodness veterans agree with Kelly in the matter. Of course, I know that this particular order is going to get the customary vote, enough to pass it, and that the pictures of these boys will be hung in some school hall. I know that my vote is not going to stop it. If it were I might have to think twice. But I want it to go on the record for years to come that certain grafters and corrupters resorted to this sort of thing, simply exploiting the poor boys, the heroes of the late war.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, just a word. I don't want to prolong the discussion, but I take it from the remarks of the previous speaker that the reason why he is not going to vote for this order is because he feels that it is going to pass anyway; that he might otherwise vote for it if he thought there was danger of it being defeated. I feel pretty much that way, except that I was not a member of the body when the original order was passed. It might have been a very fine thing. I know nothing about the value of the pictures except as explained to us in the committee, that they are gold-plated and are supposed to be perpetual. But I do feel, as practically every veteran in Boston who died in the service has had his picture placed in our schoolhouses, it would be an injustice to the remaining nineteen to have them left out, even if it does cost something more per picture than we would otherwise be able to get them for. So I see no reason why I should not vote to pass the appropriation.

The order was passed, yeas 15, nays 3:

Yeas—Coun. Barker, Brackman, Burke, Cox, Donovan, Englert, Fish, Gallagher, Green, Hein, Lynch, McGrath, Power, Roberts, Ruby—15.

Nays—Coun. Curtis, Kelly, Norton—3.

PAYMENT OF AID TO SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

Coun. NORTON, for the Committee on Soldiers' Relief, submitted report recommending passage of order for payment of aid to soldiers and sailors and their families in the City of Boston for the month of February, 1933.

Report accepted; said order passed.

FLOWING OF WARD 18 STREETS.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor, the Mayor, to plow all unaccepted streets in Ward 18.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

LONG ISLAND HOSPITAL INVESTIGATION.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston Finance Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to furnish the City Council with a copy of the report of its recent investigation of the Long Island Hospital.

Passed under a suspension of the rules.

Later in the session Coun. FISH offered a similar order.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I notice in the papers last week, in connection with the investigation of affairs at Long Island, that Superintendent Higgins is going to lose his job. I don't think it is fair for the Mayor of Boston to discharge Superintendent Higgins, a man who has performed his duty so faithfully at Long Island. I think this is a matter into which the Hospital Committee should make a sweeping investigation, so that we may know something about conditions at Long Island.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, earlier in the meeting I offered an order to the same effect which was passed by the Council.

President McGRATH—The Chair will suggest that Councilor Fish withdraw his order and his name will be added on Councilor Norton's order as coofferer.

The order was withdrawn by Coun. Fish.

HEATERS IN POLICE CRUISING CARS.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston consider the advisability of requesting the Police Commissioner of Boston to consider the matter of allowing heaters to be placed in police cruising cars.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, on a night like last night we can imagine how officers driving around in these cruising cars for seven hours must have felt. The officers involved are willing to buy, in many instances, these heaters, which can be installed for $7 or $8. It would seem that under the circumstances they should be allowed the privilege, if they see fit, of installing at their own expense these heaters. I understand there is some question whether or not it is legal to place in the police cars of the city private property, but that objection would be overcome by a vote making it legal. It does not seem fair, with the weather we have been having in Boston, to ask men to ride around in any car on cold nights for seven hours. I feel that they are at least entitled to some protection.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

DECENTRALIZED PUBLIC WELFARE OFFICES.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Overseers of the Public Welfare be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to decentralize its activities by establishing branch offices in the various sections of the city.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, once again I have introduced this order. I certainly hope that some time we will have finally, in such sections as Hyde Park, Roxbury and Dorchester, local offices. It is a terrible thing to ask a man who is getting only $1 a week to spend $1 for carfare going and coming to the "House of Horrors" on Hawkins street. It does seem as if this work should be decentralized, that there should be offices in some of these outlying sections. But these orders have been introduced and nothing has been done. There is no doubt, of course, that of the millions spent some has been wasted. The editor of the Boston Post said yesterday that a good proportion of welfare relief is given to fakers. But it is necessary, in times like these, to look after our poor and unemployed.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALK ON GALENA STREET.

Coun. ENGLERT offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Galena street, full length, both sides, Ward 11, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ACCIDENT TO DAVID PENDERGAST.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Trustees of the Boston City Hospital be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to furnish the City Council with a report of the accident to David Pendergast, a patient at the hospital, during the taking of X-rays on January 6, 1931.

Coun. RUBY—I might say, Mr. President, for the information of the councilor from Ward 17, that two or three years ago I introduced an order with reference to the City Hospital giving us a report on the case of David Pendergast. I understand also that at one time a claim in regard to the matter was pending in the Law Department.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I have read the minutes pertaining to the order introduced in the Council. I believe it was an order seeking information as to the one who was at fault in causing the accident. This man was at that time—January 6, 1931, I believe—being X-rayed by an X-ray machine. He had one bad eye at the time, not blind but the vision very poor, and as a result of the negligence of the person running the X-ray equipment, it fell on him, blinding both eyes. At the present time, therefore, he is totally blind and unable to earn a livelihood. I have been further informed that the man has been refused welfare at the Welfare Department because he has a son working. The son, by the way, has been endeavoring to take care of the father and doing everything he can for him. He would be only too glad, if he were in a position, to look out for his needs, but such is not the case. There is a procedure contemplated and outlined by one of the representatives of the General Court, who intends to place an act before the House of Representatives under which this man may be reimbursed to some extent for the great physical injury he has received.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

ALIENS RECEIVING AID.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston inform the City Council the number of aliens who are receiving welfare from the City of Boston.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, the latter part of the order I put in in order to obtain, if possible, the exact number of aliens in Boston now receiving welfare money from the city. Recent information, from a source that probably is not as authentic as it might be, is to the effect that 40 per cent of the people who live in Boston receiving welfare are aliens. If that is so, perhaps an arrangement should be made whereby these aliens might be sort of isolated in some particular category or classification so that they may be handled by a different method than that which now prevails. The amount of money being spent by the Welfare Department at the present time is so great that it seems almost impossible that the City of Boston should keep it up. I feel that we ought to make some sort of investigation and treat the alien in a different manner than our citizens. I understand that at the present time they receive the same amount of money that citizens receive, and are treated exactly the same as citizens are treated. I believe that information should be furnished to the City Council in the matter, and when we receive it we can perhaps suggest definite changes.

Coun. COX—Mr. President, might I ask the councilor his purpose in introducing the order?

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I understand that the Welfare Department have aliens—we are told by some as many as 40 per cent of the total number—upon their lists. The state is notifying aliens not able to support themselves to report to the office, and then they are trying to make arrangements to deport them to the countries from which they came. Under our naturalization laws, when a man comes into the country he has to have two witnesses who will testify that they have known him and that they are going to be responsible for him a certain length of time. If they don't make arrangements to get employment, and if before they become citizens they become public charges, the department of immigration should make arrangements to deport such a man, send him back, because he is simply a charge on the country. In the event of war the chances are that he will claim exemption, or perhaps want to fight for his fatherland. They are not Bostonians or American citizens, they are out of work, and it seems to me they are in a different category from our own citizens. As I say, I have been led to believe that 40 per cent of those being helped by the Public Welfare are aliens. If that is so, some steps should be made to take care of them in a different manner than citizens of Boston and taxpayers.

Coun. COX—Mr. President, as the son of an alien—and I think the member who just spoke is also a descendant of an alien—I don't think this order should receive any consideration in this body, because there are very few members of the body who can trace their lineage back to the Mayflower or to other ships that came here early. If my father was unfortunate enough to have struck this country in 1930 instead of 1846, under this order he would be invited to go back to that unfortunate country from which he came. The history of this country, the beautiful history of this country, has been made up by the so-called aliens, and if at this moment we are unfortunate enough to be in a depression it is not the alien that is to blame. I have little sympathy with any man in a legislative body who will attempt to deport honest, decent people, seeking a livelihood on our shores.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, this order simply looks to getting information so that plans may be made to take care of these people in a better manner, treating them as a class. But it is not class legislation, because it involves everybody in that same situation and treats them all alike. It is our duty as a nation, in a republic such as ours, to take care of aliens who come here, and take care of them as best we can. We should also do our best to take care of their families. There is nothing in the order I have introduced that says anything about deporting them. I said that at the state office, in dealing with some aliens, they made arrangements to deport them.

Coun. COX—Mr. President, I could not help being led to believe that this order asking for a check-up on aliens in the City of Boston had to do with some plan in the gentleman's mind for sending the aliens back to their own country. Why is it necessary for us to know how many aliens we have here, making a check-up on them? If you are going to do that, you will go a step farther and want to know of what nationality they are. What difference does it make whether a man is an alien or a citizen, if he has been here long enough? When a man comes here and tries to bring up a family, why should we set him aside when we are dealing with this matter? He is entitled to eat and to live, the same as the next man, and I am against any request to segregate aliens from so-called citizens.

The order was passed under suspension of the rules.

REINSTATEMENT OF THOMAS J. NEWCOMB.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby favors the enactment of legislation authorizing the reinstatement of Thomas J. Newcomb as a member of the Police Department of said city.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

THE NEXT MEETING.

Coun. LYNCH moved that when the Council adjourn it be to meet on Monday, March 13, 1933, at 2 p. m.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I understand that this is an order to adjourn for two weeks?

President McGRATH—Yes.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I am going to vote against adjournment for two weeks from today, for the simple reason that automatically $1,500,000 of the taxpayers' money will be spent before two weeks from today if we adjourn over, because, although we have defeated those orders here today, there has been a reconsideration and assignment, and technically, therefore, we have done nothing. The result will be that the orders will go into effect automatically on March 10, two or three days before we come together in meeting. I believe, Mr. President, that we are here to vote upon those particular orders and to have our decisive vote recorded. We did vote today, but our action is now to be nullified because of the reconsideration and assignment, and because the orders will take effect before we will have a chance to pass another vote. I don't believe that is a proper way in which to spend $1,500,000 of the taxpayers' money. Accordingly, I shall not vote to adjourn to two weeks from today, but to a week from today.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I am inclined to agree with Councilor Kelly's position. We have before us orders for streets and sewers, amounting to $1,500,000, and it is our duty to vote upon them, and not to allow them to go by default. If we meet next Monday we can act upon them definitely; if we do not they automatically go into effect. Therefore, I am opposed to adjourning to two weeks from today.

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, I wish to be recorded against the motion to adjourn for two weeks for another reason. This is another illustration of the nullification by majority vote of the two-thirds rule of our charter, by which orders of this kind require a two-thirds vote of the membership for passage. It is now proposed to nullify that rule by the action suggested here. Therefore, I am against the adjournment for two weeks.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, do I understand that if we do not meet next Monday these orders will go automatically into effect on the tenth day of March?

President McGRATH—Yes.

Coun. BURKE—Then, Mr. President, I shall have to vote against adjournment for two weeks because this is certainly an attempt to bring about a condition that never should exist. These orders have been rejected because of the fact that they failed to receive a two-thirds vote. Understand, I voted for both of them. But there is a principle involved. A majority should not be able to nullify the action that has been taken here today, whereby orders failed of passage because they did not receive the necessary two-thirds vote. If this sort of thing is allowed, a majority vote is sufficient to overrule the action previously taken by the body, to my mind unjustly. Simply through reconsideration and adjournment for two weeks, by majority vote, we are going to allow these orders on the tenth day of March to go automatically into effect, when they have failed of passage here today. That, I think, is unfair, and I will vote against adjournment for two weeks for that reason.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, would an amendment be in order that, instead of adjourning for two weeks, we adjourn to March 9?

President McGRATH—On motions to adjourn, the question comes first on the longest time, which in this case is two weeks. The question comes on adjournment for two weeks.

The motion that when the Council adjourn it be to meet on Monday, March 13, at 2 p. m., was declared carried.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I doubt the vote and ask for a roll call.

The roll was called, and the Council voted that when it adjourn it be to meet on Monday, March 13, at 2 p. m., yeas 10, nays 6:

Yeas—Coun. Barker, Donovan, Englert, Gallagher, Green, Hein, Lynch, McGrath, Power, Ruby—10.

Nays—Coun. Burke, Cox, Curtis, Fish, Kelly, Roberts—6.

The Council stood adjourned at 5.33 p. m., to meet on Monday, March 13, 1933, at 2 p. m.

MASSACHUSETTS BAY COLONY.

The first chartered colony in New England, charter granted by Charles I on March 4, 1629. About a year before, a patent had been granted to six prominent men of Dorchester, west of England, among whom was Capt. John Endicott. He sailed in June, 1628, with a party of fifty or sixty persons, arriving in September and settling at Naumkeag, afterward named Salem. In the spring of 1629, the Bay Company fitted out three ships conveying about four hundred persons and arriving at Salem in June. Endicott sent a small party to effect a settlement on the Bay in Mishawum, afterward named by the settlers Charlestown, the first town in New England to assume the town polity, Plymouth and Salem being governed by a governor and council. Endicott was appointed in London as the first resident governor on April 30, 1629. The Massachusetts Bay Company was reorganized in London on October 20, 1629, when John Winthrop was chosen as governor. He arrived at Salem on June 12, 1630, soon proceeded to Charlestown with a large following and finding that place unsuitable, finally settled in Boston. Winthrop served thirteen years as governor in four different periods ending in 1649 and Endicott fifteen years at various times ending in 1665. Other governors were Thomas Dudley, Richard Bellingham, John Haynes, Henry Vane, John Leverett and Simon Bradstreet, the latter serving twelve years until 1692 when the Bay Colony and the Plymouth Colony were merged, becoming the Royal Province of Massachusetts Bay, which existed eighty-two years to 1774, the governors being appointed by the King.

The name, Massachusetts, is Indian and signifies "near the big hills."

METHODS OF ELIMINATING GRADE-CROSSING ACCIDENTS.

Five suggestions aimed at the elimination of grade-crossing accidents are offered in the monthly report of the Street Traffic Committee of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce.

It is estimated that curing the grade-crossing evil would reduce traffic accidents by 10 per cent in a very short time, and the Committee presents the following five points for discussion:

1. Do away with those grade crossings which have the heaviest traffic.
2. Place warning signs not less than 500 feet back from the railroad tracks.
3. Take down all signs from obsolete trackage.
4. Use traffic-light signals (operated by trains) instead of signs, if there are fewer than five trains per day.
5. Consider scrapping all railroad signs in favor of signals for use only when train is approaching.

"The last two points merit consideration first, because, though they are new doctrines, they seem the least expensive and most practical of application."

Pittsfield, Mass., is the first city in this country to make formal adoption of the building code proposed by the American Welding Society to make available the advantages of welding in the construction of buildings in municipalities.

THE CINCINNATI RETIREMENT SYSTEM.

Cincinnati, after several years of careful study, has adopted a retirement system providing retirement allowances and death benefits for all municipal employees, excepting elected officials, members of independent boards and commissions, the employees of the University of Cincinnati, the employees of the municipal court and department heads. The city council, especially the finance committee, carefully studied systems in other cities before finally establishing the Cincinnati system.

Membership was optional to all general employees employed on August 1, 1931. Those of this group who joined the system at any time up to December 3 were given credit for prior service. The city will contribute an amount equal to the accrued liability resulting from such service. The personnel of the police and fire forces employed at the time the new system was established will continue under their separate pension plans. However, after January 1, 1932, all new entrants to the city service, including the uniformed services, will be required to subscribe to the new system.

UNITED STATES TO HAVE TENTH MUNICIPAL UNIVERSITY.

The tenth municipal university in the United States is being planned by Omaha, Neb., whose citizens have approved plans for the establishment of a four-year university, to be supported by a mill tax. The following are the nine municipal universities or colleges known to exist at the present time in the United States, in order of their establishment on the municipal basis: College of Charleston (South Carolina), 1837; University of Louisville (Kentucky), 1837; College of the City of New York, 1847; Hunter College of the City of New York, 1870; University of the City of Cincinnati (Ohio), 1871; University of Toledo (Ohio), 1884; University of Akron (Ohio), 1913; University of the City of Detroit (Michigan), 1923; Municipal University of Wichita (Kansas), 1926.

CHICAGO POLICE REORGANIZED.

Many improvements have recently taken place in the organization and administration of the Police Department of Chicago, Ill.

Although the numerical strength of the force has been reduced in the last two years approximately from 6,700 to 6,000, the number of men on foot patrol has been increased 150 per cent, being now about 1,900. The efficiency of the department has been further increased by adding to the number of patrol cars and by placing in operation an extensive police radio system. There are now some 100 small patrol cars and fifty large high-powered ones equipped with radio. Furthermore, 20 per cent of the present force constitutes new blood in the department. The average age has been lowered, and a greater proportion of young men will be encouraged by the reduction of the admission age to a range of twenty-one to twenty-nine years, from the former limits of twenty-three to thirty-five, approximately. Civil service methods in disciplining new policemen are better, and a more thorough check-up on the character of those examined is made.

COAL RESERVES OF THE WORLD.

Five-sevenths of the estimated coal reserves of the world are in North America, followed by those of Asia, which comprises the largest anthracite areas, chiefly in China. About 53 per cent of these reserves consist of bituminous coal, 41 per cent of sub-bituminous, and 6 per cent of anthracite. More than half of the world's reserves of bituminous coal are in the United States. Through the scientific research of fuel engineers and chemists the uses of coal have increased rapidly and grades which were formerly considered of little value are now having wide usage.—The Coal Industry of the World (Trade Promotion Series No. 105).

AMERICAN NATION HAS NOW DISCARDED FEAR FOR HOPE AND IS RALLYING CONFIDENCE BEHIND PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT—MAYOR CURLEY BROADCASTS OPTIMISM THAT IS AFFECTING WHOLE COUNTRY AS RESULT OF PRESIDENT'S ACHIEVEMENTS—SPEAKS IN WEEKLY SERIES OVER CITY HALL STATION—BOOSTS ATHLETIC SHOW FOR UNEMPLOYMENT BENEFIT.

In his regular weekly broadcast over City Hall Station on Monday, March 13, Mayor Curley spoke as follows:

The American Nation during the past week, as a consequence of the courageous leadership and broad vision of President Franklin Delano Roosevelt, has discarded fear for hope. In all probability some little time will elapse before confidence has been completely restored to the people of the nation, but any individual privileged to listen to the broadcast of facts as made by the President on the radio last evening from Washington must be fully aware of the true seriousness of the situation that most of those in positions of influence and authority have endeavored to gloss over and minimize during the past year.

It must be clearly evident to every thoughtful and informed citizen listening in last evening that the problems confronting the President at the present hour approach in gravity those confronting the Father of our Country in his day and are far more difficult of solution than those with which the Emancipator, Abraham Lincoln, was required to contend during the period of civil strife in the nation.

The courage and vision of Franklin D. Roosevelt alone has saved the American Nation from bankruptcy, and this fact has only been understood and accepted by a majority of the people within the past seventy-two hours. The journey back to measurable prosperity, through the revival of industry and the creation of work for the unemployed, represents a task that will tax the ingenuity and the resources of the nation almost to the breaking point. We are fortunate, however, in having the most important essential for the bitter fight on the road back, namely, a leader whose conduct in the last twelve days has revived hope, strengthened faith, and provided confidence to all.

The program as outlined by President Roosevelt embraces not alone a complete revamping of the banking system but likewise the initial steps for a public works program so essential to the ending of the dole system which today is sapping the resources and the character of the nation and its people. The provisions of the construction program for Massachusetts are most generous in character and provided private employers will do their part the journey back will be materially facilitated.

Among the projects embraced in the $500,000,000 national public works program through which Massachusetts may hope to benefit are the following:

Thirty-seven post offices throughout the state will be erected.

A quarantine station and marine hospital in Boston will be built.

The Cape Cod Canal will be widened and deepened at a cost of $23,250,000.

The anchorage area west of Deer Island increased at a cost of $400,000.

The main ship channel of the inner harbor from President Roads to the Navy Yard, widened and deepened at a cost of $4,500,000.

The unfortunate feature in connection with a public works program such as has been outlined is the length of time that must of necessity elapse between the drafting of blueprints and the wearing of blue overalls, and this period must be bridged through the generosity of the public and the money apportioned by the city for maintenance of Public Welfare and Soldiers' Relief Departments. The demands are in such volume that it becomes increasingly difficult to meet the same, hence, from time to time, a call is made upon the public. To provide food and fuel and shelter has represented an expenditure in excess of $1,000,000 during the month of January and $1,200,000 in February, and the indications are that March will be in excess of $1,250,000, and this despite the fact that there has been a considerable decrease in the allotments to families, made necessary by the increasingly large number of applicants.

It is highly desirable that needy families be supplied with shoes and clothing, and provided the municipal revenue were of sufficient volume to permit, this would unquestionably be done. Due to the generosity of private individuals or business houses from time to time the city has been the beneficiary of sums which have made possible the purchase of shoes, stockings, rubbers and underclothing for the children whose families are aided through the Public Welfare Department. To provide the required amount for all would represent an expenditure in the vicinity of $1,000,000, so that it can be done only in a meager way at best. Through the generosity of Eddie Mack and the Argonne Athletic Association, a boxing contest has been arranged to be held at the Boston Arena tonight. The price of admission is $1.10, and the number of events scheduled is greater than is customarily furnished. The talent who are contributing are in the forefront in this branch of athletics. Arrangements have been made with the management of the Argonne Athletic Association whereby 50 per cent of the entire proceeds will be turned over to the Public Welfare Department for the purchase of shoes, stockings and underclothing for the needy poor children of our city, and in this connection I want to pay a tribute to that great institution, the Sears Roebuck Company, presided over for so many years by the greatest of all American philanthropists, Julius Rosenwald, whose philanthropy is world-wide, not nation-wide, and at the present time presided over by General Woods and in our own state by that smiling, debonair, generous and warm-hearted Chauncy Williams, who gave us last year $10,000 for the needy of Boston and in the previous year $25,000, that made possible warm feet for many children in our city. These contributions by the Sears Roebuck Company saved many families from the loss of their children through serious illness.

PLEADS FOR ALL TO DO THEIR PART IN BRINGING AMERICA BACK TO CHEERFULNESS, CONFIDENCE AND PROSPERITY—MAYOR CURLEY, IN RADIO ADDRESS, POINTS TO WORK OF CITY WIDE EMERGENCY COMMITTEE ON HEALTH AND RECREATION—SPOKE OVER RADIO STATION WAAB ON FRIDAY.

Mayor Curley spoke in part as follows, over Station WAAB, in the interest of the City Wide Emergency Committee on Health and Recreation:

One of the great difficulties connected with this prolonged period of depression is the development of a program that will make possible the retention of sanity by the individual in America. It is needless for me to point out how important a phase of our modern existence this particular feature is, but when you consider the case of an individual head of a family with a wife and children waiting at home for food from the breadwinner and that individual finding it absolutely impossible to secure the employment which will make possible food, fuel and comfort in the home and returning day after day from his hopeless journey and when you consider the fortunes that have been wiped out, as a consequence of the drop in the stock market and the closing of banking institutions, you appreciate how important it is that some program be developed that will provide mental as well as physical recreation for those without employment and with scant prospects of employment at the present time. The progress of the depression is indicated in a measure by the steady increase in unemployment. In 1930, for example, there were approximately three millions out of employment; in 1931, five and one half millions; in 1932, it was estimated ten millions of persons without employment. In 1933, the present year, it is estimated that the unemployed adults in America will approximate in the vicinity of fourteen millions.

A unique experiment is being tried out in Boston at the present time as the result of an attempt on the part of a far-seeing, clear-thinking group of men and women who recognized in the present unemployment situation an opportunity for constructive work in building up a program of leisure time activities calculated to develop mind as well as bodies, to the end that many of the evils of the present crisis may be turned into good and when the clouds shall have rolled away the future may be faced with a courage born of a confidence in their own ability to meet and conquer the mental and physical conditions to be encountered.

FIRST PHASE.

The first and most constructive phase of activity to be launched was an education program providing for a free lecture course in nine subjects, over a period of twelve weeks. These lectures are being given at the Old South Meeting House, and include such subjects as advertising, psychology, economics, mental hygiene, appreciation of art, modern literature, current events, business law and science—all given by outstanding men and women from the various educational institutions in the metropolitan district. The lectures are largely attended—more than two thousand persons having registered for one or more of the courses.

In addition, daily programs of health building and recreational activities have been inaugurated in the fourteen municipal buildings throughout the city, thus bringing these structures into a much greater sphere of usefulness than they have hitherto enjoyed. The buildings are now utilized from ten in the morning until ten at night for supervised physical activities, and swimming and for reading and quiet games. Elaborate provision has been made for the supervision and direction of athletic activities with the result that in the first week of the introduction of the program an aggregate of 1,400 persons made use of the eleven gymnasiums.

A special service is being rendered by the Medical Department under a corps of doctors who have volunteered their services for free diagnosis and treatment; to provide medical services in the building in case of emergency and to assist the Education Department in arranging health talks on nutrition, food values, etc.

While the group is functioning under a more or less unwieldy name,—The City Wide Emergency Committee on Health and Recreation,—its personnel includes names well known in city, park, school and library activities, as well as in the various philanthropic, recreational and social groups throughout the community.

The experiment has more than justified itself. It is not only bringing strength of mind and body to the vast army of unemployed in the city today, but it is at the same time a living proof that the spirit of brotherly love is still strong in the hearts of the more fortunate of our citizens. All honor, then, to the men and women who conceived the project and who have contributed to its success out of their own minds and strength and talents. It is one of the features of the present unfortunate situation upon which Boston may look back with the utmost pride and satisfaction.

You have some appreciation of what this particular phase means in our city when you realize that in one week 21,480 persons took advantage of the opportunity created by the City Wide Emergency Committee in this period of depression to safeguard those individuals from a mental condition that might be destructive to them and injurious to the community. Notwithstanding reports you read from time to time about improved health during the period of depression the fact remains that the number of persons seeking treatment at the Out-Patient Department of the Boston City Hospital has approximated for the last year, 1932, 1,700 every single day in the year or more than a half million in an entire year. In one health unit in the North End alone 84,000 persons were treated in a single year, or an average of 7,000 each month, and this is equally as true in every one of the other six health units in the city.

The spirit of brotherly love is still strong in the hearts of the good people of our city, many of whom have contributed time, energy and money to the solution of the present unfortunate situation which obtains throughout the country. It has been a privilege for me as Mayor of the city and as honorary chairman of the group to give the work my wholehearted approval and encouragement and solicit public cooperation.

VISITORS INVITED.

I extend an invitation to every individual in Boston who is without employment to visit any one of the municipal buildings located throughout the city at any time between the hours of 10 a. m. and 10 p. m. If you feel just a little bit discouraged, if you feel the world has turned against you, if you feel the world has been unkind and the horizon looms cloudy and dismal, you can go to one of the recreational centers and there you will find as your companions women and men who are interested in you, and interested in restoring your mind to a normal condition and who will encourage you in some pursuit of study or physical activity that perhaps for the time being at least may cause you to give less thought to the more serious problems of life that are confronting you.

We all have an abiding faith in the future of our country and I am quite certain that everyone listening in will agree with me that the hopes and aspirations of every American has been immeasurably enhanced since Franklin Delano Roosevelt became President of the United States. No individual in the history of our country, with the possible exception of the first President of the American Nation, General George Washington, was confronted with more irritating and more trying, more heart-racking and mind-racking problems than those which confront President Roosevelt at the present hour, but he is approaching those problems with a mind that is fortified by long experience in public life, with a heart that has reached a fullness that comes to suffering humans as a consequence of many years of illness, through which he has never lost the courage or desire to smile. The problems of the present day of finance, the restoration of commerce and industry are tremendous, but the most vital of all is that of providing opportunity for employment, for the countless millions in America, many of whom have lost hope of an early restoration of prosperity.

For the solution of these great problems Franklin D. Roosevelt has assembled around him the ablest minds in the fields of economics and of industry and these problems will be solved and America once more will march along on the high road where the sun shines and where opportunity will be in evidence for all the people of America, but until such time as they are solved every individual in the United States has a duty, a duty that he owes to God, to himself and to his country, which is inescapable. That duty is to act with kindness, charity and with cheerfulness toward his less fortunate brethren. Scripture tells us, "I am my brother's keeper!" Ah, if we could only be our brother's keeper until such time as the clouds of doubt, indecision and despair are lifted from our fair land, how much happier would be the lot of those who are destined to walk in the shadow of despair until such time as prosperity returns.

We are endeavoring to introduce a movement which will make for serenity of mind and sanity of our people by an opportunity for recreation that will in large measure alleviate the mental torture that afflicts our people today.

Every individual without employment is urged to join in this work which will mean a lighter heart, a more cheerful mind and a realization that as America has emerged in the past from similar difficulties so America will again emerge and go forward to a better and more prosperous condition than ever previously known in the history of our country. The peace of mind of the women and men seared with the misery of unemployment is dependent upon the charity and cheerfulness extended them by their more fortunate fellow beings. In God's name let us do our part.

BROADCAST BY MAYOR CURLEY.

I trust everyone that is listening in will make a special effort to go to the Arena. The seating capacity is so great that no one need have any fear of being unable to secure a good seat, and in return for money expended enjoy an evening's entertainment that will be replete with excitement, and possibly cause us to forget that which we must all speedily forget for the good of the nation—fear and depression that has robbed us of serenity and sanity and compels us to look through blue goggles all of the time. Every dollar received from the Argonne Athletic Association show tonight will be expended for the purchase of shoes, stockings and under-clothing for the needy of our city.

The venture rates as one of the most attractive, also most important, ever attempted in Boston or New England. For the many who are interested in boxing—five ten-round main bouts, all on one card—all jammed into one show, is something both new, novel and unique. Such, however, is the card which Promoter Mack of the Argonne Athletic Association has got together for tonight, and from it the unemployed will reap 50 per cent of the profits.

Very naturally, the wind-up contest of the five feature frays,—Norman Conrad of Wilton, N. H., vs. Sammy Slaughter of Terre Haute, Ind., stands out ahead. With the memories of their great bout here in January—a battle which saw the Granite Stater repeatedly on the canvas, only to come back and renew the combat—still very clearly in mind, it is not surprising that thousands of fans should desire to witness their second meeting tonight.

Because of his former victory, Slaughter is bound to rule favorite tonight, but the fact may turn out to mean nothing. It is a matter of record that the Granite Stater has in return bouts triumphed over the very few who have beaten him, and he may repeat this performance tonight. But, whether he does or not, a fighting fight is sure to be the outcome of their meeting—an affair between two game, willing, seasoned performers, each of whom has aspirations to become a national figure in the sport.

But this contest will be but one of the features. Big Walter Cobb of New York and Kansas, the chap who once bent in Camera's ribs, is to take on Bob Moody, now of Boston, claimant of the New England heavy title, also the outstanding colored heavyweight in the States. They are a pair of mighty punchers with plenty of antipathy between them to keep them plugging until one or the other goes down into the resin.

The muss between Steve Halaiko of Buffalo, the boy with the "poker face," and Paris Apice of Providence, claimant of the New England lightweight crown, will be an affair of boxers—a performance of gloved rapiers, skill and ring science. Both are regarded as masters of their art.

Dutch Leonard of Waltham and Leo Larivee of Waterbury will bring "the bing-bang boys" into action and another of the same sort will be the melee between Mickey Bishop of Stoughton and Eino Nyholm of Maynard. All of these ringsters have their followings and these followings will be on the job tonight.

The three six-rounds prelims—Chocolate Bon-Bon, Quincy, vs. Tommy Rawson, Jr., East Boston; Jack Lightfoot, Canada, vs. Terry Mitchell, Somerville; and Hookey Jackson, Westerly, vs. Al Roderiguez, Quincy, also will have plenty of appeal.

Jack Sharkey will referee one of tonight's bouts, which one to be decided today, but it is doubtful if either Jack Dempsey or Benny Leonard, both of whom were willing to show here tonight, will be able to do so. At last reports Dempsey was very busy in New York with his Max Baer-Max Schmeling fight, while Leonard is tied to theatrical contracts that cannot be easily waived.

When tonight's boxing program is completed, vaudeville will invade the ring—twenty acts of music and mirth—the whole combining to make a continuous show from its start at 7.30 tonight until an early hour tomorrow morning.

SEES SPEEDY REVIVAL OF PORT OF BOSTON'S BUSINESS AS RESULT OF INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION OFFICIALS' FINDINGS.

Mayor Curley stated findings of Director Bartel and Examiner Cheseldine of the Interstate Commerce Commission, recommending that the railroads serving New York, Baltimore and Philadelphia discontinue their present practices of giving rebates in warehousing, is another victory for the Port of Boston.

This decision, if confirmed by the full Interstate Commerce Commission, will eliminate the gratuities now granted at these ports to the railroads serving them, by permitting storage in warehouses at an absurd cost to shippers, a cost which is found to be far below the cost to the railroads, and which practice has been indulged in by the railroads in order to attract business to these ports as against other ports, including Boston, which do not grant such gratuities.

The City of Boston and the Port Authority, through Corporation Counsel Samuel Silverman and his associates, Johnston B. Campbell and W. H. McCoubry, presented the evidence in this case on behalf of the City of Boston and the findings of the director and examiner indicate that they have adopted almost in toto the recommendations of the City of Boston and the Boston Port Authority.

This decision, together with the decision in the lighterage case, if approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission, will mean a revival of business in the Port of Boston and will restore this port to its one-time high standing as one of the busiest ports on the Atlantic Coast. The decision holds that the leasing of space in warehouses owned by the railroads to shippers at a ridiculously low storage charge has resulted in discrimination against the Port of Boston and amounts to a preference to New York and other Atlantic ports, to the detriment of the Port of Boston. It is quite apparent that the Interstate Commerce Commission recognizes that the Port of Boston has been seriously handicapped by gratuities and special privileges granted to shippers by the railroads serving the port of New York.

Mayor Curley further stated that in his opinion the time is not far distant when we will see a revival of business in the Port of Boston after the Interstate Commerce Commission has ordered eliminated the discriminating practice against the Port of Boston, whereby shippers from the West may have their commodities delivered to the port of New York and stored in the railroad warehouses for practically no charge and at a great loss to the railroads serving the port of New York who are willing to indulge in this practice for the purpose of attracting business through the port of New York which might otherwise go to the Port of Boston, if the gratuity were not given to the shippers at the port of New York.

CIRCULAR LETTER NO. 17.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,
BOSTON, March 15, 1933.

To the Heads of Departments.

GENTLEMEN,—You are hereby directed to grant leave of absence, without loss of pay, on the morning of March 18, 1933, to employees of your department who are participating in the Evacuation Day Celebration, provided the same will not interfere with the proper conduct of your department.

Very truly yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

PRESIDENT THANKS MAYOR FOR CITY'S GIFT.

Mayor Curley, on March 9, received the following communication from President Roosevelt:

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT,
HYDE PARK, DUCHESS COUNTY,
NEW YORK, March 1, 1933.

MY DEAR MAYOR,—Please accept my sincere thanks for the bust and medalion. Through you I want to express my thanks to the citizenship of Boston, and to Mr. Amedeo P. Nardini my compliments on a job most excellently done.

Sincerely, your friend,

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Boston, Mass.

MAYOR ORDERS RECONDITIONING OF STEAMER "STEPHEN O'MEARA" TO PROCEED—NOTIFIES FINANCE COMMISSION.

Mayor Curley, on March 9, forwarded the following communication to the Finance Commission:

MR. FRANK A. GOODWIN, Chairman,
Boston Finance Commission, 24 School Street, Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Under date of March 4, 1933, a communication was received from the Finance Commission recommending the abandonment of program for the conditioning of the steamer "Stephen O'Meara" by the Institutions Department.

I am replying to the Finance Commission merely as a matter of courtesy, in view of the ridiculous conclusions arrived at by the Finance Commission.

The proposal that the city expend $20,000 for the reconditioning of the steamer "George A. Hibbard," the original contract price for which was but $33,750, I am quite certain, upon reflection and investigation, you will agree with me is unworthy of second thought. The "George A. Hibbard," which the Finance Commission recommends be reconditioned, has been in use by the city since December, 1910, and in view of the limited area which the police boat is required to cover I am quite certain that it can be utilized without extensive expenditure by the Police Department. The steamer "Stephen O'Meara" was constructed in conformity with specifications and recommendations made by the officials of the Police Department and so far as I am able to observe the only objection that could be reasonably raised is in the fueling system. An order adopted by the City Council provides the necessary money for the substitution of oil for coal as fuel and through this substitution the speed and the cruising area will be increased and the cost of operation reduced about 50 per cent.

Under the circumstances finding myself unable to agree in what I consider most unwise recommendations of the Finance Commission in this manner, I have this day instructed the Institutions Commissioner to proceed with the program as originally determined upon, namely, the reconditioning of the "Stephen O'Meara" and upon its completion the transfer of the "George A. Hibbard" to the Police Department.

Sincerely,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

P. S.—The suggestion that the steamer "Stephen O'Meara" which cost the city $198,000 and has never been operated, be sold at this time does not reflect favorably upon the acumen or intelligence of the Finance Commission. The Federal Government has approximately one thousand boats tied up in the various waterways of the United States and private interests own a number much greater for which there is absolutely no market at any price.

CATCH-BASIN CLEANING.

The cleaning of catch-basins in Toronto, Ont., is started immediately after the spring clean-up of the streets, and is usually sufficient until the fall, when the basins are given a thorough cleaning for the winter, in order to reduce to a minimum the blocking of drains during this season. Many basins throughout the business sections and those in subways and at the bottom of grades are given constant attention, owing to the exceptional amount of refuse washed to the culvert and drains by street flushing and rainstorms.

The total cost of catch-basin cleaning in 1931 was $17,580.70. A total of 11,561 cubic yards of material was removed from 54,306 catch-basins. The cost of cleaning the basins and removing the accumulated material was $1.52 per cubic yard, or 32 cents per basin per cleaning season, according to George W. Dies, Street Commissioner, Toronto, Ont.

MAYOR CURLEY SEEKS WRESTLING BOUT FOR UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF.

Mayor Curley has addressed the following communication to Paul Bowser, wrestling impresario:

MR. PAUL BOWSER.

DEAR SIR,—My attention has been directed, both by letter and telephone and by personal calls, to a decision rendered in a recent championship wrestling bout between Ed Don George, the present champion, and Nick Lutz, the challenger.

The facts as presented to me would indicate that Lutz was the winner of the contest and was denied the award to which he was entitled, due to the fact that the referee had been knocked from the ring and was unconscious. The fact that when the referee regained consciousness and was not in a condition to make a decision, Lutz was knocked out by George, does not in any sense alter the merits of the case. Lutz was clearly entitled to the decision, provided the facts as presented are accurate and no one has disputed them so far as I am aware.

Under the circumstances it is clearly the duty of the champion, Ed Don George, to arrange at once a return match, since in my opinion failure to do so would unquestionably prejudice the wrestling business in the minds of the public who are interested solely in a square deal.

Incidentally, I wish to direct your attention, if my memory serves me correctly, to the fact that many weeks ago you agreed to apportion a percentage of the income from the wrestling match for the benefit of the unemployed and needy who are being aided by the Public Welfare Department of Boston. The proceeds from a match between Champion George and Nick Lutz should unquestionably prove a drawing card. It would be possible for you to convince Champion George as to the injustice of the decision, and the necessity for keeping the sport clean and likewise consider your own obligation of devoting a portion of the proceeds to those in need.

Trusting I may hear from you in the near future, I remain,

Sincerely,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

ASKS FINANCE COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE THE PROPOSED SALE OF ELEVATED POWER PLANT IN EFFORT TO RELIEVE THE TAXPAYERS OF DEFICIT OBLIGATIONS.

Mayor Curley, on March 11, addressed the following communication to Chairman Goodwin of the Finance Commission:

MY DEAR MR. GOODWIN,—The amount paid by the City of Boston to the Boston Elevated Railway Company as a consequence of the deficit in the cost of operation of the Boston Elevated Railway in the territory served by the company was for the year 1932 approximately $1,184,000.

The operating revenues for the year 1933 indicate that the proportion that the City of Boston will be required to pay for the year 1933 will approximate nearly $2,000,000, unless there is an increase in revenue and a decrease in the cost of operating the property.

The Department of Public Utilities in a recent report outlined a program of economies which in their opinion, if adopted, would result in a saving of $2,500,000 annually, but apparently there is no serious intent upon the part of the trustees to adjust the operation of the road in conformity with the recommendations as made by the Department of Public Utilities.

The Boston Edison Company announced at a recent legislative hearing that it was prepared to pay $8,000,000 for the power plant of the Boston Elevated Railway Company and by the substitution of Edison power for power generated by the Boston Elevated Railway Company an annual saving of $130,000 could be effected to the railway company.

I understand that negotiations are now in progress between the officials of the Edison Electric Illuminating Company and the Boston Elevated Railway Company trustees for the purpose of effecting a definite agreement upon the question of sale.

It is my desire that if possible the taxpayers be relieved in this year of severe depression from the anticipated levy that will be necessary in the event that the three million dollar anticipated deficit materializes.

I am accordingly desirous that your commission conduct an investigation in the event that a sale is effected of the power plant of the Boston Elevated Railway Company to the Edison Electric Illuminating Company so that of the sum of $8,000,000 which it is proposed the Edison Company will pay to the Boston Elevated Railway Company that $3,000,000 of the anticipated deficit for the year 1933 be met out of the proceeds of the sale thereby relieving the cities and towns of the metropolitan district from an assessment that would represent a most unwarranted, unnecessary and unconscionable hardship in this year of real depression.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

MORTALITY OF UNITED STATES LOW.

General Order No. 173.

Patrolman Abraham Morse of Division 7 is commended in General Orders for the important part in which he figured in bringing two criminals to justice.

On March 7, 1933, Patrolman Morse received information that two men who might be wanted were in the house at 136 Sumner street. As a result of this information officers of Division 7 were dispatched to that address where they arrested two persons on suspicion. At the time three loaded revolvers were found in the house. Upon questioning, both men admitted holding up the City Fuel Company in Cambridge and stealing $200. In the Superior Court both pleaded guilty and received prison sentences.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the zeal and interest shown by Patrolman Morse upon receiving information concerning these men which resulted in their capture.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.*General Order No. 11.I. FIRE DEPARTMENT BAND.

Ladderman Leonard was commended for this service in General Orders, No. 3, c. s., and the commissioner has granted him seven days additional vacation.

Lieut. Daniel P. Connors of Rescue Company 2 is hereby commended for responding to and working at fire, Box 3147, March 9, 1933.

The commissioner has received a letter from Mrs. J. Gilbride representing the Ricci family of East Boston commending the department for assistance rendered in the recent illness of her mother. For the information of the department the letter is published below:

15 LEYDEN STREET,
EAST BOSTON, MASS.

FIRE COMMISSIONER, Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIR,—At last I find myself able to write you thanking you, your fire captain and firemen for their brave deed in trying to save my dear mother. Being a resident of New York when I was called home and learned of the good work of your men I just can't find words of thanks and I'm sure that my dear mother who passed on unto the great beyond will pray for your men. Their work, their courage, their kind way and willingness was wonderful. They certainly deserve praise in which I just can't express and I will return to New York with good memories of the firemen from the Byron Street Firehouse.

I thank you one and all in behalf of myself, my father, sisters and brothers.

I remain,

Mrs. J. GILBRIDE (nee Ricci) and RICCI FAMILY.

By order of Fire Commissioner EDWARD F. McLAUGHLIN.

HENRY A. FOX,
Chief of Department.

Building Department, one claim, $27.

TWO OF EVERY 1,000 INHABITANTS ARE POLICE EMPLOYEES IN THE AVERAGE LARGE CITY.

About two of every 1,000 persons in the average city are employed in city police departments. Jersey City has the greatest percentage of police defense of any of the cities of over 250,000 population reporting to the Bureau of Investigation, Department of Justice, according to statements published in a recent issue of the monthly publication, "Uniform Crime Reports." In the total population of 316,715, there are 1,154 Police Department employees, or 3.6 per 1,000 inhabitants.

Birmingham, Ala., is at the other end of the scale among the cities of over 250,000, with one police department employee per 1,000 inhabitants, or a total of 260 in a population of 259,678.

Boston, with a population of 781,188, has 2,579 police department employees, or 3.3 per 1,000. Newark, N. J., with 442,337 inhabitants, has 1,383 police employees, or 3.1 per 1,000. Chicago has only two per 1,000, there being a total of 6,742 police employees for the city's 3,276,438 people.

Among other cities which have reported such statistics to the Bureau are:

Baltimore, with 2.3 police department employees per 1,000 inhabitants; Buffalo, with 2.3; Cincinnati, with 1.5; Cleveland, with 1.7; Columbus, with 1.2; Dallas, with 1.1; Denver, with 1.5; Detroit, with 2.6; Houston, with 1.2; Indianapolis, with 1.6; Kansas City, with 1.7; Louisville, with 1.6.

Milwaukee has two police department employees per 1,000 of the population; Minneapolis has 1.2; New Orleans has 1.9; Oakland, Cal., has 1.4; Philadelphia has 2.8; Portland, Ore., has 1.5; Providence, R. I., has 2.4; Rochester has 1.6.

In St. Louis, the percentage is 2.8 per 1,000; in St. Paul, 1.3; in San Francisco, 2.2; in Seattle, 1.9; in Toledo, 1.5; and in Washington, 2.9.

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF ARSON OFTEN OVERLOOKED.

"Incendiary fires play a considerable part in the amount that each citizen must pay for the insurance protection which is so essential for him to have on his home or other property," A. Bruce Bielaski, assistant to the General Manager of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, told members of the National Fire Waste Council at their recent conference in Washington. "The rates paid for insurance must of necessity be sufficient to cover losses of all characters and, if possible, to leave for the insurance company a reasonable return for the service it renders. It will pay the individual citizen in dollars and cents to take a real interest in the detection and prosecution of those responsible for incendiary fires."

THE METROPOLITAN DISTRICT. With Its 43 Municipalities.

Consists in the most inclusive sense of forty-three municipalities, including Boston, or fourteen cities and twenty-nine towns, all within fifteen miles of the State House but not yet consolidated in one complete governmental system. The seven cities in the first zone, i. e., adjacent to Boston, are these, viz., Cambridge, Chelsea, Everett, Newton, Quincy, Revere and Somerville; the six cities in the second zone, not adjacent, are Lynn, Malden, Medford, Melrose, Waltham and Woburn. The six adjacent towns are Brookline, Dedham, Milton, Needham, Watertown and Winthrop; the twenty other towns are Arlington, Belmont, Braintree, Canton, Cohasset, Dover, Hingham, Hull, Lexington, Nahant, Norwood, Reading, Saugus, Stoneham, Stoughton, Swampscott, Wakefield, Walpole, Wellesley, Weston, Westwood, Weymouth and Winchester. North and northwest of Boston are situated eleven of the cities and twelve of the towns; south and southwest, two cities and seventeen towns. Norwood, Stoughton and Walpole were admitted into the South System of the Metropolitan Sewerage District in 1928.

UNITED STATES FOREIGN TRADE IN SILVER.

Although the United States is the second largest producer of silver, its exports of the metal exceed total annual production according to the United States Department of Commerce reports. Much silver is received for refining or transshipment. Most of this imported silver comes from Mexico, as evident from the following import figures, in millions of dollars: Mexico, 40.5 in 1929, 24.9 in 1930, and 11 in the first eight months of 1931; Canada, 6.4, 6.1, and 2.5, respectively; Peru, 10.4, 5.9, and 1.6; Chile, 2.3, 1.8, and 0.6; and all countries, 63.9, 42.8, and 18.3.

United States exports of silver go chiefly to China (including Hong Kong), British India, and the United Kingdom (whence they are sold largely to other countries). Shipments to leading countries and the total are summarized in millions of dollars, for 1929, 1930, and the first eight months of 1931, as follows: China and Hong Kong, 64.6, 37.8, and 8.5, respectively, of which China accounted for 61.8, 31.8, and 7.7; British India, 8.9, 9.6, and 4.6; the United Kingdom, 0.1, 2.1, and 3.4; Canada, 2.4, 1.8, and 1.1; Mexico, 5.2, 1.4, and 0.7; Germany, 1.5, 1, and 0.7; and all countries, 83.4, 54.2, and 19.2.

SAFE DRIVING.

Most cities and towns have a long list of "don'ts" but do little to educate the drivers of cars. If one half the time that is used trying to make people do something or not to do something was spent in educating the drivers much better results would be obtained. We need drivers' schools and the city or town that first starts such a school will be doing a real service.

CENSUS OF MANUFACTURES.

The Bureau of the Census issued a statement at the close of 1932 giving some preliminary figures compiled from the 1931 biennial census of manufactures, covering more than 300 industries in the United States. Public utility industries (other than manufactured gas), the mining and quarry industries and various service industries were not included in the compilation. The printing, publishing and allied industries are included.

Number of establishments, 174,136, a decrease of 36,823 or 17.5 per cent in two years; average number of wage earners, 6,511,647, a decrease of 2,327,096 or 26.3 per cent in two years; wages (not including salaried officers and employees), $7,225,587,464, a decrease of $4,395,385,790 or 37.8 per cent from 1929; cost of materials, containers for products, fuel and purchased electric energy, $21,420,124,017, a decrease of $17,129,455,715 or 44.4 per cent in the two years; value of products, $41,333,108,998, a decrease of $29,101,754,445 or 41.3 per cent since 1929; value added by manufacture, $19,912,984,981, a decrease of $11,972,298,730 or 37.5 per cent in two years.

Food and kindred products led in the number of establishments reporting, also in cost of materials and value of products; textiles and their products led in the average number of wage earners, amount of wages and value added by manufacture.

FAILURE TO MAINTAIN CITY STREETS IS FALSE ECONOMY.

Money now saved by failure to maintain city streets, in response to the clamor of citizens for tax reduction, represents a trivial economy in comparison with the enormous outlay that will be required to rebuild such thoroughfares later. Taxpayers in some municipalities, determined to reduce public expenditures, have gone so far as to insist upon elimination of funds sorely needed for the maintenance of existing streets. In other places, even though money for street maintenance is available, powerful minority groups are demanding that it be not spent under present conditions.—The American City.

TORONTO PORT TRADE SHOWS INCREASE.

The new Welland Canal, now in its first season of navigation, is responsible for an increase over 1930 of about 60 per cent in Toronto shipping, according to tonnage statistics released by the Toronto Harbor Commission. During the season just passed this shipping totaled 2,115,830 tons.

Shipping in 1932 should also increase proportionately, since a new deep channel will have been dredged before opening of navigation in the spring. In the five-year period ending in 1925, the average tonnage for Toronto shipping was 334,300 tons; but since then harbor improvements and the completion of the Welland Canal have enlarged this figure about sixfold.

MONTHLY PAYMENT OF TAXES ON REAL ESTATE RECOMMENDED.

The Committee on Public Relations of the United States Building and Loan League, of which Henry S. Rosenthal, of Cincinnati, is chairman, has recently recommended that taxes on real estate be paid on a monthly basis instead of semi-annually or annually as is now the custom. It is argued that the burden of taxes would not be noticed so much if met each month. Taxes would then be in the same class with gas, electric, and telephone charges, and could be easily anticipated. The monthly payment of taxes, it is stated, would keep money constantly flowing into the treasury of the city or other local government and thus obviate temporary borrowing.

GREAT LACK OF RURAL HEALTH SERVICE FACILITIES OFFICIALLY INDICATED.

Only 25 per cent of the rural population of the United States is at present provided with adequate and properly organized local health service, reports Surgeon General H. S. Cumming in his annual resume of the work of the United States Public Health Service during the past fiscal year, which has just been submitted to Congress.

MASSACHUSETTS BAY COLONY.

The first chartered colony in New England, charter granted by Charles I on March 4, 1629. About a year before, a patent had been granted to six prominent men of Dorchester, west of England, among whom was Capt. John Endicott. He sailed in June, 1628, with a party of fifty or sixty persons, arriving in September and settling at Naumkeag, afterward named Salem. In the spring of 1629, the Bay Company fitted out three ships conveying about four hundred persons and arriving at Salem in June. Endicott sent a small party to effect a settlement on the Bay in Mishawum, afterward named by the settlers Charlestown, the first town in New England to assume the town polity, Plymouth and Salem being governed by a governor and council. Endicott was appointed in London as the first resident governor on April 30, 1629. The Massachusetts Bay Company was reorganized in London on October 20, 1629, when John Winthrop was chosen as governor. He arrived at Salem on June 12, 1630, soon proceeded to Charlestown with a large following and finding that place unsuitable, finally settled in Boston. Winthrop served thirteen years as governor in four different periods ending in 1649 and Endicott fifteen years at various times ending in 1665. Other governors were Thomas Dudley, Richard Bellingham, John Haynes, Henry Vane, John Leverett and Simon Bradstreet, the latter serving twelve years until 1692 when the Bay Colony and the Plymouth Colony were merged, becoming the Royal Province of Massachusetts Bay, which existed eighty-two years to 1774, the governors being appointed by the King.

The name, Massachusetts, is Indian and signifies "near the big hills."

METHODS OF ELIMINATING GRADE-CROSSING ACCIDENTS.

Five suggestions aimed at the elimination of grade-crossing accidents are offered in the monthly report of the Street Traffic Committee of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce.

It is estimated that curing the grade-crossing evil would reduce traffic accidents by 10 per cent in a very short time, and the Committee presents the following five points for discussion:

1. Do away with those grade crossings which have the heaviest traffic.
2. Place warning signs not less than 500 feet back from the railroad tracks.
3. Take down all signs from obsolete trackage.
4. Use traffic-light signals (operated by trains) instead of signs, if there are fewer than five trains per day.
5. Consider scrapping all railroad signs in favor of signals for use only when train is approaching.

"The last two points merit consideration first, because, though they are new doctrines, they seem the least expensive and most practical of application."

PITTSFIELD FIRST CITY TO ADOPT WELDING SOCIETY BUILDING CODE.

Pittsfield, Mass., is the first city in this country to make formal adoption of the building code proposed by the American Welding Society to make available the advantages of welding in the construction of buildings in municipalities.

THE CINCINNATI RETIREMENT SYSTEM.

Cincinnati, after several years of careful study, has adopted a retirement system providing retirement allowances and death benefits for all municipal employees, excepting elected officials, members of independent boards and commissions, the employees of the University of Cincinnati, the employees of the municipal court and department heads. The city council, especially the finance committee, carefully studied systems in other cities before finally establishing the Cincinnati system.

Membership was optional to all general employees employed on August 1, 1931. Those of this group who joined the system at any time up to December 3 were given credit for prior service. The city will contribute an amount equal to the accrued liability resulting from such service. The personnel of the police and fire forces employed at the time the new system was established will continue under their separate pension plans. However, after January 1, 1932, all new entrants to the city service, including the uniformed services, will be required to subscribe to the new system.

UNITED STATES TO HAVE TENTH MUNICIPAL UNIVERSITY.

The tenth municipal university in the United States is being planned by Omaha, Neb., whose citizens have approved plans for the establishment of a four-year university, to be supported by a mill tax. The following are the nine municipal universities or colleges known to exist at the present time in the United States, in order of their establishment on the municipal basis: College of Charleston (South Carolina), 1837; University of Louisville (Kentucky), 1837; College of the City of New York, 1847; Hunter College of the City of New York, 1870; University of the City of Cincinnati (Ohio), 1871; University of Toledo (Ohio), 1884; University of Akron (Ohio), 1913; University of the City of Detroit (Michigan), 1923; Municipal University of Wichita (Kansas), 1926.

CHICAGO POLICE REORGANIZED.

Many improvements have recently taken place in the organization and administration of the Police Department of Chicago, Ill.

Although the numerical strength of the force has been reduced in the last two years approximately from 6,700 to 6,000, the number of men on foot patrol has been increased 150 per cent, being now about 1,900. The efficiency of the department has been further increased by adding to the number of patrol cars and by placing in operation an extensive police radio system. There are now some 100 small patrol cars and fifty large high-powered ones equipped with radio. Furthermore, 20 per cent of the present force constitutes new blood in the department. The average age has been lowered, and a greater proportion of young men will be encouraged by the reduction of the admission age to a range of twenty-one to twenty-nine years, from the former limits of twenty-three to thirty-five, approximately. Civil service methods in disciplining new policemen are better, and a more thorough check-up on the character of those examined is made.

WATER SUPPLY FROM WELLS.

The entire water supply of Memphis is taken from wells. The wells penetrate two strata of sand, the upper stratum being 300 to 500 feet below the surface, and the lower stratum roughly 1,000 feet deeper. The upper stratum, known as the LaGrange formation, is the more important and furnishes most of the supply. It is the one commonly used in this vicinity.

The lower stratum has been developed by the city to a limited extent, because wells in it do not interfere with those in the upper stratum, and therefore wells in the respective strata can be placed in close proximity to each other, and a greater capacity obtained from a given area. The LaGrange formation underlies western Tennessee, eastern Arkansas and northern Mississippi. It outcrops in a belt roughly parallel with the Mississippi river and some 40 miles eastward therefrom. Throughout this entire region it furnishes an ample supply to many municipalities and industries. The outcrop area is such that an abundant supply is in sight, for everyone caring to use it, for many years to come. The sands and clays, which are interspersed, are supposed to be deposits formed in prehistoric times, when the entire Mississippi Valley as far north as Cairo was practically an arm of the Gulf of Mexico.

CHICAGO CLEARING FISCAL SNARLS.

Chicago is slowly unraveling the fiscal snarl which has brought its local governments to the verge of complete standstill. The assessing machinery of Cook County has been reorganized and an honest, capable and impartial assessor placed in full charge. Legislative authorization has been obtained, through a special session of the Illinois General Assembly, to bridge the gap until the tax gathering machinery can be made to function normally again. Vigorous efforts are also being made to force the various taxing bodies to reduce current budgets so that the aggregate expenditures of all governments in Cook County in 1932 will fall within sharply decreasing tax collections.

FINANCING SEWAGE WORKS BY SPECIAL ASSESSMENT IN IOWA.

The cost of constructing sewage disposal plants in a number of states, and in Iowa in particular, may be levied against the various lots, parts of lots or parcels of ground draining to, or susceptible to drainage to, the site of the disposal plant. Such assessments must be in proportion to the benefits to each property and must not, in any case, exceed one-fourth of the fair value of the property in question. These special assessments are payable in the same manner as other municipal improvement costs; that is, in ten annual equal installments, paid at the same time and place as the March 1 installment of ordinary taxes in Iowa. Any property owner may pay off the unpaid portion of such tax at any time. Interest on the deferred payments must not exceed 6 per cent.

IRELAND'S CONTRIBUTION TO AMERICA'S GREATNESS IS SUBJECT OF MAYOR CURLEY'S ADDRESS AT CHARITABLE IRISH SOCIETY'S BANQUET. GATHERING AT COPLEY-PLAZA HOTEL THRILLED BY BRILLIANT CONTRIBUTION OF BOSTON'S CHIEF EXECUTIVE ON EVACUATION DAY CELEBRATION.

At the Charitable Irish Society annual banquet at the Copley-Plaza, Friday, March 17, Mayor Curley spoke as follows:

Nearly fifteen centuries have passed since a simple missionary, his only weapon the Cross of the Crucified Christ, inspired by divine faith converted a nation, thereby making possible the preservation of Christian civilization. The conversion of the inhabitants of Ireland to Catholicism and the development of spiritual education has given to the world over that day to the present day missionaries in the cause of the fatherhood of God, who, animated by the faith of St. Patrick, have braved every danger without fear.

The seeds of Catholicism planted by St. Patrick and the impetus given to education speedily changed a warlike nation into one whose cultural progress in a short period of years was greater than that achieved by many other nations in centuries. They were the torch bearers who kept burning the light of civilization when threatened with extinction and without whom Christian civilization would have been destroyed.

We who are their descendants may well rejoice in the heritage that was not only a potential factor in the establishment of American liberty but which has proven a barrier in the pathway of communism, bolshevism, atheism and chaos in the nation. Singular as it may appear, every great injustice or injury inflicted upon the people of Ireland has proven a blessing to America.

Irish Contribution to America.

The contribution of the Irish people to the establishment of American government has been most notable. The pure womanhood and the hardy manhood of Ireland were potential factors in the movement for liberty in the colonies even before the departure of the British forces from Boston in 1776. Four months before the shot fired at Lexington and heard 'round the world, it was the Irishman, Captain John Sullivan, with a handful of men, who captured William and Mary, thereby making possible the arms and ammunitions through which there was successful resistance for a time at least at Bunker Hill.

The importance of the Battle of Bunker Hill is best appreciated when we realize that the American yeomanry, undisciplined and unfamiliar with military science or tactics, were obliged not only to fight the trained British soldiery and Hessians but, in addition, an innate belief in the divine right of certain individuals to rule. The Battle of Bunker Hill, in which two hundred and twenty-eight men of Irish blood participated in addition to one hundred and forty-two who were numbered among the minutemen who fought at Lexington and Concord, was necessary in order to convince the people of the colonies that their citizen soldiery was more than the equal, man for man, to the trained soldiery of Britain.

The question is frequently raised as to the number of Irish who participated with Washington during the Revolutionary War and the record resulting from an investigation conducted under an order of the House of Commons of Great Britain discloses the fact that one half of the entire Continental Army were of Irish blood. Upon that memorable occasion, the eve of St. Patrick's day in 1776, what joy must have come to the hearts of the men in the ranks when the Father of our Country issued an order that the password for the day would be "St. Patrick." In retrospect our admiration is enhanced for the character and courage of the handful who participated in the movement for the establishment of American liberty, for after all, less than a majority of the three million souls who inhabited the thirteen colonies were in favor of complete severance from the mother country.

These heroic men under the leadership of America's first citizen, General Washington, threw down the challenge of battle to the mightiest nation at the time in the world with a realization that defeat meant death. Equally brave defenders of the cause of the colonists were to be found upon sea as upon land and the first cheering news emanated from New England at Machias, Maine, where Michael O'Brien with his six sons captured an English convoy and in recognition of their signal contribution the Continental Congress named the first ship of the navy "Liberty" and the second "Hibernia" and placed the first in command of Jack O'Brien and the second in command of his brother Jerry O'Brien as well as designating the command of the navy itself to the first commander of the American Navy, John Barry. Barry's services have recently received recognition in the erection of a monument in the capital of the nation which he aided so materially in establishing.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"
From Boston Centennial Poem by
NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.

MAYOR CURLEY APPEALS FOR AID FOR FRANKLIN SQUARE HOUSE AND SIMILAR INSTITUTIONS DOING SO MUCH TO BRIGHTEN LIFE AND PROVIDE CHEERY, HAPPY SURROUNDINGS FOR YOUNG WOMEN FORCED TO BATTLE FOR EXISTENCE IN BUSINESS, COMMERCIAL AND PROFESSIONAL BOSTON. DISCUSSES PROBLEMS IN REGULAR WEEKLY BROADCAST FROM CITY HALL STATION.

Mayor Curley spoke in part as follows on his regular Monday broadcast over Station WNAC from the Mayor's office:

Friends of the Radio Audience.

I have been requested to say just a word today with reference to a distinctively Boston organization that is performing an exceptionally essential service for the girls of the City of Boston. It is just one of those organizations founded by thoughtful, considerate, philanthropic souls in order that life's journey may be made a little easier for their fellow humans in this community.

Private organizations have suffered more during the period of the depression which has been in evidence during the past three years than any other single group. Many have reached the point where it is difficult, if not impossible, to secure funds with which to function, others are bravely fighting the battle—waiting for a happier and better day in the life of America—which we pray God is almost at an end. I desire to say just a word with reference to one of these organizations conducted and known as the Franklin Square House, East Newton street, in the South End of Boston. It is institutions such as these, born in happier times, in the hearts of men possessing great human understanding, institutions fostered by the hand of sympathetic philanthropy, that have spurred civilization to progress. Search all the annals of history, walk through any of the corridors of time, and you will find, behind every movement out of which has come improvement in the commonweal, some great-souled human beings moved to action under the inspiration of desire to be of service to humanity in its forward efforts.

It is with the sincere realization of this that I here pause to pay tribute to the hearts out of which this institution, the Franklin Square House, has come to flourish and grow potent in influence in Boston. It is because of my strong conviction as to the good of this institution that I speak. Those were great souls who conceived this idea and brought it to fruition with resulting benefits such as have been achieved.

BOSTON ALWAYS A LEADER.

Boston and Massachusetts have always been in the van in moves of progress and so they were among the first to sense and know the urgent need of providing at minimum cost that homelike atmosphere, and those congenial surroundings which persons away from home and alone in a great city so much miss; surroundings that make lighter the hearts and cheer the young women compelled to seek the city for opportunities to earn their way; surroundings that protect from the sense of isolation, from homesickness, and save them from becoming victims of the evil and the unscrupulous.

Times have been difficult for the sturdiest of us in these past four years. Existence has been difficult for the most fortunate of us. I shudder to think what might have happened to those who need shelter and protection most were it not for this institution, founded by Dr. George L. Perrin, and similar institutions and carried on so successfully by those into whose hands the managements have now been placed. The pitfalls for the innocent and the unwary are many in a great city in any times. How many times greater have they been in these depressing years from which we are emerging. They would still be dangerous and depressing had not a new sun arisen and a new deal begun under the leadership of Franklin D. Roosevelt, beneath whose banner of courage and ability the nation is rallying for the return of confidence, prosperity, happiness and normalcy.

Franklin Square House, a hotel for women, stands as an enduring memorial to the foresight and courage of Dr. George L. Perrin. Its doors were opened to working women and students of Boston, June 14, 1902, and since that time it has served more than one hundred fifty-five thousand guests. The original home was formerly the New England Conservatory of Music. This building was made possible for a home for women away from home through the generosity of John C. Haynes and others who contributed $100,000 for the purchase and the fitting up of the building. The first dinner served at the Franklin Square House seated forty-two guests. Now buildings have accommodations for 900 guests.

In 1902 the girls and students secured board and room at the rates of $3.50 to $5.25 weekly. Now the guests pay for room and two meals at the rate of from $6.25 to $8.75 per week. When first opened thirty years ago for the comfort and convenience of the guests there were provided a writing room, a ping pong table, individual reception rooms, facetiously known as "courting parlors." Today they have tennis courts, bowling alleys, an excellent library, two restaurants, a dance hall and a roof garden. There is also a hospital department for the free treatment of simple ailments and a twenty-four hour nursing service.

This institution in its thirty years of service has housed women of all the occupations, including office workers and saleswomen. College girls form 33 per cent of the annual house count. Among the famous graduates of the house is Katherine Brush, the well-known novelist; Maria Baldwin, head master of Agassiz School in Cambridge, and Mary McKay, who was connected with the Boston Globe for forty years.

An institution that can give to the world such outstanding women as have been named, and has served the community so well, deserves the commendation of all good thinking and philanthropic citizens. Its problems continue to be both social and financial. But it is such a living and vital force actively engaged in benefitting the community and the world that in this, the anniversary year of founding, I am constrained to pause in my efforts to keep Boston on a even keel in these trying times, to bespeak for the institution your continued interest, that the ideals of American womanhood may be upheld and the honor of the city and the nation preserved.

ADDRESS OF MAYOR CURLEY.

VALLEY FORGE YEARS.

The two dreary and heartbreaking years following the departure of the British from Boston were marked with reverse after reverse with never a cheer of victory until as the historians tell us, the trail of the army at Valley Forge might be traced for hundreds of miles by the blood left in the ice and snow by those who had neither shoes nor stockings. With the troops poorly clad and even more poorly fed, desertions were rife and dissension in evidence, and in all probability the cause for which they had staked their all would have been lost were it not for the princely gift made by a handful of Irishmen in Philadelphia of five hundred and fifteen thousand dollars that the war might go on until such time as the gloom of Valley Forge might be lifted through the radiant sunburst of victory at Yorktown.

Much stress has been laid upon the contribution of France to the establishment of American liberty and without doubt were it not for this contribution the cause for which the colonists fought would have been lost and the liberty of the American people either long postponed or perhaps never realized.

In the dark days of the Cromwellian invasion of Ireland the Spartan-like band, under the leadership of Sarsfield, who refused service in the ranks of Cromwell's forces, migrated to other countries. When war was declared by the colonists this group, known as the descendants of the "Wild Geese," who had fled from Ireland were insistent in their demand that France take sides with America, and, singularly as it may appear, of the seven regiments sent over by the French Government to the aid of Washington, one was called the "Regiment de Walsh," one was the "Regiment de Lacy" and a third the "Regiment de Dillon," or a total of thirty-six hundred Frenchmen—all of Irish extraction. In fact, the records show a majority of the Frenchmen bearing the name of Michael or Patrick.

SIGNERS OF DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE.

Of those who signed the Declaration of Independence ten were of Irish blood, while the Secretary of the Continental Congress, from the day of its opening to the final closing, was none other than Charles Thompson, an Irishman.

The seat of American government, the White House at Washington, in which there sits today a man with the faith of St. Patrick, with the executive qualities of Washington, with the statesmanship of a Jefferson and with the heart of a Lincoln, Franklin D. Roosevelt, was designed by none other than an Irish architect named Hogan, and the building is an exact reproduction of the home site of the Duke of Leinster, near Dublin, Ireland. The National Capitol, where assembles our lawmaking bodies, has surmounting its beautiful dome the armored figure of Liberty, designed by the Irishman Crawford. Directly opposite the National Capitol, where reposes the original Declaration of Independence, is to be found the Congressional Library, whose fairy-like colorings, matchless mosaic, and beautiful marble stairways is a monument not only to the ability but to the honor and honesty of its designer, an army engineer named Casey, who turned back an unexpended balance upon the completion of what is considered one of the most beautiful buildings in the entire nation.

Persecution, oppression and famine have been contributing factors to the development and the preservation of the American Republic. The famine of '48 in Ireland and the famine of '67 in Ireland were responsible for the migration to the United States, during the period from 1845 to 1870, of two and one half millions of the flower of Ireland's manhood and womanhood. Those who arrived here during the period of civil strife found no smoke issuing from factory chimneys and the walls of industry silenced. The only avenue for a livelihood for themselves and those they left behind was service in the army. The most notable record achieved by any unit of the Union Army was by that group known as the Irish Brigade, which numbered among its membership not only the Sixty-ninth Regiment of New York, of imperishable fame, but a Massachusetts regiment. History records that in 1864 when fighting was most severe, the Irish Brigade, first led by Cochran and then by Thomas Francis Maher, captured more flags and standards than the rest of the Union Army combined and never lost one flag or one standard.

REASONS FOR PRIDE.

In the light of Ireland's contribution in national defense, in statesmanship, in morality and in industry, every individual with Irish blood in his or her veins is justified in taking a pardonable pride in the accomplishment and the progress of the race. There are many who do not recall the revolt of Easter Week in Ireland in 1916 and yet Easter Week in Ireland, 1916, marks the direct line from Concord and Lexington in 1775.

It has been my good fortune to visit Ireland during the past two years and to learn that more schools have been established and more livable homes have been erected since 1916 than during the entire century of misrule preceding 1916. There is no individual so gifted with the power of prophecy as to definitely determine the future of Ireland, but one thing is absolutely certain, that the nations whose sons have ever stood ready to die for principle can be relied upon to overcome any difficulties regardless of how great they may appear.

The present group in Ireland, whether affiliated with President DeValera or former President Cosgrave, are idealists and students of government actuated solely by the desire to promote the welfare of the people of the land in which they live. May the faith of Patrick continue to animate them and may the prayers for their success be heard at the Throne on High.

We in America have been singularly blessed during the last few weeks by a leadership that has inspired faith in the hearts of heavily laden women and men who found it impossible to comprehend the inability of a nation richer in natural resources than any in the world to be involved in such an intolerable and inexcusable condition such as has obtained for a period of nearly four years.

In three short weeks the clouds have disappeared. The sun has begun to shine. Faith and courage have replaced fear and cowardice in the hearts of the American people. We have learned from the highest authority in the land that honesty and respect for a great trust is violated more frequently by those in high place than the people in the more humble walks of life. The admissions forced from the head of the National City Bank and the admission made by the head of the Chase National Bank have strengthened our faith in the determination of President Franklin D. Roosevelt to compel honesty upon the part of American citizens regardless of how powerful a position they may occupy in the world of finance or elsewhere. To the farmer he has given hope, to the unemployed of the land, numbering nearly fourteen million, he has given confidence, and in his inaugural message he directed the attention of the entire nation and the world to the necessity for recognition that without God nothing is possible. He has directed our footsteps from the path of greed and gold to the pathway of faith in Almighty God. He has given us a new vision and has pointed out the clear path of duty which if all will follow will give to America not only inspiration, faith and a new vision but a restoration of the underlying principles, the cornerstone of America's greatness, equality and liberty.

ADDITIONS TO CONTRACT.

DEPARTMENT OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

Permission has been given to issue an order of change making an addition of $7,281.02 to the contract of the Matthew Cummings Company for the erection and completion of the high school in the Christopher Gibson District, Washington street and Geneva avenue, Dorchester district. This amount is necessary in order to pay for additional concrete and reinforcing steel due to a change in the design of the foundation. 285.8 cubic yards of concrete at $20, $5,716; 733.6 cubic yards of backfill at $1, $733.60—$6,449.60; 22,500 pounds reinforcing steel at $2.48 per hundred $558; 22,500 pounds reinforcing steel plates at 75 cents per hundred, $168.75—$726.75; bond 1½ per cent $10.90—$737.65; plus 10 per cent $73.77—$811.42—$7261.02.

LIBRARY PACKED AS DEPRESSION CONTINUES.

As the curve of business goes down, the curve of reading goes up! To those cities tempted to chop off the budgetary appropriation for libraries as the first move in a program of economy, this report from the American Library Association Bulletin may be interesting:

More than a million new readers have found their way into libraries in cities of over 200,000 population in the last two years, and the number of books borrowed from them has reached the unprecedented high of 157,000,000—more than 26,000,000 over figures for 1929.

While these figures are indicative of the increase in reading throughout the country, they do not tell the whole story, for they represent only 44 libraries. Reports received by the American Library Association indicate that the per capita demand for books is equally great in smaller libraries.

Expenditures for library service in the cities noted increased 5 per cent during the two-year period; the number of books available increased 10 per cent; the number of registered readers, 19 per cent; and the number of books borrowed, 20 per cent.

CHICAGO POLICE.

Although the numerical strength of the Chicago police department has been reduced in the last two years from approximately 6,700 to 6,000, the number of men on foot patrol has been increased 150 per cent, or about 1,900.

AMERICAN PEOPLE HAVE FOUND HOPE REKINDLED, FAITH REVIVED, COURAGE AND CONFIDENCE RETURNING THROUGH THE SPIRITUAL APPEAL AND LEADERSHIP OF PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, MAYOR CURLEY TELLS AUDIENCES IN HIS ADDRESSES ON FRIDAY, MARCH 17.—SPEAKS IN SEVERAL THEATERS TO HUGE CROWDS.

Upon the evening of March 17, Mayor Curley delivered the following address at Strand Theatre, Upham's Corner, Codman Square Theatre, Oriental Theatre, Mattapan, and Rivoli Theatre, Roxbury:

The truth of the teachings of St. Paul, "That Faith Without Good Works is of No Avail" has been proven true in the past two weeks in America under the leadership of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

In his inaugural message, with a humility and a spirituality befitting the seriousness of the occasion, he invoked Almighty God's blessing upon the people of America and his labors as President of the Republic.

It was an affirmation of his belief that without the aid of God nothing was possible and that with the help of God nothing was impossible.

The action of President Roosevelt recalls to my mind a most interesting narrative related by Admiral Coehpret upon the occasion of the visit of the French War Mission to Boston in 1917.

The admiral stated that upon the day when the battle of the Marne was fought, in the early hours of the morning before the battle commenced, he approached Marshal Joffre and asked if he had done everything that could be done to insure the winning of the battle. The marshal replied, "Everything—men, ammunition, guns, supplies of every character, nothing has been left undone, and we either die here or save France here."

"I [the admiral] knew that he had been estranged from his religion for a period of seven years and said to him [Joffre], 'Are you sure?' He replied, 'Positive.' I said 'Have you said a prayer to Almighty God for success?' He turned to me and said, 'I have not prayed for seven years; I will do so now.'" And although the mud was nearly knee deep he knelt in the mud in a prayerful attitude for several minutes.

THE POWER OF PRAYER.

It is my firm conviction, with Admiral Coehpret, that it was not the guns, it was not the ammunition, it was not the determination of the soldiery—it was the simple prayer from a great man heard at the Throne on High that was responsible for victory.

The incident as related by the admiral finds a parallel in the story of John Sobieski, who, at an advanced age, was called from his retirement to head a movement to raise the siege of Vienna, which city was held by 700,000 Mohammedans and who, if successful, would have destroyed Christian civilization. With 70,000 men on a Sunday morning he joined in divine services and at the conclusion of the services the rallying cry was given to the troops by Sobieski. The 70,000 men responded to his call but less than 40,000 were numbered in the ranks when the siege was lifted. The rallying cry given by Sobieski to his troops was, "Not for our glory, O Lord, but for Thine." The battle was waged, the hordes of Mohammed were routed and Christian civilization was preserved.

It may be likened in many respects to the scene enacted in another day in the life of America—those dread days at Valley Forge when the Father of our Country, his handful of men weakened by disease and lack of food and clothing and supplies, could be found kneeling nightly in the snow praying to Almighty God for the success of the movement for the establishment of American liberty. And the appeal to the throne on high again answered by the French nation which sent both men and ships of war to the aid of Washington.

It might be likened to another trying period in the life of our nation when the emancipator, Abraham Lincoln, at Gettysburg, made his appeal that this nation under God should have a new birth of freedom and that government of and for and by the people should not perish from the earth.

The people of America who have been wandering in the valley of despair and gloom for a period of nearly four years have found hope rekindled, faith revived and courage and confidence gradually being restored through the spiritual appeal and truly great leadership of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

SPEEDY PROGRESS IN TWO WEEKS.

More genuine progress along the high road to stability, industrial prosperity and financial integrity has been made in the past two weeks than in any similar period in the history of our nation under any chief executive.

The economic warfare in which the nation has been engaged since the fall of 1929 might be likened in some respects to the battle waged by the Army of the Potomac during the period of the Civil War. General McClellan was necessary for the development of organization work but he was lacking in the qualities of indomitable leadership that were predominant in his successor, General Grant.

The success of General Grant was due in large measure to the fact that he had an objective and would not be swerved by any one, and that each success achieved not only resulted in a higher esprit de corps upon the part of the army but it strengthened the faith of the people in his ability and determination to win the battle.

Franklin D. Roosevelt has won every skirmish up to the present time and the forces responsible for depression are one by one disappearing. The need of the present hour is a realization upon the part of the entire citizenship not alone as to the character and capacity and ability of Franklin D. Roosevelt but an abiding faith in him and a willingness to assist him in winning the battle against economic depression.

A depression that has been in progress for nearly four years cannot be terminated over night. It will call for patience, courage and cheerfulness upon the part of every citizen and will require a spirit of sacrifice similar to that which America furnished during the period of the World War.

President Roosevelt has made provision for the safeguarding of the people's money through banking regulations, thereby making more liquid the capital necessary for the functioning of industry through which opportunity for a livelihood is afforded the citizenship. He has recognized that there can be no lasting prosperity until the agricultural element in America, representing one-fourth of the entire population, becomes prosperous and has accordingly taken the necessary steps to this end. He has recommended the adoption of an unemployment program through which more than 500,000 of the youth of the nation now unemployed may be absorbed in work of a useful and necessary character. He has made provision for the balancing of the Federal budget and for economies in government so that the heavy burden borne by the home owners may be lightened.

Truly, he has worked in conformity with the teachings of St. Paul in combining good works with faith. As we love our country and hope for its future, in God's name let us do our part to sustain, fortify and aid him.

MAYOR CURLEY AND DAUGHTER FELICITATE PRESIDENT AND MRS. ROOSEVELT UPON WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

Mayor Curley, on March 17, forwarded the following telegram to President Roosevelt at Washington:

Like Saint Patrick, nearly fifteen centuries ago, armed with only the weapon of faith, you have captured the hearts of an entire nation and won the admiration of the world. May the sunshine which you have brought to despairing America reflect happiness until eternity for you and yours.

KANSAS CITY WINS POLICE HOME RULE.

The Supreme Court of Missouri has given Kansas City control of its police department.

For years those who wanted the city to operate and control its own police department had been going to the Legislature regularly with bills which would end state control. But conditions were never just right. The city raised the question of the constitutionality of the law under which the department has operated, and the Court held the law unconstitutional in a five-to-two opinion.

The police department of Kansas City had been under the control of the state since 1874. Under the law as it has existed in recent years, the department was administered by a commission of three members, two appointed by the governor and the mayor, ex officio.

The city attacked the law on the ground that it delegated legislative powers to an administrative board. In this contention the city was upheld, the court holding that the limitations in the law were not sufficiently definite to prevent the commissioners from making almost unlimited demands on the city treasury.

CHICAGO POLICE REORGANIZED.

Many improvements have recently taken place in the organization and administration of the Police Department of Chicago, Ill.

Although the numerical strength of the force has been reduced in the last two years approximately from 6,700 to 6,000, the number of men on foot patrol has been increased 150 per cent, being now about 1,900. The efficiency of the department has been further increased by adding to the number of patrol cars and by placing in operation an extensive police radio system. There are now some 100 small patrol cars and fifty large high-powered ones equipped with radio. Furthermore, 20 per cent of the present force constitutes new blood in the department. The average age has been lowered, and a greater proportion of young men will be encouraged by the reduction of the admission age to a range of twenty-one to twenty-nine years, from the former limits of twenty-three to thirty-five, approximately. Civil service methods in disciplining new policemen are better, and a more thorough check-up on the character of those examined is made.

MASSACHUSETTS BAY COLONY.

The first chartered colony in New England, charter granted by Charles I on March 4, 1629. About a year before, a patent had been granted to six prominent men of Dorchester, west of England, among whom was Capt. John Endicott. He sailed in June, 1628, with a party of fifty or sixty persons, arriving in September and settling at Naumkeag, afterward named Salem. In the spring of 1629, the Bay Company fitted out three ships conveying about four hundred persons and arriving at Salem in June. Endicott sent a small party to effect a settlement on the Bay in Mishawum, afterward named by the settlers Charlestown, the first town in New England to assume the town polity, Plymouth and Salem being governed by a governor and council. Endicott was appointed in London as the first resident governor on April 30, 1629. The Massachusetts Bay Company was reorganized in London on October 20, 1629, when John Winthrop was chosen as governor. He arrived at Salem on June 12, 1630, soon proceeded to Charlestown with a large following and finding that place unsuitable, finally settled in Boston. Winthrop served thirteen years as governor in four different periods ending in 1649 and Endicott fifteen years at various times ending in 1665. Other governors were Thomas Dudley, Richard Bellingham, John Haynes, Henry Vane, John Leverett and Simon Bradstreet, the latter serving twelve years until 1692 when the Bay Colony and the Plymouth Colony were merged, becoming the Royal Province of Massachusetts Bay, which existed eighty-two years to 1774, the governors being appointed by the King.

The name, Massachusetts, is Indian and signifies "near the big hills."

FAILURE TO MAINTAIN CITY STREETS IS FALSE ECONOMY.

Money now saved by failure to maintain city streets, in response to the clamor of citizens for tax reduction, represents a trivial economy in comparison with the enormous outlay that will be required to rebuild such thoroughfares later. Taxpayers in some municipalities, determined to reduce public expenditures, have gone so far as to insist upon elimination of funds sorely needed for the maintenance of existing streets. In other places, even though money for street maintenance is available, powerful minority groups are demanding that it be not spent under present conditions.—The American City.

METHODS OF ELIMINATING GRADE-CROSSING ACCIDENTS.

Five suggestions aimed at the elimination of grade-crossing accidents are offered in the monthly report of the Street Traffic Committee of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce.

It is estimated that curing the grade-crossing evil would reduce traffic accidents by 10 per cent in a very short time, and the Committee presents the following five points for discussion:

1. Do away with those grade crossings which have the heaviest traffic.
2. Place warning signs not less than 500 feet back from the railroad tracks.
3. Take down all signs from obsolete trackage.
4. Use traffic-light signals (operated by trains) instead of signs, if there are fewer than five trains per day.
5. Consider scrapping all railroad signs in favor of signals for use only when train is approaching.

"The last two points merit consideration first, because, though they are new doctrines, they seem the least expensive and most practical of application."

THE POLICE OFFICER AND THE CITIZEN.

The importance of the police as conspicuous representatives of the municipal government, and the qualities desirable in such a relationship, were pointed out by City Manager Willard F. Day of Staunton, Va., in addressing the recent convention of the Virginia Police Executives' Association. He said in part:

"It is unquestionably true that the man on the street, the public, the visitor and the home citizen alike, form first and in many cases lasting impressions of the local government by contacts with the police."

FALSE ECONOMIC PROPOSALS.

Danger to both the immediate and the long-run efficiency of fire departments and to the security of the community itself lies in many if not most of the proposals of taxpayers' representatives attacking the budgetary provisions for municipal fire protection. The gravity of this menace was emphasized by Jay W. Stevens, California State Fire Marshal and Executive Secretary of the International Association of Fire Chiefs, in an address on "Maintaining Fire Department Efficiency," given before the recent convention of that organization.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE RECEIVES REPORT OF HEAD MASTER MAURICE J. LACEY ON ATTENDANCE AT MINNEAPOLIS CONVENTION OF EDUCATORS.

The School Committee has accepted the report of Maurice J. Lacey, head master, Jamaica Plain High School, on his attendance at the annual meeting of the Department of Secondary School Principals of the National Education Association, held at Minneapolis, February 27 to March 3:

BOSTON, March 10, 1933.

MR. PATRICK T. CAMPBELL,
Superintendent of Public Schools.

MY DEAR MR. CAMPBELL,—Permit me to submit a report on my recent attendance at the convention of the Department of Superintendence, National Education Association, held at Minneapolis, Minn. Meeting concurrently with the Department of Superintendence were twelve other affiliated associations. On account of the multiplicity of meetings occurring at the same hours, I was forced to restrict my attendance to two groups, viz., the Department of Superintendence and the Department of Secondary School Principals. According to newspaper accounts, over 6,000 educators, representing every state in the Union, were in attendance.

The dominant note of the convention was the preservation of the American system of education in these troublous times, with due regard for all possible economies during this financial crisis. The educators at the convention were militant in their efforts to retain, for future generations, the advances in education that have been made, and to oppose, to the utmost, the organized efforts that are being made throughout the country to cripple the educational system. Cooperation with the layman and plans for enlisting leaders of thought in every community for the preservation of education, were ideas voiced by many speakers at the convention.

It is impossible, within the limits of this brief report, to outline fully the ideas put forth by the numerous speakers, but a few excerpts from some of the speeches may reveal adequately the tenor of the meetings. I submit a few such excerpts:

Doctor Strayer, Professor of Educational Administration, Columbia University: "Economy in the support of education is desirable at all times. Under existing conditions, thrifty and careful administration of public education is the only basis upon which its essential services can be maintained. But in making adjustments due to diminished income, it is of the utmost importance that essential school services be maintained. In every area the demands made upon the schools are heavier than in times of prosperity. Conditions of distress caused by unemployment make the maintenance of children and of youth a matter of primary obligation."

Dr. Coffman, President of University of Minnesota: "Now, under the stress of the breakdown of the financial structure of the world and under the pressure of many groups for tax reduction, legislative bodies, ignoring the democratic philosophy that has guided American life hitherto, and disregarding the foundation guarantees of civil liberty, are striking more or less blindly at every tax-supported institution. Western civilization is hanging in the balance. She faces the past when she should be facing the future and moving forward to greater achievements. The truth of H. G. Wells' statement that civilization is a race between education and catastrophe was never more obvious."

Vice Chancellor Wallace, Sydney University, Australia: "When I think of education, I always like to think of persons and not of systems. In the long run, plan as we may, the success of any system of education turns on the teacher. A good building and a good curriculum are useless if we lack the good teacher."

Dr. Cubberly, Dean of School of Education, Stanford University: "That the leaders in public education today face one of the most determined battles to preserve the schools from being sacrificed that economies in other public services need not be made, and that extravagances elsewhere may be untouched, there can be little question. We must defend the rights which we have won after long and hard fighting, and the opportunity now presents itself to take the offensive and to bring home to the American people the tremendous importance for the future national life that the educational services of our children be not in any serious manner curtailed."

Dr. Dewey, Professor Emeritus of Philosophy, Columbia University: "The United States Chamber of Commerce has sent to local chambers various suggestions regarding 'economy.' An apologetic statement accompanies the information showing the information did not originate in the chamber's offices but in the agenda of the citizens' conference called by President Hoover. The chamber forgot to mention who did prepare the agenda and the fact that it was deliberately rejected by the conference. The chamber neglected to inclose, even by way of illustration, the contrary suggestions adopted by the conference."

Dr. Glenn Frank, President of Wisconsin University: "And now this very leadership that has done most to unbalance the nation's life is insisting that we shall balance the nation's budget by plunging a sword to the heart of all those scientific, social, and educational enterprises to which alone we can look to produce a leadership for the future that will be less inept, a leadership that might conceivably use this magnificent machine economy of ours to free the race from drudgery, poverty and insecurity, instead of letting it starve like Midas in the midst of plenty."

Revision of the curriculum in the light of present day conditions was urged by several speakers. David Lawrence, the nationally famous authority on political affairs, stressed the study of civics with less emphasis on the structure of the government and more on its problems. He stated that the knowledge that a member of the national House of Representatives must be at least twenty-five years of age, contributes little in the making of a high-minded citizen, but a knowledge, for example, of the problem of government, finance, the raising and the spending of municipal, state and national moneys, would aid much in producing an intelligent citizen. Moreover, less emphasis on battles and more on our periods of economic depression would aid our citizens to be prepared for the periods of depression that seem fated to afflict our citizens at various times. Continuing, Mr. Lawrence stated: "We pass the buck the day after election. We do not actually take a very great interest in our government. We leave it up to the elected officials entirely, and we are not too judicious in our choosing of them. We must inspire our young people to think of politics in a better light."

Speaking on the time-honored question of "frills," H. H. Ryan, Principal of Wisconsin High School stated: "Frills are subjects in the curriculum which are there because it is respectable to offer them, although only the scantiest intellectual and social profits can be traced to them. On the other hand if parental interest is any criterion, there are many so-called extra-curricular subjects which are not 'frills' at all."

Replying to a question of incorporating more social studies in the schools to teach children how to avoid such a situation as faces the world now, Dr. Hutchins, President of the University of Chicago, replied: "Such an idea is laudable in theory. But what those educators should do is quit talking about it and offer some specific subjects to be included in curricula. So far, no one has done it."

Enlightening the people as to the philosophy of our system of education by bringing the people to the schools that they may examine at first hand just what the schools are doing, was stressed by several speakers. Superintendent Weglein, Baltimore, Md., suggested an advisory council of 50 to 100 citizens to visit the schools with the hope that such a council would serve to educate the public at large as to what our schools are aiming at and what they are accomplishing.

The convention, marked by an unusual earnestness of purpose, proved most inspirational. I am deeply grateful to you and to the members of the Boston School Committee for sending me as the delegate of the Boston School Committee to the convention.

Sincerely yours,

MAURICE J. LACEY,
Head Master.

TO REMOVE ICE AND SNOW EASILY.

In certain special emergency cases, as in traffic areas, it may be desirable to entirely remove thick, heavy accumulations of ice and hardened snow which, because they usually become badly rutted, are a cause of dangerous traffic conditions. In such cases the application of flake calcium chloride by means of a mechanical spreader at the rate of three quarters to one pound per square yard will soon loosen the entire ice coating, permitting its removal from the pavement by hand or mechanical means.

For this purpose, a solution containing from 25 to 30 per cent of calcium chloride, which figures 2.85 to 3.75 pounds per gallon of solution, may be employed. Such solutions, especially if made up with warm water and applied by a street flusher equipped with nozzles which throw a finely divided high-pressure spray, have proved highly efficient for this purpose. As soon as the ice has become loosened from the pavement surface, it should be removed and an extremely light treatment of coarse sand applied to the surface.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 174.

(Paragraph 1.)

A trial board consisting of Captains McKinnon, Lewis and Fallon, having heard by reference a complaint made by Jeremiah F. Gallivan, captain, Division 6, against William D. Warren, patrolman, Division 6, for alleged violations of the Rules and Regulations of the Police Department, to wit:

Charge: Conduct unbecoming an officer.

Specification 2: In that on the first of March, 1933, the said Patrolman William D. Warren, while on duty, was under the influence of intoxicating liquor to such an extent that he was unable to properly perform his duty as a police officer, if called upon so to do, thereby tending to bring into disrepute and criticism his associates on the Police Force,— has submitted the following finding and recommendation:

The Board having heard and carefully considered all the evidence presented, accepts the plea of guilty of the said Patrolman William D. Warren to the charge and the specifications thereunder, and respectfully recommends that the said Patrolman William D. Warren be suspended from duty, with loss of pay, for a period of thirty days, and that at the expiration of the said period of suspension the said Patrolman William D. Warren be ordered to perform 210 hours of punishment duty.

The commissioner accepts the finding and recommendation of the Trial Board and hereby orders that the said Patrolman William D. Warren be suspended from duty, with loss of pay, for a period of thirty days, effective March 11, 1933, and that at the expiration of the said period of suspension the said Patrolman William D. Warren perform 210 hours of punishment duty.

Civil Service Rule 23, Section 3, requires approval of the Civil Service Commission before reinstatement.

Rule 23.

Section 3. With the consent of the Commissioner upon good cause shown, an appointing officer may reinstate in the same position or in a position in the same class and grade any person who has been separated from the service; provided, however, that the Commissioner shall not allow reinstatement of a person discharged for cause.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 175.

Patrolman Robert J. Dalton and Patrick J. O'Reilly, both of Division 19, are commended in General Orders and each given two days' additional vacation for efficient police duty performed on February 10, 1933, in arresting a man wanted for breaking and entering and larceny in the night time in the Mattapan section. Investigation revealed that warrants were held for this man by a neighboring town and the United States authorities for various offences.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the creditable police duty performed by these officers in effecting this important arrest.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 176.

(Paragraph 1.)

A trial board consisting of Captains McKinnon, Lewis and Fallon having heard by reference a complaint made by Archibald F. Campbell, captain, Division 7, against Leo G. Hearn, patrolman, Division 7, for alleged violations of the Rules and Regulations of the Police Department, to wit:

Charge 1: Conduct unbecoming an officer.

Specification 1: In that on the nineteenth day of February, 1933, the said Patrolman Leo G. Hearn, while off duty, and in citizen dress, was under the influence of intoxicating liquor to such an extent that he was unable to properly perform police duty, if called upon so to do.

Specification 2: In that on the nineteenth day of February, 1933, the said Patrolman Leo G. Hearn, while off duty, and in citizen dress in the city of Medford, did without any provocation or right place a citizen under arrest, and further, did assault said citizen, namely, one Julius Miola, and further, the said Patrolman Leo G. Hearn, at the time of said improper arrest and assault, did place his (Patrolman Leo G. Hearn's) police revolver against the body of said citizen and did threaten bodily injury to the said citizen who had not committed a violation of the law.

Specification 3: In that on the nineteenth day of February, 1933, the said Patrolman Leo G. Hearn did commit various acts that were contrary to good order and discipline of the Boston Police Department.

Charge 2: Leaving the city without permission.

Specification: In that on the nineteenth day of February, 1933, the said Patrolman Leo G. Hearn, while not in uniform and not upon any police duty, did leave the City of Boston and go to the city of Medford, Massachusetts, without having received permission from the Police Commissioner, the superintendent or his commanding officer,— has submitted the following finding and recommendation:

The Board having heard and carefully considered all the evidence presented finds the said Patrolman Leo G. Hearn guilty on Charge 1 and specifications thereunder, and accepts the plea of guilty of the said Patrolman Leo G. Hearn to Charge 2 and specification thereunder. The Board feels that the seriousness of the charge on which Patrolman Leo G. Hearn has been found guilty, coupled with his past record, warrants the imposition of the extreme penalty of dismissal from the department, but it has taken into consideration the statement of the commanding officer of the said Patrolman Leo G. Hearn that he (the commanding officer) found the officer efficient and satisfactory in his work, and further that he had confidence in the officer, if given another chance would redeem himself and be of value to the department. said Patrolman Leo G. Hearn has performed police duty appeared in his behalf and gave high commendations regarding his efficiency, courtesy and intelligence. Also, that the officer had taken a pledge with his spiritual adviser to forever abstain from the use of intoxicating liquor, which pledge was presented to the Board. The Board also took into consideration the appeal of the aged mother of the said Patrolman Leo G. Hearn, that he is the sole support of her and of his father who is paralyzed, and that he is contributing to the support of other relatives, to the extent that he has abandoned his intentions of getting married and establishing a home of his own. The said Patrolman Leo G. Hearn presented a good, clean appearance and manifested a degree of intelligence higher than the average, and the Board felt that it is for the best interests of the department that the said Patrolman Leo G. Hearn be given another chance.

The Board, therefore, respectfully recommends that the said Patrolman Leo G. Hearn be suspended from duty, with loss of pay, for a period of ninety days from February 19, 1933, and that at the expiration of said period of suspension the said Patrolman Leo G. Hearn be ordered to perform 210 hours of punishment duty.

The commissioner accepts the finding and recommendation of the Trial Board and hereby orders that the said Patrolman Leo G. Hearn be suspended from duty, with loss of pay, for a period of ninety days from February 19, 1933, and that at the expiration of said period of suspension the said Patrolman Leo G. Hearn perform 210 hours of punishment duty.

Civil Service Rule 23, Section 3, requires approval of the Civil Service Commission before reinstatement.

Rule 23.

Section 3. With the consent of the Commissioner upon good cause shown, an appointing officer may reinstate in the same position or in a position in the same class and grade any person who has been separated from the service, provided, however, that the Commissioner shall not allow reinstatement of a person discharged for cause.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

MAYOR CURLEY APPOINTS BUILDING COMMISSIONER ROEMER DIRECTOR OF RELIEF WORK.

It has long been the desire of Mayor Curley to find the best use of the labor of able-bodied recipients of welfare relief so that the city may gain in return the largest amount of permanent benefits. On March 1, 1933, Mr. Frederic H. Fay, chairman of the City Planning Board, submitted to his Honor, on behalf of the Board, a statement on the productive utilization of welfare labor for the benefit of the City of Boston. The statement, which was approved by the City Planning Board, was prepared by one of its members, Mr. William Stanley Parker, whose recommendations are based upon a survey of the experience and conditions in other communities and groups and upon conferences with the chairman and members of the Department of Public Welfare and representatives of other departments in the city.

There are two results to be sought, the physical public improvements that will be useful to the community and the morale of the men themselves. It is believed that both these results may be obtained if, first, the men's labor is expended on constructive work, the results of which will be visible and useful, and second, so far as is possible these projects should be independent of the normal work of the regular city departments. It is also clear that if morale is to be developed and maintained the men assigned to these projects must do a reasonable day's work for their relief pay, and that power to discipline loafers must rest with the foremen and superintendents who direct the projects.

The report suggests the appointment of a high-grade, full-time executive, assisted by an advisory board, who will give serious study to the two main departments of his work,—personnel analysis and project analysis. It would be his duty to develop the projects best suited to the use of welfare labor and to determine the assignment of the recipients of relief to such projects as were best suited to their abilities.

The Emergency Planning and Research Bureau, Incorporated, has made a partial survey of city-owned property, which discloses items of repair of various sorts that are needed and that would provide at least eight hundred days' work with a very slight cost for materials. The report also suggests interesting possibilities for the development of the Cummings property, an estate of two hundred acres in Woburn which was willed to the city for recreational purposes.

The Mayor has appointed Mr. Edward W. Roemer, Building Commissioner, as Director of Work Relief, with instructions to confer with the Advisory Board at an early date, that the plan may be put into operation with all possible speed. His Honor has also named the following Advisory Board:

Roy M. Cushman, Executive Secretary, Boston Council of Social Agencies, 43 Tremont street, Room 910.

Ernest A. Johnson, Secretary Building Trades Council of Boston and Vicinity, 142 Berkeley street, Room 201.

Dr. John Nolan, President Boston Society of Landscape Architects, 5 Boylston street, Cambridge.

William Stanley Parker, architect, Member City Planning Board, 120 Boylston street, Boston.

Frank M. Cunby, engineer, President Emergency Planning and Research Bureau, Incorporated, 201 Devonshire street, Room 709.

Joseph A. Rourke, Commissioner Public Works Department, 509 City Hall Annex.

William P. Long, Chairman Park Department, 33 Beacon street.

Simon E. Hecht, Chairman Overseers of Public Welfare, 373 Marlboro street.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION RULING BENEFITS BOSTON.

Mayor Curley, on March 17, received the following communication from Vice Chairman Richard Parkhurst of the Boston Port Authority:

DEAR MAYOR CURLEY,—In these times with so much of national moment happening almost daily, those matters which have more of a local bearing must naturally take second place in the importance to be assigned them. To the advantage of Boston and New England, however, there has just been handed down a decision from the Director of the Service Bureau of the Interstate Commerce Commission, second only in importance to the Examiner's Report made public not long ago in the so-called Lighterage Case. In the Warehouse Case for the first six months of 1932 this Board was actively interested, and it comes as a great satisfaction to find that our contentions, as placed before the commission at many hearings, to the effect that the practices under discussion within New York Harbor were undermining this port, have been substantially upheld.

The Interstate Commerce Commission Service Bureau's Report is most definite in language and quite frank in recommending drastic action unless the carriers, particularly at New York and to a certain extent at Philadelphia and Baltimore, desist from certain warehousing and other practices which are, in effect, nothing more or less than rebating. If the railroads serving these ports are compelled to put into effect charges for the services rendered over their terminals, in accordance with the approximate cost of such services, these will be about on a parity with most of these assessed in this port. Such action on the part of the railroads would immediately remove one of the most serious forms of competition we have to meet in our endeavors to attract new business through the Port of Boston.

This Board has always taken the position that until various rate and terminal conditions can be brought in the line with those of other ports, no substantial volume of business outside of the New England area, and even in large sections of that area, can be secured for this port. Whether the railroads here reduce their charges, or whether at other ports they increase them, is, from the point of view of the flow of commerce through Boston, about as broad as it is long. It is true, however, that in our investigations and in the various proceedings which we have either taken part in or listened in on before the commission, charges at other ports are time and time again proven to be entirely too low to offset the actual costs. It seems probable, therefore, that as time goes on we shall see the railroads at our competing ports compelled, by dictum of the commission, to increase certain of their charges so that to all intents and purposes we shall hope eventually to see rate and terminal conditions for all North Atlantic ports on a parity. This end for which we are striving is probably some distance away, but every decision like the present one brings us nearer the goal.

Very truly yours,

RICHARD PARKHURST,
Vice Chairman.

BOSTON'S SUPPLIES PURCHASED LARGELY AFTER OPEN, SPIRITED PUBLIC BIDDING. NEW SYSTEM FINDS 75 PER CENT OF PURCHASES MADE THROUGH ADVERTISED PUBLIC BIDDING, DEPARTMENT SUPERINTENDENT MAKES REPORT TO MAYOR.

Superintendent of Supplies Philip A. Chapman has submitted the following report to Mayor Curley:

BOSTON, January 2, 1933.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Complying with the Revised Ordinances of 1914, chapter 35, I herewith submit to you the report of the Supply Department for the year ending December 31, 1932.

I assumed the office of Superintendent of Supplies on February 6, 1930, and was confirmed by the Civil Service Commission on February 26, 1930. I found that the Supply Department had been operating in the same manner for years, with but little public advertising of items to be purchased; with various departments of the city doing a large part of their own purchasing without authorization or approval of the Supply Department and sending in confirming requisitions. This practice had been increasing year by year over a period of years and was not the result of any one year or administration. No Annual Report had been filed by the Supply Department for a number of years and no purchase records had been kept in the Supply Department for a number of years. I soon realized the difficult problem before me and felt that this was a problem for the consideration of the Finance Commission, as well as myself. I believed that a survey should be made by them before any radical changes were made, and during the year requested the chairman to make a study of the department. In this connection I beg to quote from my Annual Report under date of January 1, 1931, as follows:

"I have in mind further changes, but have talked to the chairman of the Finance Commission and feel it advisable that his department make a survey of the Supply Department, and set forth their recommendations. However, the Finance Commission has been busy with other departments, and to date has been unable to make an investigation of this department. Until such time as this survey is made, I deem it advisable to continue the present system."

The Finance Commission started their investigation in the summer of 1932 and in November of 1932 filed their report. This report was a comprehensive study of the Supply Department covering the department over a period of years and not confined to any one administration, although certain critics would infer that it was a criticism alone of the present administration. The report was intended to be constructive and, as such, accepted by your Honor and myself without controversy, although many of the criticisms were, in my opinion, unfair and in some cases untrue. Steps were immediately taken by the department to adopt a major part of the recommendations and to put the Supply Department on a business-like basis, it never having been on such a basis since its inception.

When I assumed the office of Superintendent of Supplies, the department was expending approximately $4,500,000, with a little over $1,000,000, or approximately 25 per cent, under publicly advertised bid. In the year 1929 there were 78 publicly advertised bids. In the year 1932 there 154 publicly advertised bids, including, for the first time in many years, our largest items, such as, groceries, fruits and vegetables, meats, tires and tubes, Ford automobiles, drugs and hospital supplies. The total of purchases by department for the year 1932 amounted to $3,310,218.93. Of this amount, $318,326.94 was expended on items where nothing would be gained by advertising, for various reasons, such as, articles required by law to be purchased from the state and the Commission for the Blind; items on which a standard discount is given, and items which can be bought from only one manufacturer. This amount is larger, but I have taken only the biggest items.

The net amount of purchases after deducting the total of this group is $2,991,891.

The total amount purchased under publicly advertised bid for the year 1932 was $2,241,986.10, or 75 per cent. The bulk of the balance, amounting to $749,905.89, was purchased on quotations sent to the leading merchants in their respective lines and awarded to the lowest bidder.

It is my intention that the list publicly advertised during the past year will be continued this year and other items will be added as fast as possible. For various reasons there are a large number of items which it will never be possible to put under publicly advertised bid, so that it is impossible to have 100 per cent publicly advertised bids. In addition, there are thousands of small items where nothing would be gained by publicly advertising.

This work has been accomplished with an increase in personnel of only two clerks.

During December, 1932, a survey of the department was made by Remington-Rand, Incorporated, Boston, for the purpose of installing business-like methods of filing and keeping of records. This plan was submitted just before the close of the year and will be put into effect during the early part of 1933.

I would call to your attention that the total cost of this department last year was $59,528.94, which is 1.7% per cent of the total amount of purchases made by the department for the city.

I wish to take this opportunity to thank the employees of the Supply Department for their whole-hearted support, without which it could not have been possible to accomplish this result, and I feel, as they do, that instead of condemnation the department should be receiving commendation from its critics.

Respectfully submitted,

PHILIP A. CHAPMAN,
Superintendent of Supplies.

MAYOR CURLEY MOURNS THE DEATH OF REVEREND FATHER JOHN F. CUMMINS.

The news that Reverend John F. Cummins had died will prove a source of genuine sorrow to the entire citizenship of Boston, regardless of religious belief. He was known to everyone as "Father John" and loved by everyone for his genial disposition, lovable nature, and willingness at all times to serve God, country and fellowman. A lifetime of spiritual and civic service deserves for him happiness in heaven.

LAND-TAKING IN DORCHESTER.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for sewerage works to be constructed as follows:

The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following described lands, exclusive of any interest in trees, buildings or other structures standing thereon, reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said lands not authorized in writing by the Mayor of said city; trees, buildings or other structures standing upon or affixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said taking for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. Said lands are in that part of Boston formerly Dorchester and are bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Melville lane, bounded:

Northerly by Melville avenue, six feet; easterly by another part of Melville lane, one hundred and fifty-four feet; southerly by the same, six feet, and westerly by the same, one hundred and fifty-four feet, containing nine hundred and twenty-four square feet, more or less.

The sewerage works to be constructed are as follows: 154 linear feet of 10-inch pipe sanitary sewer and 154 linear feet of 12-inch pipe surface drain.

This Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the taking of the aforesaid easement and construction of said sewerage works and awards no damages therefor.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the aforesaid improvement.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the abutting lots of land on all sides of said Melville lane, excluding the lot at the southwesterly corner of Melville avenue, will receive benefit or advantage, beyond the general advantage to all real estate in said city, from the improvement herein ordered, each of said lots to the amount hereinafter respectively set against it, said lots and the supposed owners thereof being shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Plan No. 1084, Sewerage Works, Melville Lane, Dorchester, March 4, 1933, William J. Sullivan, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," and on file in the office of said department.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 13, 1933.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I beg to forward herewith report submitted by the trustees of the Boston City Hospital, the same constituting a reply to your order of recent date, and reading as follows:
Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston City Hospital be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to furnish the City Council with a report of the accident to David A. Pendergast, a patient at the hospital, during the taking of X-rays on January 6, 1931.

Boston City Hospital, March 6, 1933.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—At a meeting of the Board of Trustees held on March 3, 1933, a notice was presented from the City Clerk, transmitting an order of the City Council whereby the trustees are requested to furnish the City Council with a report of the accident to David A. Pendergast, a patient at the hospital, during the taking of X-rays on January 6, 1931.

Under date of May 8, 1931, a copy of Doctor Peters' report in the case of David Pendergast, was sent to the Law Department. Inclosed herewith is also a copy of Doctor Peters' report as regards this unfortunate accident.

Respectfully yours,
JOSEPH P. MANNING,
President, Board of Trustees.

Boston City Hospital, January 6, 1931.

Dr. John J. Dowling,
Superintendent.

Report on accident to patient in the X-Ray Department.

Patient's name: David Pendergast.

Age: 53.

Address: 687 Morton street, Dorchester, Mass.
Received in the X-Ray Department on January 6, 1931, at 2.45 p. m. for X-ray of left lower leg and both hips.

Technician: Mr. Victor Burton.

Detail of Accident:

Patient had just had X-ray of pelvis taken, lying flat on table with X-ray tube on bracket over him, 24 inches away. The technician had turned from the control box about 8 feet away from patient's table, and told patient he would have to take his shoe off to X-ray the leg. Before technician reached the patient to assist him, patient quickly raised himself upward and forward, apparently not seeing the X-ray tube arm above him, and before the technician could move the tube, patient struck his eye on some part of the bracket. The glasses he had on at the time were not broken. No loss of consciousness nor any free bleeding. Patient was removed from the table, complaining of no pain, in that he could not see from that eye. Gross examination here showed the pupil dilated, hemorrhagic swelling, with some protrusion of the eyeball whose internal pressure felt much less than the right.

Doctor Nerbonne of the Aural Service was immediately called and saw the patient, who was taken back, in the meantime, to the accident floor at 3.05 p. m.

Patient at this time told the technician that he could not see well for some time, and nothing previously from his right eye. Patient's daughter also had said her father's eyesight had been poor for some time.

A. E. PETERS, M. D.,
Resident, X-Ray Service.

Examiner: Doctor Schwartz, Aural Service,
January 6, 1931.

Injury to left eye; marked subconjunctival hemorrhage with edema both lids; marked intraocular hemorrhage with laceration to the eyeball (at about eleven o'clock at limbus margin) and laceration of the iris at same location. Fundus seen indistinctly. Tension very much decreased. Pupil somewhat dilated, but irregular with no reaction to light. Cornea shows a central corneal scar which did not stain with fluorescein and appears to have been due to some previous condition. Patient says he had suffered from a previous condition which he thought was choroiditis. Eye tremulous with possible dislocation or rupture of lens.

ALLOWANCE TO WELFARE RECIPIENTS FOR RENT.

Coun. RUBY offered the following:

Ordered. That the Overseers of the Public Welfare be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to set aside an appropriate part of the allowance of the welfare recipients for the payment of their rent.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, during the present banking emergency I think the Welfare Department did yeoman and remarkable service in seeing to it that no family in need of welfare aid was deprived of at least something to eat and enough coal to keep their places warm. In my opinion, the only individuals who have suffered to any great extent were the landlords, who are now so heavily burdened through inability to collect rent and to meet taxes and other payments. Some of the money allotted in public welfare is allotted on the basis of a proportional part due for rent, and because the recipients of public aid have not recently received any amounts of money, naturally the landlords have suffered. As I understand it, the different families receive a sufficient amount in grocery orders and a supply of coal. There is usually a proportionate allotment for rent payments, and I believe when the allotments are made again these amounts ought to be kept out until the recipients of aid can show a receipt or release from the respective landlords. I ask a suspension of the rule and passage of the order.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

FINANCE COMMISSION REPORT ON LONG ISLAND HOSPITAL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Finance Commission, March 1, 1933.

To the Honorable the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I have been authorized by the Finance Commission to submit the inclosed copy of a report made by the Finance Commission to his Honor the Mayor on February 17, 1933, in regard to the administration of the Long Island Hospital.

Yours very truly,

FRANK A. GOONWIN,
Chairman.

1. Excessive Pay Roll.

The following table illustrates the point that the pay roll has been unjustifiably increased:

YEAR.	Total Institution Population.	Per Cent Increase Since 1929.	Total Infirmary Population.	Per Cent Increase Since 1929.	Total Hospital Population.	Per Cent Increase Since 1929.
1929.....	1,039	—	606	—	433	—
1930.....	1,176	13.1	720	18.8	456	.5
1931.....	1,242	19.5	788	30.	454	.4
1932.....	1,231	18.4	799	31.8	432	—

YEAR.	Expenditures.	Per Cent Increase Since 1929.	Expenditures for Personal Services.	Per Cent Increase Since 1929.	Number on Pay Roll.
1929.....	$651,423 04	—	$256,495	—	344 Jan., 1930
1930.....	666,252 70	2.2	281,418	9.7	—
1931.....	692,916 39	6.3	319,097	24.4	—
1932.....	723,921 27	11.1	368,199*	43.5	†535 Jan., 1933

* $368,199 is estimated on basis of eleven months' figures of $337,516.

† An increase of 191, or 55.5 per cent.

A properly organized institution should be able to take care of an 18 per cent expansion of the inmate population, without material increase in the number of employees. Yet the above tables show that the 18.4 per cent increase in population between 1929 and 1932 was accompanied by a 55.5 per cent increase in the actual number of employees and a 43.5 per cent increase in their pay roll cost.

The greatest increase is in the number of nurses employed, though the above figures show that in the period compared, the number of hospital cases actually decreased. Competent authority has stated to the Finance Commission that sixty pupil nurses are sufficient for all the needs of the institution at its present high inmate load. Yet there are 127 pupil nurses at present connected with the Training School, twenty-seven of whom are on temporary service at the City Hospital. Reducing the number of pupil nurses to the estimated requirement of sixty would mean a pay roll saving alone of approximately $35,000, to which should be added a considerable sum for maintenance. The budget estimate for the year 1933 contained provision for approximately thirty nurses more than were provided for last year. Though this estimate has not been accepted as yet by the city government, the commissioner added thirty-two nurses to the list in January.

Appended was the following:

The Finance Commission,

Boston, February 17, 1933.

Hon. James M. Curley,

Mayor of Boston.

Sir,—The Finance Commission has recently sent its investigators into the Institutions Department to ascertain the administrative conditions that have resulted from the reorganization recommended by the Finance Commission a year and a half ago.

The commission has found that considerable improvement has been made in the running of the Long Island Hospital, but there are still some administrative features that should be changed for the twofold purpose of bringing the cost of maintenance to a proper level and of improving the morale of the institution.

In 1925, under statutory authority, an ordinance was adopted whereby the Institutions Commissioner was made "executive and administrative head of the department" with power to "organize it in such manner as he may find necessary for its proper conduct," and his powers and duties limited to the control of the Long Island Hospital, the work of placing out children who have become public charges, and the duty of committing adult poor or infirm to whatever institution the particular condition of each warrants. Both these latter functions are separate and distinct from the Long Island Hospital and are carried on, the one by a deputy commissioner and the other by a registrar or a clerk with the standing of a deputy commissioner. Neither requires much of the time of the Institutions Commissioner and, therefore, his greatest responsibility is the Long Island Hospital.

Under the management of the present commissioner, the physical cleanliness of the institution has been placed above criticism; more and better facilities have been provided for the inmates, and the food and clothing furnished have been greatly improved in quantity and quality.

On the other hand, the pay roll has been increased far beyond any possible justification. Control among the employees is greatly confused and the standard of the Training School for Nurses has been weakened to the point where it is likely to lose its rating with the State Board of Registration of Nurses.

Many other additional positions have been created, as the following table will show:

	1930.	1933.	Increase.
Attendants.....	36	56	20
Garden.....	1	3	2
Carpenter shop helpers.....	2	5	3
Electrical shop helpers.....	1	5	4

* Excludes Long Island nurses at Boston City Hospital on affiliated work and temporarily off Long Island rolls.

	1930.	1933.	Increase.

Cobbler*.....	0	1	1
Wardmaid*.....	0	1	1
Inmates' diningroom helper*.....	0	1	1

* New positions created since January, 1930.

The work performed by all the new employees is not necessarily work not previously undertaken. A large part was formerly done by those among the inmates who were able and willing to perform some service, and were allowed small payments in addition to their keep. The present commissioner abandoned this method of obtaining the necessary service and has gradually built up a force of full-paid employees.

Since the beginning of the depression the character of the inmates at the island has changed to some extent, many now being forced to take shelter at the institution who, under more prosperous general business conditions, could find some light work from which they might be able to eke out a livelihood. It would seem, therefore, that in view of the necessity for cutting municipal expenditures wherever possible, the Institutions Commissioner ought to make a special effort to obtain service from able inmates and thereby save the larger pay as well as maintenance necessary for civilian employees. Instead, he has seen fit to pursue the opposite course.

2. Confusion in Executive Control.

Beginning in 1897, when the department was headed by an unpaid Board of Trustees, it was right and proper to establish the position of Superintendent of the Hospital on a scale that would justify the placing of the executive control in that official. Again, in 1921 the Board of Trustees was abolished and the Long Island Hospital became simply one division of the Institutions Department headed by a single paid commissioner; it was right and proper to continue the executive management of the Long Island Hospital in a superintendent with a substantial salary.

However, in 1925 an ordinance relieved the Institutions Commissioner of much of the work by taking the control of the Deer Island House of Correction away from the Institutions Department. Therefore, he now spends practically his whole time on the management of the Long Island Hospital and is paid a salary of $7,500 per year for his services.

Since his assumption of his position, the commissioner has, little by little, taken away from the Superintendent of the Hospital, who is resident on Long Island, practically all executive power and responsibility. He has also taken from the Superintendent and Assistant Superintendent of Nurses the authority and responsibility formerly considered as belonging to their positions. At the same time he has given to the resident physician and to the pharmacist authority greater than that of the superintendent, in spite of the fact that the written rules require that both be responsible to the superintendent.

In many other ways the commissioner has authorized subordinates to function independently of the superintendent, so that gradually the superintendent has become little more than a figurehead. The result of this diffusion of authority has been to breed a general disrespect of the superintendent in the employees and to cause conflict between him and them, between him and the commissioner and among the subordinates themselves.

Illustrative of this dissension is the attempt, within a short time, to have the resident physician removed from the island on charges preferred by the superintendent to the Institutions Commissioner. The basis of the charges was the fact that, without the knowledge or consent of the superintendent, the resident physician had performed an operation on an inmate which the superintendent claimed was in violation of law. The commissioner's reply to the superintendent was in effect that the operation was none of his business. Whether or not the operation was in violation of law is a medical question upon which the Finance Commission prefers to give no opinion.

The department records show that frequently employees were suspended by the superintendent for drunkenness, absenting themselves from duty without authority and similar offences, and were reinstated immediately by the commissioner. The Superintendent of the Hospital claims appointments to the staff of employees were made by the commissioner without the requisition or knowledge of the superintendent. The latter claimed also he often found persons at work who were employed by the commissioner without his knowledge.

Prisoners from Deer Island, sent to the hospital for treatment, were kept on Long Island unnecessarily long, in the opinion of the superintendent, and against the protest both of himself and the Master at Deer Island. He charged that one of these prisoners, in particular, had apparently the standing of a special guest and, according to the testimony of different employees, was permitted to roam at will through the institution, even being present during operations on patients.

Several employees have complained to the Finance Commission investigators that the resident physician and the pharmacist have interfered with the performance of the duties of other employees over whom, according to the superintendent, they have no control. On the other hand, the commissioner supports these employees in everything they have done. It must be obvious, therefore, that the continuance of both these executive positions is inadvisable. Either the superintendent should be eliminated and the institution run by the commissioner, or the Institutions Department again consolidated with the Penal Institutions Department under a single commissioner, with an office and staff on the mainland and the actual operation of the two institutions left to the Master at Deer Island and to the superintendent at Long Island, the latter to have the duties and responsibilities which he formerly enjoyed. The Finance Commission believes that to retain the present Institutions Commissioner at a salary of $7,500 per year and the present superintendent at a salary of $4,500 per year, together with a comfortable house detached from the institution, and all living expenses supplied, is an unwarranted disbursement of the funds of the City of Boston.

3. Training School for Nurses.

Many years ago the Infirmary Department established a Training School for Nurses at Long Island, in order to provide necessary nursing service for the institution. The conditions for eligibility and the recompense for work performed as members of the school were about the same as in most training schools for nurses. Because of the fact that the great majority of the cases in the hospital involve chronic ailments and very little experience in acute cases is obtainable, the school did not attract girls desiring to take up nursing and frequently the department had difficulty in keeping its quota of nurses on hand. The general shortage of nurses and the higher wages paid after the war increased the difficulty, so that about five years ago the department decided to offer an attractive salary to those attending the School for Nurses at the institution.

In addition to the pupil nurses at the hospital, the staff includes thirty-eight graduate nurses rated as head nurses and paid $1,200 per year and found. Approximately one hundred student nurses now are receiving $600 per year plus all living expenses, uniforms, books, etc.

Until recently application to this school was made to the Superintendent of Nurses, a technically trained person who had a certain standard of requirements and who investigated the applicants very carefully. In the main, these requirements were such as would guarantee approval of the school by the State Board of Registration of Nurses, thus giving the school's graduates a certain standing in the profession.

Although under the rules the Superintendent of Nurses recognized the Superintendent of the Hospital as her superior officer, she had been permitted to operate her division without interference. The present commissioner changed this arrangement, however. He notified the Superintendent of the Hospital that the Superintendent of Nurses would thenceforth be responsible directly to the commissioner and would not be responsible to the Superintendent of the Hospital. He then relieved the Superintendent of Nurses of her control of the Training School. He undertook to receive and pass upon applications for admittance to the Training School. As a result of these orders, the assignment and direction of nurses is made sometimes by the commissioner directly and sometimes by the resident physician. Under such divided control, the standard of the school has been lowered, the state requirements have been ignored in several particulars and the State Board has warned the hospital authorities that certain conditions existing do not warrant approval of the school.

The graduate nurses and student nurses no longer regard the Superintendent of Nurses as their director. The responsibility for the ordering of the meals which was formerly left to a dietitian, as is customary in most hospitals, is now being exercised by many officials, but the Superintendent of the Hospital is not among them.

In the present depression many who ordinarily would not apply, attracted by the pay, are seeking admission to the school and the Superintendent of Nurses claims many are being accepted who would not ordinarily be considered by her as fulfilling the standards required by the State Board. It frequently happens that girls accepted, because of their physical condition immediately become patients. Political influence is now dictating appointments, rather than strict rules of eligibility.

In 1929, as the above figures show, there were 433 patients in the hospital and sixty-five pupil nurses. In 1933 the patients number 432, and the pupil nurses on duty number 100. The number of head nurses has been increased from thirty-three to thirty-eight.

It would seem that the time has come either to abandon the operation of a school and provide the nursing service through the requisite number of graduate nurses, or to limit admission to the school to the quota actually needed.

The Finance Commission believes the school should not be continued, unless the standards set by the State Board in regard to age, health and previous education are maintained.

The Finance Commission recommends:

1. That your Honor consider the advisability of reorganizing the Institutions Department and the Penal Institutions Department so as to enable the city to eliminate unnecessary executive positions.

2. That your Honor reduce the number employed in connection with the Long Island Hospital.

3. That your Honor establish an orderly administration of the Long Island Hospital.

4. That your Honor reduce the expensive maintenance of the Training School for Nurses at Long Island.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK A. GOODWIN, Chairman,
JOSEPH A. SHEEHAN,
JOSEPH JOYCE DONAHUE,
CHARLES M. STOREY,
The Finance Commission.

Ordered, That under the provisions of chapter 182 of the Acts of 1930, as amended by chapter 241 of the Acts of 1930, an annuity of one thousand dollars be allowed and paid to Elizabeth F. Goode, widow of Thomas F. Goode, a member of the Police Department, who died on January 23, 1933, from injuries received in the performance of his duty, said annuity to date from January 24, 1933, to continue so long as said widow remains unmarried and to be charged to the appropriation for Police Department, Pensions and Annuities.

1. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred February 27) in re Weights and Measures Department, recommending changing present ordinance to permit appointment of one additional deputy sealer and abolition of position of chief deputy sealer—recommending that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I would like to hear about the object of that.

Coun. ENGLERT—Mr. President, the ordinance will do away with the position of chief deputy sealer in the department and put on an additional deputy sealer.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CLAIMS.

Coun. RUBY, for the Committee on Claims, submitted the following:

1. Report on petition of Frank J. Englert (referred January 19, 1933) to be reimbursed for amount of executions obtained against him on account of his acts as an employee of the Public Works Department, recommending passage of the accompanying order, viz.:

Ordered, That the sum of six hundred fifty-one dollars and twenty cents be allowed and paid to Frank J. Englert in reimbursement for the amount of a judgment issued against him on account of his acts as an employee of the Public Works Department, said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund.

Report accepted; order passed.

2. Report on petition of James F. Shields (referred January 9, 1933) to be reimbursed for the amount of an execution obtained against him on account of his acts as a member of the Fire Department, recommending the passage of the accompanying order, viz.:

Ordered, That the sum of sixty-five dollars be allowed and paid to James F. Shields in reimbursement for the amount of a judgment issued against him on account of his acts as a member of the Boston Fire Department, said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund.

Report accepted; said order passed.

3. Report on petition of Thomas J. Murphy (referred December 19, 1932) to be reimbursed for the amount of an execution obtained against him on account of his acts as an employee of the Public Works Department, Sanitary Service, recommending passage of the accompanying order, viz.:

Ordered, That the sum of five hundred fifty-nine dollars and seventy-five cents be allowed and paid to Thomas J. Murphy in reimbursement for the amount of a judgment issued against him on account of his acts as an employee of the Public Works Department, Sanitary Service, said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund.

Report accepted; said order passed.

4. Report on petition of Joseph Hohn (referred December 31, 1932) to be reimbursed for amount of judgment against him on account of his acts as an employee of the Public Works Department, Sanitary Service, recommending the passage of the accompanying order, viz.:

Ordered, That the sum of one hundred and nineteen dollars and thirty-five cents be allowed and paid to Joseph Hohn in reimbursement for the amount of a judgment issued against him on account of his acts as an employee of the Public Works Department, Sanitary Service, said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I would like to find out from the chairman of the committee whether all of these claims are in regard to members of the Public Works Department?

Coun. RUBY—No, they are not. One, if I recollect aright, is a hoseman in the Fire Department. Of course, I appreciate the fact that this is something unusual, that we have not had this sort of thing in previous years. But the court has decided the cases and the Law Department recommends the disbursement, and under the circumstances I feel that we should not refuse it. I intend to introduce an order at the next meeting that, under the circumstances, while we pay these claims now, we raise the question with the Mayor whether we should not carry insurance to cover these cases, whether it would not be cheaper in the long run.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I would like to have the chairman enlighten the Council as to what the judgments were for.

Coun. RUBY—If I recollect correctly, the judgment against Mr. Englert, who was driving a truck in the course of his employment, arose out of a collision he had with an automobile in which several of the passengers were injured. Suit was brought against Mr. Englert, and judgment was found for several of the plaintiffs, amounting to $105 or $100 apiece, the total executions being $651 and some odd cents. That was the judgment against Mr. Englert, and he asked the city to reimburse him. The Law Department, having considered the matter, recommended to the City Council, of which the Claims Committee is a part, that he be reimbursed for the amount of the judgment. The same is true in the Hohn case and in other cases. All these cases have been adjudicated by the courts, and these recommendations come to us from the Law Department for reimbursement. The committee met and approved the recommendation of the Law Department that there be reimbursement. This is under the rule passed a year or two ago.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I introduced an order three or four months ago asking why the City of Boston could not insure its automobiles, the same as private individuals do, so that there would be protection in the case of accident. I suppose that matter is still under advisement. At least, I have seen no report back to us in reply. It may be that another order should be put in. I would like to ask the chairman if he could find out what the answer was to the order put in two or three months ago asking for an opinion as to whether city automobiles should not be heard insured.

Report accepted; order passed.

REWARD FOR FINDING OF MISSING GIRLS.

Coun. LYNCH, for Coun. Gleason, offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to submit to the City Council an order offering a suitable reward for information leading to the finding of Helen Lindemann and Jean Bolduc, alive or dead, and making the necessary appropriation therefor.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

WARD 19 IMPROVEMENTS.

Coun. COX, for Coun. Murray, offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Sycamore street, both sides, from Florence street to Poplar street, Ward 19, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave Sycamore street, Ward 19, with smooth paving.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Dresden street, both sides, full length, Ward 19, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave Dresden street, Ward 19, with smooth paving.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

EVACUATION DAY CELEBRATION.

Coun. DONOVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to instruct all department heads to allow all city employees whose services can be dispensed with a full holiday on March 18, without loss of pay, in order that they may participate in the observance of Evacuation Day.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to have cleaned and put in proper order not only the streets over which the Evacuation Day parade will pass on March 18, but all the other streets in South Boston, so that the thousands who visit the district on that day will find it in a condition creditable to the City of Boston.

Ordered, That the Boston Traffic Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to prohibit the parking of automobiles on Broadway, between Dorchester avenue and Farragut road, during the passing of the parade in observance of Evacuation Day on March 18.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

PAYMENT TO JOHN J. CAREY.

Coun. LYNCH offered the following:

Ordered, That there be allowed and paid to John J. Carey the sum of two hundred dollars a year, to date from March 13, 1933, as part compensation for extra services rendered at meetings of the City Council and committees thereof; such payments to continue until otherwise ordered by the City Council and to be charged to the appropriation for City Council, A-1.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CONSTRUCTION OF INTERMEDIATE SCHOOL, SOUTH BOSTON.

Coun. LYNCH offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby favors the enactment of legislation authorizing the City of Boston to borrow money for the construction of an intermediate school in the South Boston district and for certain other purposes.

Passed under suspension of rule.

LONG ISLAND INVESTIGATION ORDER.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, in regard to the order I earlier introduced, for an investigation of conditions at Long Island, I am going to ask that that order be referred to its proper committee—namely, the Hospital Committee, and I am going to ask you, sir, to reconsider your decision referring it to the Committee on Rules.

President McGRATH—The order was referred to the Committee on Rules, and the only way in which that action can be rescinded is by asking that the decision of the Chair be reversed.

Coun. FISH—I do ask that, Mr. President.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I feel, as the chairman of the Hospital Committee, that that committee should have a right to hear charges that have been made before the commissioner on Long Island within the last two weeks. If some of the charges that have been made are true, there is a real, honest-to-goodness reason for an investigation. If everything is as it should be, no one should be afraid of an investigation. I am not prejudging the case. A piece of property is purchased and thousands of dollars are paid for it, and the real value of it is something under $500, for example. Certainly, that transaction should be gone into, and it should not be gone into by the Mayor of Boston or by the Mayor's appointee as commissioner at Long Island. It should be gone into by members of the Council. That is our duty. If certain other charges made by Deputy Superintendent Higgins are correct, something should be done by the elected officials of the City of Boston. Without making any criticism at this stage, I simply feel that this is a matter that should come under the charge of the Hospital Committee. It involves people who are spending the last years of their life down there, as we may have to do some day, and therefore we should look into it. I feel, having in mind the reputation of the institution itself and of the inmates there, as well as the employees, that the Hospital Committee should look into the matter and see what has been going on, instead of simply letting it go with a hearing before the commissioner. As I understand it, the commissioner fired a man whom I understand was doing his duty, for the sake of economy. That may or may not be so, but it seems to me the proper place for him to be heard is by the city fathers. It does not seem right that that particular matter should be heard before the commissioner who fired the man. If the disclosures made by the man fired are correct, the matter certainly calls for investigation by the Hospital Committee of this honorable body.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, we have a Hospital Committee here, and I believe this should be referred to the Hospital Committee. Mr. Higgins, the superintendent at Long Island, has been discharged. We want to know why. Apparently he performed his duties at Long Island very well, and let us refer the matter to the proper committee and look into it.

President McGRATH—The Chair would say that the reason for sending it to the Committee on Rules was that a few months ago the Council wanted to definitely determine its right to investigate the various departments of the City of Boston, and we requested an opinion from the Corporation Counsel. His ruling is in the records here, and it was to the effect that the Council has no power to investigate any department of the City of Boston.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, why do you appoint the committee if it has no power?

President McGRATH—For the purpose of passing on appropriations and various things concerning the hospitals before they go into effect. As a matter of fact, this is a special committee, I think, appointed on motion of the councilor from Ward 2 (Coun. Barker). There was some question, Councilor Burke, as to our authority to investigate, anyway; but I understand that it was ruled by the Corporation Counsel that where there was an appropriation before us affecting a particular department, we then had a right to investigate.

Coun. BURKE—Well, Mr. President, the budget is coming in to the Council, I suppose, perhaps within the next two weeks. Would it be proper then to make an investigation?

President McGRATH—The time when the budget is before the Council or when the question of some appropriation for a department is before the Council, is the only time in the year, I understand, when we have power to investigate any department.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, only two years ago, I believe, the Hospital Committee did function in an investigation of the City Hospital.

President McGRATH—Since then we have asked for the ruling, and the ruling is in the record.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I think the twenty-two elected officials in this body are not going to be concerned with a ruling made by the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston; and I say that because the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston, receiving $10,000 of the taxpayers' money every year, is appointed by the Mayor of Boston, and every department head in the City of Boston is appointed by the Mayor of the City of Boston. So it is natural that, if a department head is doing wrong, or is allowing wrong to be done and to continue in a particular department, the Mayor of Boston does not want that particular department investigated by the city fathers. It would, of course, be a reflection on his judgment in appointing a particular commissioner. You and I, Mr. President, are intelligent enough, and the members of this honorable body are intelligent enough to not allow the Corporation Counsel of Boston, drawing $10,000 a year from the taxpayers, to give an opinion that doesn't amount to a snap of the finger. A boy in the law school could render a much better opinion. Of course, he would not render an opinion that we have a right to go into these matters. But we are not bound, we are not forced by any law opinion that was ever rendered by a paid agent of the Mayor of Boston, to give up what rights we may have. I believe that when wrongdoing is going on in the City of Boston the people of Boston want the City Council to look into the particular wrongdoing and find out the facts, and if we then find that there has been no wrongdoing as a result of an investigation we can bring in a clean bill of health. I do not feel that the decision of the Corporation Counsel should affect the members of this body one iota. I feel that if our committees have no power whatever they should be abolished, that there is no need of them. You said, Mr. President, that the Hospital Committee was appointed to look into appropriations. With all due respect to you, I feel that that is not so. We have a Committee on Appropriations which, of course, goes into the matter of appropriations, and we have a Finance Committee to look into the finances of the city departments. If there is wrongdoing in connection with the Long Island Hospital, if there are any injustices, the thing should be remedied, and they should go on no further. I honestly believe, with all due respect to everybody concerned, that the matter of looking into these charges belongs to the Hospital Committee. If people have not been used right, if there has not been proper care, or if there has been negligence on the part of employees, that is not a proper matter for discussion behind closed doors, but should be considered in the Hospital Committee.

Coun. COX—Mr. President, I am glad to have you say here on the floor of the Council that the Corporation Counsel has ruled that this body has no power to investigate any department. I can appreciate the different interests that different councilors have in the various departments of the city; but I think it should be made clear to the public just how helpless this body is as far as controlling the actions of this government is concerned. I have before me here, and no doubt everyone of you gentlemen have received the same thing, the bulletin of the Boston Municipal Research Bureau, No. 18, under date of March 9, 1933. It contains a chart which shows the increase in the tax rate and in the cost of the government of our city, in a period which shows a decrease in postal receipts, retail sales, freight car loadings and in wages and building permits. They go on to say:

"More eloquent than words in showing the predicament of the people of Boston, is this graphic picture of the increasing tax tribute that is required by the city treasury in a time of depression. One glance reveals the tremendous problem facing the public."

They go on further in the second paragraph and say:

"A thorough re examination and revamping of the governmental machinery appears the only answer. In three years of depression city officials have failed to do this on their own initiative."

I would like to say in answer to that, that, so far as I can find out, and so far as it applies to this Council, we have no power under the City Charter to do the first thing along the line of revamping the governmental machinery or doing anything towards solving the tax problem.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I would ask unanimous consent to make a brief statement. I find it necessary to agree with the previous speakers with respect to the functioning of the various committees. Therefore, I asked you a specific question as to why this committee was appointed. Now, don't you think when trouble starts up in a department that committee should have some information concerning it and should be expected to look into the matter, so that when appropriations are asked for before the body we may be cognizant of the facts and know whether the appropriations should be made. You yourself, Mr. President, I believe, are not in favor of merely taking the word of the Corporation Counsel in so far as the powers of the City Council are concerned. I think I have heard you make the statement that such powers should not be given to the Corporation Counsel, and the City Council, carrying out the scope of its powers as understood by the Council, has certainly in the past investigated departments of the city. I have heard one of the officials of the City of Boston, one elected by the City Council itself, make a statement off the record to the effect that he does not agree with the Corporation Counsel in respect to the powers of the City Council. It seems absurd to have a Corporation Counsel appointed by the Chief Executive of the City of Boston overrule the decision of twenty-two elected officials here. There has been some trouble, something has happened on Long Island, and we have heard rumors about that trouble. Probably you, Mr. President, know more about it than various other members of the Council, because you are President of the Council and have talked with the Mayor's office more frequently than other members of the Council. But it is only fair that the Council should know what is going on down there, so that people living in the various wards may be defended. It is our duty to watch out for them, to see that they are properly taken care of, given the proper treatment that they are entitled to under the law. I ask you, therefore, Mr. President, to reconsider your decision in so far as reference to the Committee on Rules is concerned, and place the matter before the Council again, and if that is done I shall move its reference to the Executive Committee so that it may be argued from every viewpoint and so that we may find out whether officials and department heads should not come before the Hospital Committee.

President McGRATH—The question is on Councilor Fish's appeal from the decision of the Chair.

Coun. GREEN—Mr. President, if in order I would move that if this order is taken from the Committee on Rules it be referred to the Executive Committee.

President McGRATH—The question comes first on the appeal from the decision of the Chair, and then afterwards, if the appeal is sustained, a motion to that effect can be made.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, will you please state the question?

President McGRATH—Shall the decision of the Chair be sustained?

The Council voted to sustain the decision of the Chair (that the matter be referred to the Committee on Rules), yeas 14, nays 3.

Yeas—Coun. Barker, Cox, Donovan, Dowd, Englert, Fitzgerald, Gallagher, Green, Hein, Lynch, McGrath, Power, Roberts, Ruby—14.

Nays—Coun. Burke, Fish, Kelly—3.

Coun. GREEN—Mr. President, I now request the Chair to put my motion.

President McGRATH—Councilor Green's motion is now out of order. The matter is in the hands of the Committee on Rules.

Later in the session Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Rules Committee be instructed to render its report on the order calling for the investigation of the Institutions Department by the Hospital Committee at the next meeting of the City Council.

Coun. LYNCH—Mr. President, I am perfectly willing to call a meeting in the immediate future, but there is absolutely no way by which I can guarantee a quorum being present or action on the order without having sufficient time to get ready for the meeting. So I think the proposed action is a little bit hasty. I was going to suggest that we should call a meeting in the immediate future, which would probably be a week from tomorrow.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I am going to ask the chairman of the Rules Committee if he will call the meeting as soon as he reasonably can.

Coun. LYNCH—I shall be very glad to call it for a week from tomorrow, Mr. President.

Coun. FISH withdrew the above order.

SIDEWALK ON ALLSTON STREET.

Coun. HEIN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Allston street, both sides, from Washington street to Warren street, Ward 21, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PERMITS FOR SIDEWALK STANDS, HARVARD AVENUE.

Coun. HEIN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to revoke the permit for sidewalk stands at 143 and 145 Harvard avenue, Ward 21.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SHOES DONATED BY COWARD COMPANY.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:

Ordered, That the Overseers of the Welfare be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to release for distribution to the worthy poor of this city the shoes which were recently donated by the Coward Shoe Company.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, on February 18 of this year the Coward Shoe Company was kind enough to give to the city several hundred pairs of shoes for use through the Welfare Department and those shoes were put away down at 43 Hawkins street and are now gathering moth balls. I don't know how long they are going to keep them there. But in this order I am asking the Mayor to request the Overseers to immediately release the several hundred pairs of shoes down at Hawkins street so that they can serve some useful purpose.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

CONFIRMATION OF WEIGHER OF COAL.

President McGRATH called up, under unfinished business, No. 1 on the calendar, viz.:

1. Action on appointment submitted by the Mayor February 27, 1933, of Thomas R. Connell, to be a Weigher of Coal.

The question came on confirmation. Committee, Coun. Gallagher and Barker. Whole number of ballots 15, yeas 15, and the appointment was confirmed.

ACTION ON SEWERAGE EASEMENTS, WEST ROXBURY.

President McGRATH called up, under unfinished business, No. 3 on the calendar, viz.:

3. Whereas the City of Boston, by a Resolve and Order of the Board of Street Commissioners, approved by the Mayor of Boston April 4, 1927, took for its sewerage works rights and easements in land situate in that part of Boston called West Roxbury and more fully described in the said instrument of taking recorded with Suffolk Deeds, Book 4890, page 429; and

Whereas the Commissioner of Public Works, now having charge of the said rights and easements taken, has notified the City Council that a portion thereof is no longer required for public purposes;

Now, therefore, it is hereby ordered: That his Honor the Mayor be, and he hereby is, authorized to abandon the said sewer easements and to execute and deliver, in the name and behalf of the City of Boston and in form satisfactory to the Law Department of the City of Boston, to the said owners a release or releases wherein the said City of Boston releases the following described premises from all sewerage rights and easements set forth in the above-mentioned taking, namely, being a portion of Board of Survey streets Nos. 1705 and 1580, which streets are shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Plan No. 721, Sewerage Works, Caspar Street, Vermont Street, West Roxbury, November 1, 1926, William J. Sullivan, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," and said plan is on file in the office of the said department. The said parcel of land is bounded northwesterly by a portion of said street No. 1705, ten and 22-100 feet; southwesterly in part by a portion of the said Board of Survey street No. 1705 and in part by a portion of said Board of Survey street No. 1580, seventy-seven and 96-100 feet; southeasterly by a portion of the said Board of Survey street No. 1580, by two measurements, eighty-six and 50-100 feet and one hundred forty-three and 49-100 feet respectively; northeasterly by a portion of said Board of Survey street No. 1580, ten and 17-100 feet; and northwesterly again by a portion of said Board of Survey street No. 1580 by two measurements, seventy-five and 22-100 feet and one hundred forty-four and 12-100 feet, respectively; and northeasterly again by a portion of said Board of Survey street No. 1705, sixty-eight and 59-100 feet, containing 2,980 square feet of land, more or less.

And it is hereby further ordered, as a part of the said consideration for the said abandonment of the said easements above set forth, that the said owners of the above-described premises execute and deliver to the said City of Boston and its assigns a release of any and all damages in any way growing out of or caused by the said abandonment of the said easements and the said abandonment of the said sewerage works and pipes which are located within the limits of said easements.

Referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

On February 20, 1933, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 19, nays 0.

The order was given its second and final reading and passage, yeas 17, nays 0.

POLICE RADIO SYSTEM.

Coun. RUBY called up, under unfinished business, No. 2 on the calendar, viz.:

2. Ordered, That the sum of $75,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated, to be expended under the direction of the Police Commissioner, for police radio system, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon the request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

On February 27, 1933, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 17, nays 1.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, in reference to No. 2 on the calendar, I read an article in the Boston Evening Transcript about a week ago, an editorial, stating that the Radio Commission in Washington, D. C., disapproved this proposition, stating that at this time it was not advisable, that the proper facilities could not be afforded for now connecting Boston up with the various cities and towns, that the thing would be a rank failure and that it should not be acted upon at this time, involving a needless expenditure of money. In view of that fact, I don't think I can afford to vote for this $75,000, at a time when Boston needs money so much for various worthy things. Therefore, I am going to vote "no."

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, it is inconceivable when all the large cities of the country and many cities and towns in our own Commonwealth, as well as our own state police, have seen the wisdom of police radio equipped machinery that we in Boston must overlook the one method that, I believe, can be used to advantage to decrease time and to make more sure the apprehension of criminals. It is rather unfortunate that we in Boston cannot have this system, because if we did the police system of communication would be just so much quicker. I don't say that if we had radio installed in police cars in Boston it would be the means of recovering the two lost little girls, for which thousands of dollars are being spent, and justly so, in the hope of their recovery alive or their bodies if not alive. But I do say that with proper radio communication we can handle to a far better degree the necessary police equipment of Boston. While $75,000 is a lot of money at this time, the large sums of money that are being spent in the endeavor at the present time to apprehend criminals of whom we are able to find no trace might by the introduction of police radio be saved to a great extent. We cannot figure in dollars and cents the value that police radio might be in Boston. But I wonder if the councilor from Ward 3 (Coun. Fitzgerald) knows how much it has already cost the City of Boston in attempting to solve the recent murder which has been in the public eye and of which no solution has up to the present time been reached? Probably it may have cost as much as it would cost to equip the police system with radio, as here proposed, and still nothing has been done. I wonder if the councilor who has just spoken knows that in murders that have been committed in Boston in the last three years not one person has been apprehended, unless the alleged murderer has surrendered himself to the police? Isn't that argument enough in a city like ours, which spends $6,000,000 or $7,000,000 a year on its police budget? It is here proposed that an expenditure of $75,000 be made, and I am satisfied that police radio can be furnished for a less amount in Boston. In my opinion, this is the best investment that the city can make at the present time. While I believe as strongly as any member of the Council in economy, there is such a thing as false economy, which is very expensive, and I believe if we refuse to pass this order at this time it will mean that we are pursuing a false economy that will retard progress. After all, only this morning Police Division 1, one out of twenty divisions in Boston, moved into a new building that cost us $300,000. Less than a month ago Police Divisions 4 and 5 moved into new quarters that cost upwards of $700,000. You might say, if we are going to practice economy, we should not provide those new buildings. But we felt that it was necessary to do so, and did so. I believe if this system has worked well in New York, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago and other cities, and even in Somerville, our adjoining city, we can well take the chance of spending $75,000 upon the system in a city like ours. I asked that the members vote for this order two weeks ago, and I now ask that they vote for it today.

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, I am given to understand that it is not in order to propose an amendment to the order at this time?

President McGRATH—The Chair would say that the order cannot be amended on second reading.

Coun. ROBERTS—Then, I would like to say that I am going to vote for this order, for the reason that I think the Police Commissioner has good enough judgment so that he will receive the official approval of the Radio Commission in Washington before he spends the money.

The order was given its second and final reading and passage, yeas 16, nays 1:

Yeas—Coun. Barker, Burke, Cox, Donovan, Dowd, Englert, Fish, Gallagher, Green, Hein, Kelly, Lynch, McGrath, Power, Roberts, Ruby—16.

Nays—Coun. Fitzgerald—1.

REPORTS ON COMMITTEES.

Coun. GREEN offered the following:

Ordered, That rules of Council be suspended, that all reports of both private and standing committees be referred to the Executive Committee acting as a committee of the whole before it is reported to the Council body.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, wasn't there a motion passed last year, or the first part of this year, calling upon the Rules Committee to report upon orders within a week from the time they received them?

President McGRATH—There may have been a request.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, my idea is that the order was passed unanimously by the Council and that the Rules Committee are not adhering to the idea of that motion.

President McGRATH—I would ask the councilor to get the motion out of the record, if he please.

Adjourned, at 4.08 p. m., on motion of Coun. HEIN, to meet on Monday, March 20, 1933, at 2 p. m.

GOVERNMENT IN BUSINESS.

For many years we have heard innumerable bankers, business men and professional men talk about too much government in business. But these same people are constantly before legislatures asking government to do something to protect their selfish interests. The doctor, the lawyer, the dentist, and each profession is always asking the government to make the entrance to their unions more difficult not with the idea of protecting the people but with the hope of stopping or reducing competition. The local merchant is always asking the council, the state and the nation to prohibit competition by peddlers and transient merchants. When the winds of depleted deposits began to whirl about the banks the government was asked to bear the burden, and if official authority is to be believed the government and the politicians saved the banks and not the high-browed presidents and directors of the banks. The real truth is that we do not want government to interfere with us in our desires, but do ask government to enter business in any and every conceivable way that we think will help us make a little more money of the realm.

FINANCING SEWAGE WORKS BY SPECIAL ASSESSMENT IN IOWA.

The cost of constructing sewage disposal plants in a number of states, and in Iowa in particular, may be levied against the various lots, parts of lots or parcels of ground draining to, or susceptible to drainage to, the site of the disposal plant. Such assessments must be in proportion to the benefits to each property and must not, in any case, exceed one-fourth of the fair value of the property in question. These special assessments are payable in the same manner as other municipal improvement costs; that is, in ten annual equal installments, paid at the same time and place as the March 1 installment of ordinary taxes in Iowa. Any property owner may pay off the unpaid portion of such tax at any time. Interest on the deferred payments must not exceed 6 per cent.

The reading of the minutes of the previous meeting was omitted, the Committee approving them as printed.

APPROVAL OF APPOINTMENTS

The Chairman stated the question was on approving the appointments of teachers, as reported by the Superintendent and laid over at the previous meeting.

The appointments were approved.

(RE-ENTRY INTO SERVICE)

(To fill vacancy caused by increase in numbers)

Charles Sumner District—Esther Campbell Martin, assistant, kindergarten, one session (resigned Aug. 31, 1929), Apr. 3, 1933.

(To fill vacancy caused by retirement)

Sherwin District—Edna Dowling Strachan, assistant, elementary (resigned from William E. Russell District, Aug. 31, 1928), Apr. 3, 1933.

Mr. Hurley: I am not in favor of these two appointments, not because I have any objection to the candidates in question, but because they are reentrants—former teachers in the service. My objection is because of the fact that we have been able to make but a limited number of appointments this year and we have a very long Prior List. I feel that it is unfair in some respects to the girls at the top of that Prior List to allow any appointment by means of reentrance. I therefore will not vote to approve these two reentrant appointments.

The appointments were laid over.

(TWO-SESSION KINDERGARTEN)

Robert Gould Shaw District — Rachel M. Cassidy, assistant, kindergarten, two sessions (from assistant, kindergarten, one session), Mar. 1, 1933.

Sect. 80, paragraph IV. High School. In the paragraph which describes the eligibility requirements for the IV. APPROPRIATIONS AND EXPENDITURE FOR 1932

A communication was received from the Business Manager, under date of Dec. 31, 1932, submitting the final statement on the cost of maintenance of the public schools for the financial year 1932, showing the appropriations, the expenditures, and the balances for the financial year 1932, the expenditures for the financial year 1931, and the increases and decreases in the several items.

In connection with the foregoing, the Chairman stated that this report of the Business Manager shows a balance of $568,000 in the maintenance appropriation for the year 1932 and this substantial balance was due in the main to the careful scrutiny of all expenditures during the past year. This money now becomes available for appropriation this year, 1933, thereby relieving the tax rate for 1933 by $568,000, or about thirty cents on each thousand dollars of the valuation of the city.

Mr. Tobin: I also think we should make mention here of our appreciation of the members of the school service who to a great extent made this saving of $568,000 possible.

Chairman: That expression of appreciation will be spread upon the records.

The communication of the Business Manager was placed on file.

NAME SUGGESTED FOR NEW SCHOOL

Chairman: The Chair would like to submit for consideration of the Committee on Naming of School Buildings the suggestion that some future school building be named in memory of Captain James E. Welch, Jr.

Captain Welch was born Feb. 25, 1890; graduated from Boston College, 1911, and from Boston Normal School, 1912. He was appointed assistant, elementary, in the Samuel Adams District, Apr. 1, 1914. He was commissioned Second Lieutenant at Plattsburg, August, 1916; joined the service as Second Lieutenant, April, 1917. He was granted leave of absence for military service, May 1, 1917. He was appointed Captain, August, 1917; member of 327th Infantry, 82nd Division, A. E. F.

Captain Welch was killed in action, Sept. 14, 1918. His body was recovered October, 1931, and reburied in France, November, 1931.

I believe that if the Committee takes favorable action on the proposal to name a building in memory of Captain Welch, it will be the first school to be named in memory of a former member of the teaching service—for one who gave his life in defense of his country.

The suggestion was referred to the Committee on Naming of School Buildings.

The Committee adjourned.

GREAT LACK OF RURAL HEALTH SERVICE FACILITIES OFFICIALLY INDICATED.

Only 25 per cent of the rural population of the United States is at present provided with adequate and properly organized local health service, reports Surgeon General H. S. Cumming in his annual resume of the work of the United States Public Health Service during the past fiscal year, which has just been submitted to Congress.

BOSTON AS A TOWN.

From its foundation until 1755, or a period of 125 years, Boston was not only the most outstanding but the most populous town in the American colonies. In 1760, Philadelphia's population was ahead, viz., 18,756, Boston's then being 15,631 and New York's about 14,000. In the last year of town government, viz., 1821, Boston's population was about 45,000 and its public debt $100,000, all incurred for new county buildings.

The history of Boston as a town during a period of nearly two centuries surpasses in civic interest that of Boston as a city because of the untiring zeal and successful efforts of its townsmen to realize more of true democracy than had ever been attained before. Their obligations were held as sacred as their liberties.

BOSTON INCORPORATED AS A CITY, 1822.

The act of incorporation was passed by the Legislature on February 23, 1822. On March 4 following, the voters of Boston accepted said act, chapter 110, 1821-22, as its first city charter by a majority of 916 in a total vote of 4,678. The vote was 2,797 yeas, 1,881 nays. Previous attempts to incorporate as a city had been made in 1650, 1659, 1667, 1708, 1744, 1762, 1784, 1791, 1804 and 1815. The charter was revised in 1854, 1885 and 1909. Amendments to the 1909 charter were enacted in 1910, 1912, 1914, 1918, 1919, 1921, 1922 and lastly in 1924 (see "Municipal Register" for 1928, pages 19-43).

AMERICAN PEOPLE HAVE FOUND HOPE REKINDLED, FAITH REVIVED, COURAGE AND CONFIDENCE RETURNING THROUGH THE SPIRITUAL APPEAL AND LEADERSHIP OF PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, MAYOR CURLEY TELLS AUDIENCES IN HIS ADDRESSES ON FRIDAY, MARCH 17.—SPEAKS IN SEVERAL THEATERS TO HUGE CROWDS.

Upon the evening of March 17, Mayor Curley delivered the following address at Strand Theatre, Upham's Corner, Codman Square Theatre, Oriental Theatre, Mattapan, and Rivoli Theatre, Roxbury:

The truth of the teachings of St. Paul, "That Faith Without Good Works is of No Avail" has been proven true in the past two weeks in America under the leadership of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

In his inaugural message, with a humility and a spirituality befitting the seriousness of the occasion, he invoked Almighty God's blessing upon the people of America and his labors as President of the Republic.

It was an affirmation of his belief that without the aid of God nothing was possible and that with the help of God nothing was impossible.

The action of President Roosevelt recalls to my mind a most interesting narrative related by Admiral Cochrane upon the occasion of the visit of the French War Mission to Boston in 1917.

The admiral stated that upon the day when the battle of the Marne was fought, in the early hours of the morning before the battle commenced, he approached Marshal Joffre and asked if he had done everything that could be done to insure the winning of the battle. The marshal replied, "Everything—men, ammunition, guns, supplies of every character, nothing has been left undone, and we either die here or save France here."

"I [the admiral] knew that he had been estranged from his religion for a period of seven years and said to him [Joffre], 'Are you sure?' He replied, 'Positive.' I said 'Have you said a prayer to Almighty God for success?' He turned to me and said, 'I have not prayed for seven years; I will do so now.'" And although the mud was nearly knee deep he knelt in the mud in a prayerful attitude for several minutes.

THE POWER OF PRAYER.

It is my firm conviction, with Admiral Cochrane, that it was not the guns, it was not the ammunition, it was the determination of the soldiery—it was the simple prayer from a great man heard at the Throne on High that was responsible for victory.

The incident as related by the admiral finds a parallel in the story of John Sobieski, who, at an advanced age, was called from his retirement to head a movement to raise the siege of Vienna, which city was held by 700,000 Mohammedans and who, if successful, would have destroyed Christian civilization. With 70,000 men on a Sunday morning he joined in divine services and at the conclusion of the services the rallying cry was given to the troops by Sobieski. The 70,000 men responded to his call but less than 40,000 were numbered in the ranks when the siege was lifted. The rallying cry given by Sobieski to his troops was, "Not for our glory, O Lord, but for Thine." The battle was waged, the hordes of Mohammed were routed and Christian civilization was preserved.

It may be likened in many respects to the scene enacted in another day in the life of America—those dread days at Valley Forge when the Father of our Country, his handful of men weakened by disease and lack of food and clothing and supplies, could be found kneeling nightly in the snow praying to Almighty God for the success of the movement for the establishment of American liberty. And the appeal to the throne on high again answered by the French nation which sent both men and ships of war to the aid of Washington.

It might be likened to another trying period in the life of our nation when the emancipator, Abraham Lincoln, at Gettysburg, made his appeal that this nation under God should have a new birth of freedom and that government of and for and by the people should not perish from the earth.

The people of America who have been wandering in the valley of despair and gloom for a period of nearly four years have found hope rekindled, faith revived and courage and confidence gradually being restored through the spiritual appeal and truly great leadership of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

SPEEDY PROGRESS IN TWO WEEKS.

More genuine progress along the high road to stability, industrial prosperity and financial integrity has been made in the past two weeks than in any similar period in the history of our nation under any chief executive.

The economic warfare in which the nation has been engaged since the fall of 1929 might be likened in some respects to the battle waged by the Army of the Potomac during the period of the Civil War. General McClellan was necessary for the development of organization work but he was lacking in the qualities of indomitable leadership that were predominant in his successor, General Grant.

The success of General Grant was due in large measure to the fact that he had an objective and would not be swerved by any one, and that each success achieved not only resulted in a higher esprit de corps upon the part of the army but it strengthened the faith of the people in his ability and determination to win the battle.

Franklin D. Roosevelt has won every skirmish up to the present time and the forces responsible for depression are one by one disappearing. The need of the present hour is a realization upon the part of the entire citizenship not alone as to the character and capacity and ability of Franklin D. Roosevelt but an abiding faith in him and a willingness to assist him in winning the battle against economic depression.

A depression that has been in progress for nearly four years cannot be terminated over night. It will call for patience, courage and cheerfulness upon the part of every citizen and will require a spirit of sacrifice similar to that which America furnished during the period of the World War.

President Roosevelt has made provision for the safeguarding of the people's money through banking regulations, thereby making more liquid the capital necessary for the functioning of industry through which opportunity for a livelihood is afforded the citizenship. He has recognized that there can be no lasting prosperity until the agricultural element in America, representing one-fourth of the entire population, becomes prosperous and has accordingly taken the necessary steps to this end. He has recommended the adoption of an unemployment program through which more than 500,000 of the youth of the nation now unemployed may be absorbed in work of a useful and necessary character. He has made provision for the balancing of the Federal budget and for economies in government so that the heavy burden borne by the home owners may be lightened.

Truly, he has worked in conformity with the teachings of St. Paul in combining good works with faith. As we love our country and hope for its future, in God's name let us do our part to sustain, fortify and aid him.

MAYOR CURLEY AND DAUGHTER FELICITATE PRESIDENT AND MRS. ROOSEVELT UPON WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

Mayor Curley, on March 17, forwarded the following telegram to President Roosevelt at Washington:

HON. FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, President of the United States, Washington, D. C.

May the choicest blessings of Almighty God be bestowed upon you and your beloved wife upon this, your twenty-eighth wedding anniversary. Like Saint Patrick, nearly fifteen centuries ago, armed with only the weapon of faith, you have captured the hearts of an entire nation and won the admiration of the world. May the sunshine which you have brought to despairing America reflect happiness until eternity for you and yours.

JAMES M. CURLEY.

Miss Mary Curley forwarded the following telegram to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt at the White House:

MRS. FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, White House, Washington, D. C.

May every happiness attend you and your husband upon this, your twenty-eighth wedding anniversary, is the sincere prayer of

MARY CURLEY.

KANSAS CITY WINS POLICE HOME RULE.

The Supreme Court of Missouri has given Kansas City control of its police department.

For years those who wanted the city to operate and control its own police department had been going to the Legislature regularly with bills which would end state control. But conditions were never just right. The city raised the question of the constitutionality of the law under which the department has operated, and the Court held the law unconstitutional in a five-to-two opinion.

The police department of Kansas City had been under the control of the state since 1874. Under the law as it has existed in recent years, the department was administered by a commission of three members, two appointed by the governor and the mayor, ex officio.

The city attacked the law on the ground that it delegated legislative powers to an administrative board. In this contention the city was upheld, the court holding that the limitations in the law were not sufficiently definite to prevent the commissioners from making almost unlimited demands on the city treasury.

CHICAGO POLICE REORGANIZED.

Many improvements have recently taken place in the organization and administration of the Police Department of Chicago, Ill.

Although the numerical strength of the force has been reduced in the last two years approximately from 6,700 to 6,000, the number of men on foot patrol has been increased 150 per cent, being now about 1,900. The efficiency of the department has been further increased by adding to the number of patrol cars and by placing in operation an extensive police radio system. There are now some 100 small patrol cars and fifty large high-powered ones equipped with radio. Furthermore, 20 per cent of the present force constitutes new blood in the department. The average age has been lowered, and a greater proportion of young men will be encouraged by the reduction of the admission age to a range of twenty-one to twenty-nine years, from the former limits of twenty-three to thirty-five, approximately. Civil service methods in disciplining new policemen are better, and a more thorough check-up on the character of those examined is made.

MASSACHUSETTS BAY COLONY.

The first chartered colony in New England, charter granted by Charles I on March 4, 1629. About a year before, a patent had been granted to six prominent men of Dorchester, west of England, among whom was Capt. John Endicott. He sailed in June, 1628, with a party of fifty or sixty persons, arriving in September and settling at Naumkeag, afterward named Salem. In the spring of 1629, the Bay Company fitted out three ships conveying about four hundred persons and arriving at Salem in June. Endicott sent a small party to effect a settlement on the Bay in Mishawum, afterward named by the settlers Charlestown, the first town in New England to assume the town polity, Plymouth and Salem being governed by a governor and council. Endicott was appointed in London as the first resident governor on April 30, 1629. The Massachusetts Bay Company was reorganized in London on October 20, 1629, when John Winthrop was chosen as governor. He arrived at Salem on June 12, 1630, soon proceeded to Charlestown with a large following and finding that place unsuitable, finally settled in Boston. Winthrop served thirteen years as governor in four different periods ending in 1649 and Endicott fifteen years at various times ending in 1665. Other governors were Thomas Dudley, Richard Bellingham, John Haynes, Henry Vane, John Leverett and Simon Bradstreet, the latter serving twelve years until 1692 when the Bay Colony and the Plymouth Colony were merged, becoming the Royal Province of Massachusetts Bay, which existed eighty-two years to 1774, the governors being appointed by the King.

The name, Massachusetts, is Indian and signifies "near the big hills."

FAILURE TO MAINTAIN CITY STREETS IS FALSE ECONOMY.

Money now saved by failure to maintain city streets, in response to the clamor of citizens for tax reduction, represents a trivial economy in comparison with the enormous outlay that will be required to rebuild such thoroughfares later. Taxpayers in some municipalities, determined to reduce public expenditures, have gone so far as to insist upon elimination of funds sorely needed for the maintenance of existing streets. In other places, even though money for street maintenance is available, powerful minority groups are demanding that it be not spent under present conditions.—The American City.

METHODS OF ELIMINATING GRADE-CROSSING ACCIDENTS.

Five suggestions aimed at the elimination of grade-crossing accidents are offered in the monthly report of the Street Traffic Committee of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce.

It is estimated that curing the grade-crossing evil would reduce traffic accidents by 10 per cent in a very short time, and the Committee presents the following five points for discussion:

1. Do away with those grade crossings which have the heaviest traffic.
2. Place warning signs not less than 500 feet back from the railroad tracks.
3. Take down all signs from obsolete trackage.
4. Use traffic-light signals (operated by trains) instead of signs, if there are fewer than five trains per day.
5. Consider scrapping all railroad signs in favor of signals for use only when train is approaching.

"The last two points merit consideration first, because, though they are new doctrines, they seem the least expensive and most practical of application."

THE POLICE OFFICER AND THE CITIZEN.

The importance of the police as conspicuous representatives of the municipal government, and the qualities desirable in such a relationship, were pointed out by City Manager Willard F. Day of Staunton, Va., in addressing the recent convention of the Virginia Police Executives' Association. He said in part:

"It is unquestionably true that the man on the street, the public, the visitor and the home citizen alike, form first and in many cases lasting impressions of the local government by contacts with the police."

FALSE ECONOMIC PROPOSALS.

Danger to both the immediate and the long-run efficiency of fire departments and to the security of the community itself lies in many if not most of the proposals of taxpayers' representatives attacking the budgetary provisions for municipal fire protection. The gravity of this menace was emphasized by Jay W. Stevens, California State Fire Marshal and Executive Secretary of the International Association of Fire Chiefs, in an address on "Maintaining Fire Department Efficiency," given before the recent convention of that organization.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE RECEIVES REPORT OF HEAD MASTER MAURICE J. LACEY ON ATTENDANCE AT MINNEAPOLIS CONVENTION OF EDUCATORS.

The School Committee has accepted the report of Maurice J. Lacey, head master, Jamaica Plain High School, on his attendance at the annual meeting of the Department of Secondary School Principals of the National Education Association, held at Minneapolis, February 27 to March 3:

BOSTON, March 10, 1933.

MR. PATRICK T. CAMPBELL,
Superintendent of Public Schools.

MY DEAR MR. CAMPBELL,—Permit me to submit a report on my recent attendance at the convention of the Department of Superintendence, National Education Association, held at Minneapolis, Minn. Meeting concurrently with the Department of Superintendence were twelve other affiliated associations. On account of the multiplicity of meetings occurring at the same hours, I was forced to restrict my attendance to two groups, viz., the Department of Superintendence and the Department of Secondary School Principals. According to newspaper accounts, over 6,000 educators, representing every state in the Union, were in attendance.

The dominant note of the convention was the preservation of the American system of education in these troublous times, with due regard for all possible economies during this financial crisis. The educators at the convention were militant in their efforts to retain, for future generations, the advances in education that have been made, and to oppose, to the utmost, the organized efforts that are being made throughout the country to cripple the educational system. Cooperation with the layman and plans for enlisting leaders of thought in every community for the preservation of education, were ideas voiced by many speakers at the convention.

It is impossible, within the limits of this brief report, to outline fully the ideas put forth by the numerous speakers, but a few excerpts from some of the speeches may reveal adequately the tenor of the meetings. I submit a few such excerpts:

Doctor Strayer, Professor of Educational Administration, Columbia University: "Economy in the support of education is desirable at all times. Under existing conditions, thrifty and careful administration of public education is the only basis upon which its essential services can be maintained. But in making adjustments due to diminished income, it is of the utmost importance that essential school services be maintained. In every area the demands made upon the schools are heavier than in times of prosperity. Conditions of distress caused by unemployment make the maintenance of children and of youth a matter of primary obligation."

Dr. Coffman, President of University of Minnesota: "Now, under the stress of the breakdown of the financial structure of the world and under the pressure of many groups for tax reduction, legislative bodies, ignoring the democratic philosophy that has guided American life hitherto, and disregarding the foundation guarantees of civil liberty, are striking more or less blindly at every tax-supported institution. Western civilization is hanging in the balance. She faces the past when she should be facing the future and moving forward to greater achievements. The truth of H. G. Wells' statement that civilization is a race between education and catastrophe was never more obvious."

Vice Chancellor Wallace, Sydney University, Australia: "When I think of education, I always like to think of persons and not of systems. In the long run, plan as we may, the success of any system of education turns on the teacher. A good building and a good curriculum are useless if we lack the good teacher."

Dr. Cubberly, Dean of School of Education, Stanford University: "That the leaders in public education today face one of the most determined battles to preserve the schools from being sacrificed that economies in other public services need not be made, and that extravagances elsewhere may be untouched, there can be little question. We must defend the rights which we have won after long and hard fighting, and the opportunity now presents itself to take the offensive and to bring home to the American people the tremendous importance for the future national life that the educational services of our children be not in any serious manner curtailed."

Dr. Dewey, Professor Emeritus of Philosophy, Columbia University: "The United States Chamber of Commerce has sent to local chambers various suggestions regarding 'economy.' An apologetic statement accompanies the information showing the information did not originate in the chamber's offices but in the agenda of the citizens' conference called by President Hoover. The chamber forgot to mention who did prepare the agenda and the fact that it was deliberately rejected by the conference. The chamber neglected to inclose, even by way of illustration, the contrary suggestions adopted by the conference."

Dr. Glenn Frank, President of Wisconsin University: "And now this very leadership that has done most to unbalance the nation's life is insisting that we shall balance the nation's budget by plunging a sword to the heart of all those scientific, social, and educational enterprises to which alone we can look to produce a leadership for the future that will be less inept, a leadership that might conceivably use this magnificent machine economy of ours to free the race from drudgery, poverty and insecurity, instead of letting it starve like Midas in the midst of plenty."

Revision of the curriculum in the light of present day conditions was urged by several speakers. David Lawrence, the nationally famous authority on political affairs, stressed the study of civics with less emphasis on the structure of the government and more on its problems. He stated that the knowledge that a member of the national House of Representatives must be at least twenty-five years of age, contributes little in the making of a high-minded citizen, but a knowledge, for example, of the problem of government, finance, the raising and the spending of municipal, state and national moneys, would aid much in producing an intelligent citizen. Moreover, less emphasis on battles and more on our periods of economic depression would aid our citizens to be prepared for the periods of depression that seem fated to afflict our citizens at various times. Continuing, Mr. Lawrence stated: "We pass the buck the day after election. We do not actually take a very great interest in our government. We leave it up to the elected officials entirely, and we are not too judicious in our choosing of them. We must inspire our young people to think of politics in a better light."

Speaking on the time-honored question of "frills," H. H. Ryan, Principal of Wisconsin High School stated: "Frills are subjects in the curriculum which are there because it is respectable to offer them, although only the scantiest intellectual and social profits can be traced to them. On the other hand if parental interest is any criterion, there are many so-called extra-curricular subjects which are not 'frills' at all."

Replying to a question of incorporating more social studies in the schools to teach children how to avoid such a situation as faces the world now, Dr. Hutchins, President of the University of Chicago, replied: "Such an idea is laudable in theory. But what those educators should do is quit talking about it and offer some specific subjects to be included in curricula. So far, no one has done it."

Enlightening the people as to the philosophy of our system of education by bringing the people to the schools that they may examine at first hand just what the schools are doing, was stressed by several speakers. Superintendent Weglein, Baltimore, Md., suggested an advisory council of 50 to 100 citizens to visit the schools with the hope that such a council would serve to educate the public at large as to what our schools are aiming at and what they are accomplishing.

The convention, marked by an unusual earnestness of purpose, proved most inspirational. I am deeply grateful to you and to the members of the Boston School Committee for sending me as the delegate of the Boston School Committee to the convention.

Sincerely yours,

MAURICE J. LACEY,
Head Master.

TO REMOVE ICE AND SNOW EASILY.

In certain special emergency cases, as in traffic areas, it may be desirable to entirely remove thick, heavy accumulations of ice and hardened snow which, because they usually become badly rutted, are a cause of dangerous traffic conditions. In such cases the application of flake calcium chloride by means of a mechanical spreader at the rate of three quarters to one pound per square yard will soon loosen the entire ice coating, permitting its removal from the pavement by hand or mechanical means.

For this purpose, a solution containing from 25 to 30 per cent of calcium chloride, which figures 2.85 to 3.75 pounds per gallon of solution, may be employed. Such solutions, especially if made up with warm water and applied by a street flusher equipped with nozzles which throw a finely divided high-pressure spray, have proved highly efficient for this purpose. As soon as the ice has become loosened from the pavement surface, it should be removed and an extremely light treatment of coarse sand applied to the surface.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 174.

(Paragraph 1.)

A trial board consisting of Captains McKinnon, Lewis and Fallon, having heard by reference a complaint made by Jeremiah F. Gallivan, captain, Division 6, against William D. Warren, patrolman, Division 6, for alleged violations of the Rules and Regulations of the Police Department, to wit:

Charge: Conduct unbecoming an officer.

Specification 1: In that on February 28, 1933, the said Patrolman William D. Warren, while on duty and in uniform, did drink intoxicating liquor, thereby tending to bring into disrepute and criticism his associates on the Police Force.

Specification 2: In that on the first of March, 1933, the said Patrolman William D. Warren, while on duty, was under the influence of intoxicating liquor to such an extent that he was unable to properly perform his duty as a police officer, if called upon so to do, thereby tending to bring into disrepute and criticism his associates on the Police Force,— has submitted the following finding and recommendation:

The Board having heard and carefully considered all the evidence presented, accepts the plea of guilty of the said Patrolman William D. Warren to the charge and the specifications thereunder, and respectfully recommends that the said Patrolman William D. Warren be suspended from duty, with loss of pay, for a period of thirty days, and that at the expiration of the said period of suspension the said Patrolman William D. Warren be ordered to perform 210 hours of punishment duty.

The commissioner accepts the finding and recommendation of the Trial Board and hereby orders that the said Patrolman William D. Warren be suspended from duty, with loss of pay, for a period of thirty days, effective March 11, 1933, and that at the expiration of the said period of suspension the said Patrolman William D. Warren perform 210 hours of punishment duty.

Civil Service Rule 23, Section 3, requires approval of the Civil Service Commission before reinstatement.

Rule 23.

Section 3. With the consent of the Commissioner upon good cause shown, an appointing officer may reinstate in the same position or in a position in the same class and grade any person who has been separated from the service; provided, however, that the Commissioner shall not allow reinstatement of a person discharged for cause.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 175.

(Paragraph 1.)

Patrolman Robert J. Dalton and Patrick J. O'Reilly, both of Division 19, are commended in General Orders and each given two days' additional vacation for efficient police duty performed on February 10, 1933, in arresting a man wanted for breaking and entering and larceny in the night time in the Mattapan section. Investigation revealed that warrants were held for this man by a neighboring town and the United States authorities for various offences.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the creditable police duty performed by these officers in effecting this important arrest.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 176.

(Paragraph 1.)

A trial board consisting of Captains McKinnon, Lewis and Fallon having heard by reference a complaint made by Archibald F. Campbell, captain, Division 7, against Leo G. Hearn, patrolman, Division 7, for alleged violations of the Rules and Regulations of the Police Department, to wit:

Charge 1: Conduct unbecoming an officer.

Specification 1: In that on the nineteenth day of February, 1933, the said Patrolman Leo G. Hearn, while off duty, and in citizen dress, was under the influence of intoxicating liquor to such an extent that he was unable to properly perform police duty, if called upon so to do.

Specification 2: In that on the nineteenth day of February, 1933, the said Patrolman Leo G. Hearn, while off duty, and in citizen dress in the city of Medford, did without any provocation or right place a citizen under arrest, and further, did assault said citizen, namely, one Julius Miola, and further, the said Patrolman Leo G. Hearn, at the time of said improper arrest and assault, did place his (Patrolman Leo G. Hearn's) police revolver against the body of said citizen and did threaten bodily injury to the said citizen who had not committed a violation of the law.

Specification 3: In that on the nineteenth day of February, 1933, the said Patrolman Leo G. Hearn did commit various acts that were contrary to good order and discipline of the Boston Police Department.

Charge 2: Leaving the city without permission.

Specification: In that on the nineteenth day of February, 1933, the said Patrolman Leo G. Hearn, while not in uniform and not upon any police duty, did leave the City of Boston and go to the city of Medford, Massachusetts, without having received permission from the Police Commissioner, the superintendent or his commanding officer,— has submitted the following finding and recommendation:

The Board having heard and carefully considered all the evidence presented finds the said Patrolman Leo G. Hearn guilty on Charge 1 and specifications thereunder, and accepts the plea of guilty of the said Patrolman Leo G. Hearn to Charge 2 and specification thereunder. The Board feels that the seriousness of the charge on which Patrolman Leo G. Hearn has been found guilty, coupled with his past record, warrants the imposition of the extreme penalty of dismissal from the department, but it has taken into consideration the statement of the commanding officer of the said Patrolman Leo G. Hearn that he (the commanding officer) found the officer efficient and satisfactory in his work, and further that he had confidence in the officer, if given another chance would redeem himself and be of value to the department. Also, that reputable business and professional men in the section where the said Patrolman Leo G. Hearn has performed police duty appeared in his behalf and gave high commendations regarding his efficiency, courtesy and intelligence. Also, that the officer had taken a pledge with his spiritual adviser to forever abstain from the use of intoxicating liquor, which pledge was presented to the Board. The Board also took into consideration the appeal of the aged mother of the said Patrolman Leo G. Hearn, that he is the sole support of her and of his father who is paralyzed, and that he is contributing to the support of other relatives, to the extent that he has abandoned his intentions of getting married and establishing a home of his own. The said Patrolman Leo G. Hearn presented a good, clean appearance and manifested a degree of intelligence higher than the average, and the Board felt that it is for the best interests of the department that the said Patrolman Leo G. Hearn be given another chance.

The Board, therefore, respectfully recommends that the said Patrolman Leo G. Hearn be suspended from duty, with loss of pay, for a period of ninety days from February 19, 1933, and that at the expiration of said period of suspension the said Patrolman Leo G. Hearn be ordered to perform 210 hours of punishment duty.

The commissioner accepts the finding and recommendation of the Trial Board and hereby orders that the said Patrolman Leo G. Hearn be suspended from duty, with loss of pay, for a period of ninety days from February 19, 1933, and that at the expiration of said period of suspension the said Patrolman Leo G. MAYOR CURLEY APPOINTS BUILDING COMMISSIONER ROEMER DIRECTOR OF RELIEF WORK.

It has long been the desire of Mayor Curley to find the best use of the labor of able-bodied recipients of welfare relief

so that the city may gain in return the largest amount of permanent benefits. On March 1, 1933, Mr. Frederic H. Fay, chairman of the City Planning Board, submitted to his Honor, on behalf of the Board, a statement on the productive utilization of welfare labor for the benefit of the City of Boston. The statement, which was approved by the City Planning Board, was prepared by one of its members, Mr. William Stanley Parker, whose recommendations are based upon a survey of the experience and conditions in other communities and groups and upon conferences with the chairman and members of the Department of Public Welfare and representatives of other departments in the city.

There are two results to be sought, the physical public improvements that will be useful to the community and the morale of the men themselves. It is believed that both these results may be obtained if, first, the men's labor is expended on constructive work, the results of which will be visible and useful, and second, so far as is possible these projects should be independent of the normal work of the regular city departments. It is also clear that if morale is to be developed and maintained the men assigned to these projects must do a reasonable day's work for their relief pay, and that power to discipline loafers must rest with the foremen and superintendents who direct the projects.

The report suggests the appointment of a high-grade, full-time executive, assisted by an advisory board, who will give serious study to the two main departments of his work,—personnel analysis and project analysis. It would be his duty to develop the projects best suited to the use of welfare labor and to determine the assignment of the recipients of relief to such projects as were best suited to their abilities.

The Emergency Planning and Research Bureau, Incorporated, has made a partial survey of city-owned property, which discloses items of repair of various sorts that are needed and that would provide at least eight hundred days' work with a very slight cost for materials. The report also suggests interesting possibilities for the development of the Cummings property, an estate of two hundred acres in Woburn which was willed to the city for recreational purposes.

The Mayor has appointed Mr. Edward W. Roemer, Building Commissioner, as Director of Work Relief, with instructions to confer with the Advisory Board at an early date, that the plan may be put into operation with all possible speed. His Honor has also named the following Advisory Board:

Roy M. Cushman, Executive Secretary, Boston Council of Social Agencies, 43 Tremont street, Room 910.

Ernest A. Johnson, Secretary Building Trades Council of Boston and Vicinity, 142 Berkeley street, Room 201.

Dr. John Nolan, President Boston Society of Landscape Architects, 5 Boylston street, Cambridge.

William Stanley Parker, architect, Member City Planning Board, 120 Boylston street, Boston.

Frank M. Cunby, engineer, President Emergency Planning and Research Bureau, Incorporated, 201 Devonshire street, Room 709.

Joseph A. Rourke, Commissioner Public Works Department, 509 City Hall Annex.

William P. Long, Chairman Park Department, 33 Beacon street.

Simon E. Hecht, Chairman Overseers of Public Welfare, 373 Marlboro street.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION RULING BENEFITS BOSTON.

Mayor Curley, on March 17, received the following communication from Vice Chairman Richard Parkhurst of the Boston Port Authority:

DEAR MAYOR CURLEY,—In these times with so much of national moment happening almost daily, those matters which have more of a local bearing must naturally take second place in the importance to be assigned them. To the advantage of Boston and New England, however, there has just been handed down a decision from the Director of the Service Bureau of the Interstate Commerce Commission, second only in importance to the Examiner's Report made public not long ago in the so-called Lighterage Case. In the Warehouse Case for the first six months of 1932 this Board was actively interested, and it comes as a great satisfaction to find that our contentions, as placed before the commission at many hearings, to the effect that the practices under discussion within New York Harbor were undermining this port, have been substantially upheld.

The Interstate Commerce Commission Service Bureau's Report is most definite in language and quite frank in recommending drastic action unless the carriers, particularly at New York and to a certain extent at Philadelphia and Baltimore, desist from certain warehousing and other practices which are, in effect, nothing more or less than rebating. If the railroads serving these ports are compelled to put into effect charges for the services rendered over their terminals, in accordance with the approximate cost of such services, these will be about on a parity with most of these assessed in this port. Such action on the part of the railroads would immediately remove one of the most serious forms of competition we have to meet in our endeavors to attract new business through the Port of Boston.

This Board has always taken the position that until various rate and terminal conditions can be brought in the line with those of other ports, no substantial volume of business outside of the New England area, and even in large sections of that area, can be secured for this port. Whether the railroads here reduce their charges, or whether at other ports they increase them, is, from the point of view of the flow of commerce through Boston, about as broad as it is long. It is true, however, that in our investigations and in the various proceedings which we have either taken part in or listened in on before the commission, charges at other ports are time and time again proven to be entirely too low to offset the actual costs. It seems probable, therefore, that as time goes on we shall see the railroads at our competing ports compelled, by dictum of the commission, to increase certain of their charges so that to all intents and purposes we shall hope eventually to see rate and terminal conditions for all North Atlantic ports on a parity. This end for which we are striving is probably some distance away, but every decision like the present one brings us nearer the goal.

Very truly yours,

RICHARD PARKHURST,
Vice Chairman.

BOSTON'S SUPPLIES PURCHASED LARGELY AFTER OPEN, SPIRITED PUBLIC BIDDING. NEW SYSTEM FINDS 75 PER CENT OF PURCHASES MADE THROUGH ADVERTISED PUBLIC BIDDING, DEPARTMENT SUPERINTENDENT MAKES REPORT TO MAYOR.

Superintendent of Supplies Philip A. Chapman has submitted the following report to Mayor Curley:

BOSTON, January 2, 1933.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Complying with the Revised Ordinances of 1914, chapter 35, I herewith submit to you the report of the Supply Department for the year ending December 31, 1932.

I assumed the office of Superintendent of Supplies on February 6, 1930, and was confirmed by the Civil Service Commission on February 26, 1930. I found that the Supply Department had been operating in the same manner for years, with but little public advertising of items to be purchased; with various departments of the city doing a large part of their own purchasing without authorization or approval of the Supply Department and sending in confirming requisitions. This practice had been increasing year by year over a period of years and was not the result of any one year or administration. No Annual Report had been filed by the Supply Department for a number of years and no purchase records had been kept in the Supply Department for a number of years. I soon realized the difficult problem before me and felt that this was a problem for the consideration of the Finance Commission, as well as myself. I believed that a survey should be made by them before any radical changes were made, and during the year requested the chairman to make a study of the department. In this connection I beg to quote from my Annual Report under date of January 1, 1931, as follows:

"I have in mind further changes, but have talked to the chairman of the Finance Commission and feel it advisable that his department make a survey of the Supply Department, and set forth their recommendations. However, the Finance Commission has been busy with other departments, and to date has been unable to make an investigation of this department. Until such time as this survey is made, I deem it advisable to continue the present system."

The Finance Commission started their investigation in the summer of 1932 and in November of 1932 filed their report. This report was a comprehensive study of the Supply Department covering the department over a period of years and not confined to any one administration, although certain critics would infer that it was a criticism alone of the present administration. The report was intended to be constructive and, as such, accepted by your Honor and myself without controversy, although many of the criticisms were, in my opinion, unfair and in some cases untrue. Steps were immediately taken by the department to adopt a major part of the recommendations and to put the Supply Department on a business-like basis, it never having been on such a basis since its inception.

When I assumed the office of Superintendent of Supplies, the department was expending approximately $4,500,000, with a little over $1,000,000, or approximately 25 per cent, under publicly advertised bid. In the year 1929 there were 78 publicly advertised bids. In the year 1932 there were 154 publicly advertised bids, including, for the first time in many years, our largest items, such as, groceries, fruits and vegetables, meats, tires and tubes, Ford automobiles, drugs and hospital supplies. The total of purchases by department for the year 1932 amounted to $3,310,218.93. Of this amount, $318,326.94 was expended on items where nothing would be gained by advertising, for various reasons, such as, articles required by law to be purchased from the state and the Commission for the Blind; items on which a standard discount is given, and items which can be bought from only one manufacturer. This amount is larger, but I have taken only the biggest items.

The net amount of purchases after deducting the total of this group is $2,991,891.

The total amount purchased under publicly advertised bid for the year 1932 was $2,241,986.10, or 75 per cent. The bulk of the balance, amounting to $749,905.89, was purchased on quotations sent to the leading merchants in their respective lines and awarded to the lowest bidder.

It is my intention that the list publicly advertised during the past year will be continued this year and other items will be added as fast as possible. For various reasons there are a large number of items which it will never be possible to put under publicly advertised bid, so that it is impossible to have 100 per cent publicly advertised bids. In addition, there are thousands of small items where nothing would be gained by publicly advertising.

This work has been accomplished with an increase in personnel of only two clerks.

During December, 1932, a survey of the department was made by Remington-Rand, Incorporated, Boston, for the purpose of installing business-like methods of filing and keeping of records. This plan was submitted just before the close of the year and will be put into effect during the early part of 1933.

I would call to your attention that the total cost of this department last year was $59,528.94, which is 1.1% per cent of the total amount of purchases made by the department for the city.

I wish to take this opportunity to thank the employees of the Supply Department for their whole-hearted support, without which it could not have been possible to accomplish this result, and I feel, as they do, that instead of condemnation the department should be receiving commendation from its critics.

Respectfully submitted,

PHILIP A. CHAPMAN,
Superintendent of Supplies.

MAYOR CURLEY MOURNS THE DEATH OF REVEREND FATHER JOHN F. CUMMINS.

The news that Reverend John F. Cummins had died will prove a source of genuine sorrow to the entire citizenship of Boston, regardless of religious belief. He was known to everyone as "Father John" and loved by everyone for his genial disposition, lovable nature, and willingness at all times to serve God, country and fellowman. A lifetime of spiritual and civic service deserves for him happiness in heaven.

LAND-TAKING IN DORCHESTER.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for sewerage works to be constructed as follows:

The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following described lands, exclusive of any interest in trees, buildings or other structures standing thereon, reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said lands not authorized in writing by the Mayor of said city; trees, buildings or other structures standing upon or affixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said taking for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. Said lands are in that part of Boston formerly Dorchester and are bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Melville lane, bounded:

Northerly by Melville avenue, six feet; easterly by another part of Melville lane, one hundred and fifty-four feet; southerly by the same, six feet, and westerly by the same, one hundred and fifty-four feet, containing nine hundred and twenty-four square feet, more or less.

The sewerage works to be constructed are as follows: 154 linear feet of 10-inch pipe sanitary sewer and 154 linear feet of 12-inch pipe surface drain.

This Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the taking of the aforesaid easement and construction of said sewerage works and awards no damages therefor.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the aforesaid improvement.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the abutting lots of land on all sides of said Melville lane, excluding the lot at the southwesterly corner of Melville avenue, will receive benefit or advantage, beyond the general advantage to all real estate in said city, from the improvement herein ordered, each of said lots to the amount hereinafter respectively set against it, said lots and the supposed owners thereof being shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Plan No. 1084, Sewerage Works, Melville Lane, Dorchester, March 4, 1933, William J. Sullivan, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," and on file in the office of said department.

Boston City Hospital, March 6, 1933.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—At a meeting of the Board of Trustees held on March 3, 1933, a notice was presented from the City Clerk, transmitting an order of the City Council whereby the trustees are requested to furnish the City Council with a report of the accident to David A. Pendergast, a patient at the hospital, during the taking of X-rays on January 6, 1931.

Under date of May 8, 1931, a copy of Doctor Peters' report in the case of David Pendergast, was sent to the Law Department. Inclosed herewith is also a copy of Doctor Peters' report as regards this unfortunate accident.

Respectfully yours,
JOSEPH P. MANNING,
President, Board of Trustees.

Boston City Hospital, January 6, 1931.
Dr. John J. Dowling,
Superintendent.

Report on accident to patient in the X-Ray Department.

Patient's name: David Pendergast.

Age: 53.

Address: 687 Morton street, Dorchester, Mass.
Received in the X-Ray Department on January 6, 1931, at 2.45 p. m. for X-ray of left lower leg and both hips.

Technician: Mr. Victor Burton.

Detail of Accident:

Patient had just had X-ray of pelvis taken, lying flat on table with X-ray tube on bracket over him, 24 inches away. The technician had turned from the control box about 8 feet away from patient's table, and told patient he would have to take his shoe off to X-ray the leg. Before technician reached the patient to assist him, patient quickly raised himself upward and forward, apparently not seeing the X-ray tube arm above him, and before the technician could move the tube, patient struck his eye on some part of the bracket. The glasses he had on at the time were not broken. No loss of consciousness nor any free bleeding. Patient was removed from the table, complaining of no pain, in that he could not see from that eye. Gross examination here showed the pupil dilated, hemorrhagic swelling, with some protrusion of the eyeball whose internal pressure felt much less than the right.

Doctor Nerbonne of the Aural Service was immediately called and saw the patient, who was taken back, in the meantime, to the accident floor at 3.05 p. m.

Patient at this time told the technician that he could not see well for some time, and nothing previously from his right eye. Patient's daughter also had said her father's eyesight had been poor for some time.

A. E. PETERS, M. D.,
Resident, X-Ray Service.

Examiner: Doctor Schwartz, Aural Service,
January 6, 1931.

Injury to left eye; marked subconjunctival hemorrhage with edema both lids; marked intraocular hemorrhage with laceration to the eyeball (at about eleven o'clock at limbus margin) and laceration of the iris at same location. Fundus seen indistinctly. Tension very much decreased. Pupil somewhat dilated, but irregular with no reaction to light. Cornea shows a central corneal scar which did not stain with fluorescein and appears to have been due to some previous condition. Patient says he had suffered from a previous condition which he thought was choroiditis. Eye tremulous with possible dislocation or rupture of lens.

ALLOWANCE TO WELFARE RECIPIENTS FOR RENT.

Coun. RUBY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Overseers of the Public Welfare be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to set aside an appropriate part of the allowance of the welfare recipients for the payment of their rent.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, during the present banking emergency I think the Welfare Department did yeoman and remarkable service in seeing to it that no family in need of welfare aid was deprived of at least something to eat and enough coal to keep their places warm. In my opinion, the only individuals who have suffered to any great extent were the landlords, who are now so heavily burdened through inability to collect rent and to meet taxes and other payments. Some of the money allotted in public welfare is allotted on the basis of a proportional part due for rent, and because the recipients of public aid have not recently received any amounts of money, naturally the landlords have suffered. As I understand it, the different families receive a sufficient amount in grocery orders and a supply of coal. There is usually a proportionate allotment for rent payments, and I believe when the allotments are made again these amounts ought to be kept out until the recipients of aid can show a receipt or release from the respective landlords. I ask a suspension of the rule and passage of the order.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

FINANCE COMMISSION REPORT ON LONG ISLAND HOSPITAL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Finance Commission, March 1, 1933.

To the Honorable the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I have been authorized by the Finance Commission to submit the inclosed copy of a report made by the Finance Commission to his Honor the Mayor on February 17, 1933, in regard to the administration of the Long Island Hospital.

Yours very truly,

FRANK A. GOODWIN,
Chairman.

1. Excessive Pay Roll.

The following table illustrates the point that the pay roll has been unjustifiably increased:

YEAR.	Total Institution Population.	Per Cent Increase Since 1929.	Total Infirmary Population.	Per Cent Increase Since 1929.	Total Hospital Population.	Per Cent Increase Since 1929.
1929.....	1,039	—	606	—	433	—
1930.....	1,176	13.1	720	18.8	456	.5
1931.....	1,242	19.5	788	30.	454	.4
1932.....	1,231	18.4	799	31.8	432	—

YEAR.	Expenditures.	Per Cent Increase Since 1929.	Expenditures for Personal Services.	Per Cent Increase Since 1929.	Number on Pay Roll.
1929.....	$651,423 04	—	$256,495	—	344 Jan., 1930
1930.....	666,252 70	2.2	281,418	9.7	—
1931.....	692,916 39	6.3	319,097	24.4	—
1932.....	723,921 27	11.1	368,199*	43.5	†355 Jan., 1933

* $368,199 is estimated on basis of eleven months' figures of $337,516.

† An increase of 191, or 55.5 per cent.

A properly organized institution should be able to take care of an 18 per cent expansion of the inmate population, without material increase in the number of employees. Yet the above tables show that the 18.4 per cent increase in population between 1929 and 1932 was accompanied by a 55.5 per cent increase in the actual number of employees and a 43.5 per cent increase in their pay roll cost.

The greatest increase is in the number of nurses employed, though the above figures show that in the period compared, the number of hospital cases actually decreased. Competent authority has stated to the Finance Commission that sixty pupil nurses are sufficient for all the needs of the institution at its present high inmate load. Yet there are 127 pupil nurses at present connected with the Training School, twenty-seven of whom are on temporary service at the City Hospital. Reducing the number of pupil nurses to the estimated requirement of sixty would mean a pay roll saving alone of approximately $35,000, to which should be added a considerable sum for maintenance. The budget estimate for the year 1933 contained provision for approximately thirty nurses more than was provided for last year. Though this estimate has not been accepted as yet by the city government, the commissioner added thirty-two nurses to the list in January.

Appended was the following:

The Finance Commission,

Boston, February 17, 1933.

Hon. James M. Curley,

Mayor of Boston.

Sir,—The Finance Commission has recently sent its investigators into the Institutions Department to ascertain the administrative conditions that have resulted from the reorganization recommended by the Finance Commission a year and a half ago.

The commission has found that considerable improvement has been made in the running of the Long Island Hospital, but there are still some administrative features that should be changed for the twofold purpose of bringing the cost of maintenance to a proper level and of improving the morale of the institution.

In 1925, under statutory authority, an ordinance was adopted whereby the Institutions Commissioner was made "executive and administrative head of the department" with power to "organize it in such manner as he may find necessary for its proper conduct," and his powers and duties limited to the control of the Long Island Hospital, the work of placing out children who have become public charges, and the duty of committing adult poor or infirm to whatever institution the particular condition of each warrants. Both these latter functions are separate and distinct from the Long Island Hospital and are carried on, the one by a deputy commissioner and the other by a registrar or a clerk with the standing of a deputy commissioner. Neither requires much of the time of the Institutions Commissioner and, therefore, his greatest responsibility is the Long Island Hospital.

Under the management of the present commissioner, the physical cleanliness of the institution has been placed above criticism; more and better facilities have been provided for the inmates, and the food and clothing furnished have been greatly improved in quantity and quality.

On the other hand, the pay roll has been increased far beyond any possible justification. Control among the employees is greatly confused and the standard of the Training School for Nurses has been weakened to the point where it is likely to lose its rating with the State Board of Registration of Nurses.

Many other additional positions have been created, as the following table will show:

	1930.	1933.	Increase.
Attendants.....	36	56	20
Garden.....	1	3	2
Carpenter shop helpers..	2	5	3

* New positions created since January, 1930.

The work performed by all the new employees is not necessarily work not previously undertaken. A large part was formerly done by those among the inmates who were able and willing to perform some service, and were allowed small payments in addition to their keep. The present commissioner abandoned this method of obtaining the necessary service and has gradually built up a force of full-paid employees.

Since the beginning of the depression the character of the inmates at the island has changed to some extent, many now being forced to take shelter at the institution who, under more prosperous general business conditions, could find some light work from which they might be able to eke out a livelihood. It would seem, therefore, that in view of the necessity for cutting municipal expenditures wherever possible, the Institutions Commissioner ought to make a special effort to obtain service from able inmates and thereby save the larger pay as well as maintenance necessary for civilian employees. Instead, he has seen fit to pursue the opposite course.

2. Confusion in Executive Control.

Beginning in 1897, when the department was headed by an unpaid Board of Trustees, it was right and proper to establish the position of Superintendent of the Hospital on a scale that would justify the placing of the executive control in that official. Again, in 1921 the Board of Trustees was abolished and the Long Island Hospital became simply one division of the Institutions Department headed by a single paid commissioner; it was right and proper to continue the executive management of the Long Island Hospital in a superintendent with a substantial salary.

However, in 1925 an ordinance relieved the Institutions Commissioner of much of the work by taking the control of the Deer Island House of Correction away from the Institutions Department. Therefore, he now spends practically his whole time on the management of the Long Island Hospital and is paid a salary of $7,500 per year for his services.

Since his assumption of his position, the commissioner has, little by little, taken away from the Superintendent of the Hospital, who is resident on Long Island, practically all executive power and responsibility. He has also taken from the Superintendent and Assistant Superintendent of Nurses the authority and responsibility formerly considered as belonging to their positions. At the same time he has given to the resident physician and to the pharmacist authority greater than that of the superintendent, in spite of the fact that the written rules require that both be responsible to the superintendent.

In many other ways the commissioner has authorized subordinates to function independently of the superintendent, so that gradually the superintendent has become little more than a figurehead. The result of this diffusion of authority has been to breed a general disrespect of the superintendent in the employees and to cause conflict between him and them, between him and the commissioner and among the subordinates themselves.

Illustrative of this dissension is the attempt, within a short time, to have the resident physician removed from the island on charges preferred by the superintendent to the Institutions Commissioner. The basis of the charges was the fact that, without the knowledge or consent of the superintendent, the resident physician had performed an operation on an inmate which the superintendent claimed was in violation of law. The commissioner's reply to the superintendent was in effect that the operation was none of his business. Whether or not the operation was in violation of law is a medical question upon which the Finance Commission prefers to give no opinion.

The department records show that frequently employees were suspended by the superintendent for drunkenness, absenting themselves from duty without authority and similar offences, and were reinstated immediately by the commissioner. The Superintendent of the Hospital claims appointments to the staff of employees were made by the commissioner without the requisition or knowledge of the superintendent. The latter claimed also he often found persons at work who were employed by the commissioner without his knowledge.

Prisoners from Deer Island, sent to the hospital for treatment, were kept on Long Island unnecessarily long, in the opinion of the superintendent, and against the protest both of himself and the Master at Deer Island. He charged that one of these prisoners, in particular, had apparently the standing of a special guest and, according to the testimony of different employees, was permitted to roam at will through the institution, even being present during operations on patients.

Several employees have complained to the Finance Commission investigators that the resident physician and the pharmacist have interfered with the performance of the duties of other employees over whom, according to the superintendent, they have no control. On the other hand, the commissioner supports these employees in everything they have done. It must be obvious, therefore, that the continuance of both these executive positions is inadvisable. Either the superintendent should be eliminated and the institution run by the commissioner, or the Institutions Department again consolidated with the Penal Institutions Department under a single commissioner, with an office and staff on the mainland and the actual operation of the two institutions left to the Master at Deer Island and to the superintendent at Long Island, the latter to have the duties and responsibilities which he formerly enjoyed. The Finance Commission believes that to retain the present Institutions Commissioner at a salary of $7,500 per year and the present superintendent at a salary of $4,500 per year, together with a comfortable house detached from the institution, and all living expenses supplied, is an unwarranted disbursement of the funds of the City of Boston.

3. Training School for Nurses.

Many years ago the Infirmary Department established a Training School for Nurses at Long Island, in order to provide necessary nursing service for the institution. The conditions for eligibility and the recompense for work performed as members of the school were about the same as in most training schools for nurses. Because of the fact that the great majority of the cases in the hospital involve chronic ailments and very little experience in acute cases is obtainable, the school did not attract girls desiring to take up nursing and frequently the department had difficulty in keeping its quota of nurses on hand. The general shortage of nurses and the higher wages paid after the war increased the difficulty, so that about five years ago the department decided to offer an attractive salary to those attending the School for Nurses at the institution.

In addition to the pupil nurses at the hospital, the staff includes thirty-eight graduate nurses rated as head nurses and paid $1,200 per year and found. Approximately one hundred student nurses now are receiving $600 per year plus all living expenses, uniforms, books, etc.

Until recently application to this school was made to the Superintendent of Nurses, a technically trained person who had a certain standard of requirements and who investigated the applicants very carefully. In the main, these requirements were such as would guarantee approval of the school by the State Board of Registration of Nurses, thus giving the school's graduates a certain standing in the profession.

Although under the rules the Superintendent of Nurses recognized the Superintendent of the Hospital as her superior officer, she had been permitted to operate her division without interference. The present commissioner changed this arrangement, however. He notified the Superintendent of the Hospital that the Superintendent of Nurses would thenceforth be responsible directly to the commissioner and would not be responsible to the Superintendent of the Hospital. He then relieved the Superintendent of Nurses of her control of the Training School. He undertook to receive and pass upon applications for admittance to the Training School. As a result of these orders, the assignment and direction of nurses is made sometimes by the commissioner directly and sometimes by the resident physician. Under such divided control, the standard of the school has been lowered, the state requirements have been ignored in several particulars and the State Board has warned the hospital authorities that certain conditions existing do not warrant approval of the school.

The graduate nurses and student nurses no longer regard the Superintendent of Nurses as their director. The responsibility for the ordering of the meals which was formerly left to a dietitian, as is customary in most hospitals, is now being exercised by many officials, but the Superintendent of the Hospital is not among them.

In the present depression many who ordinarily would not apply, attracted by the pay, are seeking admission to the school and the Superintendent of Nurses claims many are being accepted who would not ordinarily be considered by her as fulfilling the standards required by the State Board. It frequently happens that girls accepted, because of their physical condition immediately become patients. Political influence is now dictating appointments, rather than strict rules of eligibility.

In 1929, as the above figures show, there were 433 patients in the hospital and sixty-five pupil nurses. In 1933 the patients number 432, and the pupil nurses on duty number 100. The number of head nurses has been increased from thirty-three to thirty-eight.

It would seem that the time has come either to abandon the operation of a school and provide the nursing service through the requisite number of graduate nurses, or to limit admission to the school to the quota actually needed.

The Finance Commission believes the school should not be continued, unless the standards set by the State Board in regard to age, health and previous education are maintained.

The Finance Commission recommends:

1. That your Honor consider the advisability of reorganizing the Institutions Department and the Penal Institutions Department so as to enable the city to eliminate unnecessary executive positions.

2. That your Honor reduce the number employed in connection with the Long Island Hospital.

3. That your Honor establish an orderly administration of the Long Island Hospital.

4. That your Honor reduce the expensive maintenance of the Training School for Nurses at Long Island.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK A. GOODWIN, Chairman,
JOSEPH A. SHEEHAN,
JOSEPH JOYCE DONAHUE,
CHARLES M. STOREY,
The Finance Commission.

Goode, widow of Thomas F. Goode, a member of the Police Department, who died on January 23, 1933, from injuries received in the performance of his duty, said annuity to date from January 24, 1933, to continue so long as said widow remains unmarried and to be charged to the appropriation for Police Department, Pensions and Annuities.

Report accepted; said order passed.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I would like to hear about the object of that.

Coun. ENGLERT—Mr. President, the ordinance will do away with the position of chief deputy sealer in the department and put on an additional deputy sealer.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CLAIMS.

Coun. RUBY, for the Committee on Claims, submitted the following:

1. Report on petition of Frank J. Englert (referred January 19, 1933) to be reimbursed for amount of executions obtained against him on account of his acts as an employee of the Public Works Department, recommending passage of the accompanying order, viz.:

Ordered, That the sum of six hundred fifty-one dollars and twenty cents be allowed and paid to Frank J. Englert in reimbursement for the amount of a judgment issued against him on account of his acts as an employee of the Public Works Department, said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund.

Report accepted; order passed.

2. Report on petition of James F. Shields (referred January 9, 1933) to be reimbursed for the amount of an execution obtained against him on account of his acts as a member of the Fire Department, recommending the passage of the accompanying order, viz.:

Ordered, That the sum of sixty-five dollars be allowed and paid to James F. Shields in reimbursement for the amount of a judgment issued against him on account of his acts as a member of the Boston Fire Department, said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund.

Report accepted; said order passed.

3. Report on petition of Thomas J. Murphy (referred December 19, 1932) to be reimbursed for the amount of an execution obtained against him on account of his acts as an employee of the Public Works Department, Sanitary Service, recommending passage of the accompanying order, viz.:

Ordered, That the sum of five hundred fifty-nine dollars and seventy-five cents be allowed and paid to Thomas J. Murphy in reimbursement for the amount of a judgment issued against him on account of his acts as an employee of the Public Works Department, Sanitary Service, said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund.

Report accepted; said order passed.

4. Report on petition of Joseph Hohn (referred December 31, 1932) to be reimbursed for amount of judgment against him on account of his acts as an employee of the Public Works Department, Sanitary Service, recommending the passage of the accompanying order, viz.:

Ordered, That the sum of one hundred and nineteen dollars and thirty-five cents be allowed and paid to Joseph Hohn in reimbursement for the amount of a judgment issued against him on account of his acts as an employee of the Public Works Department, Sanitary Service, said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I would like to find out from the chairman of the committee whether all of these claims are in regard to members of the Public Works Department?

Coun. RUBY—No, they are not. One, if I recollect aright, is a hoseman in the Fire Department. Of course, I appreciate the fact that this is something unusual, that we have not had this sort of thing in previous years. But the court has decided the cases and the Law Department recommends the disbursement, and under the circumstances I feel that we should not refuse it. I intend to introduce an order at the next meeting that, under the circumstances, while we pay these claims now, we raise the question with the Mayor whether we should not carry insurance to cover these cases, whether it would not be cheaper in the long run.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I would like to have the chairman enlighten the Council as to what the judgments were for.

Coun. RUBY—If I recollect correctly, the judgment against Mr. Englert, who was driving a truck in the course of his employment, arose out of a collision he had with an automobile in which several of the passengers were injured. Suit was brought against Mr. Englert, and judgment was found for several of the plaintiffs, amounting to $105 or $100 apiece, the total executions being $651 and some odd cents. That was the judgment against Mr. Englert, and he asked the city to reimburse him. The Law Department, having considered the matter, recommended to the City Council, of which the Claims Committee is a part, that he be reimbursed for the amount of the judgment. The same is true in the Hohn case and in other cases. All these cases have been adjudicated by the courts, and these recommendations come to us from the Law Department for reimbursement. The committee met and approved the recommendation of the Law Department that there be reimbursement. This is under the rule passed a year or two ago.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I introduced an order three or four months ago asking why the City of Boston could not insure its automobiles, the same as private individuals do, so that there would be protection in the case of accident. I suppose that matter is still under advisement. At least, I have seen no report back to us in reply. It may be that another order should be put in. I would like to ask the chairman if he could find out what the answer was to the order put in two or three months ago asking for an opinion as to whether city automobiles should not be heard insured.

Report accepted; order passed.

REWARD FOR FINDING OF MISSING GIRLS.

Coun. LYNCH, for Coun. Gleason, offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to submit to the City Council an order offering a suitable reward for information leading to the finding of Helen Lindemann and Jean Bolduc, alive or dead, and making the necessary appropriation therefor.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Dresden street, both sides, full length, Ward 19, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave Dresden street, Ward 19, with smooth paving.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

EVACUATION DAY CELEBRATION.

Coun. DONOVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to instruct all department heads to allow all city employees whose services can be dispensed with a full holiday on March 18, without loss of pay, in order that they may participate in the observance of Evacuation Day.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to have cleaned and put in proper order not only the streets over which the Evacuation Day parade will pass on March 18, but all the other streets in South Boston, so that the thousands who visit the district on that day will find it in a condition creditable to the City of Boston.

Ordered, That the Boston Traffic Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to prohibit the parking of automobiles on Broadway, between Dorchester avenue and Farragut road, during the passing of the parade in observance of Evacuation Day on March 18.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

PAYMENT TO JOHN J. CAREY.

Coun. LYNCH offered the following:

Ordered, That there be allowed and paid to John J. Carey the sum of two hundred dollars a year, to date from March 13, 1933, as part compensation for extra services rendered at meetings of the City Council and committees thereof; such payments to continue until otherwise ordered by the City Council and to be charged to the appropriation for City Council, A-1.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CONSTRUCTION OF INTERMEDIATE SCHOOL, SOUTH BOSTON.

Coun. LYNCH offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby favors the enactment of legislation authorizing the City of Boston to borrow money for the construction of an intermediate school in the South Boston district and for certain other purposes.

Passed under suspension of rule.

LONG ISLAND INVESTIGATION ORDER.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, in regard to the order I earlier introduced, for an investigation of conditions at Long Island, I am going to ask that that order be referred to its proper committee—namely, the Hospital Committee, and I am going to ask you, sir, to reconsider your decision referring it to the Committee on Rules.

President McGRATH—The order was referred to the Committee on Rules, and the only way in which that action can be rescinded is by asking that the decision of the Chair be reversed.

Coun. FISH—I do ask that, Mr. President.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I feel, as the chairman of the Hospital Committee, that that committee should have a right to hear charges that have been made before the commissioner on Long Island within the last two weeks. If some of the charges that have been made are true, there is a real, honest-to-goodness reason for an investigation. If everything is as it should be, no one should be afraid of an investigation. I am not prejudging the case. A piece of property is purchased and thousands of dollars are paid for it, and the real value of it is something under $500, for example. Certainly, that transaction should be gone into, and it should not be gone into by the Mayor of Boston or by the Mayor's appointee as commissioner at Long Island. It should be gone into by members of the Council. That is our duty. If certain other charges made by Deputy Superintendent Higgins are correct, something should be done by the elected officials of the City of Boston. Without making any criticism at this stage, I simply feel that this is a matter that should come under the charge of the Hospital Committee. It involves people who are spending the last years of their life down there, as we may have to do some day, and therefore we should look into it. I feel, having in mind the reputation of the institution itself and of the inmates there, as well as the employees, that the Hospital Committee should look into the matter and see what has been going on, instead of simply letting it go with a hearing before the commissioner. As I understand it, the commissioner fired a man whom I understand was doing his duty, for the sake of economy. That may or may not be so, but it seems to me the proper place for him to be heard is by the city fathers. It does not seem right that that particular matter should be heard before the commissioner who fired the man. If the disclosures made by the man fired are correct, the matter certainly calls for investigation by the Hospital Committee of this honorable body.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, we have a Hospital Committee here, and I believe this should be referred to the Hospital Committee. Mr. Higgins, the superintendent at Long Island, has been discharged. We want to know why. Apparently he performed his duties at Long Island very well, and let us refer the matter to the proper committee and look into it.

President McGRATH—The Chair would say that the reason for sending it to the Committee on Rules was that a few months ago the Council wanted to definitely determine its right to investigate the various departments of the City of Boston, and we requested an opinion from the Corporation Counsel. His ruling is in the records here, and it was to the effect that the Council has no power to investigate any department of the City of Boston.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, why do you appoint the committee if it has no power?

President McGRATH—For the purpose of passing on appropriations and various things concerning the hospitals before they go into effect. As a matter of fact, this is a special committee, I think, appointed on motion of the councilor from Ward 2 (Coun. Barker). There was some question, Councilor Burke, as to our authority to investigate, anyway; but I understand that it was ruled by the Corporation Counsel that where there was an appropriation before us affecting a particular department, we then had a right to investigate.

Coun. BURKE—Well, Mr. President, the budget is coming in to the Council, I suppose, perhaps within the next two weeks. Would it be proper then to make an investigation?

President McGRATH—The time when the budget is before the Council or when the question of some appropriation for a department is before the Council, is the only time in the year, I understand, when we have power to investigate any department.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, only two years ago, I believe, the Hospital Committee did function in an investigation of the City Hospital.

President McGRATH—Since then we have asked for the ruling, and the ruling is in the record.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I think the twenty-two elected officials in this body are not going to be concerned with a ruling made by the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston; and I say that because the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston, receiving $10,000 of the taxpayers' money every year, is appointed by the Mayor of Boston, and every department head in the City of Boston is appointed by the Mayor of the City of Boston. So it is natural that, if a department head is doing wrong, or is allowing wrong to be done and to continue in a particular department, the Mayor of Boston does not want that particular department investigated by the city fathers. It would, of course, be a reflection on his judgment in appointing a particular commissioner. You and I, Mr. President, are intelligent enough, and the members of this honorable body are intelligent enough to not allow the Corporation Counsel of Boston, drawing $10,000 a year from the taxpayers, to give an opinion that doesn't amount to a snap of the finger. A boy in the law school could render a much better opinion. Of course, he would not render an opinion that we have a right to go into these matters. But we are not bound, we are not forced by any law opinion that was ever rendered by a paid agent of the Mayor of Boston, to give up what rights we may have. I believe that when wrongdoing is going on in the City of Boston the people of Boston want the City Council to look into the particular wrongdoing and find out the facts, and if we then find that there has been no wrongdoing as a result of an investigation we can bring in a clean bill of health. I do not feel that the decision of the Corporation Counsel should affect the members of this body one iota. I feel that if our committees have no power whatever they should be abolished, that there is no need of them. You said, Mr. President, that the Hospital Committee was appointed to look into appropriations. With all due respect to you, I feel that that is not so. We have a Committee on Appropriations which, of course, goes into the matter of appropriations, and we have a Finance Committee to look into the finances of the city departments. If there is wrongdoing in connection with the Long Island Hospital, if there are any injustices, the thing should be remedied, and they should go on no further. I honestly believe, with all due respect to everybody concerned, that the matter of looking into these charges belongs to the Hospital Committee. If people have not been used right, if there has not been proper care, or if there has been negligence on the part of employees, that is not a proper matter for discussion behind closed doors, but should be considered in the Hospital Committee.

Coun. COX—Mr. President, I am glad to have you say here on the floor of the Council that the Corporation Counsel has ruled that this body has no power to investigate any department. I can appreciate the different interests that different councilors have in the various departments of the city; but I think it should be made clear to the public just how helpless this body is as far as controlling the actions of this government is concerned. I have before me here, and no doubt everyone of you gentlemen have received the same thing, the bulletin of the Boston Municipal Research Bureau, No. 18, under date of March 9, 1933. It contains a chart which shows the increase in the tax rate and in the cost of the government of our city, in a period which shows a decrease in postal receipts, retail sales, freight car loadings and in wages and building permits. They go on to say:

"More eloquent than words in showing the predicament of the people of Boston, is this graphic picture of the increasing tax tribute that is required by the city treasury in a time of depression. One glance reveals the tremendous problem facing the public."

They go on further in the second paragraph and say:

"A thorough re examination and revamping of the governmental machinery appears the only answer. In three years of depression city officials have failed to do this on their own initiative."

I would like to say in answer to that, that, so far as I can find out, and so far as it applies to this Council, we have no power under the City Charter to do the first thing along the line of revamping the governmental machinery or doing anything towards solving the tax problem.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I would ask unanimous consent to make a brief statement. I find it necessary to agree with the previous speakers with respect to the functioning of the various committees. Therefore, I asked you a specific question as to why this committee was appointed. Now, don't you think when trouble starts up in a department that committee should have some information concerning it and should be expected to look into the matter, so that when appropriations are asked for before the body we may be cognizant of the facts and know whether the appropriations should be made. You yourself, Mr. President, I believe, are not in favor of merely taking the word of the Corporation Counsel in so far as the powers of the City Council are concerned. I think I have heard you make the statement that such powers should not be given to the Corporation Counsel, and the City Council, carrying out the scope of its powers as understood by the Council, has certainly in the past investigated departments of the city. I have heard one of the officials of the City of Boston, one elected by the City Council itself, make a statement off the record to the effect that he does not agree with the Corporation Counsel in respect to the powers of the City Council. It seems absurd to have a Corporation Counsel appointed by the Chief Executive of the City of Boston overrule the decision of twenty-two elected officials here. There has been some trouble, something has happened on Long Island, and we have heard rumors about that trouble. Probably you, Mr. President, know more about it than various other members of the Council, because you are President of the Council and have talked with the Mayor's office more frequently than other members of the Council. But it is only fair that the Council should know what is going on down there, so that people living in the various wards may be defended. It is our duty to watch out for them, to see that they are properly taken care of, given the proper treatment that they are entitled to under the law. I ask you, therefore, Mr. President, to reconsider your decision in so far as reference to the Committee on Rules is concerned, and place the matter before the Council again, and if that is done I shall move its reference to the Executive Committee so that it may be argued from every viewpoint and so that we may find out whether officials and department heads should not come before the Hospital Committee.

President McGRATH—The question is on Councilor Fish's appeal from the decision of the Chair.

Coun. GREEN—Mr. President, if in order I would move that if this order is taken from the Committee on Rules it be referred to the Executive Committee.

President McGRATH—The question comes first on the appeal from the decision of the Chair, and then afterwards, if the appeal is sustained, a motion to that effect can be made.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, will you please state the question?

President McGRATH—Shall the decision of the Chair be sustained?

The Council voted to sustain the decision of the Chair (that the matter be referred to the Committee on Rules), yeas 14, nays 3.

Yeas—Coun. Barker, Cox, Donovan, Dowd, Englert, Fitzgerald, Gallagher, Green, Hein, Lynch, McGrath, Power, Roberts, Ruby—14.

Nays—Coun. Burke, Fish, Kelly—3.

Coun. GREEN—Mr. President, I now request the Chair to put my motion.

President McGRATH—Councilor Green's motion is now out of order. The matter is in the hands of the Committee on Rules.

Later in the session Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Rules Committee be instructed to render its report on the order calling for the investigation of the Institutions Department by the Hospital Committee at the next meeting of the City Council.

Coun. LYNCH—Mr. President, I am perfectly willing to call a meeting in the immediate future, but there is absolutely no way by which I can guarantee a quorum being present or action on the order without having sufficient time to get ready for the meeting. So I think the proposed action is a little bit hasty. I was going to suggest that we should call a meeting in the immediate future, which would probably be a week from tomorrow.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I am going to ask the chairman of the Rules Committee if he will call the meeting as soon as he reasonably can.

Coun. LYNCH—I shall be very glad to call it for a week from tomorrow, Mr. President.

Coun. FISH withdrew the above order.

SIDEWALK ON ALLSTON STREET.

Coun. HEIN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Allston street, both sides, from Washington street to Warren street, Ward 21, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PERMITS FOR SIDEWALK STANDS, HARVARD AVENUE.

Coun. HEIN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to revoke the permit for sidewalk stands at 143 and 145 Harvard avenue, Ward 21.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SHOES DONATED BY COWARD COMPANY.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:

Ordered, That the Overseers of the Welfare be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to release for distribution to the worthy poor of this city the shoes which were recently donated by the Coward Shoe Company.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, on February 18 of this year the Coward Shoe Company was kind enough to give to the city several hundred pairs of shoes for use through the Welfare Department and those shoes were put away down at 43 Hawkins street and are now gathering moth balls. I don't know how long they are going to keep them there. But in this order I am asking the Mayor to request the Overseers to immediately release the several hundred pairs of shoes down at Hawkins street so that they can serve some useful purpose.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

CONFIRMATION OF WEIGHER OF COAL.

President McGRATH called up, under unfinished business, No. 1 on the calendar, viz.:

1. Action on appointment submitted by the Mayor February 27, 1933, of Thomas R. Connell, to be a Weigher of Coal.

The question came on confirmation. Committee, Coun. Gallagher and Barker. Whole number of ballots 15, years 15, and the appointment was confirmed.

ACTION ON SEWERAGE EASEMENTS, WEST ROXBURY.

President McGRATH called up, under unfinished business, No. 3 on the calendar, viz.:

3. Whereas the City of Boston, by a Resolve and Order of the Board of Street Commissioners, approved by the Mayor of Boston April 4, 1927, took for its sewerage works rights and easements in land situate in that part of Boston called West Roxbury and more fully described in the said instrument of taking recorded with Suffolk Deeds, Book 4890, page 429; and

Whereas the Commissioner of Public Works, now having charge of the said rights and easements taken, has notified the City Council that a portion thereof is no longer required for public purposes;

Now, therefore, it is hereby ordered: That his Honor the Mayor be, and he hereby is, authorized to abandon the said sewer easements and to execute and deliver, in the name and behalf of the City of Boston and in form satisfactory to the Law Department of the City of Boston, to the said owners a release or releases wherein the said City of Boston releases the following described premises from all sewerage rights and easements set forth in the above-mentioned taking, namely, being a portion of Board of Survey sheets Nos. 1705 and 1580, which streets are shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Plan No. 721, Sewerage Works, Caspar Street, Vermont Street, West Roxbury, November 1, 1926, William J. Sullivan, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," and said plan is on file in the office of the said department. The said parcel of land is bounded northwesterly by a portion of said street No. 1705, ten and 22-100 feet; southwesterly in part by a portion of the said Board of Survey street No. 1705 and in part by a portion of said Board of Survey street No. 1580, seventy-seven and 96-100 feet; southeasterly by a portion of the said Board of Survey street No. 1580, by two measurements, eighty-six and 50-100 feet and one hundred forty-three and 49-100 feet respectively; northeasterly by a portion of said Board of Survey street No. 1580, ten and 17-100 feet; and northwesterly again by a portion of said Board of Survey street No. 1580 by two measurements, seventy-five and 22-100 feet and one hundred forty-four and 12-100 feet, respectively; and northeasterly again by a portion of said Board of Survey street No. 1705, sixty-eight and 59-100 feet, containing 2,980 square feet of land, more or less.

And it is hereby further ordered, as a part of the said consideration for the said abandonment of the said easements above set forth, that the said owners of the above-described premises execute and deliver to the said City of Boston and its assigns a release of any and all damages in any way growing out of or caused by the said abandonment of the said easements and the said abandonment of the said sewerage works and pipes which are located within the limits of said easements.

Referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

On February 20, 1933, the foregoing order was read once and passed, years 19, nays 0.

The order was given its second and final reading and passage, years 17, nays 0.

POLICE RADIO SYSTEM.

Coun. RUBY called up, under unfinished business, No. 2 on the calendar, viz.:

2. Ordered, That the sum of $75,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated, to be expended under the direction of the Police Commissioner, for police radio system, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon the request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

On February 27, 1933, the foregoing order was read once and passed, years 17, nays 1.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, in reference to No. 2 on the calendar, I read an article in the Boston Evening Transcript about a week ago, an editorial, stating that the Radio Commission in Washington, D. C., disapproved this proposition, stating that at this time it was not advisable, that the proper facilities could not be afforded for now connecting Boston up with the various cities and towns, that the thing would be a rank failure and that it should not be acted upon at this time, involving a needless expenditure of money. In view of that fact, I don't think I can afford to vote for this $75,000, at a time when Boston needs money so much for various worthy things. Therefore, I am going to vote "no."

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, it is inconceivable when all the large cities of the country and many cities and towns in our own Commonwealth, as well as our own state police, have seen the wisdom of police radio equipped machinery that we in Boston must overlook the one method that, I believe, can be used to advantage to decrease time and to make more sure the apprehension of criminals. It is rather unfortunate that we in Boston cannot have this system, because if we did the police system of communication would be just so much quicker. I don't say that if we had radio installed in police cars in Boston it would be the means of recovering the two lost little girls, for which thousands of dollars are being spent, and justly so, in the hope of their recovery alive or their bodies if not alive. But I do say that with proper radio communication we can handle to a far better degree the necessary police equipment of Boston. While $75,000 is a lot of money at this time, the large sums of money that are being spent in the endeavor at the present time to apprehend criminals of whom we are able to find no trace might by the introduction of police radio be saved to a great extent. We cannot figure in dollars and cents the value that police radio might be in Boston. But I wonder if the councilor from Ward 3 (Coun. Fitzgerald) knows how much it has already cost the City of Boston in attempting to solve the recent murder which has been in the public eye and of which no solution has up to the present time been reached? Probably it may have cost as much as it would cost to equip the police system with radio, as here proposed, and still nothing has been done. I wonder if the councilor who has just spoken knows that in murders that have been committed in Boston in the last three years not one person has been apprehended, unless the alleged murderer has surrendered himself to the police? Isn't that argument enough in a city like ours, which spends $6,000,000 or $7,000,000 a year on its police budget? It is here proposed that an expenditure of $75,000 be made, and I am satisfied that police radio can be furnished for a less amount in Boston. In my opinion, this is the best investment that the city can make at the present time. While I believe as strongly as any member of the Council in economy, there is such a thing as false economy, which is very expensive, and I believe if we refuse to pass this order at this time it will mean that we are pursuing a false economy that will retard progress. After all, only this morning Police Division 1, one out of twenty divisions in Boston, moved into a new building that cost us $300,000. Less than a month ago Police Divisions 4 and 5 moved into new quarters that cost upwards of $700,000. You might say, if we are going to practice economy, we should not provide those new buildings. But we felt that it was necessary to do so, and did so. I believe if this system has worked well in New York, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago and other cities, and even in Somerville, our adjoining city, we can well take the chance of spending $75,000 upon the system in a city like ours. I asked that the members vote for this order two weeks ago, and I now ask that they vote for it today.

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, I am given to understand that it is not in order to propose an amendment to the order at this time?

President McGRATH—The Chair would say that the order cannot be amended on second reading.

Coun. ROBERTS—Then, I would like to say that I am going to vote for this order, for the reason that I think the Police Commissioner has good enough judgment so that he will receive the official approval of the Radio Commission in Washington before he spends the money.

The order was given its second and final reading and passage, years 16, nays 1.

Yeas—Coun. Barker, Burke, Cox, Donovan, Dowd, Englert, Fish, Gallagher, Green, Hein, Kelly, Lynch, McGrath, Power, Roberts, Ruby—16.

Nays—Coun. Fitzgerald—1.

REPORTS ON COMMITTEES.

Coun. GREEN offered the following:

Ordered, That rules of Council be suspended, that all reports of both private and standing committees be referred to the Executive Committee acting as a committee of the whole before it is reported to the Council body.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, wasn't there a motion passed last year, or the first part of this year, calling upon the Rules Committee to report upon orders within a week from the time they received them?

President McGRATH—There may have been a request.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, my idea is that the order was passed unanimously by the Council and that the Rules Committee are not adhering to the idea of that motion.

President McGRATH—I would ask the councilor to get the motion out of the record, if he please.

Adjourned, at 4:08 p. m., on motion of Coun. HEIN, to meet on Monday, March 20, 1933, at 2 p. m.

GOVERNMENT IN BUSINESS.

For many years we have heard innumerable bankers, business men and professional men talk about too much government in business. But these same people are constantly before legislatures asking government to do something to protect their selfish interests. The doctor, the lawyer, the dentist, and each profession is always asking the government to make the entrance to their unions more difficult not with the idea of protecting the people but with the hope of stopping or reducing competition. The local merchant is always asking the council, the state and the nation to prohibit competition by peddlers and transient merchants. When the winds of depleted deposits began to whirl about the banks the government was asked to bear the burden, and if official authority is to be believed the government and the politicians saved the banks and not the high-browed presidents and directors of the banks. The real truth is that we do not want government to interfere with us in our desires, but do ask government to enter business in any and every conceivable way that we think will help us make a little more money of the realm.

FINANCING SEWAGE WORKS BY SPECIAL ASSESSMENT IN IOWA.

The cost of constructing sewage disposal plants in a number of states, and in Iowa in particular, may be levied against the various lots, parts of lots or parcels of ground draining to, or susceptible to drainage to, the site of the disposal plant. Such assessments must be in proportion to the benefits to each property and must not, in any case, exceed one-fourth of the fair value of the property in question. These special assessments are payable in the same manner as other municipal improvement costs; that is, in ten annual equal installments, paid at the same time and place as the March 1 installment of ordinary taxes in Iowa. Any property owner may pay off the unpaid portion of such tax at any time. Interest on the deferred payments must not exceed 6 per cent.

The reading of the minutes of the previous meeting was omitted, the Committee approving them as printed.

APPROVAL OF APPOINTMENTS

The Chairman stated the question was on approving the appointments of teachers, as reported by the Superintendent and laid over at the previous meeting.

The appointments were approved.

(RE-ENTRY INTO SERVICE)

(To fill vacancy caused by increase in numbers)

Charles Sumner District—Esther Campbell Martin, assistant, kindergarten, one session (resigned Aug. 31, 1929), Apr. 3, 1933.

(To fill vacancy caused by retirement)

Sherwin District—Edna Dowling Strachan, assistant, elementary (resigned from William E. Russell District, Aug. 31, 1928), Apr. 3, 1933.

Mr. Hurley: I am not in favor of these two appointments, not because I have any objection to the candidates in question, but because they are reentrants—former teachers in the service. My objection is because of the fact that we have been able to make but a limited number of appointments this year and we have a very long Prior List. I feel that it is unfair in some respects to the girls at the top of that Prior List to allow any appointment by means of reentrance. I therefore will not vote to approve these two reentrant appointments.

The appointments were laid over.

Robert Gould Shaw District — Rachel M. Cassidy, assistant, kindergarten, two sessions (from assistant, kindergarten, one session), Mar. 1, 1933.

High School certificate, instead of experience in a "day high or a day intermediate school" as at present.

Placed on file.

The following was offered:

ORDERED, That the rules are hereby amended as follows:

Sect. 80, paragraph IV. High School. In the paragraph which describes the eligibility requirements for the IV. High School certificate, in the eleventh and twelfth lines strike out the words—day high or day intermediate school—and substitute in place thereof the words—college or secondary school (Grades VII to XII, inc.) approved by the board of superintendents—so that the paragraph shall read as follows:

The requirements for this certificate are: The degree of Master of Education, Master of Arts, or equivalent degree from a college or university approved by the board of superintendents; evidence of two years' successful experience in teaching and governing regular graded day schools, which experience shall include at least one year in a college or secondary school (Grades VII to XII, inc.) approved by the board of superintendents; provided, that for holders of the degree of Master of Education from The Teachers College of the City of Boston, and for holders of the degree of Master of Education from a college or university approved by the board of superintendents which grants the degree only upon the completion of two years' work under the direction of that institution, one year's experience in teaching shall be accepted.

REPORT ON CONTRIBUTIONS FOR RELIEF OF UNEMPLOYMENT.

A communication was received from the Business Manager under date of Mar. 6, 1933, reporting that voluntary contributions made by teachers, custodians, clerks and all other permanent school employees for the months of January and February, 1933, totaled $158,600.62. Deductions of these voluntary contributions at the rate of one, two, or three days' pay, dependent on the salary being received, have been made on the pay rolls.

Placed on file.

APPROPRIATIONS AND EXPENDITURE FOR 1932

A communication was received from the Business Manager, under date of Dec. 31, 1932, submitting the final statement on the cost of maintenance of the public schools for the financial year 1932, showing the appropriations, the expenditures, and the balances for the financial year 1932, the expenditures for the financial year 1931, and the increases and decreases in the several items.

In connection with the foregoing, the Chairman stated that this report of the Business Manager shows a balance of $568,000 in the maintenance appropriation for the year 1932 and this substantial balance was due in the main to the careful scrutiny of all expenditures during the past year. This money now becomes available for appropriation this year, 1933, thereby relieving the tax rate for 1933 by $568,000, or about thirty cents on each thousand dollars of the valuation of the city.

Mr. Tobin: I also think we should make mention here of our appreciation of the members of the school service who to a great extent made this saving of $568,000 possible.

Chairman: That expression of appreciation will be spread upon the records.

The communication of the Business Manager was placed on file.

He was commissioned Second Lieutenant at Plattsburg, August, 1916; joined the service as Second Lieutenant, April, 1917. He was granted leave of absence for military service, May 1, 1917. He was appointed Captain, August, 1917; member of 327th Infantry, 82nd Division, A. E. F.

Captain Welch was killed in action, Sept. 14, 1918. His body was recovered October, 1931, and reburied in France, November, 1931.

I believe that if the Committee takes favorable action on the proposal to name a building in memory of Captain Welch, it will be the first school to be named in memory of a former member of the teaching service—for one who gave his life in defense of his country.

The suggestion was referred to the Committee on Naming of School Buildings.

The Committee adjourned.

GREAT LACK OF RURAL HEALTH SERVICE FACILITIES OFFICIALLY INDICATED.

Only 25 per cent of the rural population of the United States is at present provided with adequate and properly organized local health service, reports Surgeon General H. S. Cumming in his annual resume of the work of the United States Public Health Service during the past fiscal year, which has just been submitted to Congress.

BOSTON AS A TOWN.

From its foundation until 1755, or a period of 125 years, Boston was not only the most outstanding but the most populous town in the American colonies. In 1760, Philadelphia's population was ahead, viz., 18,756, Boston's then being 15,631 and New York's about 14,000. In the last year of town government, viz., 1821, Boston's population was about 45,000 and its public debt $100,000, all incurred for new county buildings.

The history of Boston as a town during a period of nearly two centuries surpasses in civic interest that of Boston as a city because of the untiring zeal and successful efforts of its townsmen to realize more of true democracy than had ever been attained before. Their obligations were held as sacred as their liberties.

BOSTON INCORPORATED AS A CITY, 1822.

The act of incorporation was passed by the Legislature on February 23, 1822. On March 4 following, the voters of Boston accepted said act, chapter 110, 1821-22, as its first city charter by a majority of 916 in a total vote of 4,678. The vote was 2,797 yeas, 1,881 nays. Previous attempts to incorporate as a city had been made in 1650, 1659, 1667, 1708, 1744, 1762, 1784, 1791, 1804 and 1815. The charter was revised in 1854, 1885 and 1909. Amendments to the 1909 charter were enacted in 1910, 1912, 1914, 1918, 1919, 1921, 1922 and lastly in 1924 (see "Municipal Register" for 1928, pages 19-43).

CITY RECORD

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 25.

SATURDAY, APRIL 1, 1933.

No. 13

MAYOR CURLEY REGRETS COMPULSION TO CUT SALARIES OF CITY EMPLOYEES — BLAMES BANKERS WHO ACCEPT CITY'S FUNDS FOR DEPOSIT AND ALLOW BUT SCANT INTEREST THEREON BUT CHARGE HIGH FOR SHORT-TERM LOANS — SALARY REVISIONS EXPECTED TO PRODUCE SAVINGS OF $5,100,000, TO BE EFFECTIVE APRIL 1 — HOPES FOR FEDERAL AID FOR CITIES OF STATE.

Mayor Curley spoke in part as follows over Station WNAC, Monday, March 27:

Friends of the Radio Audience.

We have been extremely busy at City Hall during the past six months, and more particularly during the past sixty days, in the compilation of what is known as the municipal budget. The municipal budget embraces the work of some fifty-two departments of a municipality and includes some 5,300 separate items. The annual expenditure approximates about $78,000,000, or at the rate of nearly $1,500,000 each week of the year. In times of prosperity it is not a difficult task to borrow such funds as may be required for the conduct of activities of the city, pending the receipt of taxes.

It is customary to begin our tax assessment work on the first day of April. The work requires about six weeks and then from the facts and figures compiled the tax rate is made up. The tax rate is announced the latter part of August. Tax bills are made out in the middle of September and tax money begins to come in about the first of October, and the money that comes in from the first day of October until January 1 is used to meet current expenses and the obligations that have been incurred during the fiscal year, so that it may truly be said that it is necessary for a municipality to live on borrowed money for a full eight-month period each year.

In the past it has been a very simple matter, but since the depression of the last three years it has been a difficult task to secure at a reasonable rate of interest all the short-time money necessary to meet municipal obligations. During the past two years most American cities have found it difficult to secure money at any price and those that have been successful have been required to pay what they considered exorbitant rates of interest; in other words, in excess of 5 per cent as against a normal 2 per cent in years prior to the depression. You have some conception of the enormity of this expenditure when you realize that the City of Boston this year will be required to borrow, until such time as tax money comes in, between forty and fifty millions of dollars.

Cost of Borrowing Grows.

Paying 6 per cent on fifty millions of dollars represents a considerable expenditure of your money in interest as against an expenditure of 2 per cent in preceding years. In other words, the cost of borrowing money will be three times as great and the amount required to borrow will be two and one half times as great as was borrowed in any year prior to the depression in 1930. It represents a most unusual and interesting proposition. The delinquent taxes for the City of Boston at present outstanding, and by delinquent I mean taxes that were due and unpaid to the present time for the year 1932, approximate slightly in excess of fourteen millions of dollars. It was about twenty millions of dollars at the close of the year 1932. It is but fourteen millions of dollars in Boston, one hundred sixty-eight millions in New York City, sixty millions in Cleveland and about forty-two millions in Detroit, and a general similar average in the leading cities of America, representing a stupendous sum of money, the largest ever known in the history of the country.

With bank failures everywhere,—I believe the amount recorded from the years 1920 to 1930 in the United States was 10,000 banks, with not a single bank failure in England and only one bank failure in Canada. Somehow or other they do things a little better in Canada. The officials of the bank responsible for the failure are all serving terms in jail of from three to fifteen years.

Banks and Interest Rates.

We have been ordered that we must put our house in order if we are to receive money from the banks that is necessary for the conduct of the activities of the city. On the money that the city deposits in the banks we have been receiving in interest one-quarter of one per cent from the banks. Prior to 1930 we received from 2 to 2½ per cent and we borrowed for about an average of 2½ per cent. Now, when we go to borrow money, we are obliged to pay the banks 6 per cent. I discussed the question at a conference of Mayors in Detroit last year and we were all in the same position. In fact, it was the consensus of opinion that the only two solvent cities in America were Milwaukee and Boston and when the Mayor of Milwaukee was asked how he accounted for the solvency of these two cities, he said, "It was very simple. We refused to accept the advice or the orders of the bankers and banking experts." In all probability had we accepted the advice of those individuals, both Milwaukee and Boston would be in the same precarious position that the other cities in America are in.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"
From Boston Centennial Poem by

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT FAST RESTORING PUBLIC CONFIDENCE IN PEOPLE OF COUNTRY — MAYOR CURLEY POINTS OUT FACTS SUPPORTING THIS BELIEF IN RADIO INTRODUCTION OF SON OF PRESIDENT WHO INAUGURATES A SERIES OF BROADCASTS OVER STATION WNAC.

Broadcast of Mayor Curley, over Station WNAC at 12.45 on March 23:

It was a most interesting departure upon the part of the Yankee Network and more particularly Station WNAC when now, for the first time in the history of the city, an opportunity is presented for this broadcast and we are honored by a representative of the Radio Commission, in the person of that distinguished and brilliant member from Connecticut, Mr. Starbuck. It marks, in addition, the innovation in radio broadcasting. For four years it has been customary to broadcast discussions of affairs nationally and politically but it has never been customary to broadcast, from time to time throughout the year, as to the state of affairs in the nation itself.

We have learned to our sorrow during the past four years how intimately is the legislation that is enacted both nationally and in the state associated with the happiness or misery of every individual in America. We have come to appreciate that our future happiness is in large measure dependent upon the character of support we accord public officials, more particularly in our national life, who typify our hopes, our aspirations and our ideals in the matter of legislation. We have been strengthened and fortified in our faith during the past sixteen days, in a larger measure than in any similar period in the history of our country, through the splendid leadership and, I might say, uncanny grasp upon legislation that has been exhibited by the present President of the United States—Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

PRESIDENT RESTORING PUBLIC FAITH.

No man in the history of our country, serving as President, has demonstrated a better grasp of affairs as they affect the public weal and no man since the days of Andrew Jackson has seen fit to violate precedent, in fact, I might say, to scrap precedent and to toss out red tape, and to determine legal processes, with one thought solely in mind—the welfare of the people of the entire nation. Apparently America and its people are behind him and his action for the restoration of faith and of confidence in the nation. His determination perfects a better, a more hopeful and happy program for the guidance, not only of our own nation, but for the conduct of the nations of the world and the people of the world at large has resulted in an absolute and abiding faith in, and an almost united support upon the part of the American people for various measures of legislation, the enactment of which he has succeeded in securing in the last sixteen days.

Within the last sixteen days the success achieved by Franklin D. Roosevelt as President of the United States has found its reflex, not only in Europe but throughout the entire world. There has been a cessation of war-like activities upon the part of Japan during the last week and we have witnessed not only the Premier of Great Britain but the new leader of the German nation, Hitler, agreeing to a conference with reference to the preservation of peace in Europe. All of these measures have a tendency to create hope in the hearts of the people of the world that we are getting just a little bit closer to what was the ideal of the late lamented President Woodrow Wilson, to a restriction of armament, and through a settlement of international differences, by a conference of the intelligent seated and represented around a table rather than around fortifications of every character.

In our own country we find the Federal Government considering with favor the project of starting cantonments to provide work for 500,000 of the men of America at a minimum of salary. We find America considering seriously the embarkation upon a program not only of reforestation but of flood control and international waterway development. We find a program for the stabilizing of farm products with a view to restoring prosperity to a basic source of industrial and commercial prosperity in the nation—agriculture. Also we find, in addition, an intelligent and properly directed courageous attempt to restore confidence with regard to the finances of the country by protection of every dollar a person deposits in a savings bank.

Regardless of how one may feel personally there is a source of satisfaction in the knowledge that however high the station a member of the banking profession may occupy when he fails to perform his duties as administrator of a great trust he is amenable to prosecution. There was a time in America when no one could be made to believe it was possible to criminally prosecute anything over a million dollars. Now we have found an order for the arrest of the head of the National City Bank of New York for violation of trust within the last forty-eight hours. And there is every indication that he will be accorded the same treatment as though he did not represent millions of dollars but was just a private citizen. He has violated a trust and been guilty of criminal acts.

Now it is important that the people of America be informed as to the progress being made in the so-called "new deal" in the life of America. Certainly no one should be better qualified to present views with reference to a program of the national administration and present great leader than the son of that particularly great leader. With their customary forward-looking policy, the Shepard Stores, under the leadership of John Shepard, 3d, has seen fit to inaugurate a system of broadcasts by the son of the President of the United States, starting at 8.30 tonight over Station WNAC. It is to be hoped that every individual in America who has a radio will listen in, and every one without one will purchase one between now and 8.30 tonight not only to help out business but to be informed as to just what is going on in the nation, and through that information be in a position to sustain the hand of the one individual to whom America and the world looks at the present time for protection, for hope, for guidance, for that faith which unfortunately has largely been dissipated as a consequence of the vicissitudes through which America has passed during the past four years.

CONTRACTS AMENDED.

DEPARTMENT OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

William Gens & Son have been allowed to amend the contract for underground electric work at the Dorchester High School for Girls in the Christopher Gibson District, Washington street and Geneva avenue, Dorchester, by striking out the words "not later than two weeks after award of contract" on page 1 of the specifications, and substituting therefor the word and figures "July 1, 1933," so that said article on page 1 of the specifications shall read: "Upon award of contract the Contractor will commence work forthwith, carry it on with all reasonable and proper speed, give all notice, take out all permits and pay all charges, fees and rates therefor and bring the work to entire completion on or before July 1, 1933."

BROADCAST BY MAYOR CURLEY.

It must be apparent to every individual that if our tax delinquencies for 1932 approximate twenty million dollars, certain economies are necessary in order to take care of the city, for there is every indication that unless prosperity speedily makes its presence known the tax delinquencies may increase 50 per cent. Instead of twenty million dollars we may end the year 1933 with an uncollected tax bill of thirty million dollars. With a view to setting our house in order and contrary to my own opinion on the subject, for it has been my judgment from the beginning, and I believe it is sound, that it is possible to enjoy measurable prosperity in America if only the old salary schedule is maintained and men put to work; provided, in addition, that we adopt preference to goods made in the United States of America. It seems rather a change from the doctrine of internationalism that we have been fed upon so long. We must think in terms of the salvation of the government under which we live and so we have decided upon a salary revision in Boston that will net in the full year a return to the municipality, or a reduction in the operating cost in salaries, of about $5,100,000. Provision has been made for salary changes, provided the necessary legislation is approved on Beacon Hill, to become effective on April 1.

We have announced that any individual who is eligible for pension at the present time may make application prior to March 31 and the pension will be granted. I believe there are somewhere in the neighborhood of three hundred individuals on the city pay rolls that are eligible and if those three hundred take advantage of this it will make quite a considerable difference in the amount which they will be permitted to withdraw as against waiting until after March 31 when the reductions will range from 5 to 15 per cent and possibly a little more in the higher salaried positions.

REGRETS NEED FOR SALARY CUTS.

If I were eligible for retirement I would take advantage of this opportunity and I say advisedly that there is scant prospect of a speedy restoration of the old salary scales and I confess from the bottom of my heart I regret the passing of the salary scale now enjoyed representing nearly a century and one half of struggle and effort upon the part of right-thinking women and men, in addition to the greatest war in the world's history and a shortage of man power to bring it about. That high salary rule in America, or what we have so frequently termed as the Saving Wage, really meant more in the way of happiness in the home and health in the land and prosperity generally than did anything that has ever happened in the history of the American Republic, but we are confronted with a condition where it will be necessary for us to effect economies in salaries and administrative work which is expected to amount to about $7,000,000.

It is true we have the right to take advantage of the direct Federal Aid for municipalities but which Massachusetts has not applied for as yet. Public welfare last year cost $12,000,000 in aid to the needy and unemployed as against $580,000 in 1916. I estimate it may cost around $14,000,000 this year. We appeared before President Hoover and induced him to recommend $300,000,000 in 1932 for direct aid.

I recently discussed the matter with President Roosevelt and he is about ready to recommend, so I am informed, an expenditure of $500,000,000 in direct aid to the municipalities. Forty-one states of the Union have accepted of this form of relief. Massachusetts is one of the seven that has failed to accept. I believe it is clearly our duty to accept of this and by this method relieve in some part the tremendous drain real estate is required to bear.

We all have an abiding faith in the new President of the United States; we look to him to lead us from depths of despair to the promised land of hope and as we love our country and hope for its future, and as we love our neighbor and give a thought occasionally to his welfare, let us all earnestly and devoutly pray for the health and success and continued leadership of him who is today regarded as the one hope of the United States and the one hope of the world, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, President of the United States of America.

HOPES FOR $5,000 WELFARE AID FROM WRESTLING MATCH.

Upon March 29 the Mayor issued the following statement:

I have this day been informed by former Lieutenant-Governor Edward P. Barry that Paul Bowser has arranged a wrestling exhibition, a portion of the proceeds of which are to be devoted to the Public Welfare fund.

The wrestling bouts would be in the nature of a championship match, to be held at the Boston Garden on Friday night, March 31, between the world's title holder, Ed Don George, and the challenger, Nick Lutze.

The indications are that the match should prove the most interesting of any that have been held in our city for many years. Upon the occasion of a recent meeting between these disputants for the title the referee was rendered unconscious during the period that George was out for the count, and upon the recovery of the referee the world's title holder, Ed Don George, succeeded in rendering Nick Lutze unconscious while the referee was conscious, with the result that the referee awarded the decision to George.

The spirit of rivalry between these two men for the championship is so keen that in all probability a squad of police will be necessary to maintain order when they meet at the Boston Garden to determine who should be permitted to hold the world's championship of wrestling and there is every indication that as a result of the meeting the city will be the beneficiary in the sum probably of $5,000, which will be most helpful in the purchase of stockings, clothing and shoes for the needy children of our city. It is to be hoped that every individual who can do so will attend this première exhibition.

O'Connell Company has been directed to perform the following extra work under the contract for cleaning sewers in Neponset Playground and across Neponset avenue, near Blackwell street, Dorchester. Although this is in addition to the work contemplated in the original contract, it is incidental thereto. Estimated cost of extra work, $297.50.

LAND-TAKING IN CITY PROPER.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for a public improvement consisting of the laying out of Tamworth street, Boston Proper district, as a highway, from Boylston street to La Grange street, substantially as shown on a plan in the office of this Board, that it intends to pass an order for making said improvements, and that it appoints 11 o'clock a. m. of March 22, 1933, and the office of this Board as the time and place for a public hearing in the matter.

A true copy of an order passed by said Board on said day.

Attest:

CORNELIUS A. REARDON,
Secretary.

IN BOARD OF STREET COMMISSIONERS,
BOSTON, March 24, 1933.

Ordered, That this Board, having passed the order of notice relating to the public improvement hereinafter described, and having caused a copy of said order to be published March 10, 11, 1933, and March 13, 14, 1933, in the Boston Globe and the Boston American, two daily newspapers published in the City of Boston, and having given the public hearing, notice of which was given in said order, and being of the opinion that public convenience so requires, does hereby order the making, in said city of the public improvements, shown on a plan, marked "City of Boston, Tamworth Street, Boston Proper, March 8, 1933, William J. Sullivan, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," deposited in the office of the Street Laying-Out Department of said city, and named, bounded and described as follows:

A highway named Tamworth street is hereby laid out, from Boylston street to La Grange street.

Said highway and the land, exclusive of trees or structures standing upon or affixed thereto, in which an easement for street purposes is hereby taken is bounded and described as follows:

No betterments are to be assessed for the making of the aforesaid improvement.

Voted, That this Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the making of the public improvement, consisting of the laying out of Tamworth street, Boston Proper district, as a highway, from Boylston street to La Grange street, under the order of the Board and awards no damages therefor.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACT.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

T. J. O'Connell Company has been granted an extension of the time of completion of the contract for cleaning sewers in Neponset Playground and across Neponset avenue, near Blackwell street, Dorchester, from February 28 to April 15, forty-six days.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 177.

The emergency occasioned by the closing of all banks and trust companies in this city on March 4, 1933, has terminated. The commissioner desires to congratulate and thank the entire department for the promptness and thoroughness with which the police matters arising during the period of this emergency were handled.

The commissioner desires to particularly commend Lieut. Thomas F. Connolly who was in charge of headquarters when the notice that the banks would not open was received on the morning of March 4. His prompt and energetic action was of real service to the Commonwealth and the city and it reflected great credit upon this department.

During this emergency, the members of the department were called upon to perform approximately 70,000 hours of extra duty without financial recompense. This they did not only willingly, but cheerfully, in a manner which warrants the commendation of their fellow citizens.

The Hon. Channing H. Cox was chosen by the Boston Clearing House Association to be the bank official to receive all requests from the various banks for service from this department. His knowledge in governmental affairs and his tact aided this department materially.

It gives me great pleasure to publish the following letter from former Governor Cox:

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF BOSTON,
BOSTON, March 21, 1933.

HON. EUGENE C. HULTMAN, Police Commissioner.

MY DEAR COMMISSIONER HULTMAN,—Now that things are normal with the Boston banks and we are going along so quietly, I want, in behalf of this bank, to assure you how deeply we appreciate your great cooperation during the banking holiday. From the first moment you, Superintendent Crowley and all of the officers and men showed complete willingness to help in every way.

I know that I speak for the members of the Boston Clearing House Association when I record this expression of real appreciation for the tremendous assistance given by the Police Department.

Sincerely yours,

CHANNING H. COX,
Vice President.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Police Commissioner.

(Paragraph 2.)

Sergt. George H. Bird, Patrolmen Harold L. Bean, Rudolph S. DeLosh, Michael J. Donovan, Maurice J. Foisy, John J. Murray and Leonard R. Travis, all of Division 13, are commended in General Orders for creditable police duty performed on the night of March 14 in connection with the arrest of six young men for breaking and entering and larceny who were cruising about the Jamaica Plain district in a stolen automobile.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the alertness and attention to duty shown by these officers in apprehending this gang of criminals.

It is further ordered that the punishment duty remaining to be performed by Patrolman Leonard R. Travis, in accordance with General Order No. 164, Paragraph 2, dated February 20, 1933, be, and hereby is, remitted.

(Paragraph 3.)

Sergt. Francis V. Donovan and Patrolman Owen O'Rourke of Division 4 are commended in General Orders, and in addition Patrolman O'Rourke is given two days' additional vacation for meritorious police duty performed on the early morning of March 5 in effecting the arrest of two men who were in the act of committing a holdup and robbery of the proprietor of a store located on Patrolman O'Rourke's route.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the alertness and courage shown by Patrolman O'Rourke in effecting the arrest of these dangerous characters and commends the prompt response given by Sergt. Francis V. Donovan after an emergency call had been sent to the station.

(Paragraph 4.)

Sergt. John Donovan, Patrolmen Maurice A. Breen, Martin J. Coakley and Michael R. O'Leary, all of Division 4, are commended in General Orders, and in addition Patrolman O'Leary is given three days' additional vacation for meritorious police duty performed on March 17, 1933.

While patrolling his route, Patrolman O'Leary was informed by a citizen that a holdup had just taken place and the holdup-man had boarded a bus. A brief description was given to the officer and he immediately pursued and overtook the bus and placed under arrest a man who was positively identified at the station by the victim of the holdup. When searched at the station no weapon was found on the prisoner, and, accordingly, Sergeant Donovan, Patrolmen Breen and Coakley were dispatched in a squad car to overtake the bus in which the criminal had attempted to make his escape. After stopping and searching several buses, the officers finally located the bus from which the prisoner was taken and found a fully-loaded revolver under one of the seats. This revolver was identified by the victim as the one used in the holdup.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the initiative and prompt action shown by the officers in performing this effective police duty.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 179.

Patrolmen James G. McCann and Stephen F. Finnegan of Division 4 are commended in General Orders, and Patrolman McCann is given three days' additional vacation for alertness and attention to duty shown on March 15 in the arrest of two men who attempted to break into a building.

Patrolman McCann, while trying the rear doors of buildings on his route, discovered two men attempting to pry off the skylight of a building. The officer gained access to the adjoining roof, and both men, in attempting to escape, jumped to a yard in the rear with the officer in pursuit. Patrolman McCann gave chase through various streets, being joined by Patrolman Finnegan, and they finally cornered the men and placed them under arrest.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the courageous and determined effort shown by Patrolman McCann in effecting the arrest of these criminals and the prompt cooperation given by Patrolman Finnegan in assisting a fellow officer.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

Commissioner.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Monday, March 20, 1933.

Regular meeting of the City Council, held in Council Chamber, City Hall, at 2 p. m., President McGRATH in the chair. Absent, Comm. Cox, Gleason and Murray.

REPORT OF CITY HOSPITAL TRUSTEES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 16, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I beg to forward herewith report submitted by the City Hospital Trustees, the same constituting a reply to the order adopted by your honorable body at a recent meeting.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Hospital Department, March 10, 1933.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—At a meeting of the Board of Trustees held on March 3, a notice from the City Clerk was presented, transmitting order of the City Council whereby the trustees were requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install a new X-ray machine at the East Boston Relief Station, and as a result Dr. P. F. Butler, chief of the X-Ray Department, was requested to make a report on same.

I am inclosing herewith a copy of Doctor Butler's report, which explains itself.

Respectfully yours,
JOSEPH P. MANNING,
President, Board of Trustees.

35 Bay State Road,
Boston, March 7, 1933.

Dr. John J. Dowling,
Superintendent, Boston City Hospital.

Dear Doctor,—Received your letter of March 3, 1933, inquiring as to the condition of the X-ray apparatus in the East Boston Relief Station.

We have had installed there for several years a portable X-ray machine which was transferred from the main hospital. This machine does perfectly satisfactory work and is amply sufficient for the needs of the East Boston branch. They average one case daily. From time to time these films are referred to the main hospital and we find them satisfactory for careful diagnosis. Whenever the machine gets out of order I am promptly notified and always send a repair man over on the same day. The repair man, who is a competent X-ray mechanic, informs me that the machine is in good condition for the amount of work required of it.

I can see no good reason for replacing this machine with new apparatus. The present machine has done satisfactory work and is in proper condition for all the work required. If the purchase of a new machine is contemplated it should be installed in the main hospital, where requirements are much greater than in the East Boston Relief Station. In the main hospital we are averaging nearly two hundred cases daily, and all of our machines are older than the one in East Boston, yet are doing quite satisfactory work.

Respectfully yours,
P. F. BUTLER,
Director, X-Ray Department.

Placed on file.

SALE OF LAND, PARKER PLACE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 20, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I beg to submit herewith order recommended by the Corporation Counsel, providing for the sale of certain property to the New England Baptist Hospital. I respectfully recommend the adoption of the order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Law Department, March 20, 1933.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I am inclosing herewith an order for the City Council, authorizing the sale of the parcel of land therein described. These premises are among the many of which the City of Boston was the owner of a tax title. Foreclosure proceedings have been brought and completed upon the said tax title, and the City of Boston is now the owner of the premises.

It is desirable that the said parcel of land be sold, as the city has no need of it. It is assessed in the amount of five hundred (500) dollars. The taxes which have remained unpaid from 1910 to 1932, inclusive, amount to $384.94, which, with interest and costs, make a total of $621.21.

The said parcel of land is situated at the end of Parker place, adjacent to the property of the New England Baptist Hospital. The lot can be used in connection with the property of the hospital but is of no value to any other party.

Said hospital is desirous of purchasing this parcel of land for the sum of four hundred (400) dollars and it is my opinion that it is for the best interest of the City of Boston that it be permitted so to do.

If this order meets with your Honor's approval, please have it introduced in the City Council.

Very truly yours,
SAMUEL SILVERMAN,
Corporation Counsel.

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be, and he hereby is, authorized, in the name and behalf of the city, to sell at public auction, at an upset price of four hundred (400) dollars, a parcel of land situated on the southwesterly side of Parker place, in that part of Boston called Roxbury, containing 7,468 square feet, more or less, and upon the payment of the selling price obtained at said auction to execute and return to the purchaser thereof a deed of the said premises in form satisfactory to the Law Department.

Referred to Committee on Public Lands.

RESTORATION OF DILLAWAY HOUSE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 20, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I have received the attached communication from the architect in charge of the restoration work at the Dillaway House in Roxbury, in which he points out that in order to complete the work so that the building may be ready for occupancy an additional appropriation of $10,000 will be required. Under the provisions of the legislative act authorizing the expenditure by the city for this work the sum of $25,000 was set as a maximum. To date $15,000 has been appropriated, so that the amount requested by the architect may be appropriated within the provisions of the enabling act. As pointed out in the attached communication, the major portion of the work completed to date has had to do with the exterior of the building. The supplementary appropriation now requested will be used largely for the interior of the house. I submit herewith the necessary appropriation order and respectfully recommend its passage by your honorable body.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

9 Mount Vernon Square,
Boston, March 17, 1933.

The Hon. James M. Curley,
City Hall, Boston.

My dear Mr. Mayor,—As the unfortunate illness of Mr. Louis K. Kourke makes it impossible to report as to the present condition of the restoration of the old Dillaway House to your Honor through him, I am venturing to make such a statement direct to you, as it is essential to secure the remainder of the appropriation, if the work is to be completed this summer, and put in such condition that it can be made habitable for caretakers, and ready to be taken over and furnished by some historical society, as was contemplated.

The first amount made available will be entirely expended by the ending of the present contracts, about four weeks hence. The work thus far done includes the repair of all foundations, chimneys, fireplaces, oak frame, walls and roof, new roofing, installation of all plumbing and heating piping, and ventilation, above basement; repair of old ell, and rebuilding and rehabilitation of the exterior finish in part. All the exterior walls and the roof have been completely insulated, new water, gas and electric service brought to the building; and the interior gas piping and wiring installed above the basement. The contracts now under way will complete the exterior finish, and make the building tight against weather. They include new sash, and glazing of same, repairs to old window frames, clapboards, cornice, gutters and conductors, porch columns, and roof of porch, etc.

The heater cannot be put in, nor the plumbing and wiring contracts completed, until the final appropriation is available, so that the interior floors, woodwork, plaster, etc., can be put into proper repair, doors rehung, hardware, fixtures, shelving, stoves, etc., installed; the hearths, rear stairway, blinds, etc., repaired or rebuilt; along with the exterior and interior painting, repairs of walks, grading, etc., and the final connection of the plumbing drainage made with the street sewer, and the lavatories, in the cellar, and the sink, etc., in the ell kitchen completed.

The $15,000 that will have been expended has accomplished what was estimated originally as costing $15,425 toward the completed work, besides some $700 or so which had to be expended for removal of old dirt and debris, watchman, etc. The work still to be done will require the full balance of the $10,000 remaining upon the house itself, and will not probably permit anything to be used for carry an entrance as was at one time proposed to carry the old and the new tablets, and be dedicated, as such. In order to take the care of the building from the city, it is also necessary to set up such a Board of Trustees, as I believe your Honor has had in mind, so that it may be leased under some such arrangement as the Old State House, so that an historical association may take over the structure, complete its furnishing and look after its care and preservation, without additional expense to the city. This also should be done at once.

Awaiting your wishes and instructions in the matter, I remain,

Yours very truly,
FRANK CHOUTEAU BROWN.

Ordered, That under the provisions of chapter 291, Acts of 1930, the sum of $10,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated, to be expended under the Department of School Buildings, for the Dillaway House, Relocation and Restoration of, and the amount so appropriated be raised by taxation on the polls and estates in the City of Boston.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

CORPORATION COUNSEL'S OPINION IN RE REWARD.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 20, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I beg to forward herewith opinion submitted by the Corporation Counsel, same constituting a reply to the order adopted by your honorable body under date of March 13. The Corporation Counsel in substance states that until such time as evidence has been produced that a felony has been committed within the confines of the City of Boston, neither the Mayor nor the city government has legal right to offer a reward.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Law Department, March 17, 1933.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—You have asked to be advised whether you have the legal right to comply with the following order of the City Council:

"Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be ordered to submit to the City Council an order offering a suitable reward for information leading to the finding of Helen Lindemann and Jean Bolduc, alive or dead, and making the necessary appropriation therefor."

I must advise your Honor that there is no legal authority which authorizes or permits you or the City Council to offer a reward as called for by the order of the City Council. The only authority for a municipality to offer a reward is that which is contained in section 10 of chapter 276 of the General Laws. This section is as follows:

"The aldermen or selectmen, if in their opinion the public good so requires, may offer a suitable reward of not more than five hundred dollars in any one case, to be paid by the town to any person who, in consequence of such offer, detects or secures a person who has committed a felony in such place, either before or after he has been charged therewith, and such reward shall be paid by the treasurer upon the warrant of the aldermen or selectmen. If more than one claimant applies for the payment of such reward, the aldermen or selectmen shall determine to whom it shall be paid, and if to more than one person, in what proportion to each, and their determination shall be final."

You will observe that in Boston the City Council, with the approval of the Mayor, may offer a reward of not more than $500 to be paid to any one who detects or secures a person who has committed a felony in the City of Boston. There is no evidence whatsoever in the present instance that a felony has been committed nor does the order of the City Council, which has been presented to you, indicate that it is proposed to offer a reward to detect a person who has committed a felony. The order of the Council requests that your Honor submit an order offering a reward for information leading to the finding of the two children. There is no authority in law to offer a reward to a person who secures information which leads to the discovery of lost persons. It may be that these children have been drowned or strayed away to some other city and if a crime was committed it may have been committed in another city or town.

I must, therefore, advise your Honor that until you have evidence that a felony was committed within the confines of the City of Boston you have no legal right to offer a reward in this case.

I refer your Honor to the opinion rendered by this department on June 18, 1930, in connection with the order of the Council offering a reward in the case of Anna Dorothy Smith, who it was alleged was kidnapped in Charlestown.

Very truly yours,
SAMUEL SILVERMAN,
Corporation Counsel.

BRIDGE FROM EAST BOSTON AIRPORT.

The following was received:

To the City Council.

P. Long of the Park Department, the same constituting a reply to order adopted by your honorable body under date of March 13, 1933, copy of which is attached.

City of Boston,
Park Department, March 17, 1933.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I am in receipt of an order from the City Council that the Park Commission be requested to construct a bridge from the East Boston Airport to World War Memorial Park.

I take pleasure in informing you that the plans for the development of the airport embody a project of this kind.

The bridge will be the continuation of the present roadway in the rear of the National Guard and the Army Hangars.

Very respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG,

EQUIPMENT OF PATHOLOGICAL BUILDING.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 20, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am advised by the trustees of the City Hospital the new Pathological Building now under construction will be completed and ready for occupancy some time during the latter part of May. The trustees estimate that to properly furnish and equip the building, an appropriation of $80,000 will be required. I submit herewith a loan order in the desired amount and respectfully recommend its adoption by your honorable body.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Hospital Department, March 10, 1933.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—The trustees have been assured that the new Pathological Building now under construction will be completed and ready for occupancy some time during the latter part of May.

The Pathological Department and Dr. Timothy Leary, medical examiner, who will occupy this building, have spent considerable time in the study of the needs for furnishing and equipping this building, and after carefully pruning down their estimates, they believe that $80,000 will be necessary for furnishing and equipping; therefore, on behalf of the trustees, I respectfully request that $80,000 be appropriated for this purpose.

Respectfully yours,
JOSEPH P. MANNING,
President, Board of Trustees.

Ordered, That the sum of $80,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated, to be expended under the direction of the trustees of the Boston City Hospital, for Pathological Building, Furnishing and Equipping, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

MEAL TICKETS TO WELFARE RECIPIENTS.

Coun. ROBERTS offered the following:

Ordered, That the Overseers of the Public Welfare be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make arrangements to issue meal tickets to welfare recipients which can be used in any restaurant in the City of Boston.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Soldiers' Relief be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make arrangements to issue meal tickets to recipients of soldiers' relief which can be used in any restaurant in the City of Boston.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I have two or three orders of a similar nature, and I would like at this time to have all such orders referred to the Executive Committee and have the chairmen of the Welfare Department and Soldiers' Relief Department called before the Committee. A number of complaints have been brought to my attention in the matter of soldiers' relief and welfare, and I find on investigation that we have people supposed to be relieved by those departments who are unable to buy the necessities of life and who are practically starving to death. Unless arrangements can be made for more satisfactory distribution of welfare and soldiers' relief aid to such individuals, we will find the whole thing a boomerang. We recently appropriated $4,000,000 to take care of those beneficiaries. Everybody agrees that our first duty is to take care of our poor. I would move, therefore, that this matter be referred to the Executive Committee and that those gentlemen be called before the committee this afternoon.

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, that is entirely agreeable to me. I understand that some of the recipients of welfare and soldiers' relief, while given their meal tickets, are told that they can only be used in certain restaurants, generally chain restaurants. It seems only fair that others running restaurants and spending thousands of dollars in this city, paying much larger taxes than the chains, certainly are entitled to recognition.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, to show how far the city has gone along helping the chain stores and ignoring the independent man, who, after all, pays the principal share of the taxes, I have here a letter placed in the envelopes sent out to the veterans by the Soldiers' Relief Department along with grocery orders, by the language of which they are led to believe, while the orders are supposed to be good in any store, that special arrangements have been made for the handling of these orders through the Economy, A. & P. and First National Stores. That is, the inference would be drawn that the orders must be taken to such stores, although they are supposed to be good in any store. So I think that is a matter that should be taken up.

The orders were referred to the Executive Committee.

WITNESSES IN SOLOMON MURDER CASE.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:

Ordered, That the Police Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make less expensive arrangements for the care of the material witnesses in the Charles Solomon murder case, who are now being maintained at the Hotel Statler.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, most of the people of the City of Boston, and I presume most of the City Councilors were quite shocked to find that material witnesses were being wined and dined at the Statler Hotel at great expense to the city. There has been but one suspect in the Solomon murder case caught so far and they are looking for five others. But I understand that the expense of taking care of these witnesses has been some thousands of dollars, taken from the taxpayers' pockets for the hotel and other bills of these witnesses who have been boarded, lodged and taken care of in a luxurious manner at the Hotel

Statler. I am not interested in any quarrel between the District Attorney and the Police Commissioner, because, after all, it matters not, if the District Attorney indicts them, whether the expense of taking care of these witnesses is borne by the Police Department or by the District Attorney's office. In either case, our citizens have to pay the bill of holding these material witnesses until such time as the other five are caught. So it makes really no difference, as far as we are concerned, whether this matter comes under the jurisdiction of the District Attorney's office or that of the Police Commissioner. The taxpayers of Boston, as I say, in either case, must pay the bills, and if the police do not move more quickly in getting the other five suspects whom they are after, for all we know we will have a bill of $25,000 to $50,000. I say that the Police Commissioner of the City of Boston has no right to squander the taxpayers' money in any such way, furnishing luxurious quarters and treatment for these five witnesses in the best suite in the Hotel Statler, giving them the very best possible food, automobile rides and everything else. I say that they can be held, if the police so desire, in some other quarters that would be less expensive and would answer the purpose just as well because, after all, these people are not used to that mode of living, and there is no particular object to be gained by quartering them at such a hotel. I hope, therefore, the Mayor and City Council will pass the order demanding that the Police Commissioner change his tactics. As a matter of fact, there is a law on the statute books that would enable these witnesses to be placed in the Charles Street Jail if he so desired, if they were material witnesses that they wanted to keep under observation. I do not believe they should be placed there, but I believe there are plenty of places in the City of Boston where those material witnesses can be held by the police at least 75 per cent cheaper than the cost to the city at the present time. I reiterate that if these witnesses are kept in the Hotel Statler until such time as the other suspects are caught, it will probably cost the county $25,000 to $50,000 for their bills at the Hotel Statler.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I agree with my colleague from Ward 8. I think it is a crime that the Police Commissioner should have allowed these material witnesses to be put up at the Hotel Statler, living on chicken and chops for six or seven weeks already, and probably going on in that way indefinitely. I would suggest to the Police Commissioner that if he cannot find cheaper quarters they might be transferred to the Wayfarers' Lodge, where each of them might cost the city 25 cents a day. I have an order here similar to Councilor Dowd's, and if there is no objection I would like to make it a joint matter.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I would be delighted to accept it.

Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That the City Auditor be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, not to approve bills for the maintenance of the witnesses to the murder of Charles Solomon, now being held under the care of the police at the Hotel Statler, until such time as cheaper quarters are provided by the Police Department for said witnesses.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, while I have no objection to material witnesses of this sort being properly taken care of, I do say that the amount of money spent for that purpose should be commensurate with the type of individual who is being held and their ordinary mode of life. They should have everything that is proper, under the circumstances and under the law, everything that they are entitled to, but certainly exorbitant prices should not be paid for keeping material witnesses. Under the law, of course, these people are being held because their being held may be of benefit to the people of Boston, assisting in the clearing up of a crime. We cannot place them in the Wayfarers' Lodge, of course, because that would be absurd. We must put them in a place where they will receive the food and shelter to which they are entitled. Certainly, however, the idea of their being placed in the Wayfarers' Lodge is out of the question. I think something should be done to cut down such expenses to a reasonable amount, not paying out thousands of dollars in any such way. They should simply receive proper treatment, at a reasonable expense.

President McGrath—If there is no objection, the orders offered by Councilors Dowd and Fish will be sent to the Executive Committee, and the City Messenger will be asked to get in touch with the Corporation Counsel's office and also with the Departments of Public Welfare and Soldiers' Relief, and have representatives from those offices present at our executive session.

The orders were referred to the Executive Committee.

AMOUNT RECEIVED BY PUBLIC WELFARE RECIPIENTS.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Overseers of the Public Welfare be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to pay the recipients of aid the same amount as they received three weeks ago.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, some three weeks ago, before the bank holidays, the budget of the recipients of aid had been cut down to such an extent that it was hardly possible for them to keep body and soul together. They were very patient, the same as the rest of us, during the banking holidays. For example, a man and woman with two or three children, who had been getting $9 a week, with grocery orders, patiently took a serious cut during the banking holidays, assuming that as soon as possible they would be put back on the previous basis. In the meantime they have received a cut of 35 or 40 per cent without protest. Now the banking holidays are over, and such a family, which had been getting $9 a week three weeks ago, is receiving only $6 today. I ask you if it is fair to ask a man and woman with two or three children, a family of four or five, to exist on $6 a week. I believe personally that the city is in bad condition, but our first duty is, of course, to the poor of Boston, and we are not even feeding them by giving them $6 a week. After all, who is going to suffer? The landlord, the man who owns the house, who pays the taxes, which in turn are used to pay the salaries of city employees, amounts for welfare, salaries of members of the City Council. Those men will not be able to pay their taxes unless sufficient is given in aid to enable these poor people to pay the landlord. They should be given at least half a living wage. I believe the members of the Council will agree with me that even with the amount paid out three weeks ago it was almost impossible for these people to feed their families properly, and today, with a cut of 35 to 40 per cent, in the amount received by every man or woman getting aid at Hawkins street, it is absolutely impossible. I say, Mr. President, that this sort of thing is unfair, and I say it is the first duty of the Welfare Department, having in mind the interest of the poor people of Boston, to restore immediately the amount that was paid three weeks ago.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I am very much interested in the remarks of the councilor from Roxbury. Numerous cases in my own district have been brought to my attention where people on the Public Welfare Department, due to shortage of cash, have been unable to exist. One very sad case was brought to my notice this week, right in my own district. It was the case of a family that did have ten children, and a husband and wife. They were placed on the Public Welfare Department. I understand the husband is the type of gentleman who is willing to work if he can find it. But through force of circumstances they were placed on the Public Welfare Department, receiving $14 per week to keep twelve of them going. That was over a year ago; to be exact, it was thirteen months ago. In that thirteen months, despite appeals made by that woman and her husband to the chief executive of this city, due, I claim, to starvation, three of those little children have been taken away by death, the last one about a week ago, a little boy seven years of age. The diagnosis on the death certificate says "Rheumatic fever"; the diagnosis on the other two little tots' death certificates say, "Pneumonia." But the real diagnosis, the real cause of the death of those three children, was either starvation, near starvation or malnutrition, because I claim that if a person is properly fed he is in a condition to fight almost any kind of disease. To have such things occur in the City of Boston or anywhere else, I say is criminal, particularly when you starve poor little ones and in the next breath give millions to grafting contractors. To have such things happen, when the Mayor of Boston at the same time is committing the crime of handing out to one of the pet contractors like Matt Cummings, $1,500,000 in three years, $300,000 in extras; allowing a thief like Matthew Cummings to steal over a million and a half dollars from the city, is an outrage, and I make this statement without fear of criticism. I say that the Mayor of the City of Boston is guilty of crime of the lowest type when he permits such a thing. Here is this one instance I have referred to, of a family in Dorchester, three of whom have been taken away in thirteen months, but the old grafters have gone right along with their large bank accounts, riding around in their big machines, while these poor people in Boston are starving to death. And then the Mayor of Boston says, "We don't need any soup kitchens in Boston." I say if we had a few more soup kitchens it would be a wonderful thing for the near starving people around Boston. Those people may not come around to see the Mayor, because he can choose the company that comes into his office. But they do come in and talk with the speaker, and I think it fair to say that it is the same with every other member of the City Council. Last night I witnessed the opening of a soup kitchen on Gleason street, Dorchester. Anybody witnessing that could not have claimed that there was no need of soup kitchens here, when you saw in line those poor, intelligent people, and saw the large numbers that had to be turned away. If you saw the situation there, you would not say again that there was no starvation or near-starvation in Boston. Some of us have contacts with people who are starving or who are near starvation in Boston, and know something about the situation, and just because we say that a person can be sent to the Public Welfare and taken care of, that is not the whole situation, Mr. President. The instance of this one family I have given shows that there are members of families near starvation or being starved in this city, that there are many families the heads of which are unemployed today, and who, in spite of the efforts of the Public Welfare Department, under instructions from his Honor the Mayor, are not receiving sufficient to buy the necessities of life. And while this sort of thing is going on in our midst we see appropriations made for antelope houses at Franklin Park and to provide places for aviators to land in East Boston, and large appropriations made for the grafting contractors. I say, let us forget the grafting, the grafting contractors, and think of the real people of the City of Boston, people who are suffering in their homes today with their families through no fault of their own. It is all right to starve grown-ups, it seems,—I don't think it is, but certain officials seem to think it is,—but I say that the cheapest thing we can do is to allow little children to starve while the pay to these grafting contractors about the city goes on, men who are robbing the city of millions. So I could not help rising and saying a word in support of the meritorious order offered by the gentleman from Ward 8 (Coun. Dowd) and expressing my views. I hope there will be a great many more philanthropic people such as those who have opened the soup kitchen on Gleason street, the opening of which I witnessed. I trust that many of them will be started by people who have something of this world's goods so that starving men, women and children may step in and get a plate of soup or a sandwich.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I ask that this order be referred to the Executive Committee. It strikes a similar note to an order offered by a councilor from another ward. I have here a letter, dated March 8, 1933, addressed to the employees of the Soldiers' Relief Department, which says, among other things:

"For the present nothing is being allowed for rent. The Boston Consolidated Gas Company and the Edison Electric Illuminating Company have agreed that persons unable to meet their bills will not have their service cut off, and the life insurance companies have also agreed not to cancel policies because of failure of the insured to pay premiums."

That is an outrageous lie, because the Boston Consolidated and the Edison Company have cut off service to at least six people who came to me this morning and complained about it. Of those six people, at least three had families with children sick at home. They had their gas and electricity cut off, notwithstanding this alleged agreement between those corporations and the City of Boston. The letter goes on, further:

"The following will be the food schedule allowed during the present crisis:

- "Man and wife, $20 a month.
- "Widow and child, $20 a month.
- "Widower and child, $20 a month.
- "Man, wife and one child, $24 a month.
- "Man, wife and two children, $30 a month.
- "Man, wife and three children, $33 a month.
- "Man, wife and four children, $36 a month.
- "Man, wife and five children, $40 a month.
- "Man, wife and six children, $44 a month."

Previous to this particular procedure being put into effect, a man and wife received $40 a month, and $10 a month for each child, making in the case of four children $80. But the maximum here now is $44. Mr. President, something must be done to cure this situation. Last week I put an order into this Council showing that 40 per cent of the beneficiaries in our Welfare Department are aliens, and that they are put on the same basis absolutely as citizens and veterans of the City of Boston. That, I claim, is an unfair and inequitable way to treat the citizens of our own city. It is up to us as City Councilors, when we see that these people are getting practically nothing to live on, to call attention to the fact. Just think of it, a man and wife and two children, receiving but $30 a month! Understand, nothing is coming in cash, nothing but grocery orders, leaving no money for rent, carfare, medicine or any other purpose whatsoever. It is about time that we took some action. So I suggest that the order offered by the councilor from Ward 8 be referred with various orders of the same nature to the Executive Committee, that the various heads of the departments concerned be called in, and that we see if some proper and equitable arrangement cannot be made for distribution of money to these people, to enable them to meet their necessities.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, it is entirely regrettable that a meritorious order such as that offered by the councilor from Ward 8 (Coun. Dowd) should be taken advantage of by any member of this body to indulge in personal animus against the Chief Executive of our city, especially in view of the fact that it has certainly been recognized throughout this country, outside of Boston, that in our city we have been able to handle this welfare matter and make distribution to the poor unfortunates in a more systematic and better way than in any other city of the country of equal size. To the everlasting credit of the Chief Executive of this city it should be said,—and this expresses my opinion, at least,—that he is handling the welfare situation and the soldiers' relief problem up to the present time in nothing but a meritorious way, and I believe that none of us should in such a delicate and difficult situation as is confronting the city at present indulge in such attacks on our Chief Executive when he is sincerely trying to gain for the poor unfortunate as well as for others proper recognition in these trying times. I am in entire accord with the order offered by the councilor from Ward 8, because, as a result of the present situation in our city, and as a result of the arrangement now being carried out by the Welfare Department, the one group of citizens which is being pressed harder than any other group today, outside, of course, of the poor unfortunates, is the real estate owner. In spite of the real estate depression, in spite of the fact that real estate at the present time is bearing between 80 and 90 per cent of the burdens of the city's finances, in spite of the fact that our landlords have suffered more during the banking holiday than any other group in the city, we must all realize that when a family previously entitled to $9 or $10 a week is now receiving but $6, receiving with the $6 a week grocery order an order for coal and other necessities, the landlord is for the time being left entirely out; and when food and coal are taken care of, or partly taken care of, in the case of the 27,000 families now receiving aid from the city, at the present time the landlord is suffering because rent is not properly provided for. We are looking for taxes to pay our bills from the landlord, and when they have no money, how can they be expected to bear the tax burden? I think the order is a proper one and should be passed immediately, because I personally have been in communication with some of the higher-ups in the Welfare Department and was informed as late as Friday last that they were devising a method by which the recipients of aid would receive a card, and on that card it will be necessary for the landlord to either sign his name or give the recipient a receipt showing that the amount of money allotted for the purpose by the department is paid to the landlord for rent. There is no reason why the landlord should be compelled to hear the burden. I personally know of one who owns an eight-apartment house in which the rents vary from $16 to $18 a month, not expensive or extensive rooms. Seven families out of the eight are recipients of welfare aid, so it can be imagined how much money that landlord has received this month from tenants of the building, despite the fact that he has a bill for taxes amounting to $700 or $800. We are obligated to protect not only the recipient of aid but the landlord who is housing him. I believe the Mayor of Boston deserves the utmost commendation and credit for his systematic arrangement of the whole plan during the last few years, providing those in need with the necessities of life, and it becomes any of us to use this particular order as a pretext to "lamhaste" and lacerate the Chief Executive of our city, who, I think it is generally recognized, has shown more zeal in seeing that this welfare work was properly carried on than has been shown by any Chief Executive in any city of the United States.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I wanted to ask Councilor Burke a question when the Chair recognized Councilor Ruby. Councilor Ruby has already covered the ground of my question. If they haven't the money, how can they pay?

Coun. BURKE—Isn't it true that within the last month we appropriated $4,000,000 for the Welfare and Soldiers' Relief Departments?

Coun. FITZGERALD—I understand that we are appropriating money in anticipation of the collection of taxes, and that in all this matter we are looking forward to getting money from the banks. If we can't get the money from the banks, what do all these orders amount to? We must assume in all this matter that we are going to raise sufficient money from the banks. Of course, if the banks do not give us the money, the city cannot go forward under these orders. I do think it would be a good idea to have all these orders referred to the Executive Committee.

President McGRATH—The Chair will refer the other orders to Executive, and then let Councilor Burke introduce his order.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I cannot let this pass without saying just a word. The Public Welfare Department will never be run properly until it is decentralized. No matter how much money is appropriated, much will be wasted. How can you ask one investigator that number are needed? For over two years I have been asking that something along that line be carried out, that Hawkins Street alone should not be maintained as the only headquarters, but that there should be branches of the work of the department in different sections of the city. But nothing along that line has been done. I would also like to remind my colleagues while we are talking about welfare matters, that for the past two or three years my opposition to the administration has been primarily based on the fact that we will not have sufficient money to handle welfare, hospitals and pay rolls in this city unless we stop the wasteful expenditures for contractors, in one direction and another. Within the last two weeks we have seen one and one half millions unnecessarily appropriated for sewers and streets. Imagine that, Mr. President, with the crying needs of this city in other directions. My ward has more bad streets than any other in the city, but streets and sewers are being waited while more important matters are being attended to. We can all put in claims for streets, of course, but the primary thing is to feed our people, to take care of them in times like these. When we are told about the difficulty of saving money, ways in which large amounts can be saved are evident, Mr. President. Why appropriate these millions for contractors, the Singarellas, Tomasellos and others, and then come in and talk about the difficulty of raising more money for welfare? We see that sort of thing week in and week out, enormous appropriations being made for this, that or the other, things that could be well postponed until later, in view of the absolute needs confronting us at the present time. We are now coming pretty close to the line, so far as raising money in this city is concerned. After the city borrows $45,000,000 in anticipation of taxes, which is the amount that the bankers are figuring on—and they are not a dull lot—for this year, watch out. There will then be no money for pay rolls; we will then have our payless weeks and months, and it will be of no use to appeal to Philip Stockton of the First National Bank or to other bankers. There will then be no money for welfare, the moment the First National Bank says "No." You can talk all you like about soup kitchens and everything else, but these things move quickly, Mr. President, and before we know it we will find that the city is unable to raise more money. And still we have been going on as if there were no end, only about three weeks ago appropriating $1,500,000 for sewers and streets,—for sewers, forsooth, under the ground, 40 per cent of the expenditure of that money at this time representing pure waste. And yet we talk as if we were going to continue to have enough money to feed our people, to take care of our hospitals and to meet our pay rolls! Mr. President, we are not going to have enough money for these purposes, and I have been trying for years to save money for our hospitals, for welfare and for our pay rolls. But we have still gone on appropriating money for things that we could very well do without for the present, with some vague sort of an idea that somehow we are going to come out of it all right. We cannot, Mr. President and colleagues. Anybody who has looked into this matter knows that we are getting in worse and worse, until it is now difficult to see the way out. Unless we awake to the realities of the situation, God help the welfare recipients and those who are on the city pay roll, because the appropriations we have been making go squarely to the grafting contractors, not men who are getting $5 a day, but $10,000, $15,000 and $20,000 a day, and we are going on here voting that money for them. The last time when such a matter was before us, I said that I was going to vote here for only three things, and I now repeat that statement—first, for welfare, second for hospitals, and third for pay rolls. If you are sincere you will also adhere to that standard, and we will then stop these grafting contractors in a year when we cannot properly feed our people.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

DISCONTINUANCE OF GROCERY ORDERS.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:
Ordered, That the Soldiers' Relief Commissioner and the chairman of the Overseers of Public Welfare be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to discontinue issuing grocery orders to persons who were receiving cash allowances prior to the bank holidays and to return to cash payments as soon as possible.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

SIDEWALK ON ASPINWALL ROAD.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Aspinwall road, Moultrie street to Lindsey street, entire length, both sides, Ward 17, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

HEALTH UNIT AT CODMAN SQUARE.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:
Ordered, That the Health Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to inform the City Council as to whether or not the sanitary conditions now prevailing at the Health Unit in the library building at Codman square meet with the standards set by his department.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

DRESSING ROOM, DORCHESTER PARK.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:
Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to immediately make available for a dressing room in connection with Dorchester Park, the building formerly used as a convalescent home by the Hospital Department.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

FIVE-CENT FARES IN DORCHESTER.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:
Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway Company be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to inaugurate a system of five-cent fares on all lines in Dorchester where the passengers do not enter subways or tunnels.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RESURFACING WARD 17 STREETS.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface the following streets in Ward 17:

Aspinwall road, Moultrie street, Lindsey street.
Passed under suspension of the rule.

REPRESENTATIVES OF CIVIC BODIES AT BUDGET HEARINGS.

Coun. HEIN offered the following:
Ordered, That the chairman of the Committee on Appropriations consider the advisability of inviting representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, National Economy League, Municipal Research Bureau and Boston Finance Commission and Equal Tax League to be present at the committee hearings on the budget, so that the committee may have access to all possible information in its deliberations of the annual appropriation bill.

The question came on the passage of the order.
Coun. HEIN—Mr. President, the Chamber of Commerce stated, as set forth in the morning paper:

"We believe that the city, county and school budgets of the City of Boston should be reduced by $15,000,000 as compared with last year's. While it is obvious that the detail of working out these necessary economies must be determined by those in authority, it would appear that the necessary saving could be obtained by a 25 per cent cut in the amount of the total pay roll by reduction in salaries and unnecessary personnel, by eliminating unnecessary services and reducing purchases and contracts to an absolute minimum, by utmost economy in the maintenance and administration of schools and efficient operation of the Public Welfare Department. We make this suggestion for your serious consideration."

So I ask at this time that these organizations be invited in to give to the City Council the information they have, which I believe the committee will be glad to receive.

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, I might say, although not speaking for the Committee on Appropriations, that we have informally decided to notify all these organizations, as has been done in years past. They will receive an invitation to be present at the hearing, and I am sure we will welcome their assistance, and will consider any suggestions they may make.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I think there is no mystery as to the way in which the budget should be reduced. I have in the last few years suggested certain things. We have to face facts, and we have to reduce salaries. We must do it. We have 20,000 city employees. I don't want to touch any man who is getting $1,800 a year or less; I don't want to touch the laborers. But I don't want to see any man drawing over $6,000 a year this year. I say that the man who is receiving above $6,000—$7,000, $8,000, $10,000, $12,000, $15,000 or more—should not receive over $6,000 at a time like this. I believe a man drawing between $1,800 and $2,500 should be reduced by 5 per cent; from $2,500 to $3,500, 10 per cent; between $3,500 and $4,500, 15 per cent; and over $4,500, 20 per cent. What is wrong about that? Put that schedule into effect and you will immediately eliminate more than 10 per cent of the city's expenditure. Then, the Traffic Department, spending over $150,000 a year, is an unnecessary department; the Purchasing Department, that buys tires today for the City of Boston by the hundreds, paying more than you as an individual would have to pay for a single tire, should be eliminated. Eliminate your contractors, with their graft and corruption. I challenge you in Cincinnati, in its palmy days of corruption, in Chicago, in the old days in San Francisco, with the looting of the treasury, to show anything comparable with the situation that today exists in the City of Boston, where $200,000 is spent for a brand new police boat that cannot run and will not run, where a yacht engine is put into a police boat and where we have a white elephant on our hands that we cannot get rid of—a boat named after the greatest Police Commissioner that Boston ever had, Stephen O'Meara, a man of discretion and ability, who performed a great public service, setting a standard for all police commissioners of Boston since. Mr. President, the naming of that boat after Stephen O'Meara is in itself a disgrace. The organizations that make this request, Mr. President, that there be a drastic cut in our budget, are correct. The budget can be reduced. I will put in recommendations here as an individual showing that it can be reduced. If I had charge of the situation as Mayor I would guarantee a reduction in taxes of 10, 15 or 20 per cent. There should be reductions all along the line. Rents must be reduced, and are being reduced all over this city. Cooperative banks have to write off losses. People cannot pay the rents that are asked in Boston today. They are confiscatory, much too high. Interest rates will have to come down. We are entering upon a new financial era, Mr. President, in which there must be writing down all along the line, in cooperative mortgage rates, and bank interest rates generally. One of the first things we should do here is to reduce the budget by 15 or 20 per cent. We have to do it, and we can do it by eliminating departments that are unnecessary—such as the Traffic Department, the Purchasing Department, other departments that will readily come to mind. Here we have in this city hungry children and people, and instead of going at this matter as we should we are turning money over to Mohawk Packers and to favored contractors—and then we hear the cry for millions in the name of holy charity. We need money for welfare, we need it for the hospitals, we need it for the pay rolls; and still, only a few weeks ago we came in here and appropriated a million and a half for streets and sewers. We can reduce the budget, Mr. President, and this is the time to do it. We can reduce the appropriations, but let us go at it in the right way this year. Let us consider only those things having to do with the pay rolls, hospitals and welfare, and if we do that we can write off 15 or 20 per cent. That will be the first step towards reducing the tax rate in Boston, and we can do it without reducing the salaries of low-paid city employees. If the sort of thing we have been seeing here continues, we are going to have city employees discharged by the wholesale. They have been discharged by the hundreds and thousands in Philadelphia, Chicago, Detroit and Frisco. The first sweep of the wind came out there. But let us take warning. We must be careful here to first provide the money to pay our employees. Rather than discharge them, let us place them on a five-day week or a four-day week, if necessary. Imagine people who have been working for thirty-five years or more for the city getting notice that they are laid off indefinitely. Is that fair? When we have printing to do, why not have it done in our own printing establishment, instead of going out and giving it to favored private concerns by officials who are simply playing politics with the concerns receiving the work? The request that has been made here is a fair request. Personally, I feel that all these organizations referred to will be glad to be to the proposition to reduce the budget is fallacious. We are told that it cannot be reduced. We all know how it can be reduced, and now let us show a little courage and reduce it.

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, I would remind the Council that last year representatives from different organizations were invited to come here, but did not do so, although they afterwards criticized what was done. I was surprised that advantage was not taken of the invitation last year. I trust in this year of emergency some of them will be here to make some helpful suggestions.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, it is to be very greatly regretted that a member of this City Council should stand on the floor and advocate the slashing of salaries of city employees. I can agree with him in some respects. It is not common sense, however, it is not an intelligent statement he makes here, when he says that the budget can be cut 15 or 20 per cent, because, bear in mind, that this Council only votes on the budget submitted by the Mayor, and bear in mind also the fact that the Mayor of Boston has control over only about 44 per cent of the money spent by the City of Boston. I will agree with him that certain salaries should be cut, but I disagree with him when he says that men getting $2,000 or $2,500 should be cut. Let us take the Police Department, for example,—some of them today are getting only $28 a week, and the maximum paid is $2,100 a year. Our Police and Fire Departments have been underpaid for years. I say to you, if you cut the Police Force at the present time, having in mind the small pay they are getting, you are tempting the men in the Police Department to become burglars, and rightly so, because they are not getting enough now. They should have been getting at least 25 per cent more for the past ten years. You say, cut the men getting over $1,800 a year. I disagree with you. I say, cut those getting $3,000 or over. Those men will not feel it. But we should not start in with that sort of thing in the Boston City Council. We should be the last ones to say cut the salaries of any individuals. The members of the Chamber of Commerce and of the Economy League, the members of all the economy organizations, have plenty to eat and are living in palatial residences with servants, in the main outside of Boston. Seventy per cent of the city employees and more than 75 per cent of the people of Boston at the present time hardly know where the next meal is coming from. So I say, don't interfere with those getting low salaries or wages, people with families they have to take care of, and who are already too hard pushed. They have sufficient burdens placed upon them at the present time, and they should not be added to. If we had the power to go into the School Department where they spend millions and millions over which the Mayor has no control whatever, that would be one thing. The City of Boston is spending about $70,000,000, of which the Mayor probably has control of but about $35,000,000, and still these reform and economy organizations place the burden on the shoulders of the Mayor of this city. If you want to invite them in, all right, but they have been invited before and have not come, although they have indulged in criticism afterwards. Do they cut themselves, however? Oh, no. I agree partly with Councilor Norton in what he says to the effect that a great deal can be saved by cutting the budget in certain directions. I agree that much can be saved from the amounts now being given to pet contractors. I say, too, let us cut not only the contractors but the Supply Department to the bone. But I will never allow myself, whether it means my political success or defeat, to vote for the reduction of salaries of men and women getting not over $3,000 a year at the present time. I will not allow myself to vote to reduce the salaries in the Police Department, the Fire Department, or the wages paid to the laboring men and women working for the City of Boston; and it is to be regretted, Mr. President and members of the Council, that such a suggestion should come from one of the members of our own body. After all, we are all working men. We know what it is to want for a dollar, and we know that in the days of prosperity the city employees were not getting the wages that those outside were getting. When you talk about cutting the wages of city employees 10, 15 or 20 per cent, just remember what men outside were getting a few years ago, from Portland, Maine, to Washington, at a time when our own employees were very much underpaid, and that the employees of the city never participated in the prosperity of that time. And so I say to the members of the Council, don't let these reform organizations drive us into a corner and make us attempt to cut salaries. Let us stand on our own feet. Have any of these organizations ever gone out to any of your wards at election time and given a helping hand? Have they assisted in electing any of us to public office? In justice to the men and women whose hearts beat the same as ours, I say we should stand firm and should not allow these reform organizations to influence us to cut the salaries of individuals who have for years been receiving less than they should receive, employees now getting under $3,000 a year.

Coun. GREEN—Mr. President, I would feel that I was a coward here this afternoon if I did not stand on my feet and subscribe to every statement the councilor from Roxbury (Coun. Dowd) has so well made. I am sorry to take issue with the councilor from Hyde Park, but I do not intend, as a representative of Charlestown, to follow the recommendations of any bank president. I was elected by the people of Charlestown to use my own God-given judgment on matters of this kind, and I would never stand on the floor of this Council and vote for a reduction in the personnel of a city department. I do not intend by my vote to add 2,000 more families to our bread line. We know, if we accept the statements of our great President as a result of looking into the records of some of these bank presidents, that there will not be enough penitentiaries to hold all of them if they are to be given their just deserts. They are responsible for many of the conditions not in Boston alone but all over the country. It is all right for them to investigate Mayor Curley of Boston or Mayor Murphy of Somerville, and other mayors of our great cities, and blame them for the big increase in the tax rate. But their statements are not true. The condition that this country is in at the present time is due to the Stocktons and the like. Let us stand on our feet and be counted this afternoon. Let us go on record as against any reductions in city departments. There are red-blooded men in this body. We are not thinking of what is going to happen in September or October. I would rather go down to defeat than ask for the indorsement of any of these long-haired men and short-haired women. So let us stand up here and be counted, Mr. President. There are thousands of men and their families with their lives at stake if we accept the recommendations of these men and in conclusion let me say that the whole present situation in this country is one that can be laid at the door of some of the bank presidents.

Coun. HEIN—Mr. President, my main object in introducing the order is that last year while these organizations were then asked to sit in with the Appropriations Committee, I believe only one of the group invited was present for a part of the time. After the budget had been passed, however, they criticized the City Council because they did not reduce it. The councilor from Ward 18 (Coun. Norton) says he knows where $15,000,000 can be slashed from the municipal budget. From what departments is that amount to be slashed? As we have been told by one of our colleagues, the Mayor has control over only about 44 per cent of the total budget. The councilor may know, but certainly the other members apparently do not. That is why I am requesting these people to be invited to come in and tell us where this 25 per cent of the budget is to be cut. There are police officers on the pay roll of the department today receiving the large amount of $22 a week. Do you want to reduce them 25 per cent? There are employees on the Public Works Department, handling the pick and shovels, getting $22 a week. Do you want to cut them 25 per cent? If so, they would be no better off in six days with the Public Works Department than with three days with Public Welfare.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I am glad this subject came up, because I am already recorded upon it. But I would like to say just a few words at this time. The same order was presented last year, and the same statements were then made in certain quarters with regard to possible cuts in the salaries of the city employees from certain quarters. At that time I was president of the Federal Employees Union, and I had occasion to look a good deal into this question of governmental salaries. Mr. President, I am not in favor of any cuts in salaries until other reductions, much more potent and more important, are made. Certain facts have already come to my attention, as the result of the work of the National Economy League, the Chamber of Commerce and other persons now promulgating this statement which has appeared in the papers this morning advocating a 25 per cent reduction in the salaries of city employees. Those organizations by the efforts they have already made have placed upon the City of Boston the burden of expending $500,000 additional in the way of expenditures that should be cared for by the Federal Government. They have succeeded in removing that expenditure from the Federal Government, and the burden is now to be placed upon our cities and towns, being shifted from the Federal Government. In the case of every man whose disability allowance and compensation has been cut from the Federal Government appropriation, the money thus taken from the Federal Government expenditure will be simply added to the expenditure of the City of Boston and other municipalities, shifting the burden from the Federal Government, where it belongs, to the taxpayers in our own particular localities, and this will probably mean an added expenditure in the case of the City of Boston of $500,000 a year. Only recently legislation was asked in Congress to refuse to give veterans hospitalization in local hospitals at the expense of the Federal Government, and if that legislation goes through it will be necessary to appropriate certainly $300,000 or $400,000 more in the City of Boston to carry on that work, which the City of Boston will have to carry on. We will have to assume the responsibility of supporting the veterans. Therefore, along that line the Chamber of Commerce and the National Economy League are costing the City of Boston $500,000 a year in addition to what they would otherwise have had to pay, if their program is successful. And so, Mr. President, we must be cautious in these matters. Remember that in 1914 these same city employees did not participate in the increased wages that were paid to outsiders, that ever since that time as compared with outside enterprises they have been underpaid; and it is now proposed to take from them wages and conditions that have been built up over a period of fifty to seventy years, depriving them of the merely decent standard wage to which they are entitled. During the war people in every other craft, outside of government service, received high wages, but Federal, state, county and city employees continued to receive the amount they were receiving before the war started. I am glad to argue this question on the same floor with the gentleman from Ward 18 (Coun. Norton). I will agree that we have to economize. I agree that the amounts paid to contractors should be curtailed. I will agree that the Supply Department should be forced to receive competitive bids for different commodities, getting the benefit of market prices, and I will agree that certain departments should be amalgamated or consolidated, and that others should be taken from the nice suites they occupy in outlying sections and brought to City Hall. I will agree that various other economical gestures should be made by department heads and that a great deal of money could be saved thereby to the taxpayers of Boston. But I cannot agree with some of the programs that have been advocated by the Chamber of Commerce and by the National Economy League. What do our Federal Government income taxes show? That there were 4,070,000 people who filed income tax returns during 1929, and that 99 per cent of that group, or 3,000,000 and some odd people, paid to the Federal Government about $6,000,000 of income taxes, based on an average income of $4,000 a year, while the other 1 per cent paid $906,000,000, based on an average income of $150,000. That is why the bankers want to take this burden from the Federal Government and put it on our local taxpayers. But you know as well as I do that the taxpayers of the City of Boston cannot stand any further burden. We have already seen how the efforts of these organizations in reducing expenditures of the Federal Government are simply throwing those expenditures onto our local communities. I believe there should be no further reduction of amounts paid to city employees, except those getting exorbitant salaries and not earning what they get. There are no doubt certain departments that can be cut to the bone in other ways, and there are places where reductions may very properly be made, and large reductions, but that reduction should certainly not take the line that has been suggested here. Let us not have a wholesale reduction in the salaries and wages of our city employees.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I do not represent the bankers. I do not represent any organizations in Boston, and I certainly will not be snowed under by any oratory that seeks to picture me as a kind of person whom I am not. I claim to be the friend of the city employees. The colleague from Roxbury (Coun. Dowd) stated that it was to be regretted that such a statement as I have made should come from a member of this body. What should be regretted? What have I said that should be regretted? There are about 20,000 city employees, to whom certain members of the Council would like to be placed in the position of saying, "I am your friend." Who is their friend? I claim that I am their best friend. I am told that I am not, that Norton is a pay cutter, that Norton and pay cutters are synonymous. Is Norton a pay cutter? What do I suggest? I simply suggest that employees getting from $1,800 a year up to $2,500 be cut 5 per cent, and that the 5 per cent cut be turned over to the Welfare Department. Is that too much? Isn't the man who is getting between $6 and $7 a day willing to give from $90 to $125 a year to the Welfare Department? Does that make me a pay cutter? Who is the bluffer here, Mr. President? A man getting $6.50 to $7 a day should be willing to give from $90 to $125 a year for the good of the community, in these times. Do you realize how lucky a man who has a job is today? Do we consider that? No, but we are told that this is a terrible thing, that what Norton says is an undemocratic thing. That is what we are told by people refusing to look at facts facing our people and our city, facing the predicament where we will soon be told, "We will give you no more money." Policemen and firemen under my schedule would give 25 per cent less than they are now giving. And I want the man who is getting $4,000, $5,000, $6,000, to give more proportionately. Why shouldn't he? And I want those getting over $6,000 and up to $20,000 to be reduced this year to $6,000. It seems to me that what I have suggested is simple and logical enough,—but, no, we have a burst of oratory here. I am against pay cuts. I don't touch a man getting $6 a day. I start only between $6.50 and $7, and we ask the man getting $2,500 a year to be reduced only $125. Is that too much? Is Norton a pay cutter? Is he against the workman? I am trying to protect the city employee, because there will be no pay rolls unless we face the issue. Even if we face it, we may come up against the same proposition next August. Is it too much to ask a man getting $3,500 to $4,500 a year to have the amount reduced 10 per cent? Is that too much? Under my schedule we only start in with the man getting $1,800. Now, is it not fair and reasonable that a man getting $6.50 to $7 a day from the City of Boston should be willing to pay at most $125 a year? I am fighting for the low-paid man. Unless something is done they will all be held up right and left downstairs in the treasurer's office. And is it fair that the man getting $10,000 a year should only be reduced at the same rate as the men getting less? Who is unfair? And, for the purposes of the record, I would like to ask why anybody should say that Norton is a pay cutter? I am simply endeavoring to see that we are not placed in a position within a few months where we will be in the same category as other cities where employees have received no wages whatever for months. I am the friend of the city employee, and I want to have him protected. I come from working people, and I represent a working section, where more homes have been sold because of people being out of work and being unable to pay their taxes than in any other four wards together. Ward 18 has more city employees than any other ward, and the people of the ward have had 1,400 pieces of property put on the block because people are out of work and have been unable to pay their taxes. I want to relieve that burden. I want to help these men, and when I am trying to help them I am called a pay cutter. I am called everything because I have the temerity to suggest that if something is not done a far worse situation awaits city employees. However, if I am to be written up in the press as a pay cutter, I am willing to take it. Wait until spring rolls around, and see what the situation will be. I have more city employees than any other two wards put together, over 1,150 of them. When you take each one of those and add two or three of their family and friends, you can see that it would mean political oblivion for any candidate who was not working in their interest. But I am their friend, and I want to hold the pay roll through the year. I don't want to see happening here what has happened in Detroit, Cincinnati, Chicago, and even in New York of late, as well as in places in suburban Boston.

Coun. GREEN—Mr. President, I would like to ask the councilor a question—whether he thinks it is fair for the banks of Boston to demand 6 per cent for loans made to the city as against 2½ per cent for loans made to the State of Massachusetts? We could start saving money right there.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, while the question is not germane to the matter before us, still I will be glad to answer it. The United States, the greatest government in the world, is being faced with the necessity at the present time of paying a high rate of interest on bonds that it proposes to issue. Now, I am not here arguing for the bankers. My interest does not lie at all with the banks. I am here for the worker and the home owner. I am not a banker, and I have no interest in banks. I am not here representing them, I am not here representing the Good Government Association, the Real Estate Exchange or the Municipal Research Bureau. If it happens that their ideas coalesce with mine along certain channels, splendid, but I am not here representing them. I am here charged with the greatest responsibility that a human being can be charged with, representing that section out there,—Roslindale, Hyde Park, Clarendon Hills, Mount Hope, a part of the Dorchester area, with its home owners and rent payers, and with more city employees than any other two wards put together. I don't represent the bankers, and I challenge anybody in the body to attack me directly or indirectly along any such line. Do I think it is fair for the bankers to charge 6 per cent? I certainly do not. I stated a short while ago that there must be a lowering of interest rates. The chairman of the Board of the Guaranty Trust Company of New York recently reported that all the banks must write down interest rates. Every study that has been made shows that interest rates must be reduced, and that it is evidently the economic tendency at the present time. The whole trend of economics is along that line. So I do not believe that 6 per cent is a fair interest rate. I think it is an unfair rate. I repeat that I am not representing the bankers, and we all have in mind, so far as the bankers are concerned, the courageous utterance made by the President of the United States in his inaugural. If anybody has been guilty of highway robbery—and I use that word advisedly—it has been representatives of some of the banks, as has been brought out recently. Nothing has been more significant than testimony that has come before a Senate committee of the United States in connection with Charles E. Mitchell, the Chelsea, Massachusetts, boy, who became the head of the greatest bank in America, representing the Morgan interests. We all know the testimony that was brought out before Peter Norbeck's committee of the United States Senate two weeks ago, furnishing most illuminating information as to the manner in which the people were looted. So I do not favor 6 per cent, no, and I am not here representing the banking element. I would like to see rates of interest go down, and I would also like to see taxes put down. We can do it. We are the highest taxed city in North America containing half a million or more people. We have more fire stations in our forty-seven square miles of Boston than can be found in any like area in the world. We have more police stations in that same area than can be found in any similar area in the world. Police can reach any house in Boston from half a dozen stations in ten minutes. You know that is so. We spent $100,000 on a big police station in Hyde Park, at Cleary square. What we really need is a radio-equipped police department, Mr. President, and not so many stations scattered all over town. With proper radio equipment and with many fewer stations, the whole police service could be much better taken care of, and the city would save by the closing of these excess stations hundreds of thousands of dollars. It is the same also with the Fire Department. I am only pointing out a few of the high lights in this matter of reducing the number of fire stations and police stations. The unfortunate thing is that we might get the benefits of the radio system so easily in Boston, and still we are unable to get the Police Commissioner to look at it in that way. Suppose something is happening in or near your home. You simply call up and in a minute and a half on the average the police will be there or the Fire Department will be there. Something may come up at two or three o'clock in the morning. You may see something going on outside of your house that you don't like the looks of. Something may be happening that requires the attention of the police. You simply call up, and with a proper radio system the police will be right there. That is the testimony of Commissioner Mulrooney, the head of the New York police department, who thinks it the most wonderful development in policing any city. You see a crime committed or a fellow loafing around your premises, and the telephone brings the police in a hurry. Police officers are on the ground in one or two minutes, and crimes are prevented or the perpetrators are immediately apprehended. If we had police radio, it would not only mean substantial reductions in other expenses in the department, it would not only mean a tremendous saving, but would also mean that the finest possible protection was given to people in these trying times. And, as I say, by the closing of unnecessary police stations, we would save several hundred thousand dollars a year. The proposed abolition of the Purchasing Department we have already discussed. As for the Welfare Department, its service to the community could be immensely improved. There are, as I have said, far too few investigators. In place of the sixty-five they have, there should be 500, and the department should be decentralized, so as to be more efficient in handling the needs of the people. I have simply indicated a few of the ways in which we could make immense savings, and I contend that my suggestion in the matter of pay cuts is more equitable as far as policemen, firemen, and other of the lower paid employees of the city are concerned, than the system under which they are now contributing. Under the present system the highest salaried man contributes no larger percentage than the little fellow. My suggestion is that we do not begin reducing until we get up to about the $6.50 to $7 a day man. I respectfully suggest that that is equitable and fair and that above that amount the pay cuts should be proportionately larger, and that there should be no salaries for the present above $6,000 a year. By carrying out a few such suggestions it will be possible to greatly reduce the budget. Points have been raised here that have no real bearing on this question. We must face facts. The fight is on now. This budget is coming in during the next few weeks. Are we going to deal with the contractors or with the rent payers and taxpayers?

President McGRATH—The Chair will state that there are waiting in the lobby representatives of the Law Department, the Welfare Department and the Soldiers' Relief Department, whom we have requested to come before us in committee. I would suggest, therefore, that, under the circumstances, the remarks of the members be as brief as possible.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, personally I feel that the officials representing the Soldiers' Relief Department and the Public Welfare Department are getting well paid and that they can afford to wait to come before us in executive session. It simply means that representatives of the Soldiers' Relief Department come down here from upstairs and of the Welfare Department from downstairs, and it does not harm them in the least to wait a little, particularly when we are discussing an important matter of this kind. Personally, so far as I am concerned, they can wait until seven or eight o'clock tonight, until we get through our important business.

President McGRATH—The Chair will state that there may be somebody who will suffer a loss through their absence from their offices, and that the Council should not be selfish in the matter.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, the Council is not selfish, but there are matters here involving millions and millions of dollars. The question arises, how money can be saved. I am not one who wishes to touch city employees' salaries. They are the last things that should be cut in this city. But I do say that there are many millions of dollars that can be saved to the taxpayers of the City of Boston if they will only cut out graft and waste in municipal projects. Let us see. The City of Boston spends approximately $100,000 a year for the rental and upkeep of four different departments of this city alone, namely, the Finance Commission, the Transit Department, the Law Department and the Schoolhouse Buildings Department. The Law Department, at 11 Beacon street, is presided over by a gentleman to whom the Mayor gave a $1,000 increase less than three years ago and who now receives $10,000 a year, as much as the Governor of this Commonwealth, and he is not a big enough man to advise a little sick dog that might be on some of the thoroughfares of Boston. $10,000 he receives from the taxpayers of the City of Boston. You ask, where can we economize? Well, take the Coleman Brothers contract in the Dorchester district. They are receiving this year $232,000 of the taxpayers' money for the collection of ashes in the Dorchester district, $30,000 more than in the year 1932. Why is it, Mr. President and members of the Council? Why is it that these men who are on public welfare and who are willing to work cannot be sent out with these teams a few days in the week to collect ashes and save a quarter of a million dollars on that one thing alone? Why can't the same thing be done in the West Roxbury district, the Hyde Park district, the East Boston district, where that sort of thing is let out on contract? If the Mayor was sincere, it would be done. Why should the $1,500,000 that we appropriated within a few weeks for sewer and street construction not be done by day labor furnished by the Public Welfare Department, instead of having these poor fellows chase a little dirt on the street with a big broom? Why is it, Mr. President, that the Mayor of Boston stands for such enormous rates of interest as are put upon us by the chief of the First National Bank, which controls the banking situation in this city? Why is it? Because the Mayor is their friend, because Stockton, Curley and Dolan are one and the same individual. That is why the city has to pay these enormous rates of interest to the First National Bank, while other cities and towns are paying smaller rates of interest. Let us cut out buying any more land and paying enormous profits to the brother of the Mayor of Boston, John Curley, and to other real estate dabblers. Oh, I could go on here indefinitely, but, for fear that some individual may be suffering through our keeping the officials of the Welfare Department and the Soldiers' Relief Department in the outer chamber, I am going to curtail my remarks. But when the budget comes in here this year, we ought to start pruning, cutting it down, and when I say pruning, I mean, let us leave city employees alone and get after these grafting thieves who are personal friends of the Mayor of Boston.

President McGRATH—The matter will be referred to the Executive Committee.

RECESS.

The Council voted at 3.53 p. m., on motion of Coun. BARKER, to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled in the Council Chamber and were called to order by President McGRATH at 5.51 p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. GALLAGHER, for the Executive Committee, submitted reports, as follows:

Report accepted; said permit granted on usual conditions.

5. Report on order (referred today) that City Auditor be requested not to approve bills for maintenance of Solomon murder witnesses at Hotel Statler—recommending that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed.

6. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred February 13) to reduce rent of Boston Fruit and Produce Exchange—recommending that same ought to pass.

The report was accepted and the question came on the passage of the order.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I would like a ruling as to how many votes are required in order to reduce the amount paid under the lease during the remainder of the term.

President McGRATH—The Chair will rule that a majority of those present and voting can modify the lease.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, due to the fact that this is an interest in land, doesn't it require a two-thirds vote,—15 votes?

President McGRATH—I am informed that the section of the charter referred to applies to sales of land.

Coun. KELLY—Then, Mr. President, taking the report of the committee, which says that this particular concern which now has the lease, for the remaining three years of the lease should have the amount cut from $13,350 per year to $10,000 per year, making it practically an amount of $10,000 per year for the coming three years, with corresponding loss to the taxpayers of Boston, I wish to record myself as opposed, not because I do not believe certain things that the proponents of the reduction advance to our Executive Committee, but because the City of Boston in all its leases with outside concerns—such as the Finance Commission quarters across the street, the Transit Commission lease, the lease of the Law Department, the lease of the School House Commission—is expected to stand by its agreements with these parties, who have not seen fit to cut these leases, which amount to close to $50,000 per year, which has to be paid by the citizens of Boston. This concern now under consideration has tied itself up in a lease, and I do not believe it is the duty of the councilors to go behind the lease,—which was drawn up, we are willing to admit, when times were better,—and reduce the amount agreed upon to be paid under the lease. If the matter were now up again, if the lease had expired, I would seriously consider cutting the amount that would be expected under a new lease; but, due to the fact that the lease still has three years to run, that their rentals down there are sufficient to take care of the amount paid the city, and due to the fact that outside concerns have never cut leases the city has had with them for the benefit of the taxpayers, I cannot myself, wishing to be consistent and logical, vote in any other way than for the interest of the city, which I believe is to retain the present lease in full effect.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, here are members of the Boston Fruit and Produce Exchange coming before us, showing us their books and telling us things that we all know—that conditions are terrible and that the amounts to be paid under the lease they signed years ago should be reduced. The Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston has recommended to this body reduction of the amount to be paid under the lease from $13,350 to $10,000 a year. An agreement was made with the Fruit and Produce Exchange by the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston, that if the Exchange would pay a year's rental of $13,000 odd the Corporation Counsel would recommend to this body reduction in the amount paid under the lease from $13,350 to $10,000 per year for the next three years the lease has to run. That being so, I believe the body should vote to reduce the rent. Rents everywhere have been reduced, and probably will continue to be reduced. All over the city that has been happening. Two years ago, in that very same building, we reduced the rents for the lower floor 35 per cent, because of conditions with which the tenants had to contend, through competition of the chain stores and the setting up of markets in different sections. Prices are still going down. That is the story everywhere in private business and in private transactions, and the City of Boston should and must recognize it. These are reputable people, Mr. President, who may have to give up the lease and vacate the premises entirely. If so, what can we do with the property? I believe we should grant to the Boston Fruit and Produce Exchange the proposed reduction from $13,350 to $10,000 a year for the next three years.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, just because I agree with the councilor from Ward 15 (Coun. Norton) that we have been shown the figures of income and expense, is the main reason why I shall vote not to cut the amount of rental under this lease. We were shown actual figures, not obtained by us but furnished by an official of the corporation, that the income of late has been $39,000 and the expenses about $42,000. Now, you must bear in mind that they have been getting that income with only 75 per cent of the space leased from the City of Boston occupied, and also that there have been various officials of the corporation and other persons drawing high salaries, people who did not have to give their entire time to the concern. We were further informed that this year they had done away with a $5,000 man and had reduced the salary of a $4,000 man to $2,000. So, on their own figures, by the process of reduction in salaries, they have reduced the amount paid to their personnel $7,000. Had they done that a year ago their expenses would have been $35,000 and their income $39,000, with only 75 per cent of the allocated space rented. They have not done that before, so they have been losing money. The situation, therefore, is vitally different from what it was in 1930, when we renewed other market leases on a lower basis than that which had previously prevailed. At that time a concern came to us that had performed its obligation, had carried out the conditions of its ten-year lease, and at the expiration of the lease said in effect, "We will take a rental of this place for ten years more at a certain specified figure." We agreed to that. But here we have a concern with a ten-year lease, seven years of which have expired, and with three years to go, and they say to us, "Contribute $10,000 to us so that we may continue for three years at a reduction of over $3,000 a year." So I say here, as I said in Executive Session, that if they came in with a proposition that a reduction be made for the ensuing three years and offering to take a five-year additional lease, there might be a different situation. We cannot now, however, if we are to keep going in good faith, reduce one cent to those fellows. I also cited an instance in Executive that night will be cited for the records here. A concern doing business in this city within six months bought a piece of property on Franklin street, in the very business heart of our city, at public auction, for $27,000, property that was assessed for $106,000. If the assessors had been asked to reduce the valuation of the property $80,000, of course they would have refused to do it. It would not be a fair proposition that those people who bought property on Franklin street at a bona fide price of $27,000 should get a $80,000 reduction in valuation. We cannot do that. But here is a concern that came to us in the heyday of their business, in 1924 or 1925, when things were on the bright side of the ledger, when there was no red side, and made this agreement with the city. They did not then complain, and we were satisfied, and we don't know how much money they have made on this arrangement. They did not tell us, and it was probably not our business. They do show today, however, according to their figures, that their income is $39,000 a year and their expenditures $42,000, but those figures included these unnecessary expenditures in the way of salaries and expenses. Therefore, because of those figures of their own, I shall vote "No" on the question of making the proposed reduction in their rental.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, it seems to me the Law Department has been unduly industrious in trying to cut down the amount paid under lease by one of our tenants. I think if they spent more of their time in trying to reduce the amount that is paid in leases by the City of Boston, we would benefit by it to a greater extent. My attitude, therefore, is that until they do something to reduce the amount being paid by the city under leases, I shall vote against attempting to cut any leases held by private tenants with the City of Boston. I, for one, would not be afraid that if the premises were vacated, the property would be left on our hands, because we could transfer to those premises as tenants some of our own departments. They are large enough to house almost all of the departments outside of the hall.

Coun. CURTIS—Mr. President, there is a great difference between the City of Boston paying rent on its leases and requiring tenants of its own, private concerns, to pay rent, because such private concerns can escape any rentals if they are willing to go into bankruptcy. The City of Boston cannot do that, and therefore we are at a disadvantage in some of these situations. Your committee heard statements to the effect that tenants of adjoining property and similar property in the city have all had their rents reduced. We know, as a matter of fact, that this exchange is up against it, that business is bad. In my opinion, the city will be lucky to get even the proposed reduced rent from that property. The Corporation Counsel made a bargain with this concern that if it would pay up one year's rental the city would make a reduction for the remaining three years of the lease from $13,350 to $10,000 a year. I think that is a proper thing to do. We have heard on all sides that rents, mortgage interest rates, and so forth, must come down. I believe the city is only doing the proper thing and really the best thing in its own interest in making this proposed arrangement with the Fruit and Produce Exchange, and, therefore, I intend to vote for the measure.

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, I dislike to take the position I do, voting against the order, because I believe this is a first-class concern and I do not for a moment doubt that the information they gave us concerning rentals is accurate. But there is something more we must consider. One of the reasons why the Law Department recommended the reduction in the rent is because they could not collect the rent for last year, amounting to $13,350, and the information given us by the Corporation Counsel was that he said to them, "Gentlemen, if you pay the rental for last year, which is overdue and not paid, I will urge the City Council and the Mayor's office to negotiate a new lease at a lower figure." I think the Corporation Counsel made himself clear on that. The idea was solely to collect last year's rent. In ordinary times I don't think we would consider doing business with an organization, entering into a lease, where they admitted that there was something wrong with their own financial structure. There are a lot of sub-tenants of the building, Mr. President, and no doubt, at a pinch, some arrangement can be made with them to continue on down there; and there is also a possibility of furnishing quarters for the Law Department, now at 11 Beacon street, for the Transit Department and other departments of the city now outside of City Hall. But I do feel that, with the City of Boston faced with large expenditures, it is our duty to defeat an order of this kind at this time.

Coun. POWER—Mr. President, I am going to oppose a reduction in the amount being paid to the city under this lease. The gentleman from Hyde Park (Coun. Norton) says that business is terrible. Business is terrible, Mr. President, and apparently the administration of these people's business is terrible. The annual rental for this piece of property is $13,350, and they take in sufficient under sub-lease to amount to $22,000 or $23,000. So the trouble there is not in the rental but in the administration of their own business. Why should the City of Boston, under the circumstances, reduce the amount to be paid under this lease? If they don't know how to run their business, let them get out. We are told that a $5,000 job has now gone. Well, that is the sort of thing they have been doing, the sort of expense they have been working under, for the last seven years. They have been paying for this $5,000 job that evidently was not necessary and that they have just eliminated, and I understand that a $4,000 job has now been reduced to $2,000. So you see there were possible savings there which they have only recently availed themselves of which would have enabled them to go on paying the amount under this lease and still make money. So it is evident that they could make money even under the $13,350 payment on the lease. Why should we cut them down to $10,000 a year, Mr. President? One of the officers of this so-called corporation tells us that even under these conditions there is about 25 per cent of the premises not now occupied. All right. Why cannot the City of Boston run the business itself? The Exchange could have made money and still have paid the amount due under the lease, even with a part of the premises unoccupied, if they had put into effect the savings that they are now making, if they had run their business as it should be run, and not paid out money unnecessarily. So I say that they have failed in the administration of their own corporation. They lost only $3,000 last year, with these unnecessary expenses still going on. So, Mr. President, I am going to vote against a reduction in the amount paid under this lease.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, out in my ward there was a new development, where homes were built for people during the boom period, and the people who bought that property were compelled at the time to pay, and have since suffered from the high prices then prevailing. Two-family houses were bought for $12,000 to $14,000, and at that time they were able to get $60 or $70 a month for the apartments or tenements that they did not use. Since that time, however, the valuations have gone down and the rents have gone down so that they are getting but $35 or $40, where before they got $60 or $70 a month. Most of the people have had mortgages on their homes and have been unable to keep up the payments. If we are talking about fairness, where did the fairness come to those people, who have had to suffer from this immense shrinkage in the value of their property and in the reduced amount that they get for rent, and who are still compelled to pay high interest rates on the full value of the mortgages negotiated years ago? So why should we be particularly interested in this concern, any more than in anybody else, simply because they are coming in crying baby, saying that they cannot make money—although, as has been said, they could have made money if they had put their economies into effect earlier? We know that nobody is making money at the present time, and no doubt their business is dull. But they are paying out only $13,350 to the City of Boston and are receiving $19,000 in return from sub-leases in the building. They are also giving out information in the way of maps, and so forth, and are paid so much for that information. So if they are losing money it is not through what the City of Boston is charging them. Now, mark you, Mr. President, this is an interest in land, just as much as anything concerning real property, just as much as a transfer in the Registry of Deeds. It pertains absolutely to real property, in my opinion, just as much as a transfer of land, and let me tell you that these people are asking for something that they know in their hearts they are not entitled to. Notwithstanding what has been claimed by certain members of the organization and the picture presented, making it appear as though the city was getting a good deal from these individuals, as a matter of fact it seems to me that the city is giving these individuals a great deal. It seems to me it is proposed to give them a greater advantage than anybody else is getting at the present time, any other people who find it hard to pay their bills. For that reason, and that reason only, I am going to vote against it.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, the question here is, what is right? That is the only question, what is right? And it is on that question that we disagree. This lease has three years to run at $13,350 a year. The reputable concerns that make up this company—such as Chamberlain Company, Chapin & Adams Company, Thorndike & Gerrish and others—are trying their best to keep going against the chain store monopoly, are doing their best down there in the Quincy Market.

Coun. BURKE—The chain stores buy off them.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I am glad to be informed and instructed on this matter, extraordinarily glad, but I will question that statement. The chain stores control every line of the business they are in. They go right to sea and catch their fish; they control the milk farmer, own the cows. The chain stores, according to the record of investigating committees, have complete control and monopoly; and when you say the chain stores go to these independents to buy their stuff, I say that on the record you cannot prove it, that you are wrong. Thanks for the opportunity you have given me to make this statement. Now, I am interested to know that there are people down in Quincy Market making money! It is wonderful to sit here and hear some things we have been listening to. Mr. President, these people are up against it—people who were in business down there before we were born and who have never before asked for a decrease in rent. It is certainly wonderful to hear politicians tell them how to run their business! I suggest that if they will get a copy of the City Record and carefully study it, all their troubles will evaporate in the clouds, once they listen to suggestions we make! We can tell them how to run their business! Mr. President, we don't know how to run their business. These are reputable business men, men who are fighting these great combines, and I know the troubles they are having. Nobody is making money today. These people occupy the second floor. Two years ago we granted a reduction of 35 per cent to the occupants of the first floor. Why in the name of common sense shouldn't we give like consideration to the occupants of the second floor? What objection is there to it? Oh, they are making money! Let us charge them more! Let us kill the goose that is laying the golden eggs! Soak them! The colleague speaks of a building over here that was bought for $27,000 and assessed for $106,000 or $108,000, and he asks whether the City of Boston in taxing property is going to recognize that $80,000 reduction. I answer in the affirmative, that the City of Boston is going to recognize that reduction. If that building is worth only $27,000, that fact must be recognized by every court and every tribunal in the land, if figures can be shown to prove it, and anybody asking for recognition of that extra $80,000 in value, is living in another day. The curtain has been drawn on those days, Mr. President.

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, I would like to ask the councilor a question. In light of the fact that the rent for 1932, $13,350, was not paid in installments in accordance with the provisions of the lease, and that the matter, in view of non-payments of rents, was turned over to the Law Department for collection, and in order to collect the money the Law Department had to make a promise to come before this body and ask for a reduction of rents, and in light of the fact that this proposition was made in consideration of the Exchange meeting last year's rent, does the councilor think they will be able to meet their obligation to the extent of $10,000 this year?

Coun. NORTON—I doubt whether anybody doing business in Quincy Market on the second floor area will be able to pay $10,000 this year but we are bound by the Corporation Counsel's decision. The Law Department looked into the matter and recommended this reduction. But we all know how poor business is all around, and I think we should all feel that these men are entitled to consideration. They will undoubtedly endeavor to pay the $10,000. So far as the chain stores are concerned, taking the First National Stores, for instance, they have been clever enough to get out of such quarters as they have had in the Fruit and Produce Exchange and get cheaper rent over at Fish Pier where they own their own land, catch their own fish, and hire help at $1.50 a night for ten hours' work and the poor fellows come over there and stand in line, and may not get the job at that. If you desire, I will be pleased to bring in to you, colleague, the report of the Congressional Committee on chain stores in which a number of these instances were brought out and proven. In 1928, this Boston Fruit and Produce Exchange had 900-odd members. Today it has under 300 members. What do the colleagues say to that, when they claim that the business is good? I might add that there has been a great pull away from the market district in connection with this business. The Boston & Maine has opened a fruit and produce exchange, which competes with this exchange, — a fruit and produce exchange in Charlestown. The New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad also has a Boston Fruit and Produce Exchange in South Boston, on the New Haven road. Here are two sections pulling away from this central district. Mr. President, all the evidence in this case, all the justice in this case, points to the facts that we should reduce the rent from these people to $10,000 a year, and we should be mighty glad to get that amount for the next three years.

Coun. HEIN moved the previous question, and the main question was ordered.

The order was passed, yeas 10, nays 8:

Yeas—Coun. Barker, Curtis, Dowd, Englert, Gallagher, Green, Hein, Lynch, McGrath, Norton 10.

Nays—Coun. Brackman, Burke, Donovan, Fish, Kelly, Power, Roberts, Ruby—8.

2. Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor March 13, 1933, of John J. Morris and Joseph T. Molloy, to be Weighers of Coal.

The question came on confirmation. Committee. Coun. Barker and Gallagher. Whole number of ballots 15, yeas 15, and the appointments were confirmed.

PAYMENT OF AID TO SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

Coun. NORTON, for the Committee on Soldiers' Relief, submitted report recommending passage of order for payment of aid to soldiers and sailors and their families for month of March, 1933.

Report accepted; said order passed.

REINSTATEMENT OF LEO G. COSTELLO.

Coun. GALLAGHER, for Coun. Cox, offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby approves the enactment of legislation to authorize the reinstatement of Leo G. Costello in the Police Department of Boston, provided that such legislation includes a referendum to the Mayor and City Council.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PROPOSED SUIT AGAINST POLICE COMMISSIONER.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to start immediate suit to recover from the Police Commissioner the sum already paid by the City of Boston for board and entertainment at the Hotel Statler of the witnesses in the Charles Solomon murder case.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, in view of the testimony offered by Mr. Silverman, the Corporation Counsel, at which he stated that in his opinion those material witnesses held at the Hotel Statler were being held there illegally, and in view of the auditor being ordered to stop further payments, I have introduced this order that suit be started in the matter. I have here bills from the auditor's office amounting to $1,757, which have already been paid for the entertainment and care of these witnesses, and for purposes of the record I am simply going to read a few of the items on the bill for the entertainment of these five individuals at the Hotel Statler. We find here food items, laundry items, valet services, high figures for all of these things. For example, here is a bill for food services February 1, $55.60 for five men, $11 a man, or about $4 a meal, Mr. President. Just think of it—$4 a meal for these material witnesses. If they were on Public Welfare, each individual would get only about $4 a week to live on. On February 2, food services $50.45; on February 3, $54.80; on February 4, $51, and on that same day laundry $7.27, and valet service $4.35, Mr. President. On February 5, food service $46.45, and on February 6, food service $39.75. And all the way through you find laundry, valet and drugstore items, swelling up the grand totals. Here is an item for valet service of $27—they must have had their suits pressed every day in the week! I say it is about time that that sort of thing was stopped. These hills don't lie. That is the way they go on and on, Mr. President, for these five individuals. And so I say if Police Commissioner Hultman has done wrong, as he has according to Mr. Silverman, this order calls on Mr. Silverman to bring suit immediately against the Police Commissioner to get back what we have already paid.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, it seems that the Corporation Counsel, Slippery Sam, the $10,000 a year man, has looked into this case and found out that these hills at the Statler were illegal, and these particular bills do not meet with Slippery Sam's approval. If he feels that there is fraud connected with it, and there certainly must have been, it would seem to be his duty to take action. It seems to have been quite a racket! However, I trust that the order will be passed.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, I think in all fairness to the Corporation Counsel, who came in here and disclosed the situation in regard to this matter, that he should not be characterized as he has been here today. He came here and gave us the whole story and said that, upon the request of the Mayor, they were stopping all further payments of such bills. He was not asked the question whether or not he was going to bring suit on back payment. We don't know whether he has looked into that matter or not, with a view to taking action. But I think he is at least entitled to the credit of bringing it to our attention, and I want to say that I object to the characterization given to him here today.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make a correction in the sign at the junction of E street and Broadway, Ward 6, so that it will read Peter "James" Nee square instead of Peter "Joseph" Nee square as at present.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RURAL TEACHERS' SUPERVISION.

Improving instruction in rural schools through promoting the efficiency and professional growth of teachers is the most important function of supervision in connection with the rural school movement. In the accomplishment of this purpose supervisors use different means and procedures usually designated as supervisory measures, according to the United States Office of Education. Among those found particularly successful in rural communities are: County-wide teachers' meetings, circular letters, group conferences, visitations, individual conferences, and help rendered by teachers to colleagues.

LIFE-GIVING PATRIOTISM IS LOCAL.

By civic patriotism is meant the feeling and the taking of a deep, unselfish, earnest, ever-wakeful, active interest in the affairs of one's own city or local community, regarding it as having an autonomy, a distinct personality, a name and interests of its own, and, if one pleases, endowed with a sense of personal honor and with all laudable ambitions for the promotion of the welfare of its people.

Where such civic virtues exist the local community will neither suffer from the dry-rot of public indifference and neglect nor become tainted with graft or corruption. Its life will be healthful, and, like the ocean, will be kept pure by its own ceaseless flow and movement. All life-giving patriotism is local.

Show a good municipal citizen and one will see a citizen who loves his state, and who loves his nation, and who will discharge all the duties of this triple relation. Good government in local affairs is the best assurance of good government in state and national affairs.

RECREATION, ADEQUATE AS TO KIND AND AVAILABILITY.

Although the ratio of park acreage to population has been used as the simplest measure of the extent to which cities provide areas for the recreation of their people, it is by no means an accurate basis for determining this. If most of the total acreage is in one large park, if the parks are poorly distributed, or if they do not provide various types of recreation facilities, the park system may be inefficient even though the acreage is large. The efficiently planned park and recreation system will involve balanced relationship and well-distributed location of several types of properties, namely, children's playgrounds, neighborhood playfield parks, neighborhood parks, reservations, boulevards, and parkways.

(Bureau of Labor Statistics, Publication No. 462.)

CHANGING STREET NAMES.

Alteration in the names of streets seems to be on the increase in the United States. In most cases the reasons for it are inadequate, while changes that would actually make for clearness remain unmade. The reason for change would usually seem to be general patriotism, national or local, as where the name of some prominent person is given to a street. During the war German names were largely discarded, as where Berlin avenue in St. Louis became Pershing avenue. In the height of President Wilson's popularity abroad, Wilson avenues sprang up all over the allied countries. Later, disappointment or dissatisfaction caused many of these to be changed.

A SQUARE DEAL IN ASSESSMENTS FOR TAXATION.

Many cities are finding it greatly to their advantage to have their tax valuations periodically overhauled. The first criterion of any assessment is equity. For every citizen who wants through "pull" or however else to get off easy, there are twenty, nay a hundred, who want a fair and square deal for all.

The appraisal of city real estate is a highly technical affair.

Few things are more important than the equalization of assessments. Particularly in cities that are cramped by an inflexible debt or tax limit, an honest, full value assessment may be a great boon. Without the slightest raise in the tax rate a substantially greater tax yield may be had.

PHILADELPHIA'S GROWTH.

The principal American cities are sharing Philadelphia's experience of growing faster outside than inside the official city limits. That portion of the 1930 tentative Philadelphia metropolitan area which lies outside the city limits increased 42.1 per cent in population in the last ten years. Meanwhile, Philadelphia itself grew in population 7 per cent. The increase for the entire metropolitan area, which is considerably smaller than the Philadelphia Tri-State District, was 16 per cent. The Philadelphia metropolitan area submitted for approval of the Census Bureau is regarded as of 1,141 square miles, of which the city itself comprises 128 square miles.

Typical of the growth that has been taking place just outside the city limits, Upper Darby Township, at the western gateway to Philadelphia, grew at the phenomenal rate of 421 per cent in the last decade.

In 1910, Delaware County, west of Philadelphia, and Camden County, southeast of Philadelphia, had average population densities per square mile of between 450 and 650. In 1930 the comparable average densities in these counties were between 1,100 and 1,700.

LEGAL HOLIDAYS.

As provided by the Revised Laws of Massachusetts, also by chapter 473, Acts of 1910, and chapter 104, General Acts of 1916 (ratified by the electorate on November 7, 1916), legal holidays on which the public offices shall be closed, include January 1, February 22, April 19, May 30, July 4, September (first Monday), October 12, Armistice Day (November 11), Thanksgiving Day (the last Thursday in November) and Christmas Day (December 25).

HEIGHT OF BUILDINGS NEAR AIRPORT.

After fifteen months of effort by the Aviation Department of the San Diego Chamber of Commerce, an ordinance has been adopted by the City Council of San Diego limiting the height of buildings in the area adjacent to the municipal airport, Lindbergh Field, which is 1½ miles from the center of the business district. According to Thomas F. Bomar, manager of the Chamber's Aviation Department, it was necessary to survey the vicinity of the field, make contour maps of that area, convince the property owners and the City Planning Commission of the necessity and desirability of the ordinance, and then overcome the efforts of the few objectors before the City Council.

STATE-WIDE CAMPAIGN AGAINST DIPHTHERIA BRINGS NOTABLE RESULTS.

A decrease in cases and deaths has been very marked during the five-year campaign in New York State for the extirpation of diphtheria. The campaign was the joint effort of the State Departments of Health and Education, the State Medical Society, the Welfare Division of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, and the State Committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health of the State Charities Aid Association, all banded together. They were aided by the parent-teacher associations, women's clubs, civic clubs and other social and welfare organizations.

Although the goal was not completely reached, the results are very encouraging and prove beyond a doubt that diphtheria can be controlled.

It has been estimated that at least 35 per cent of the children under five years old must be protected against diphtheria before a community is safe from an epidemic of the disease. No city over 100,000 has yet reached that percentage, although Utica with 30 per cent approaches that figure. While it is more difficult for a big city to attain a large percentage of immunizations, with a proper organization and sufficient determination this can be done.

Cities that have attained the 35 per cent standard are:

50,000 to 100,000 population: Binghampton and Niagara Falls, 38; New Rochelle, 35.

25,000 to 50,000: White Plains, 49; Kingston, 36; Poughkeepsie and Auburn, 35.

10,000 to 25,000: Middletown, 73; Ogdensburg, 65; Hornell and Port Jervis, 56; Endicott, 54; Johnson City, 53; Geneva, 49; Rockville Center, 45; Massena, 44; Ossining, 41; Mamaroneck, 40; Gloversville, 39; Glen Cove, 38; Peekskill, 37.

WATER SUPPLY FROM WELLS.

The entire water supply of Memphis is taken from wells. The wells penetrate two strata of sand, the upper stratum being 300 to 500 feet below the surface, and the lower stratum roughly 1,000 feet deeper. The upper stratum, known as the LaGrange formation, is the more important and furnishes most of the supply. It is the one commonly used in this vicinity.

The lower stratum has been developed by the city to a limited extent, because wells in it do not interfere with those in the upper stratum, and therefore wells in the respective strata can be placed in close proximity to each other, and a greater capacity obtained from a given area. The LaGrange formation underlies western Tennessee, eastern Arkansas and northern Mississippi. It outcrops in a belt roughly parallel with the Mississippi river and some 40 miles eastward therefrom. Throughout this entire region it furnishes an ample supply to many municipalities and industries. The outcrop area is such that an abundant supply is in sight, for everyone caring to use it, for many years to come. The sands and clays, which are interspersed, are supposed to be deposits formed in prehistoric times, when the entire Mississippi Valley as far north as Cairo was practically an arm of the Gulf of Mexico.

MAYOR CURLEY TERMS PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT DIVINELY INSPIRED LEADER—SAYS ALSO AMERICA MUST NOT ONLY PROVIDE ADEQUATE ARMY AND NAVY TO SAFEGUARD OUR INSTITUTIONS BUT MUST DEVELOP MERCHANT MARINE TO FULLEST—SPEAKS BEFORE MILITARY ORDER OF THE WORLD WAR IN NATIONAL DEFENSE DAY OBSERVANCE—CALLS CITIZENS TO NEW DEDICATION FOR RESTORATION OF PROSPERITY UNDER AEGIS OF PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT.

As the guest speaker during the exercises at Faneuil Hall on Thursday evening, April 6, in observance of National Defense Day, by the Military Order of the World War, Mayor Curley spoke in part as follows:

The joy that is in our hearts upon this day, set apart as National Defense Day, at the knowledge that the American Nation under the sagacious and masterly leadership of Franklin D. Roosevelt, may shortly emerge from the period of long depression in which we have been so hopelessly mired for a period of four years, is dimmed by the tragic news of the loss of the "Akron." Our grief is tempered, however, by the knowledge that every man upon that ill-fated dirigible from our own beloved Admiral Moffett to the most humble mechanic faced death unafraid and with a courage in keeping with the best traditions of America's romantic branch of National Defense, the United States Navy.

No Commonwealth in the union of states owes more to sailors and ships than Massachusetts; from the beginning her progress and prosperity was secured and safeguarded by her maritime zeal and enterprise; and some of the most heroic chapters in the history of Massachusetts and Boston were written by the Continental cruisers and national war vessels built in the Commonwealth and manned and navigated by Massachusetts mariners. From the harbor of Boston sailed the "Constitution" upon a career of glory under the gallant Stewart and today, reconditioned through the patriotic contributions of school children and others, it remains a constant reminder of splendid deeds, a silent testimony to service that made America self-reliant and safe for Democracy. Out of Boston in earlier days swarmed the privateers that kept the seas in the face of the most powerful navies of the world, and by their daring and courage harassed the commerce and curbed the pride of the young Republic's foes.

The traditions of those days of naval audacity and danger helped foster the race of seamen who carried the American flag into every port of the seven seas and made the name Boston a household word in every latitude. In every crisis of America's life the navy has been her strong right arm. The valor and heroism of her men and ships closed the harbor of the Confederacy, thwarted the activities of dangerous neutrality and throttled rebellion, while the service of our navy in the recent World War not only made safe the Atlantic sea, but brought us victory. In every hour of our American history the navy has been an honor and a glory to the Republic.

The names of those captains courageous, Barry, Porter, Stewart, Lawrence, Barron, Perry, McDonough, Farragut, Dewey and Benson glitter like stars in our national firmament. Their names and service should never be forgotten. The lesson of valor and patriotism they taught should be repeated to our children in our day. In the future as in the past the sea and our ships and men will be the pledges of our national independence, the guarantee of safety and the promoter of our prosperity. America and the world have marveled at the patience, solidarity and patriotism of the American nation during the past four years of industrial idleness and unemployment.

The conduct of the American people during the industrial crisis of the past four years is as typical of faith, fortitude and high moral courage, as was that evidenced by the crew of the "Akron" and strengthens the belief of every thoughtful man that in any crisis the citizenship of America can be relied upon to defend the institutions, under which we live and the glorious flag, that is the emblem of our land.

RADICAL DEPARTURE NEEDED.

It must be evident, however, to every man that the time has arrived for a radical departure from the policies which have been pursued by the nation in the past. Our long unguarded coast line both upon the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, provided that the heritage which we are privileged to enjoy may be preserved to posterity, demands a program of National Defense through which the rights and privileges of the people and the land itself may be preserved from foreign foes. It is essential likewise that serious thought and intelligent planning be directed not alone to the ending of the present industrial depression, but to the development of a program as well, that will safeguard America from a further recurrence.

The industrial development of the past few decades has transformed America into a nation undreamed of by its founders, industrial expansion has been accompanied by agricultural shrinkage. Until a few years ago we supplied the grain and meat products to feed the whole world. Today we have in large part surrendered our leadership in grains and meat to the Argentines, Australia, Canada and other countries. Our urban population outnumbers our rural and our industries have so multiplied their productive capacity that they can furnish the annual needs of the world by their production in a period of less than seven months. The industrial conditions present a serious social problem that must be solved, provided American is to endure.

It is clearly our duty not only to provide an army and a navy of sufficient size to safeguard American institutions and liberty but likewise to encourage the development on the broadest scale comparable with our financial resources of an American Merchant Marine which shall serve not only as an agency for the distribution of the products of American industries but which will also serve as an auxiliary to our navy in time of crisis.

In consideration of a program of National Defense we must not be unmindful of the fact that the man behind the guns is ever more important than the guns and that this is accepted is clearly proven by the courageous program of work and wages not only enunciated, but being rapidly put in operation by President Franklin D. Roosevelt. It is accepted that the most serious problem confronting the nation today is that of unemployment, through which the dole system with its threat to the self-reliance and self-respect of the American worker is becoming so generally and firmly fastened upon the people of the nation. Unemployment is the breeder of discontent, civil disorder and crime, since work and wages, constant and continuous, is necessary to the strength and stability, peace and security of the Republic. Abraham Lincoln, once said, "that a country half free and half slave could not endure," applying that aphorism to an industrial war; it is as sound and true to say that a nation whose workers are employed half the year and idle half the year, is in constant peril, living at all times under a threat of political death and civil dissolution.

We may well rejoice on this National Defense Day that under the leadership of our great President, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, supported by a courageous and patriotic Congress, we are enacting legislation for the emancipation of the unemployed of America from the tentacles of the debasing and degrading dole system and providing them once more with opportunity for the pursuit of life, liberty and happiness in conformity with constitutional guarantee.

As we love America and hope for its future, let us each and all dedicate ourselves to work wholeheartedly and unselfishly for the restoration of industrial prosperity and the emancipation of millions who have been walking in the shadow of despair and whose faith and hope is now centered in him, whom they regard as the divinely inspired leader of the American people, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"
From Boston Centennial Poem by
NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.

AMERICA MUST FACE REALITY OF COMMERCIAL SITUATION AND MEET ITS RIVALS ON EQUALITY OR LOSE IN TRADE RACE. TIME HAS COME TO DROP SENTIMENT AND THEORY AND FACE THE FACTS, MAYOR CURLEY SAYS IN "NATIONAL DEFENSE DAY" BROADCAST FROM CITY HALL STATION, ALSO TO UNDERSTAND THAT AMERICAN MERCHANT MARINE IS NATIONAL INSTRUMENTALITY FOR BUILDING UP DEFENSE.

Mayor Curley, in speaking on April 6, over Station WNAC at 2 p. m., from City Hall, on National Defense Day, said in part as follows:

April 6 has been designated by patriotic organizations in the United States as Defense Day, and it has been customary upon this day to serve a national need by a review of the history of the glorious past, a consideration of the requirements of the present, and a planning for the future. It is primarily a day dedicated to Army and Navy, and yet, with a realization that a merchant marine is imperative not only to the commercial and industrial life of the nation but as an auxiliary to national naval defense, it has been customary upon this day to devote time and thought to this all important branch of our national life.

American business is today paying into the coffers of foreign vessels more than $300,000 a year in freight revenue, which is almost twice the amount given to our own ships. While we carry but a third of our foreign trade, England carries 60 per cent of hers, 50 per cent of ours and 45 per cent of the total foreign trade of the world. The United States is today, however, carrying but 3.4 per cent of the world total. Yet England, with 46 per cent, accuses us of striving for a transportation monopoly.

When it comes to dumping tonnage, the cold facts are that we have launched less tonnage than any of the Great Powers in the last five years. Going back for ten years, we find England, France, Italy, Japan and Germany launching a total of 2,000 ships. The United States, during this period, contributed to the alleged surplus less than 100 vessels. On a parity basis, we might well have built 300. The other powers combined launched 14,000,000 gross tons. We launched a total of 840,000 tons.

United States in Fifth Place.

Figures for the last quarter of 1932 put the United States in fifth place. Great Britain, as usual, heads the list, followed by France, Germany and Japan. Lloyd's "Register," the accepted authority, and which is the most accurate agency available, reported that British and Irish yards as of December 31, 1932, had four times as much construction on the ways as did the United States of America.

Apparently, the only thing that will satisfy competing nations is our complete retirement from the sea, or to that position which we occupied prior to the World War, when we carried less than 10 per cent of our own commerce in American bottoms. It is this dangerous position which forced us into the expenditure of $3,000,000,000 for a merchant fleet to help win the war, and the major portion of that fleet has been abandoned since the close of the war.

The manufacturer who turns raw material into finished product not only needs the two great fundamentals — transportation and markets — but he has a more complex problem in America, since the activity and efficiency of industrial America have long outrun the consumptive capacity of the American domestic market. Today the manufacturer produces enough in seven months to supply his domestic market; and unless he can secure a foreign market to consume the product of his other five months he will be, as he has been, compelled to close down his plant and subject his workers to five months of idleness every year. This is a condition and not a theory, and unless our government joins hands with American industry and helps to secure a market abroad for our surpluses then the constancy of work and wages for our workers, which is essential for the peace, happiness and security of our democracy, will cease and the grim specter of unemployment, which has been with us for four years, must be faced with the danger and discontent such a condition must precipitate.

Foreign Markets Needed.

The solution of this problem and the only preventive of its creation lie in the obtainment of foreign markets for American surpluses, and these can only be secured by finding the market and the transportation to carry our surpluses to it. The only alternative lies in the legislative quackery of attempting the wasteful and expensive plan of supporting an idle industrial population, as we have been doing for four years, for half a year annually, by public purse or to put it a little more bluntly — by the dole.

The proper solution, and the only one worthy of such a government and people as ours, is by carrying our surpluses in American ships under the American flag to the foreign markets — for it is a commercial truism as old as human commerce that the ships and flags that carry a commerce control it; and as long as we permit our commerce to be carried by foreign merchant marines American goods will be carried and marketed at a loss.

Today every European and Asiatic merchant marine is heavily subsidized by its government so that it can place the goods of its nations in the foreign market at the very lowest rates, so that it can compete with and conquer at all times its rivals.

America must face the realities of the commercial situation and meet its rivals on an equality of competition and if shipping conditions are equalized the competition of quality of product will begin and in that field America can face the world.

It is time to drop sentiment and theory and face the facts. Commerce is war, a peaceful and competitive phase of war—but war. The question in its broadest sense is this: Which is the least expensive for America to maintain, a well-subsidized merchant marine that will market our productive surplus and make our workers happy and contented by work and wages all the year round, or refuse to maintain a national merchant marine and a foreign market, close down our industries for five months a year, produce an idle, discontented and unhappy people, pauperized by public doles, the prey of agitators and demagogues, a threat to our peace and security and a destroyer of confidence.

Why should we pay tribute to foreign ship owners when we can carry the harvests of American farmers in American bottoms to every foreign market? The amount of money paid out to foreign carriers is siphoned out of America for foreign uses; it amounts up enough in a year to subsidize a dozen fleets.

Why should not the money be kept at home to enrich our own land and people and furnish the life blood of American agricultural, industrial and commercial enterprise?

Only a nation of slaves pays tribute to alien conquerors, no matter under what name you hide the conqueror and disguise the tribute. Is it not time for us to drop our provincial and sectional outlook; to take on a national and an international viewpoint; to understand that an American merchant marine is a national instrumentality serving every part of America and building up our first line of national defense? Nations are destroyed in peace by lack of vision, by inability and unwillingness to assume the burdens of a great and productive country, destroyed as effectually as though destroyed by hostile fleets and armies.

Mayor Curley, in speaking over Station WNAC, at 2 p. m. on April 3, said in part as follows:

About a week ago there appeared in the columns of the Transcript a statement covering remarks made by the President of the American Institute of Finance before the Springfield Kiwanis Club with reference to the attitude of the present chief executive of Boston toward the matter of municipal expenditures. The substance of the speaker's remarks was that throughout the entire depression the "Mayor of Boston has withstood virtually every attempt to reduce municipal expenditures to their proper level." If Mr. Bancroft is as rash in the investment counsel which is distributed to the members of his institute as he was in his Springfield address, it is likely that the same subscribers will very soon have to apply for financial aid and relief to the public welfare department of the city, in which they live.

Anyone conversant with the facts knows that since 1930 I have been endeavoring to reduce municipal expenditures wherever possible. Boston was the first large city in the country to eliminate cash payments for overtime, and to substitute in their place compensatory time off. It was also the first large city to eliminate home telephones for officials, and the first to substitute the drive-yourself method of transportation for city-owned automobiles. It was among the first cities to adopt the policy of permitting vacancies to remain unfilled, or requiring new appointees to take over vacancies at a lower rate than that paid to the former incumbent. It was the first large city in the country to establish a system of voluntary pay roll contributions by employees for the relief of unemployment. These and many other economies have been instituted in the city during the past three years.

It is true, of course, that up to the present time I have withstood all demands for a reduction in the salaries and wages of municipal employees. Undoubtedly, this is the fact upon which Mr. Bancroft based his remarks. Whether the present depression can be overcome solely by the slashing of salaries is a matter of argument. The fact stands that although for over two years the country has witnessed a wholesale reduction in the earning power of its workers, conditions are worse today than they were before salary cuts were initiated, and the position that Boston today enjoys, a most enviable one among all the cities of America, may be in large measure traced to the fact that we have not cut down the purchasing power of those in the service of the city, and the expenditure by these employees of $1,000,000 each week has been a material factor in bolstering up business otherwise depressed.

NOT CURE FOR ECONOMIC ILLS.

I have been consistent throughout the depression in my contention that lowering the purchasing power of the American public will not cure our economic ills. The fact that I am now about to reduce city salaries and wages does not mean that I have abandoned this contention. Notice has been served by the banking interests of the city that unless salaries and wages are reduced, no further temporary loans will be granted, and rather than have the poor and unfortunate suffer because of the inability of the city to make relief disbursements, I have agreed to salary reductions.

Mr. Bancroft evidently believes that, notwithstanding the adoption of this measure of economy, the "day of reckoning" has arrived. Personally I do not agree with this opinion. I am afraid that the "day of reckoning" is still to arrive, and that its time of arrival will merely be hastened through the reduction of municipal employees' salaries. Up to the present time this group in our community has been the only one not to feel the grip of fear which naturally results from reduced earning power. When the reductions are finally made I am certain that the property owners and storekeepers of the city will realize that the bottom of the depression has yet to be reached. I am certain that the interests of our fair city are more apt to be injured than advanced by the type and character of the remarks attributed to Mr. Bancroft in his Springfield address.

BANK FAILURES AFFECT CITIES.

A representative of the banking interests, Mr. Carl Dennett, discussing the question of municipal credit in the Sunday edition of the press, directed attention to the fact that 700 municipalities have already defaulted, and deplored its effect upon the savings banks and life insurance companies that have funds invested in municipal bonds. He neglected, however, to inform the public of the fact that 10,000 banking institutions in the United States either failed up or closed up during the last ten-year period. In many cases funds of the municipalities were deposited in these banks and through their closing it became impossible for the owners of real estate to meet their tax obligations, so that the primary cause of municipal bankruptcy in the United States is due not so much to the lack of capacity or honesty of those in charge of the conduct of the affairs of municipalities as it is to causes beyond their control, but largely within the control of the banking institutions.

Great credit organizations have been credited in United States by the Federal authorities and huge sums, extending into billions, have been advanced to the banks to prevent an entire collapse of the banking institutions in America. The indications are that if the banks had maintained their own houses in order in the United States the municipalities would continue to function without great injury to the individual citizen and with rather scant possibility of municipal bankruptcy.

The real trouble with the Hoover Administration was that a change was effected from that of Lincoln's policy of government for the people, by the people and of the people, to that of a government of the bankers, by the bankers and for the bankers, and to the present the change has proven most disastrous to the Nation.

I am seriously concerned as to the attitude of organized wealth with reference to savings that may be effected by the municipalities as a consequence of economies in salary revisions. The leading banking institution of the city, through the office of Herbert F. Winslow of Exchange street widening fame, has filed with the Assessing Department of the City of Boston requests for abatements upon the properties of the bank valued at $12,801,100 and included in these properties is to be found the First National Bank Building which is valued at $7,000,000, the Old Colony Trust Company Building, valued at $2,720,000. The reduction in assessed valuations requested upon the properties under consideration is in excess of 25 per cent and would represent a reduction in the revenue to the city for the benefit of this one institution, provided the same were granted, in the sum of $140,000, or the equivalent of the total revenue which the city would derive from 800 homes with an average valuation of $5,000 on each home.

RAIDS ON CITY TREASURY.

You get some idea of the enormity of these raids when you realize that in this one case it would be the equivalent of what might be considered a fair-sized town in the United States; when you realize that the Boston & Maine Railroad in the last four years has secured abatements amounting to $4,000,000, the Consolidated Gas Company has secured abatements amounting to $3,000,000, or, between the two concerns the equivalent of about $245,000, or equivalent to the amount of revenue the city would derive from the taxation upon 1,600 homes valued at $5,000 each, and yet within the past week I am informed by the Assessing Department that some blanks were issued to Alexander Whiteside, a pseudo-reformer, whom I have characterized as Public Enemy of Boston No. 1 because of his raids on the city treasury, which undoubtedly he proposes to file with a view of securing tax abatements.

It would indeed be most unfortunate, aye, tragic, if the money saved for the taxpayers through salary reductions would serve no other purpose than that of enriching the mercenary group who, in a time of great depression, do not hesitate to plunge to the armpits into the city treasury despite the knowledge that by such actions they are increasing the burden already too heavy which is borne by the small home owner. A real service could be rendered by this group if they would agree not to seek to evade their just portion of the cost of government during this period of great emergency and depression. The small home owner is unable to employ counsel and experts to secure a reduction in the assessment upon his property, with the result that every abatement granted to the wealthy property owner but increased the burden of the load of taxation which the small home owner is required to bear. To endeavor to determine just or equitable or real values during a period of depression is to attempt the impossible. I recognize that there must be an adjustment in realty values.

The Assessing Department likewise recognizes the importance and the necessity for adjustment, and so we embarked on a policy covering a period of six years with a view to an average reduction in each year of $75,000,000 or a total during the six-year period of approximately 25 per cent of the total valuation assessed on real estate in the City of Boston. We have pursued that policy for the past three years in Boston and in three years more we will have reduced the valuation of property in Boston to the extent of nearly $500,000,000 and without working serious injury to any individual in the entire community. But to attempt to effect a change of this character in a single year and to have it apply only in the cases of valuable downtown property is to increase the burden, just exactly to the extent that we reduced valuations in the tax rate which must be paid by the individual home owner. In other words, if we reduce valuations 25 per cent in a single year, we must of necessity increase the tax rate by a like amount in that year.

HOW BANKS MIGHT AID.

The banking interests who are seeking reductions might well consider a moratorium on foreclosure of mortgages until such time as the present depression is at an end. They might in justice really cooperate with the city through a reduction in interest charges upon real estate mortgages from the present 6 per cent rate to a rate not in excess of 4 per cent.

They might likewise agree to supply the monies that the municipality or the Commonwealth is obliged to borrow from time to time as may be required to meet its current obligations in anticipation of payment of taxes at a rate of not more than twice as great as that which is paid by the banks in interest upon money deposited with the banks. The City of Boston will be required during the year 1933, provided the rate which the bankers apparently are determined to compel the city to pay, namely, between 5 and 6 per cent, to pay out in interest alone a sum of $700,000, as against a normal expenditure in years prior to the depression of not in excess of $225,000.

It is highly important that the banking interests put their houses in order before they suggest a course of action to municipal executives.

The only defense that has been presented in the case of banker Mitchell of the National City Bank of New York was that which appeared in the press of yesterday, presented by Mr. Dennett, which was made by him as an official of the First National Bank. He stated in substance that the only crime Mitchell had committed was that he had been found out. It is to be sincerely hoped for the good of America and for the protection of money deposited in American banks by the people of the nation that many more corrupt and crooked bankers will be found out, and there is a certainty that if the people of America will uphold President Franklin Delano Roosevelt in his endeavors to end corruption and financial failures that a large portion of the unemployed in the nation may find work in building additions to existing jails in which to house bankers who have too long escaped their just deserts.

CHANGE OF ADDITION TO CONTRACT.

DEPARTMENT OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

Permission has been given to issue an order of change making an addition in the sum of $8,211.43 to the contract of the Matthew Cummings Company for the erection and completion of the high school in the Christopher Gibson District, Washington street and Geneva avenue, Dorchester. This amount is necessary to pay for additional labor for excavating below grade in order to reach suitable bearing soil for the foundations satisfactory to the Building Commissioner.

URGES RELIEF FOR CITIES AND TOWNS OF STATE.

Upon April 6 the Mayor issued the following statement:

Congress adopted and the President approved an authorization of $300,000,000 to be distributed to the cities and towns of any state where the money might be needed, upon application of the governor of such state and approval of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

There is pending at the present time a bill recommended by President Roosevelt and which has been approved by the Senate of the United States, providing a further allotment of $500,000,000 and with no provision for repayment by cities and towns. In other words this is a direct gift. The cities and towns of the Commonwealth are in such a position at the present time that great relief would be provided in the event that the state saw fit to make application and are successful.

To the present time forty-one states have made application and it must be remembered that whether application is made or not there is no way in which the taxpayers of Massachusetts can avoid paying their proportionate share of the money that is expended by the government.

The bill reported by the Municipal Finance Committee whereby municipalities may through bond issue provide for the excess of expenditures for welfare and soldiers' relief of 1932, over 1929, would make available a substantial amount to each city and town for the reduction of the tax rate. It is imperative that some relief be furnished either directly by the state or by legislation authorizing cities and industrial towns to raise by bond issue substantial amounts in order that no further increase in tax rates in cities and towns may be caused this year, as a result of welfare and soldiers' relief aid.

SALARY REDUCTIONS SCALE ANNOUNCED BY MAYOR CURLEY.

Upon April 1 the Mayor issued the following statement:

Effective as of date of legislative authorization the following adjustment of salaries and wages of all officers and employees receiving compensation from the treasury of the City of Boston is to be made:

1. Where the rate of pay or compensation on an annual basis is less than $1,000 a reduction of 5 per cent shall be made.
2. Where the rate of pay or compensation on an annual basis is between $1,000 and $1,600, a reduction of 10 per cent shall be made, but no compensation in this group shall be reduced below $950.
3. Where the rate of pay or compensation on an annual basis is in excess of $1,600, a reduction of 15 per cent shall be made, but no compensation in this group shall be reduced below $1,440.

It is estimated that the above schedule of reductions will result in the course of a year in pay roll savings of $5,000,000. A division of this amount according to the budgets affected is as follows:

City.....	$2,675,000
Schools.....	1,930,000
County.....	295,000
Loans and special appropriations.....	100,000
	$5,000,000

The plan of voluntary pay roll contributions now in effect shall terminate with the adoption of the salary reductions schedule.

The salary and wage schedule herein determined upon shall not continue in effect for a longer period than salary and wage schedule revisions adopted and applying to state employees.

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

FINANCING SEWAGE WORKS BY SPECIAL ASSESSMENT IN IOWA.

The cost of constructing sewage disposal plants in a number of states, and in Iowa in particular, may be levied against the various lots, parts of lots or parcels of ground draining to, or susceptible to drainage to, the site of the disposal plant. Such assessments must be in proportion to the benefits to each property and must not, in any case, exceed one-fourth of the fair value of the property in question. These special assessments are payable in the same manner as other municipal improvement costs; that is, in ten annual equal installments, paid at the same time and place as the March 1 installment of ordinary taxes in Iowa. Any property owner may pay off the unpaid portion of such tax at any time. Interest on the deferred payments must not exceed 6 per cent.

MAYOR CURLEY DEMANDS END OF JEWISH PERSECUTION IN GERMANY IN THRILLING FANEUIL HALL ADDRESS—IN BEHALF OF ENTIRE CITIZENSHIP OF BOSTON HE CALLS FOR RESTORATION OF RELIGIOUS, CIVIL AND POLITICAL RIGHTS TO HEBREW RACE UNDER HITLER GOVERNMENT.

Mayor Curley spoke as follows at the protest meeting at Faneuil Hall held by the Jewish citizens of Boston:

The choice of the committee of Faneuil Hall in which to protest against the oppression and tyranny directed at the Jewish people by the Hitlerites is a most happy one. Faneuil Hall has ever been the voice of the conscience of America. Within its walls protests against oppression and tyranny have ever been made, regardless of the greatness or power of offending ruler or nation. Protests against Great Britain by the Colonists in those brave days when the Republic had its birth. Protests against slavery in the days when disunion and disintegration appeared inevitable. Protests against injustice in Ireland, protests against pogroms by the Russian government, in fact here voices have been raised for every worthy cause needing assistance. Protests from the sacred cradle of liberty in the city where liberty had its birth have never fallen upon deaf ears and invariably have resulted in an ending of oppression and tyranny. Persecution and oppression have ever been the seeds productive of a crop of hatreds, destructive to the human family and a barrier to human progress.

As Americans we rejoiced recently at the demise of the Ku Klux Klan, the existence of which constituted not only a challenger to American Government but which if permitted to continue in this land would have resulted in a divided nation wherein the hand of every man was raised against his neighbor. As Americans we protest against Hitlerism, just as strongly as in 1912, when we voiced our protests against Russian pogroms in defense of humanitarian principles. America in 1912 did not hesitate to abrogate commercial relations representing $150,000,000 annually under the leadership of the courageous and late lamented President, Woodrow Wilson. Within forty-eight hours after Congress had acted the Russian government substituted justice for license and a reign of terror which for a time gave promise of the complete extermination of the Jewish people in Russia was at an end. We in America living in harmony with our fellow Americans of the Jewish faith, have a respect for their qualities of mind and heart based upon a knowledge of the service and worth and in the present sad hour, regardless of race or creed, we share their sufferings and weep with them in their hour of persecution and trial.

We are not unmindful of their contribution to America in every artery of our national life, not only in time of crisis but in time of peace. We have an appreciation of the esteem in which members of the Jewish race were held by the Father of our Country in his day and likewise have a knowledge of the fact that the completion of Bunker Hill Monument was in no small part due to the generosity and patriotism of the great Jewish philanthropist of Colonial days,

Juda Tuoro. During the recent World War their contribution in proportion to their numbers equalled that of any other element of the citizenship of America and the record of service made by them during that period marks one of the truly luminous pages in the history of that tragic world conflict.

IN MEDICAL FIELD.

To the field of medicine their contribution has been most notable, with a Flexner, a Schick, a Rosneau and a Goldberg. These great leaders in the field of pathological and bacteriological research rendered a service equally as heroic in peace times as was rendered by any hero in time of war. To Doctor Schick and his wife America and the world owes a lasting debt of gratitude for that courageous, professional service which ended for all time the scourge of diphtheria. The Congress of the United States recently considered and adopted an order providing a pension to the widow of Doctor Goldberg who sacrificed his life that the hookworm disease in the southern portion of the United States and throughout the world might be eliminated. In the field of private practice Doctor Goldberg, with his exceptional attainments, would have experienced no difficulty in the creation of a great fortune.

He was content to enter the army of service to his fellowman and die a victim in the field of research for the benefit of humanity, leaving his widow penniless and dependent for existence upon the generosity of Congress. In jurisprudence, an illustrious list headed by our own supreme court justice, Louis D. Brandeis, and Justice Cordova of New York, whose courageous independence and outspoken championship of equal and exact justice has commanded universal admiration. Notwithstanding his great work here in Massachusetts in behalf of the workers, when his name was suggested for a place on the supreme bench of the United States, many of our leaders in the social and financial world opposed his selection, primarily because of the accident of his birth, a something for which he was in no sense responsible.

Notwithstanding clamor and protest he was confirmed by the Senate of the United States and to that honored and high office he brought a clarity of vision and a courage to do what he considered right that has won for him the admiration of those who opposed and scoffed at him when his name was first mentioned. To America the Jewish race has given a new vision in philanthropy with a Julius Rosenwald, whose generosity knew neither race, creed nor color and whose benefactions are today proving a blessing in every section of the land. In the great city of New York, with its tremendous population of seven millions, one of the names most revered is that of the Jewish citizen, Straus, through whose leadership and generosity thousands of citizens owe their existence due to pure milk supply which he more than all other individuals combined made possible. In finance, during the period of the war, the leadership in the raising of the funds necessary for the preservation of free government was entrusted to a Morgenthau, who discharged this great responsibility in a manner in keeping with the best traditions of the nation.

In peace times we have been equally blessed with a Schieff, a Baruch, a Kahn and in our own community a Schuman, a Kirstein and a Filene. The real progress in the world has been due not to a persecution and to oppression but to a recognition and observance of the principle of equality. American citizens of the Jewish faith are today serving as Governors in four states of the Union, notwithstanding the fact that in each of the four states they represent but a minority of the electorate. They have been chosen by the citizenship because of qualities of mind and heart and in the discharge of the responsible offices to which they have been elected they know but one word, namely, duty. In the great State of New York there was recently elected as successor of President Roosevelt, his friend of a lifetime, Governor Lehman, while in Illinois, Governor Horner after long, capable and faithful service as a judge was likewise honored with the Governorship. We recognize the rising tide of individual leadership and the gradual abdication of representative government, but apparently for the present at least we are prepared to forget the lessons of the past, namely, that dictatorship means an end of democracy. Nevertheless we assemble to voice our protest against the Hitler system of persecution and extermination of Jewish people in Germany. In the name of humanity we assemble to voice a protest in behalf of those whose voices are now inarticulate due to the iron heel of the oppressor.

Edmund Burke once said, "You cannot indict the entire people of a nation," and from the past history of Germany in its treatment of all races prior to the World War we are justified in taking the position that our quarrel is not with the entire German people, but with a group that are destined one day to be regarded as the enemies of Germany and the German people, namely, the Hitler group.

COMFORTING NEWS.

The comforting news has been heralded in the press this day that by order of President Von Hindenberg the persecutions cease at once and likewise the suggestion has been made that public gatherings for the voicing of protests be discouraged. We would be false to our American citizenship and untrue to the glorious traditions which this institution, Faneuil Hall, represents in the life of the world did we fail to give expression to our opposition to a program so inhuman and so atrocious as to merit universal condemnation.

As Mayor of Boston, mother city of liberty, within the sacred walls of the Cradle of Liberty, in behalf of the entire citizenship I join with you in demanding an end of persecution and a restoration of religious, civil and political rights to the Jewish people in Germany.

JAMES M. CURLEY ACROSTIC.

TWO OF EVERY 1,000 INHABITANTS ARE POLICE EMPLOYEES IN THE AVERAGE LARGE CITY.

About two of every 1,000 persons in the average city are employed in city police departments. Jersey City has the greatest percentage of police defense of any of the cities of over 250,000 population reporting to the Bureau of Investigation, Department of Justice, according to statements published in a recent issue of the monthly publication, "Uniform Crime Reports." In the total population of 316,715, there are 1,154 Police Department employees, or 3.6 per 1,000 inhabitants.

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF ARSON OFTEN OVERLOOKED.

"Incendiary fires play a considerable part in the amount that each citizen must pay for the insurance protection which is so essential for him to have on his home or other property," A. Bruce Bielaski, assistant to the General Manager of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, told members of the National Fire Waste Council at their recent conference in Washington. "The rates paid for insurance must of necessity be sufficient to cover losses of all characters and, if possible, to leave for the insurance company a reasonable return for the service it renders. It will pay the individual citizen in dollars and cents to take a real interest in the detection and prosecution of those responsible for incendiary fires."

THE METROPOLITAN DISTRICT. With Its 43 Municipalities.

Waltham and Woburn. The six adjacent towns are Brookline, Dedham, Milton, Needham, Watertown and Winthrop; the twenty other towns are Arlington, Belmont, Braintree, Canton, Cohasset, Dover, Hingham, Hull, Lexington, Nahant, Norwood, Reading, Saugus, Stoneham, Stoughton, Swampscott, Wakefield, Walpole, Wellesley, Weston, Westwood, Weymouth and Winchester. UNITED STATES FOREIGN TRADE IN SILVER.

Although the United States is the second largest producer of silver, its exports of the metal exceed total annual production according to the United States Department of Commerce reports. Much silver is received for refining or transshipment. Most of this imported silver comes from Mexico, as evident from the following import figures, in millions of dollars: Mexico, 40.5 in 1929, 24.9 in 1930, and 11 in the first eight months of 1931; Canada, 6.4, 6.1, and 2.5, respectively; Peru, 10.4, 5.9, and 1.6; Chile, 2.3, 1.8, and 0.6; and all countries, 63.9, 42.8, and 18.3.

United States exports of silver go chiefly to China (including Hong Kong), British India, and the United Kingdom (whence they are sold largely to other countries). Shipments to leading countries and the total are summarized in millions of dollars, for 1929, 1930, and the first eight months of 1931, as follows: China and Hong Kong, 64.6, 37.8, and 8.5, respectively, of which China accounted for 61.8, 31.8, and 7.7; British India, 8.9, 9.6, and 4.6; the United Kingdom, 0.1, 2.1, and 3.4; Canada, 2.4, 1.8, and 1.1; Mexico, 5.2, 1.4, and 0.7; Germany, 1.5, 1, and 0.7; and all countries, 83.4, 54.2, and 19.2.

INSTITUTIONS DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, March 1, 1933.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Your approval is requested to award a contract, without advertising, to the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company for repairs to telephone cable to the Long Island Hospital, at an estimated cost of $2,605.

Labor and material is to be furnished on the basis of cost plus 15 per cent for supervision.

As it is the duty of the Telephone Company to guarantee telephone service to the Long Island Hospital, it is advisable to have them do the work, which includes the placing and splicing of a submarine cable at Moon Island and at Long Island terminals.

Funds have been provided for this purpose in the budget.

It will take three months to get the material, and about three weeks to do the work.

Sincerely yours,

JAMES E. MAGUIRE,
Commissioner.

MAYOR CURLEY MADE HONORARY MEMBER OF FUSILIERS VETERANS ASSOCIATION.

Colonel Myrick of the Fusiliers Veterans Association, on April 6, made the following speech of presentation of the certificate of honorary membership to Mayor James M. Curley:

Mr. Mayor, a short time ago we lost an honorary member of this command, the late President Calvin Coolidge. He, like yourself, was greatly interested in these historical veterans and, like yourself, was an honorary member of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, the oldest organization of its kind in the world.

I had the honor of presenting his name for membership in both commands and today I have the honor, as Commander of the Fusiliers, to present to you the engraved certificate of membership in this organization and also the engraved honorary badge of the order. On this bronze medal there is a reproduction of the Bunker Hill Monument, but this was taken from the original sketch, a long time before the cornerstone was laid, and was handed to us by the Governor of the Commonwealth in 1787, 146 years ago, and is now worn and has been ever since as the official badge of the court.

We trust that you will live long to wear it, and trust you will enjoy long life and enjoy this great service.

In accepting the membership certificate and the badge, Mayor Curley replied:

Colonel Myrick, I want to express my sincere appreciation for this great tribute of confidence which you repose in me as Mayor of Boston and say to you that it could come in no more fitting manner and day, the day which it is customary for American citizens to set aside as National Defense Day. I had no realization when your command waited on me this morning as to the year that your great organization came into being, in 1787. It was in this year, 1787, that the then Father of our Country, George Washington, inaugurated that program for the development of independence for the United States of America and in a short period of twenty years so developed the commerce of the United States as to make it independent as a nation throughout the world.

We have a profound appreciation of the valued service that has been rendered by the Fusiliers Veterans Association and by the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, and other similar military organizations during the past 150 years.

We find at the present time a mad race upon the part of the nations of the world with the exception of America in the matter of armaments and we find our own country practically stripped of its defense and at the present time occupying a position in naval supremacy not first, and not second, and certainly we question if we occupy third place. We find our splendid merchant marine which is used for carrying American goods and used as an auxiliary to the navy in time of war, gradually being abandoned and we are destined, unless real courageous action is taken, to allow this efficient mercantile service to lapse back into the condition it was in in that period before the World War, when America was forced to depend on foreign nations for the transportation on sea of over 90 per cent of the commerce of the American nation.

Pacifism seems to be in the air in America while the spirit of war seems to be prevalent throughout the world.

I certainly feel that if it were not your great organization, the splendid heritage of which we are custodians in this day, because of the sacrifice those noble men have made before us, might well be lost. So I congratulate your organization and it is with exceeding pleasure that I accept the honor you have bestowed on me and trust I may prove worthy of it.

TO REMOVE ICE AND SNOW EASILY.

In certain special emergency cases, as in traffic areas, it may be desirable to entirely remove thick, heavy accumulations of ice and hardened snow which, because they usually become badly rutted, are a cause of dangerous traffic conditions. In such cases the application of flake calcium chloride by means of a mechanical spreader at the rate of three quarters to one pound per square yard will soon loosen the entire ice coating, permitting its removal from the pavement by hand or mechanical means.

For this purpose, a solution containing from 25 to 30 per cent of calcium chloride, which figures 2.85 to 3.75 pounds per gallon of solution, may be employed. Such solutions, especially if made up with warm water and applied by a street flusher equipped with nozzles which throw a finely divided high-pressure spray, have proved highly efficient for this purpose. As soon as the ice has become loosened from the pavement surface, it should be removed and an extremely light treatment of coarse sand applied to the surface.

BOSTON AS A TOWN.

From its foundation until 1755, or a period of 125 years, Boston was not only the most outstanding but the most populous town in the American colonies. In 1760, Philadelphia's population was ahead, viz., 18,756, Boston's then being 15,631 and New York's about 14,000. In the last year of town government, viz., 1821, Boston's population was about 45,000 and its public debt $100,000, all incurred for new county buildings.

The history of Boston as a town during a period of nearly two centuries surpasses in civic interest that of Boston as a city because of the untiring zeal and successful efforts of its townsmen to realize more of true democracy than had ever been attained before. Their obligations were held as sacred as their liberties.

1929 TAXES AND PRIOR YEARS.

Upon March 23 the Mayor issued the following statement:

The City Treasurer today issued the following statement:

The entire total of the outstanding taxes is $17,955,572 and on the same day and month, four years ago, or in 1929, there was then outstanding and uncollected, $5,527,190.

The Boston "News Bureau" today quotes Senator Parkman, as follows:

"Of the 1932 taxes there are approximately $25,000,000 uncollected." The correct figure is $14,630,585.

If properly quoted, the senator's figures are so far from correct that I am supplying, herewith, the figures on tax collections, up to March 22, 1933.

1932 TAXES.

Total real and personal.....	$67,103,044 49
Collected.....	$52,472,458 74	78.198%
Uncollected.....	14,630,585 75	21.802%

1931 TAXES.

Total real and personal.....	$61,677,315 39
Collected.....	$59,747,878 62	96.873%
Uncollected.....	1,929,436 77	3.127%

1930 TAXES.

Uncollected.....	$554,150 00	.009%
------------------	--------------	-------

1929 TAXES AND PRIOR YEARS.

Uncollected.....	$841,398 00

The entire total of all outstanding taxes is $17,955,572, and on the same day and month four years ago, or in 1929, there was then outstanding and uncollected $5,527,190.

This would indicate that there is always an outstanding and uncollected amount, but I am equally sure that a study of the foregoing figures will prove that the percentage collected by the City of Boston will compare most favorably with any city of its size.

Notwithstanding what may be said to the contrary, loans secured by municipal taxes are far more certain of payment than are the promises of any business or industry.

During the recent seven-day bank holiday the City of Boston collected over $50,000 in cash, while the receipts of private business were nil.

LAND-TAKING IN DORCHESTER.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for a public improvement consisting of the laying out and construction of Groom street, Dorchester district, as a highway, from Humphreys street to Hillsboro street, bounded and described as follows:

A highway named Groom street is hereby laid out, from Humphreys street to Hillsboro street, and ordered constructed.

Said highway and the land, exclusive of trees or structures standing upon or affixed thereto, in which an easement for street purposes is hereby taken, is bounded and described as follows:

Easterly by Humphreys street, forty-one and 87-100 feet; southerly by the southerly line of said Groom street as hereby laid out, two hundred seventy-eight and 42-100 feet; westerly by Hillsboro street, forty and 19-100 feet; and northerly by the northerly line of said Groom street as hereby laid out, two hundred ninety-four and 72-100 feet.

Trees or structures standing upon or affixed to the aforesaid land shall be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said land for the purpose of constructing said improvement.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the aforesaid improvement.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the abutting lots of land on both sides of said Groom street, between Humphreys street and Hillsboro street, will receive benefit or advantage, beyond the general advantage to all real estate in said city, from the improvement herein ordered, each of said lots to the amount hereinafter respectively set against it, said lots and the supposed owners thereof being shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Groom Street, Dorchester, Assessment Plan, November 22, 1932, William J. Sullivan, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," and on file in the office of said department.

GREAT LACK OF RURAL HEALTH SERVICE FACILITIES OFFICIALLY INDICATED.

Only 25 per cent of the rural population of the United States is at present provided with adequate and properly organized local health service, reports Surgeon General H. S. Cumming in his annual resume of the work of the United States Public Health Service during the past fiscal year, which has just been submitted to Congress.

CITY WORKERS UNION PROTESTS PAY CUTS.

Mayor Curley received the following communication from John G. Donovan of the City of Boston Employees Local 149, American Federation of Labor:

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY.

DEAR SIR,—On July 4, 1776, the first citizens of the United States pledged their lives and fortunes to the principle that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their creator with certain inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness; that to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed.

We hold these truths to be self-evident and if the policies and recommendations of certain groups in our city are not checked, this part of the Constitution has no value in directing the future course of our government. It is self-evident that these groups have miserably failed in the conduct of their own business or assist in any constructive manner to relieve this present depression.

The laborers and mechanics were the first to respond in a most generous manner for the relief of the unemployed; any programs to reduce their wages below a living wage is unjust and unsound at the present time.

Resolved, That we, the members assembled at regular meeting on April 2, 1933, at Hibernian Building, Boston, Mass., most vigorously protest any reductions in the wages of laborers or mechanics.

JOHN G. DONOVAN, President.

A. H. BROWN, Business Agent.

TRAFFIC COMMISSION RULING.

Voted, That the Traffic Regulations are amended, as follows, effective April 10, 1933:

That section 38, Part 1, is amended by adding the following:

Marshall Street.

From Union street to Hanover street.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 180.

Capt. Jeremiah F. Gallivan of Division 6, having arrived at the age of sixty-four and seven-twelfths years, having performed faithful service in the Police Department for thirty-eight and eight-twelfths years and having made application to be retired from active service, it is hereby Ordered, His Honor the Mayor having approved the same, that the said Capt. Jeremiah F. Gallivan be retired from active service and that his name be placed upon the department pension roll with pay at the rate of two thousand (2,000) dollars per annum (payable monthly), said sum being one half of the amount of annual compensation received by him in the office from which he is retired; to take effect at 7.45 o'clock a. m., Friday, March 31, 1933.

Captain Gallivan was appointed a reserveman in this department July 12, 1894, and advanced to patrolman April 8, 1895. His promotions were as follows: Sergeant, April 13, 1906; lieutenant, January 5, 1911; captain, August 8, 1914.

Captain Gallivan, after long years of service, closes an honorable career in his chosen profession.

From the time of his entry into the department as a young man, and during the period of service in various grades through which he later passed, he has enjoyed the fullest confidence of his superior officers and respect of his associates for unquestioned honesty and fidelity.

Forceful in his nature, the captain has expected of all over whom he has been placed in command, fulfillment of their respective duties for the good of the department and of the public for whom they were appointed to serve.

The commissioner, the superintendent and they of the department who know the captain regret his retirement.

Best wishes are extended to him for continued good health and happiness for many years to come.

(Paragraph 2.)

Capt. Ross A. Perry of Division 8 having arrived at the age of sixty-two and four-twelfths years and having performed faithful service in the Police Department for thirty-two and five-twelfths years, and having made application to be retired from active service, it is hereby Ordered, His Honor the Mayor having approved the same, that the said Capt. Ross A. Perry be retired from active service and that his name be placed upon the department pension roll with pay at the rate of two thousand (2,000) dollars per annum (payable monthly), said sum being one half of the amount of compensation received by him in the office from which he is retired; to take effect at 7.45 o'clock a. m., Friday, March 31, 1933.

Captain Perry was appointed a reserveman in this department October 23, 1900, and advanced to patrolman May 24, 1901. His subsequent promotions were as follows: Sergeant, February 8, 1908; lieutenant, June 16, 1915; captain, February 8, 1917.

Captain Perry when appointed a reserveman in this department was assigned to Division 10, Roxbury district, where he served until his transfer to Division 8 (Harbor Police), April 6, 1905, at which latter division he has labored honestly and creditably for almost twenty-eight years.

The responsibilities and duties which befell the captain as commanding officer and Harbor Master were many.

The public as a whole know little of the harbor branch of police work. On its commanding officer complete responsibility is placed for constant and efficient patrol, both day and night, by police steamers and launches of the waters of the upper and lower harbor. Property of untold value along the city's waterfront, storehouses, steamboat landings, piers and wharves are observed and protected by the harbor police from disasters which may befall, as well as guarding against depredations and violators of law. To this duty Captain Perry has devoted the major portion of his life.

In behalf of all, the commissioner desires for the captain many years of contentment in retirement.

(Paragraph 3.)

Lieutenant-Inspector George J. Farrell of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation having arrived at the age of sixty-four and three-twelfths years, having performed faithful service in the Police Department for thirty-seven years, and having applied to be retired from active service, it is hereby Ordered, His Honor the Mayor having approved the same, that the said Lieutenant-Inspector Farrell be retired from active service and that his name be placed upon the department pension roll with pay at the rate of thirteen hundred and fifty (1,350) dollars per annum (payable monthly), said sum being one half of the amount of compensation received by him in the office from which he is retired; to take effect at 5.45 o'clock p. m., Thursday, March 30, 1933.

Sergt. Timothy F. Kellard of Division 8 having arrived at the age of sixty-four and four-twelfths years, having performed faithful service in the Police Department for thirty-seven and ten-twelfths years, and having applied to be retired from active service, it is hereby WELFARE RECIPIENTS GET BACK MONEY FOR RENT PURPOSES.

His Honor the Mayor, on April 1, forwarded the following communication to Chairman Simon E. Hecht, of the Overseers of Public Welfare:

MY DEAR MR. HECHT,—I have this day conferred with Mr. Carven and Mr. Fox with reference to the payment to recipients of public welfare of the money withheld from them for a period of three weeks as a consequence of the bank holiday. The amount involved is equivalent to about one third of what they would have received provided the banks had advanced the necessary money to the city to meet public welfare and other municipal requirements.

I know of no reason why the recipients of public welfare should be deprived of the allotment to which they are entitled and which the Overseers of Public Welfare have, prior to the bank holiday, been furnishing.

The amount involved is approximately $250,000, and due to the failure of the Overseers of Public Welfare to make the allotment during the three weeks' bank holiday many of the recipients of public welfare were unable to pay their rent with the result that a number of evictions and orders to vacate have been issued.

It is unfortunate that the victims of an economic condition for which they are in no measure responsible should be required to suffer unduly, unnecessarily and unwarrantedly.

You are accordingly directed to take the necessary steps with the Overseers of Public Welfare to authorize the payment to public welfare recipients of the amount withheld during the period when, due to the bank holiday, the city was unable to borrow the money necessary to meet this obligation.

Very truly yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Monday, March 27, 1933.

Regular meeting of City Council in Council Chamber, City Hall, at 2 p. m., President McGRATH in the chair. Absent, Coun. Cox, Fitzgerald and Murray.

VETO OF ANNUITY TO WIDOW OF THOMAS F. GOODE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 24, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I beg to return herewith without my approval order adopted by your honorable body on March 13, 1933, providing for the payment of an annuity to the widow of the late Thomas F. Goode of the Police Department.

The report of the Corporation Counsel, based upon the reports of medical authorities, as here submitted, permits of no other course.

Respectfully submitted,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Law Department, March 17, 1933.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—Your Honor has submitted to me for advice the following order of the City Council:

"Ordered, That under the provisions of chapter 182 of the Acts of 1930, as amended by chapter 341 of the Acts of 1930, an annuity of one thousand dollars be allowed and paid to Elizabeth F. Goode, widow of Thomas F. Goode, a member of the Police Department, who died on January 23, 1933, from injuries received in the performance of his duty, said annuity to date from January 24, 1933, to continue so long as said widow remains unmarried and to be charged to the appropriation for Police Department, Pensions and Annuities."

The provisions of law authorizing an annuity are contained in section 1 of chapter 241 of the Acts of 1930. This section in part provides that if a member of the Police Department is killed or dies within one year from injuries received while in the performance of his duty as such a member and it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Mayor and City Council that such death was the natural and proximate result of an accident occurring during the performance and within the scope of his duty as such member, there shall be paid an annuity to his widow and children.

It is quite apparent from the medical reports submitted to your Honor in connection with this order that the late Deputy Superintendent Goode did not die from injuries received in the course of his duty as the result of an accident. On the contrary the reports of the several physicians, as well as the report of the Medical Examiner, indicate most definitely that he died from a cerebral hemorrhage, with a resultant pneumonia. There is no evidence whatsoever that Deputy Goode was injured from an accident. His case is no different from the many cases concerning which this department has advised your Honor, in which death ensued from a disease or organic disorder rather than from an injury resulting from an accident during the course of the officer's duty.

I refer your Honor to opinion of this department dated September 22, 1930, relating to the order of the City Council providing for an annuity to the widow of Frank L. Lyons. See, also, opinion dated October 17, 1930, in which this department recommended that you refrain from giving your approval to an order of the Council providing for an annuity to the widow of Frank H. Lasky.

Very truly yours,

SAMUEL SILVERMAN,
Corporation Counsel.

GEORGE L. WALKER & CO.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:

Ordered, That the Overseers of the Public Welfare be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to discontinue any further business with the concern of George L. Walker & Co.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, in 1931 the New England Ice and Coal Company, with whom this George L. Walker was then connected, was doing business with the Overseers of Public Welfare, delivering coal to the recipients of aid, and was fined $200 for short-weighting persons receiving aid from Public Welfare. I don't know of anything more contemptible, Mr. President, than a man in business, who is being paid a good price by the taxpayers of Boston for every ton of coal he delivers in that way short-weighting these poor unfortunates in the coal that they have in their homes to keep them from freezing. Nothing can be more contemptible than such deliberate short-weight grafting. I took the matter up in the Council and received the assurance of the Overseers of Public Welfare that George L. Walker would never do business again with the City of Boston, so far as they were concerned. The Mayor advised us that they would deal only with reputable concerns, such as the Metropolitan Coal Company, Whittemore, and such other reliable firms, in getting and dispensing coal for the poor of Boston. But there is more than one way of getting around these things, and Mr. George L. Walker has since been getting into further trouble in this way. I will say in all fairness to the Mayor of Boston that he knows nothing about what has been going on in this matter, and would not stand for it. But I find that the concern of George L. Walker has been operating and during a period of three months it received $70,000 of business from the Public Welfare Department. I don't know who is responsible for placing the Walker concern back in the list, after it was once caught defrauding the poor of Boston, but I do know this, that in December he was again caught and his man was sent away for three months, for short-weighting by 200 pounds a coal delivery, the 200 pounds being found under the seat after deliveries were made, and the firm of George L. Walker was fined $150. I reiterate that I don't believe the Mayor of Boston knew anything about this. I would also say that one of the provisions of our City Charter specifically sets forth that a person doing business with the city is supposed to be a citizen. God knows there are enough citizens pounding the bricks and receiving aid. But reference to the records of the Election Commission show that the name of George L. Walker does not appear as voting in the city, according to the card index since 1900. I have checked the thing up and I find that Walker, despite the fact that he has been in the country for thirty or thirty-five years, has only seen fit within the last few months to take out his first papers. Therefore, I ask that the Mayor of Boston see to it that the city stops dealing with this concern and deals only with reliable concerns doing business in Boston. That is only justice to our poor and justice to the taxpayers of Boston and to reliable business concerns in Boston. He was caught only last December in this way, after his previous record, and if the Overseers were on their jobs he would have been crossed off the list. But no, we find that he still goes on handling orders for coal. Therefore, I am asking that the Mayor of Boston see that the firm of George L. Walker is cut off from doing any further business with the City of Boston.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RECESS.

The Council voted at 2.30 p. m., on motion of Coun. FISH, to take a recess, subject to the call of the Chair. The members were called to order in Council session by President McGRATH at 3.04 p. m.

REDUCTION OF CITY EXPENSES AND TAXES.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of reducing all city expenses 20 per cent at once, and informing the owners of dwelling houses and other property in Boston, that their taxes will be reduced 20 per cent, provided that rentals are likewise reduced.

The order was read a second time and the question came on its passage.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I listened with a great deal of interest to the address of the Executive of the City of Boston. I am sorry to say that I have to take issue with him on most of his statements. They sounded nice and, if true, would be nice, but unfortunately the record will show that conditions in Boston have not been as good as have been pictured. The Mayor of Boston, if he wishes to do something good for the people of Boston, will immediately cut all city expenses 20 per cent and will ask that the tax rate on property in Boston be reduced 20 per cent. The rates in this city are altogether too high. Boston contains the largest percentage of non-home owners of any comparable American city. In Philadelphia, 52 per cent of the families own their own homes; in the borough of Richmond, New York, 50 per cent of the families own their own homes. Boston, of all the large American cities, has the smallest percentage of home owners, 22.26 per cent. The tax rate of Boston is the highest tax rate. The Mayor spoke of Fall River,

Fall River is in no way comparable to Boston, being very much smaller. The tax rate of Boston is the highest of any city in America, taking cities that are comparable. The Boston tax rate is confiscatory. It should not be over $25 on a thousand, instead of $37.50, if the necessary economies were put into effect. The statement was made here by the Mayor, as an outcome of the hearing before Senator Peter Norbeck's committee, that Milwaukee and Boston were the only large cities that were not in financial difficulties. But the whole New England section has maintained a position peculiar to itself in this whole depression. We are geographically the northeast section of the country, with Canada on one side and the Atlantic Ocean hounding a large part of the remainder, and the diversity of industries of this particular section has caused it to suffer less than other sections of the country have suffered. Providence, Rhode Island, for example, is as well off as Boston; Bridgeport, Connecticut, is as well off as Boston; Bangor, Maine, is as well off as Boston. There are no head lines in any New England city. Now, what would Boston do if it were in a situation comparable to Detroit? Detroit, from 1910 to 1920, doubled its population; in Boston, according to our own statistical department, the population has been falling off. Los Angeles, California, has doubled its population, going to 1,300,000 in less than eight years. Our population has not doubled in fifty years. Imagine, as contrasted with Boston, the tremendous amount that has to be spent for sewers, streets and school-houses in these other cities which have so tremendously increased in population, of recent years. And, having that in mind, just consider what happens to a city like Detroit when you hit its automobile business, or to Toledo, when its scale and other types of business upon which it depends suffer a complete collapse. Do you believe that the financial condition of the city is due to anything the Chief Executive has done? Is there a man here who believes that we have been economizing, who can point to one thing that has been done to keep down our tremendous debt? Our police force, for example, is the most expensive in America. We have more stations per mile than any other. It costs $150,000 per square mile to police the City of Boston, and there is only one other city in the country, New York, that has in a part of it the same tremendous concentration of police agents that we have here. Detroit, Cleveland, Milwaukee, San Francisco, pay nothing like what we pay. We have more police stations in our 48 square mile area than any like city in the world; we have more fire stations in that area than will be found in any comparable area. Our schools here are costing the City of Boston more than the schools of any large American city. So where is the economy? The Mayor states that he knew in 1930 about the coming of this depression. I respectfully submit to you that until yesterday, when it came up and hit him in the face, literally, hands have been playing outside the door here, "Happy Days are Here Again," and "Prosperity is around the corner." Mr. President, that theory is put forth in any large American city in these days simply for one reason—to spend millions on the installment plan. What is the Mayor's remedy? To spend more money. Where is the money coming from? Look at the vacancies in your business buildings. There is not a business in Boston that is paying today, except those dealing with public necessities, public utilities like gas, electricity and telephones, which are public monopolies, and they are not making what they have in the past. There is not a business in Boston, with the exception of those dealing with public necessities, Mr. President, that is paying at all,—and yet the Mayor says, "Spend more money." Where is it coming from? In 1931 the Legislature gave to the City of Boston the right to spend over $30,000,000 on public works. Did you see any commensurate work done as a result? There was money spent in 1931 on that theory, however, the most fallacious theory that was ever invented. How was that money spent? A handful of foreigners went to work, and the machines went to work. $100,000 a mile was spent on road work, under the cry of putting people at work, and only a few foreigners did that work for a short time, although children unborn will be paying the bills, because everything the Mayor spent on that work was on the installment plan. He gets the money and some one else pays for it. A golf course was built in Hyde Park—to put men at work! Did you hear of anybody going to work on that golf course? Well, over half a million was spent there, but very few men got any work, although we have had these thousands here clamoring to get work. The machines did the work, and Brother Tomasello stuck the steam shovel in. Putting men at work! Mr. President, when Senator Peter Norbeck spoke about Milwaukee and Boston, I don't believe he had in mind the situation existing throughout New England where, because of diversity of industry, we have been commensurately better off than American cities depending on certain large industries which were pretty badly hit. Mr. President, we have $126,000,000 net debt, and we are paying this year nine and one half million to pay off interest and principal. That must be paid. Interest payments come ahead of salaries, they come ahead of the amount of money that must be spent for welfare, to meet the needs of hungry people. That is the thing that comes first, payment on our indebtedness, if the financial structure of our city is to be maintained. The Mayor now proposes to increase our debt. Is there anybody within sound of my voice who believes it will help the City of Boston this year to borrow through the Legislature, outside of our debt limit, $8,200,000, which will have to be met on the installment plan, to build another road in Hyde Park, another road in another section, to do something in Jamaica Plain, Dorchester, here or there, simply putting a few men at work along with the steam shovels? The idea that that sort of thing will help us out in our present emergency has been exploded. European countries have gone into it in the past and have given it up. The editor of the Post on Sunday a week ago came out with an article showing how fallacious it was to borrow millions on this theory, on the installment plan, which will have to be paid for for many years to come. We have been building the East Boston Tunnel, which will cost $31,500,000, and it will take fifty years to pay for it, and it is proposed to be met by 25 and 50 cent tolls. Can you imagine anybody coming from East Boston wanting to pay that amount to go through that tunnel when they can go through Chelsea? And we all know that the toll will be done away with eventually, and that the whole obligation to pay will come back on the City of Boston. We remember that they had a one-cent toll for years on the East Boston Ferry, but the people of East Boston carried on a long fight to eliminate it, and they eventually did. And so it will be in the case of this tunnel. East Boston will not stand for this 25 cent or more toll. It will be eliminated and the whole expense will be carried on the books against the citizens of Boston, who are already the highest taxed people in the country. And the Mayor, because he says he wants to put people at work, favors the building of another tunnel out along Huntington avenue, a tunnel that is absolutely unnecessary. That is the program, and that is the cry,—"Put people at work!" It is a fallacious program Mr. President. He talks about our Hospital Department costing us in 1916, $788,000 and in 1932, last year, $3,670,000. Mr. President, the City Hospital has never been properly run. The reports made by the American Medical Association and other organizations cognizant with the situation make clear the fact that our hospital costs will always be exorbitant until we get a proper organization there. There are three classes of patients—first, the acute cases, second the convalescent cases, and third, the chronic cases. All that the Boston City Hospital should be used for is acute cases, and until we eliminate the other two, as far as the City Hospital is concerned, and take care of them in some other way, in some outlying units, the cost to the City of Boston will be tremendous. But nothing is done. We have 100,000 men, women and children in Boston asking for something to eat, and there are less than sixty-five investigators in our city, where there should be 500. But nothing is done. Those are a few of the things that must be taken care of. The City of Boston, like every city and town in the community, in this depression is bound to face realities. We have to face them, whether we want to or not. Pay cuts are coming; they must come. The fight should be to save the little fellow and make the man getting the bigger amount of pay to take a larger cut than the little fellow. What is the matter with that idea? Let the man getting $1,800 a year take a 5 per cent cut; let the man getting $3,500 a year take a 15 or 20 per cent cut. And relieve the laborer. Isn't that fair? The battle is coming in this Council to put that into effect. The dole in England has been criticized for years. We are told, "We don't want the dole." But we have had it here for ten years. We have had it in the Welfare Department, and nothing has been done about it. Hundreds of families are today drawing welfare from the City of Boston who cannot speak the American language and there is no investigator who can speak the language of those families or who has ever interrogated them. For two years on the floor of the Council I have asked that the Welfare Department be decentralized, that we have branches in East Boston, Charlestown, Hyde Park, and so on, in every community. Can anyone tell me why a poor devil getting only a few dollars a week from the department should be obliged to go from Hyde Park to Hawkins street, paying the necessary carfare, several times weekly? In Hyde Park, as in other sections, school teachers, firemen, everybody in the employ of the city, should be expected to cooperate where there is a person or a family in need, so that the aid would be given inside of ten hours at least, without having to go to Hawkins street before anything can be obtained. And what a ridiculous sight it is to see a man out with a hoe in winter, on the frozen street, just pushing a few leaves around, when perhaps that man may be a machinist, may be a carpenter, may be a plumber, or an electrical worker, and could do something useful for the city and for the community while he is waiting for something in his particular line to turn up. Just think of them, Mr. President, fooling around as they do on our streets with a hoe. And it is under the plea that they think it would be unfair to interfere with private initiative, with work in private trades, and yet today the Mayor comes out on the front page and tells how he is going to sift out engineers, plumbers and other tradesmen, to see if they cannot be given something to do in their particular lines. Mr. President, there has not been a constructive effort to cut down expenses in Boston.

We still have the eighteenth century system. We still go on with two or three contractors, who get millions of the people's money and just place a few men at work, the rest of the work being done by machines, while men, women and children in Boston are in need of something to eat. That condition still exists here in Boston, Mr. President, and it is not being remedied. Then, if the Mayor of Boston is sincere, he will wipe out that iniquitous Purchasing Department, which pays more for automobile tires, getting them in large quantity, than you, I or any other individual in this room can buy them for singly. Then, what can we think of a department that will buy the ridiculous police boat that has been purchased for this city, paying $200,000 for it—a boat that they cannot run, that is unable to sail across the harbor without sinking. And this man talks about rescuing the starving poor. Nothing is said about what is paid to the Tomasellos and the Singarellas; nothing is said about the Mohawk Packing Company, about the police boat, about this system of waste and corruption that goes on, about the $1,500,000 we appropriated for streets and sewers two weeks ago. Though men, women and children are starving in Boston, streets and sewers, which can well be postponed, must go on. Why? Mr. President, we can cut down these expenses. The rents in Boston will have to be cut, and they are going to be cut. The deluge is here. You won't bear, "Happy Days are Here Again," any more; you won't bear "Prosperity is around the corner," you won't see again a casket being borne through the streets of Boston bearing the remains of General Depression, with the cry that "The depression is all over." No, you won't see any more of that. The hands have stopped playing, but the contractor must be kept busy at work, with a lot of machinery and a handful of men. And millions have been spent in that way, and the Mayor comes here today and recommends the spending of more millions of dollars as the only policy that is possible. Just think of it, Mr. President! We built a postoffice building here, and four men put in all the lights of glass. How long is this kidding of the people going to continue? The newspapers of Boston today carried headlines to the effect that beer was going to put thousands of men at work in the breweries. Mr. President, the beer business, like all others, has been highly mechanized in the last few years. The talk we have been hearing is all nonsense. In six months from now we will be disillusioned, and the glowing promises of what is to be brought about by the manufacture of beer will turn sour. You have barrooms on every street in France and England, along with utter desolation. No, Mr. President, the brewers cannot satisfactorily answer the frantic plea of the people for employment. They will employ in Boston and in other parts of the country very few people, and six months from now the disillusion will come. Of course, people have the right to have beer, and I have done what little I could in my own humble way to bring it in. They should have it if they want it. But the disillusion in regard to the employment that it will furnish, when it comes, will be terrible. The breweries—like the Standard Oil, like the chain stores, like the Western Union, like the Telephone Company—are entirely mechanized, and they will not need a handful of men. The sooner we face the fact that the less money we spend as a city on contractors the better off we will be, the sooner we realize the foolishness of the policy the Mayor has pursued, spending millions on tunnels, playgrounds, rock gardens, rose gardens and pleasure roads, the sooner we come to a realization that our first duty today is to reduce taxes and to reduce rents, the better it will be for everybody. The most popular move that the Mayor of Boston can make is to reduce rents, and that can best be brought about by reducing taxes 20 per cent. And that can only be brought about, Mr. President, through economies. The cooperative banks, all banks, investors, have got to do what the President asks for, reduce their interest rates and their investment rates. They have to take socialized losses. (Applause from the gallery.)

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PRESCRIPTIONS TO RECIPIENTS OF AID.

Coun. BRACKMAN offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to instruct the Board of Overseers of the Public Welfare in all future cases where prescriptions for medicine are to be given to recipients of aid, arrangements are to be made with Boston City Hospital to furnish same and not through private druggists.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, it does not seem that in times like these, when we are having difficulty in raising the necessary amount for welfare, we should try to conserve in every way possible in that department. We heard the chairman of the Overseers of Public Welfare say last week that about $200 a month was spent for prescriptions. On checking up we find that about $700 was spent in this way last month. It does seem that where these recipients of aid are being treated at the Boston City Hospital they could receive their prescriptions and have them filled right at the hospital, without obliging the people to go to outside druggists and pay the cost of the prescription. This will probably mean a saving of approximately $10,000 a year, at the rate at which the prescription department is now increasing. I certainly trust that the order will pass.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, several months ago I introduced a similar order. We were then advised by the chairman of the Overseers that there was only a small amount of money involved. The amount of money involved, of course, does not make any difference, although it appears, as the councilor has stated, that over $700 was spent in this way last month. That means a nice little business, in so far as druggists and prescriptions are concerned. But the thing that troubles me the most is the fact that the gentleman who receives the $700 business is the treasurer of the Board of Overseers, Mr. Willey. I say it is unfair, also, to make an individual living in Hyde Park, Roxbury, Dorchester or East Boston, desiring to have a prescription filled, go to the Willey store way over in South Boston to have it done. I say that any man serving in the Welfare Department should be entitled to his own share of that business, and nothing more; that people living in Hyde Park should have a right to go to a Hyde Park druggist, and the same with people living in East Boston, Dorchester, Roxbury, and other sections. I say it is about time, also, that the chairman of the Overseers, when he appears before our Executive Committee, should at least tell us the truth. He told us last Monday that they paid out only $200 a month for prescriptions. There is a great deal of difference, Mr. President, between $200 and $700, and there is a great deal of difference between giving it to the man who is treasurer of the Board of Overseers and distributing the business among reputable druggists in different sections who are taxpayers of the City of Boston.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CLAIMS.

Coun. RUBY, for the Committee on Claims, submitted report on petition (referred January 9, 1933) of Alexander McLaughlin to be reimbursed for execution brought against him on account of his acts as an operator of a motor vehicle belonging to the Public Works Department, Paving Division, recommending passage of the accompanying order, viz.:

Ordered, That the sum of two hundred and eight dollars and ninety cents ($208.90) be allowed and paid to Alexander McLaughlin in reimbursement for execution brought against him on account of his acts as an operator of a motor vehicle belonging to the Public Works Department, Paving Division, said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund.

Report accepted; order passed.

DELAY IN MOVING OLD BUILDINGS.

Coun. GREEN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Building Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to furnish the City Council with information as to the delay in removing old buildings to make way for the approach to the East Boston vehicular tunnel (Boston side), how many have been removed to date, how many are to come down, and whether all contracts for demolition of said buildings have been let, and to whom.

METHOD OF DISPENSING BEER.

Coun. GREEN offered the following:

Whereas, The manufacture and sale of 3.2 per cent beer in this Commonwealth is now before the Legislature for consideration; and

Whereas, Hastily considered legislation on this subject may adversely affect the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment throughout the country; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Boston City Council favors no change in the former system of dispensing beer; and be it further

Resolved, That the dispensing of New England products be made mandatory; and be it further

Resolved, That each city and town be allowed to make its own rules and enforce them in relation to this important matter.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

JOHN H. L. NOYES PLAYGROUND.

Coun. BARKER offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make plans to enlarge the right field area of the John H. L. Noyes Playground in East Boston, also to make arrangements to fill in the creek adjoining this playground while the dredging and filling in operations are now under way in connection with the construction of a new state highway.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

BONDS OF CONTRACTORS.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:

Ordered, That all contractors doing business with the City of Boston place their bonds with Massachusetts corporations instead of foreign corporations.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, during the last three years we have had a number of pet contractors doing work for the City of Boston. We have had each one of the pet contractors, when he received the contract from the Mayor's office, told that the next step for him to make was over to 27 School street, which happens to house his notorious bank-robbing brother, John Curley, who is in the bond business. Bonds must be placed with the companies represented by the Mayor's brother, and it has been done during the course of three years. And so there has been going on this legitimate or illegitimate graft, whatever it may be termed, in connection with bonding contractors in various insurance concerns. I was amazed and "flabbergasted" when I studied and perused the records to see that concerns controlled by many from other commonwealths and even from Japan were getting the business, instead of Boston and Massachusetts concerns, concerns incorporated in this state and under the laws of the state. I claim, Mr. President, that Massachusetts concerns are entitled to a little protection. They think enough of this state to incorporate in it, and surely the public officials in the state should think enough of their city and their state to compel that business to go to a home corporation. We all hear the cry, "Buy American!" Let us now patronize American concerns, incorporated in our state. Let us at least see that the tax money, paid out to pet contractors, when it comes to their furnishing bonds, is at least distributed to reputable Boston and Massachusetts concerns, legally incorporated under the laws of this Commonwealth. Accordingly, I move that this order be passed under suspension of the rule.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

WARD 12 IMPROVEMENTS.

Coun. BRACKMAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave with smooth paving Hollander street, Ward 12.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install a modern boulevard type light at the corner of Wenonah street and Elm Hill avenue, Ward 12.

Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install automatic traffic signals at the following locations in Ward 12:

Seaver street and Humboldt avenue; Cliff and Warren streets; Dudley and Warren streets.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave with smooth paving Copeland street, Ward 12.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Rockland street, both sides, Warren street to Rock street, Ward 12, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

Report accepted; petitioner given leave to withdraw.

2. Report on petition (referred today) of Boston Elevated Railway to operate motor vehicles between Ashmont Station and junction of River and Standard streets, Dorchester, over Dorchester avenue, Washington street, River street and Standard street—recommending that leave be granted.

PAYMENT OF AID TO SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

Coun. NORTON, for the Committee on Soldiers' Relief, submitted report recommending payment of aid to soldiers and sailors and their families in the City of Boston for the month of March, 1933.

Report accepted; said order passed.

OLD-TIME SALOON.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of requesting the Governor and his so-called "Liquor Commission" to see to it that the old-time saloon is never again allowed in Boston.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, as I have commented before, it is a serious question just what we can do and what our powers are, aside from acting as a broadcasting station, after we pass the budget. Last week we had on the front page of the Boston Globe an article speaking of the wonders of the saloon, saying that it was the hearthstone of American homes. We have now at the State House a commission and legislative committees working upon a possible plan for bringing back beer. I am anxious to see what we can do to eliminate certain possible evils that may result from beer being brought back. It is a question that is agitating many parts of this country. In New York State, under Governor Lehman, they passed the "perpendicular law," under which a man can no longer stand up at the bar in New York. The Hon. David I. Walsh, the senior Senator from Massachusetts, has brought out the fact, time and time again, that prohibition was brought upon America on account of the saloon, and that when prohibition was done away with the saloon must be eliminated. From an East Boston senator we have heard about the grandeur, if you will, of the old-time saloon! One would think that it was one of the finest institutions the world ever saw. Well, over there we had Father Fitton, who organized an athletic club primarily to cope with the saloons in East Boston and keep the boys out of them. I think it is about time that we stopped this glorification of the most iniquitous institution ever known in the public life of America, and that we do what we can by action and words to see to it that it is eliminated in the future.

President McGRATH—The order will be referred to the Committee on Rules.

INVESTMENTS OF SINKING FUNDS COMMISSIONERS.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Finance Commission be, and hereby is, requested to furnish the City Council with the following information:

A schedule of investments purchased by Board of Sinking Funds Commissioners in the year 1932, specifying for each purchase (1) date of purchase, (2) person or firm from which purchase was made, (3) name of security purchased, maturity, interest rate and par value, (4) price at which purchase was made, (5) total amount paid.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, three weeks ago I asked the City Treasurer to give us that data, it being a matter of interest to the Council to know just where these bonds have been bought and whom they were bought from. That information may be revealing. As yet we have received no answer. I understand that from the books down in the treasurer's office it is possible for a clerk in half an hour to take off this data, but three weeks have gone by and no answer has been received. I would now like to ask that the Finance Commission of the City of Boston be requested to obtain that information for this body.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

NAMING OF CIRCLE.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston consider the advisability of naming the traffic circle at the junction of Jamaica way and Centre streets, after the late J. Edward Murray.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

STUDY OF PAVING DIVISION WORK.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Finance Commission be, and hereby is, requested to inform the City Council as to whether its consulting engineer has made a study of the work of the Paving Division for the year 1932 and that if such a study has been made a copy be furnished the City Council.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I think it would be possible and might be advisable to get the advice of an expert engineer as to how the money of the City of Boston has been wasted on the paving industry. I understand there is a report over there that may be very interesting to the members of the Council. You have heard today about the great efforts that have been made to save the taxpayers' money.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

INCREASE OF WOOD PULP RATE.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston consider the advisability of requesting the Corporation Counsel to immediately file a protest with the Interstate Commerce Commission against the action of the New England Freight Association in voting to increase the railroad rate on "Import" and "Intercoastal" wood pulp, 2 cents per 100 pounds, which will allow Portland, Maine, and Baltimore, Maryland, to enjoy a rate two cents lower than Boston.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

MORATORIUM ON FORECLOSING OF MORTGAGES.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston consider the advisability of requesting the Massachusetts Legislature to consider the passage of a bill declaring a one-year moratorium on foreclosures of mortgages on homes in this state.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CONFERENCE ON YOUTH PROBLEM.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston consider the advisability of requesting the Police Commissioner to consider the matter of calling a conference to discuss the methods of handling the youth problem in Boston during the present depression.

In connection with the above Coun. NORTON submitted the following and by unanimous consent was allowed to have same incorporated in the records:

December 20, 1932.

Police Commissioner Eugene Hultman,
Boston, Mass.

Dear Commissioner,—A short time ago a number of boys, members of an athletic association of Hyde Park, were arrested for gambling in their clubroom. The boys, mostly unemployed, were playing "penny ante." Not over $2 was found on the entire group. The door on the street level was open when the police entered, made the arrests, and called the patrol wagon. I have no complaint whatever to make against the police, because they merely did what they considered to be their duty.

The boys who were arrested were of good character. All of them were born and raised in the district, and few, if any, had ever been in any trouble before. Some of them told me that they had been preparing for months to take civil service examinations, and that a police record against them would bar them possibly.

This incident brought to mind an unusual condition that exists not only in our district, but in all cities of the country as a result of the economic depression. Hundreds of boys become discouraged at going to Boston every day and applying at employment agencies for work, so they remain at home. Never have we had such high-grade youths unable to obtain employment. In many cases, around the house, the mother finds fault, insinuating that the boy should be out looking for work, and, at night, the father comes home and often he joins in nagging the boy. To escape all this, the youngster takes to the street corner where he meets his friends.

When the boys stand on a street corner, a policeman may come along or a police car drive up, and the group is ordered to "move on!"

The police are active because perhaps a merchant has complained of an idle crowd standing near his business; or perhaps a woman has complained of some "wise-crack" that was made as she passed the group. Ninety-nine out of every one hundred boys in the group are good lads, but the one exception makes all suffer alike. It is hard for the police to tell just who is who, so all are told to "move on!"

To try to give certain boys a place in which to meet for a few hours at night was one of the reasons for the establishing of quarters by the athletic association referred to, but with none too good results.

Our district has been severely affected by the depression. All our factories are shut down or on part time. Skeleton forces of men are employed only a day or two a week. The boys at home, being unable to find work, naturally get discouraged, and some of them leave, after months and months of loafing, for parts unknown. More than one hundred boys have left our district in the past year in order to make one less mouth to feed at home, or to try and find a job "somewhere." Imagine the worry and suffering that this brings to mothers and fathers who have toiled and struggled for years to raise a family decently and then see the boy leave home under these circumstances.

Apparently the problem is nation-wide. Grace Abbott, chief of the Children's Bureau of the United States Department of Labor, writing in the August, 1932, issue of "The Ladies' Home Journal," states: "Unless there is some constructive planning, thousands of young people who graduated into unemployment will seek escape from intolerable home conditions."

In the same publication, Mr. E. D. Rockwell of the Southern Pacific Railroad is quoted as saying, "That he has observed more than ten thousand freight-train riders passing his post in a month," and he estimates that 75 per cent of them are minors. The same issue quotes Dr. W. A. McMillen of the University of Chicago, who is cooperating with the Children's Bureau in the study of why children are taking to the "road," as stating that "The large number of American youth now on the 'road' can be compared only to the roving bands of Russian children that have been such a problem in that country."

Officials calculate that there are over two hundred thousands of American youth wandering along the highways today.

Most of these boys are not of the old-time professional loafer and itinerant class. After a recent study, perhaps the most exhaustive of its kind yet made, Alida G. Bowler of the United States Children's Bureau states that "They are amazingly good boys." Father Coughlin and Rev. James I. Corrigan, Professor of Sociology at Boston College, have also commented on the seriousness of this problem.

The chief of the Children's Bureau states that constructive planning is necessary or thousands more of our youth will seek escape from intolerable home conditions. I believe the police may be of assistance in this planning. Perhaps they can suggest areas in which youth can assemble during certain hours, and make other suggestions.

With this thought in mind, Mr. Commissioner, might I respectfully suggest that you consider the advisability of having a study made of this youth problem.

I feel sure that public-spirited citizens, such as Rev. George O'Connor of Dedham, Mass., formerly head of the Catholic Charitable Bureau in Boston, and now serving the American Legion nationally as a specialist on certain problems of youngsters, Dr. William Healy of the Judge Baker Foundation, Boston, an outstanding expert on certain phases of the problems of youth, called in by Attorney Clarence Darrow in a world-famous case and presented to the Court as perhaps knowing as much about certain of the problems of youth as any other living man, would be willing to assist.

No city of America has such a wealth of expert knowledge on this youth problem as has Boston. At the Deer Island Prison is Master George F. A. Mulcahy, the most successful master from the standpoint of understanding the youthful prisoner and all-round executiveship that we have had for many a day. Where for years there was chaos and confusion, he has brought order and discipline tempered with humanity.

A few miles from Boston, at Norfolk, is the new State Prison, with less bars and cells than any prison in America if not the world. I understand that not one revolver is kept inside the prison walls by officers. Col. Howard Gill, in charge of this prison, handles prisoners, especially the younger ones, without a surplusage of dangling handcuffs, massive locks, cannon revolvers, prohibitive bars and gloomy cells, and, as a result, sends the boys back to society better citizens. Here in Boston is Prof. Sheldon Glueck of Harvard, who, with his wife, collaborated in presenting to the science of penology an epochal work in the study of contemporary reformatory methods. After an exhaustive survey the Gluecks ascertained that 80 per cent of the prisoners released from the Massachusetts Concord Reformatory over a certain period were not reformed, but years later were still carrying on their criminal activities. These experts have studied youth, and perhaps some of them, in some way, can be of assistance in the handling of this problem. I am sure if you request their assistance, any or all will be glad to cooperate with you.

Over forty-two thousand arrests are made in Boston yearly and many of these are mere youths. Perhaps a policy could be worked out that would save some of these boys from a public record.

It is because I desire every youth in my district to respect the police officer and a continuance of the cooperative feeling that now exists, that I venture to suggest to you that perhaps this conference might arrive at a formula that would allow a more lenient and scientific policy to be pursued and one that would redound to the mutual benefit of the police, the youth and the citizenry of our city. The problem is nation-wide. Mere discussion of it here in Boston may tend to bring a temporizing effect.

Respectfully,

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON RULES.

Coun. LYNCH, for the Committee on Rules, submitted the following:

The Committee on Rules, to whom was referred March 13, 1933, the order to authorize the special committee on hospitals to investigate the Long Island Hospital, having considered the subject, respectfully report that the order ought not to pass.

The committee makes this recommendation for reasons which they feel are based on common sense and a full appreciation of the limitations imposed on the Council by the City Charter.

The City Charter of 1909 provided a body, the Finance Commission, which has the duty and the power to investigate the city departments or the acts of any of its officers. It has been uniformly ruled by each Corporation Counsel since the adoption of that charter that the City Council was thereby excluded from making formal investigation of departments and expressly prohibited from investigations by the sections forbidding interference with the executive or administrative work of the city.

Whether or not the individual members of the Council agree with this ruling is beside the point. The fact remains that the departments and the Council are bound by it. The result of these provisions of the City Charter and the commonly accepted interpretation of them is that the responsibility of the Council ends with the appropriations of money for city departments and city purposes. The responsibility for the proper expenditure of these appropriations rests upon the Mayor and his department heads.

For a committee of the Council to attempt to investigate the Institutions Department without the power to require the attendance of department heads and employees or other witnesses appears to the committee to be futile and inadvisable, especially as an investigation has already been made by the Finance Commission, and a report submitted to the Mayor on February 17, 1933, and to the Council on March 13, 1933.

A much more serious consideration, however, is involved in this matter than the adoption or defeat of the order.

As the situation now stands the Council is entirely relieved, both legally and in the minds of the public, from responsibility for the proper or improper conduct of the city departments. An investigation or series of investigations, even though handicapped by lack of authority to summons witnesses, gives the general impression that the Council not only should not have allowed such faults as might be discovered, but also had the power to correct them, which is indisputably not a fact.

The committee therefore are opposed to assuming responsibility without power, and believes that the Council and its committees should confine themselves to inquiries of and conferences with the various departments on matters that may require correction, and should engage in no formal investigations.

The committee accordingly recommend that the order be rejected.

Respectfully,
EDWARD M. GALLAGHER.
WILLIAM H. BARKER.
GEORGE W. ROBERTS (Not in full accord with the reasons stated herein).
WILLIAM G. LYNCH, Chairman.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I have listened with interest to the report of the Committee on Rules, stating that an order introduced by Councilor Fish about two weeks ago asking that the duly appointed Hospital Committee of this Council look into the serious charges that have been made against the conduct and treatment of the inmates of the hospital, charges made by a gentleman of high repute who has been connected with the establishment for a number of years, should not be passed. It is all very well and good, Mr. President, for any member of the Council to rise and say that hospitals or Long Island institutions are not our business. But when the people elect us as City Councilors they do so feeling that we ought to know the conditions in such institutions, and that it is prima facie our business to have that knowledge. We have in this city, Mr. President, the unique situation of a Mayor appointing every department head without confirmation of any kind from this honorable body. As a result, we have seen him appoint a Corporation Counsel in 1930 and give to him an increase from $9,000 to $10,000 per annum, and in return for that Sammie Silverman, the Corporation Counsel of Boston, has to render and submit to the Mayor reports that the Mayor wants him to submit. That is, in return for his appointment by the Mayor and the salary of $10,000 which is given him, he gives his ten cents' worth of legal knowledge to the Mayor. The $20,000 official who presides over us as Mayor appoints this $10,000 salaried Corporation Counsel, and the $10,000 Corporation Counsel says what the Mayor wants him to say. We have the Committee on Rules, naturally friendly to the Mayor, who wouldn't want anything done in connection with Long Island which would reflect on the administration or on the Commissioner. And, of course, we can't expect to have anything done by the Finance Commission across the street, a useless body that steals $50,000 a year for supposedly protecting the taxpayers of Boston; a body with a worthless chairman, a personal friend of the Mayor of Boston, Frank A. Goodwin, who receives $5,000 a year, and who has been, I can say publicly without contradiction, for the last three years the partner in crime of the Mayor of Boston. I suppose in this matter the Finance Commission will protect the Mayor. But I say conditions at the Long Island Hospital affect people in my district, that conditions affecting the old men and women at Long Island are my business, and I don't care who disagrees with me. I say it is my business to look out for these elderly persons in the sundown of life, to see that they are not abused in this hospital that the taxpayers of Boston are maintaining and caring for; and I care not what a half-witted attorney at 11 Beacon street, named Silverman, receiving $10,000 a year of the taxpayers' money, may say. I care not for the opinion of a half-wit like Silverman on any matter. I consider matters affecting the people who sent me to this honorable body and the conclusions that our own intelligence brings us to far above anything that Silverman may offer. I say, Mr. President, that there has been a committee on hospitals established in this Council, and that I had absolutely nothing to do with the establishment of that committee. The committee was established long before I became a member of this honorable body. The Committee on Hospitals, when certain grave charges were made some years ago against certain officials of the Boston City Hospital, saw fit to investigate and trace down those charges to the very bottom, and certain very important conclusions were arrived at at that time. Certainly the public of Boston want to have an investigation of any grave charges of abuse or mismanagement made against any high officials in the public life of our city, matters dealing particularly with the poor and unfortunate of Boston, and they want such matters to be brought out into the open. They feel positive that when they recommend certain changes and certain things to the Mayor of Boston, with the aid of the Boston papers, any evils existing in institutions, so reported upon, will be corrected. Of course, unless the Committee on Hospitals is allowed to perform its proper functions it should be abolished. No loan order dealing with hospital construction has been referred to that committee, and its only apparent function as a hospital committee at the present time is to look into just such matters as we are now referring to. That appears to be about the only function of the committee, and if there was not something wrong down at Deer Island, there would not be an attempt on the part of the Mayor of Boston and his subordinates to bush the affair up. I understand—regardless of what the little law student up the street says—that the chairman of the Hospital Committee can at any time call a meeting of that committee and ask anybody who has complaints to offer to come before the committee. Accordingly, regardless of how this Committee on Rules reports, regardless of whether it is accepted or rejected,—although I hope the report is rejected,—regardless of how it comes out, the chairman of the Hospital Committee intends to call a public meeting some day this week and let anybody who has any complaint against Long Island affairs come before that committee, regardless of how the matter may come out. So I sincerely hope, Mr. President and members of the Council, that this report of the Committee on Rules, which makes the Hospital Committee appear farcical, like a nonexistent group of men,—although presumed to be appointed by you, sir, as a serious committee of this body,—will be rejected.

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, as a member of the committee who signed the report with reservations on the question of the authority of the City Council to investigate these matters I wish to say that I am firmly convinced that the City Council has authority to investigate any matters that concern the appropriations made by this body. The real practical situation, of course, is first, that the City Council is provided with no funds to carry on such investigations, and, second, there is also a serious question whether we have power to compel the attendance of witnesses at such a hearing. My reason for signing the report is that on February 17 of this year the Finance Commission made a report to the Mayor, a detailed report, in regard to the Long Island Hospital, a copy of which was sent to the Council on March 13. It covers quite a few pages and many recommendations which the Finance Commission make as a result of the investigation. There are four recommendations at the end of the report, as follows:

"1. That your Honor consider the advisability of reorganizing the Institutions Department and the Penal Institutions Department so as to enable the city to eliminate unnecessary executive positions.

"2. That your Honor reduce the number employed in connection with the Long Island Hospital.

"3. That your Honor establish an orderly administration of the Long Island Hospital.

"4. That your Honor reduce the expensive maintenance of the Training School for Nurses at Long Island."

There are four specific, concrete recommendations, and to back up those recommendations are detailed reports of abuses by the authorities in charge of Long Island and as to the excessive amount of help at the island. If the Mayor of Boston is serious in regard to economy, there are no less than twenty specific cases pointed out in this report where he can reduce expense. Therefore, I am willing to stand on the Finance Commission's report.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, being the sponsor of the order to investigate Long Island, I wish to say that I did so because I felt that there was something radically wrong in the administration of the island. I, for one, am not willing to abide by Mr. Silverman's decision, and I don't see why we should. We have a hospital committee. What is it for if not to investigate anything that goes wrong in our hospital institutions? There is something wrong down there and something should be done about it. I sincerely hope the chairman of the Hospital Committee will call a meeting for investigation, regardless of Sam Silverman.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I am just in receipt of a letter from the city of Pittsburgh, a city three or four times the area of Boston, and with practically about the same population. Boston has about twenty thousand employees; Pittsburgh is run with less than ten thousand employees.

President McGRATH—The question is on accepting the report of the committee. The order was referred to the Committee on Rules and that committee has voted to reject the order.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, somebody has asked how the statement I made was germane to the matter under discussion. The able councilor has called attention to the fact that, according to the report that has been made, there is a superfluity of employees at Long Island. It now appears that in one of the other major cities of America of a size comparable to that of Boston, they have but half the employees that we have here.

Coun. POWER—Mr. President, I would like to ask the councilor a question. Would you recommend cutting the number of city employees of Boston from 20,000 to 10,000?

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, that is a very fair question, and I do not duck questions. I do not recommend firing one city employee. My answer is that employees can be placed on a five or a four day week. I am interested in firing nobody, but, conversely, I am interested in hiring nobody.

The report was accepted and the order rejected. Coun. KELLY doubted the vote and asked for the yeas and nays.

President McGRATH—The question is on the rejection of the order. Those in favor of rejection of the order will say "yes," those opposed "no," and the clerk will call the roll.

The order was rejected, yeas 14, nays 2:

Yeas—Coun. Barker, Brackman, Curtis, Donovan, Dowd, Englert, Green, Hein, Lynch, McGrath, Norton, Power, Roberts, Ruby—14.

Nays—Coun. Fish, Kelly—2.

Adjourned at 4:06 p. m., on motion of Coun. CURTIS, to meet on Monday, April 3, 1933, at 2 p. m.

PROCEEDINGS OF SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

March 20, 1933.

A regular meeting of the School Committee of the City of Boston was held in the Administration Building, 15 Beacon Street, at 9.06 o'clock P. M., the Chairman presiding.

Present. Messrs. Hurley, Mackey, Mrs. Pigeon, Messrs. Reilly, and Tobin.

PROPOSED NEW HIGH SCHOOL IN WEST ROXBURY-ROSLINDALE.

At the suggestion of the Chair, the Committee departed from its regular procedure in order to hear Mrs. Eunice W. Alden, Chairman of the West Roxbury-Roslinale High School Committee.

Mrs. Alden: On December 12, 1932, a group of citizens representing fourteen civic organizations of Roslindale and West Roxbury petitioned the Boston School Committee for a High School in their district. In response to this request, the Boston School Committee petitioned the Legislature to grant a $1,000,000 bond issue to provide for the building of a high school in this district, and requested the members of the civic organizations to stand behind the School Committee petition. This we have done to the best of our ability.

The need for a high school in this section of Boston cannot be denied. 2770 children of high school age are now compelled to go outside the district. It embraces parts of wards 18 and 19 and all of ward 20, the largest ward in Boston. It is the only geographical unit of the city which has been deprived of so necessary an institution.

Under normal conditions, it would seem that no reasonable argument could be advanced to prevent immediate construction. But in view of present necessary economic tendencies in national, state and municipal governments, the committee sponsoring this measure feels that it is its patriotic duty to co-operate with the leaders of the nation in the curtailment of municipal building at the present time. It, therefore, recommends that the School Committee withdraw for this year the petition now before the Legislature.

This committee, however, would respectfully urge the School Committee to make every effort possible to purchase as soon as possible a desirable central location for a high school, while land is both available and comparatively reasonable, and assure the citizens of Roslindale and West Roxbury that they will receive first consideration when a high school building program is resumed.

Mrs. Pigeon: I wish to commend highly the action taken by Mrs. Alden and her committee of the West Roxbury-Roslinale district, and I am proposing now for consideration at our next conference that we take immediate action as to the purchase of a site for the West Roxbury-Roslinale high school in view of the fact that we did, in 1927, appropriate $100,000 for such a site.

Chairman: Thank you, Mrs. Pigeon. With reference to the first part of Mrs. Alden's statement, I might state that the Committee has agreed to ask the legislative committee for leave to withdraw, in accordance with the request of the West Roxbury citizens.

Lacey, Head Master, Jamaica Plain High School, on his attendance at the annual meeting of the Department of Secondary School Principals of the National Education Association, held at Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 27 to Mar. 3, 1933.

Placed on file.

Chairman: With reference to Mr. Lacey's report, I wish to state that the comments which he made at that meeting were extensively reviewed in the local newspapers in the West, and were followed up by very approving comments in the Boston papers. Boston was certainly well represented by Mr. Lacey at that convention.

YIDDISH - SPEAKING SUPERVISOR OF ATTENDANCE

On behalf of the Committee, the Chairman would state that after a long discussion in which several plans were proposed, the following agreement has been reached by the Committee:

The School Committee unanimously agreed to request the Division of Civil Service to hold an examination for a Yiddish-speaking supervisor of attendance as soon as possible. This proposed appointment will not be an addition to personnel as there is to be a retirement to take effect Aug. 31, 1933.

Mr. Hurley: I assume that that examination will be subject to the provisions of the Veterans' Preference Act.

Mrs. Pigeon: I give notice that at the time of appointment, I shall ask that the requisition be made for certification from the women's list.

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

Dr. Mackey offered the following:

ORDERED, That from now on, no appointment of teachers shall be made to the Boston school service where the individuals on the eligible lists are not bona fide residents of the city on Mar. 27, 1933.

Speaking to his motion, Dr. Mackey said:

This action on my part in no way affects the large number of non-resident teachers now in our schools who have received permanent appointments in the past, or prior to this meeting.

All other cities and towns in Massachusetts are filling vacancies in the teaching force by appointing bona fide residents. The continuing depression, causing widespread unemployment, compels each city or town to take care of its own residents.

In so far as Boston is concerned, the large number of qualified Boston teachers seeking positions, and the few positions actually available, make it possible for our schools to secure the very best material. There is no opportunity at the present time for any thoroughly qualified Boston teacher to secure a position in a city or town outside of Boston.

May I emphasize that this action on my part in no way disturbs the large number of non-residents now teaching in Boston who have received permanent appointments in past years and prior to this meeting. May I also emphasize that the very large number of candidates enables us to get the very best teachers from among bona fide residents of the city who are now on our eligible lists with very high marks. My action is not intended to tie the hands of the Superintendent of Schools where he believes that a resident teacher may not have all the qualifications to fill a teaching position.

Dr. Mackey's motion was seconded by Mr. Tobin.

Mr. Hurley: I think this should be made clear. In June of 1930, the School Committee passed an order by which no non-resident could be appointed who was not on our eligible lists or in The Teachers College on Jan. 1, 1931. As I understand this order of Dr. Mackey's, it will deprive those non-residents who were on our lists on that date, or in The Teachers College, of their chances for appointment. Am I correct in that understanding?

Dr. Mackey: Yes. If they are not bona fide residents on Mar. 27 of this year, then they are off the list for appointment.

Mr. Hurley: These are the only non-residents that have been appointed since Jan. 1, 1931, are they not?

Chairman: Yes.

On roll call, Dr. Mackey's motion passed by the following vote:

YEAS—Messrs. Hurley, Mackey, Mrs. Pigeon, Messrs. Tobin and Reilly—5.

NAYS—0.

JAMAICA SPENDS $1,000,000 ANNUALLY ON ROAD CONSTRUCTION AND MAINTENANCE.

Jamaica, an English possession, has a highway system which is almost entirely constructed of waterbound macadam, some 70 miles of which has been surface-treated. Many of the roads are under the supervision of the Department of Public Works and various parochial boards. There are about 2,500 miles of bridle and foot paths. The highway system connects all parts of the island in a very satisfactory manner, and the problem is not that of the construction of new roads, but the improvement of old ones, the surfacing and widening of these roads, and protective coatings. The roads are well maintained and, as there are not many heavy trucks, the maintenance is satisfactory. There are approximately 4,000 miles of highways, or 1.11 square miles of area to one mile of highway.

About a million dollars per year is spent on new construction and maintenance, the machinery used being both European and American.

(From a report of the American Road Builders' Association.)

ARMY CURTAILS PARTICIPATION IN AIRPORT OPENINGS.

The many calls upon the Army Air Corps for cooperation and participation in airport opening celebrations has made it necessary for Assistant Secretary F. Trubee Davison to curtail this activity. Consequently, the announcement was recently made that Air Corps airplanes would no longer participate in municipal airport dedications in cities of less than 50,000 population. Mr. Davison stated that he regretted taking this step but that airport dedications had become so numerous that the Army found itself unable to meet the demands for airplanes and pilots for exhibition flights. "If we did not put a brake on this activity," he said, "the military usefulness of our pilots would be impaired and the Air Corps would be transformed into a flying circus."

BOSTON INCORPORATED AS A CITY, 1822.

The act of incorporation was passed by the Legislature on February 23, 1822. On March 4 following, the voters of Boston accepted said act, chapter 110, 1821-22, as its first city charter by a majority of 916 in a total vote of 4,678. The vote was 2,797 yeas, 1,881 nays. Previous attempts to incorporate as a city had been made in 1650, 1659, 1667, 1708, 1744, 1762, 1784, 1791, 1804 and 1815. The charter was revised in 1854, 1885 and 1909. Amendments to the 1909 charter were enacted in 1910, 1912, 1914, 1918, 1919, 1921, 1922 and lastly in 1924 (see "Municipal Register" for 1928, pages 19-43).

KANSAS CITY WINS POLICE HOME RULE.

The Supreme Court of Missouri has given Kansas City control of its police department.

For years those who wanted the city to operate and control its own police department had been going to the Legislature regularly with bills which would end state control. But conditions were never just right. The city raised the question of the constitutionality of the law under which the department has operated, and the Court held the law unconstitutional in a five-to-two opinion.

The police department of Kansas City had been under the control of the state since 1874. Under the law as it has existed in recent years, the department was administered by a commission of three members, two appointed by the governor and the mayor, ex officio.

The city attacked the law on the ground that it delegated legislative powers to an administrative board. In this contention the city was upheld, the court holding that the limitations in the law were not sufficiently definite to prevent the commissioners from making almost unlimited demands on the city treasury.

CHICAGO POLICE REORGANIZED.

Many improvements have recently taken place in the organization and administration of the Police Department of Chicago, Ill.

Although the numerical strength of the force has been reduced in the last two years approximately from 6,700 to 6,000, the number of men on foot patrol has been increased 150 per cent, being now about 1,900. The efficiency of the department has been further increased by adding to the number of patrol cars and by placing in operation an extensive police radio system. There are now some 100 small patrol cars and fifty large high-powered ones equipped with radio. Furthermore, 20 per cent of the present force constitutes new blood in the department. The average age has been lowered, and a greater proportion of young men will be encouraged by the reduction of the admission age to a range of twenty-one to twenty-nine years, from the former limits of twenty-three to thirty-five, approximately. Civil service methods in disciplining new policemen are better, and a more thorough check-up on the character of those examined is made.

UNITED STATES TO HAVE TENTH MUNICIPAL UNIVERSITY.

The tenth municipal university in the United States is being planned by Omaha, Neb., whose citizens have approved plans for the establishment of a four-year university, to be supported by a mill tax. The following are the nine municipal universities or colleges known to exist at the present time in the United States, in order of their establishment on the municipal basis: College of Charleston (South Carolina), 1837; University of Louisville (Kentucky), 1837; College of the City of New York, 1847; Hunter College of the City of New York, 1870; University of the City of Cincinnati (Ohio), 1871; University of Toledo (Ohio), 1884; University of Akron (Ohio), 1913; University of the City of Detroit (Michigan), 1923; Municipal University of Wichita (Kansas), 1926.

MASSACHUSETTS BAY COLONY.

The first chartered colony in New England, charter granted by Charles I on March 4, 1629. About a year before, a patent had been granted to six prominent men of Dorchester, west of England, among whom was Capt. John Endicott. He sailed in June, 1628, with a party of fifty or sixty persons, arriving in September and settling at Naumkeag, afterward named Salem. In the spring of 1629, the Bay Company fitted out three ships conveying about four hundred persons and arriving at Salem in June. Endicott sent a small party to effect a settlement on the Bay in Mishawum, afterward named by the settlers Charlestown, the first town in New England to assume the town polity, Plymouth and Salem being governed by a governor and council. Endicott was appointed in London as the first resident governor on April 30, 1629. The Massachusetts Bay Company was reorganized in London on October 20, 1629, when John Winthrop was chosen as governor. He arrived at Salem on June 12, 1630, soon proceeded to Charlestown with a large following and finding that place unsuitable, finally settled in Boston. Winthrop served thirteen years as governor in four different periods ending in 1649 and Endicott fifteen years at various times ending in 1665. Other governors were Thomas Dudley, Richard Bellingham, John Haynes, Henry Vane, John Leverett and Simon Bradstreet, the latter serving twelve years until 1692 when the Bay Colony and the Plymouth Colony were merged, becoming the Royal Province of Massachusetts Bay, which existed eighty-two years to 1774, the governors being appointed by the King.

The name, Massachusetts, is Indian and signifies "near the big hills."

FAILURE TO MAINTAIN CITY STREETS IS FALSE ECONOMY.

Money now saved by failure to maintain city streets, in response to the clamor of citizens for tax reduction, represents a trivial economy in comparison with the enormous outlay that will be required to rebuild such thoroughfares later. Taxpayers in some municipalities, determined to reduce public expenditures, have gone so far as to insist upon elimination of funds sorely needed for the maintenance of existing streets. In other places, even though money for street maintenance is available, powerful minority groups are demanding that it be not spent under present conditions.—The American City.

METHODS OF ELIMINATING GRADE-CROSSING ACCIDENTS.

Five suggestions aimed at the elimination of grade-crossing accidents are offered in the monthly report of the Street Traffic Committee of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce.

It is estimated that curing the grade-crossing evil would reduce traffic accidents by 10 per cent in a very short time, and the Committee presents the following five points for discussion:

1. Do away with those grade crossings which have the heaviest traffic.
2. Place warning signs not less than 500 feet back from the railroad tracks.
3. Take down all signs from obsolete trackage.
4. Use traffic-light signals (operated by trains) instead of signs, if there are fewer than five trains per day.
5. Consider scrapping all railroad signs in favor of signals for use only when train is approaching.

"The last two points merit consideration first, because, though they are new doctrines, they seem the least expensive and most practical of application."

THE POLICE OFFICER AND THE CITIZEN.

The importance of the police as conspicuous representatives of the municipal government, and the qualities desirable in such a relationship, were pointed out by City Manager Willard F. Day of Staunton, Va., in addressing the recent convention of the Virginia Police Executives' Association. He said in part:

"It is unquestionably true that the man on the street, the public, the visitor and the home citizen alike, form first and in many cases lasting impressions of the local government by contacts with the police."

FALSE ECONOMIC PROPOSALS.

Danger to both the immediate and the long-run efficiency of fire departments and to the security of the community itself lies in many if not most of the proposals of taxpayers' representatives attacking the budgetary provisions for municipal fire protection. The gravity of this menace was emphasized by Jay W. Stevens, California State Fire Marshal and Executive Secretary of the International Association of Fire Chiefs, in an address on "Maintaining Fire Department Efficiency," given before the recent convention of that organization.

CITY RECORD

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 25.

SATURDAY, APRIL 15, 1933.

No. 15

APPROPRIATION LIMIT REQUEST OF LEGISLATURE FOR CURRENT YEAR PLACED TENTATIVELY AT $37,464,640.41 — THIS IS $7,055,316.40 LESS THAN BUDGET ESTIMATES OF 1932 AND $3,197,981.19 LESS THAN TOTAL ALLOWANCES FOR LAST YEAR—MAYOR AND BUDGET DEPARTMENT SEND REPORT TO LEGISLATURE AND HEARING BEFORE COMMITTEE HAS BEEN HELD.

At the request of Mayor Curley, city officials, including Charles J. Fox, Budget Commissioner, appeared before the Committee on Municipal Finance of the Legislature to urge the fixing of the appropriation limit for the City of Boston for the year 1933, so as to carry on the municipal work. At the same time the officials filed with the committee a brief outlining the situation, and presenting the needs of the city. The appropriation limit, as called for in the brief, set forth that the limit in the needs for the city this year is estimated at $37,464,640.41, which is $7,055,316.40 less than the estimates of last year and $3,197,981.19 less than the total allowances. The officials decided upon an "appropriation limit," rather than a "tax limit," as being a clearer and simpler presentation of the city's needs. The brief, in full, is as follows:

April 12, 1933.

To the Honorable the Committee on Municipal Finance, State House, Boston, Mass.

GENTLEMEN,— Under the provisions of House Bill 285 it is proposed that the amount to be expended by the City of Boston for the maintenance of municipal activities and services during the year 1933 shall be established through the medium of an "appropriation limit," that is to say, a definite sum of money representing what, in the opinion of the responsible officials of the city, is the total needed to meet the necessary budget requirements of the year. This proposal marks a distinct departure from the policy which has prevailed for a number of years, namely, the authorization by the Legislature of an amount designated as the "tax limit," which when applied to the average valuation of the city for the past three years produces an amount which represents the limit the city may appropriate by direct taxation for municipal purposes. This change in method is proposed because, in the opinion of the officials of the city, an "appropriation limit" serves the same purpose as a "tax limit," and at the same time is a more simple, direct and understandable method for determining the limit beyond which the city may not go in making appropriations for city departments.

Everything else being equal, the amount requested as an "appropriation limit" should approximate or equal the total of the municipal budget. Because of this fact, any discussion concerning the "appropriation limit" should focus attention immediately on the budget. Under an "appropriation limit" request, the issue is clear cut and distinct, the one question being whether the budget on which the "appropriation limit" is based represents a reasonable program for the maintenance of city activities. With a "tax limit," however, the issue is apt to be confused, because of the possibility of extraneous matters creeping into the discussion incident to fixing the limit. The experience of the last fifteen years clearly indicates how such subjects as use of back taxes, methods of determining surplus, conservatism in the auditor's estimate of income, etc., have received so much attention that at times the budget itself has to all intents and purposes been relegated into the background. Because of the many factors entering into the "tax limit," it is hard for the ordinary layman to understand just what it really means and what purpose it serves. With an "appropriation limit," however, there can be no misunderstanding, since the amount requested as a limit represents the total deemed necessary for the conduct of the business of the city.

The establishment of an "appropriation limit" affords a standard and consistent basis for drawing comparisons between budgets of different years. If in any year the limit requested represents an advance over the limit of the previous year, it is clear that increased budget requirements are the sole reason behind the advance. An increased "tax limit" request, however, does not necessarily reflect an advance in the budget, since the increase may be due to such factors as a shrinkage in assessed valuations, a falling off in departmental revenues, a statutory change in the method of computing the limit, or the absence of a cash surplus which was available for appropriation in the previous year. In short, the determination of the amount available for appropriation under the "tax limit" involves a complicated formula, the component parts of which are subject to wide variation from year to year.

The officials of the city favor the adoption of an "appropriation limit" because they believe such action will not only simplify the procedure connected with the annual determination of just how much Boston may appropriate for maintenance purposes, but will also establish a clear and definite basis for comparing and understanding the fluctuations which are bound to occur from year to year in the budget of a metropolitan city. LETTER OF MAYOR TO LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE.

APPROPRIATION LIMIT REQUEST.

As previously stated, an appropriation limit should equal or approximate the total of the municipal budget. As indicated in Exhibit A, the tentative departmental budget allowances for the current year total $37,464,640.41. This total represents a reduction of $7,055,316.40 in the estimates submitted by departmental heads and officers to the Mayor, and is $3,197,981.19 less than the total departmental allowances for 1932. This latter amount may be said to consist of two separate and distinct elements which are shown in the following table:

Reduction in ordinary department allotments.....	$3,949,338 51
Increase in allotments for Welfare and Relief, Pensions and Snow Removal.....	751,357 32
	$3,197,981 19

The savings represented by the reduction in ordinary department allotments have been secured in the following manner:

Reductions ranging from 5 per cent to 15 per cent in the salaries and wages of departmental employees.

Voluntary contributions for unemployment relief, during first three and a half months of the year, by city, school and county employees.

Permitting vacancies through death or retirements to remain unfilled, or if this is impossible, requiring new appointee to take over the duties of the position at a lower rate than that paid to the former incumbent.

Use of Public Welfare workers in place of seasonal temporary employees in the Park and Public Works Departments.

Granting compensatory time off rather than making cash payments to employees required to work overtime.

Covering of seasonal needs for additional clerical help in Assessing, Collecting, and Election Departments by temporary assignment of clerical workers from other departments.

Use of Parkman Fund for maintenance expenses.

Marked reduction in city planning activities.

Taking advantage of prevailing low market prices through anticipation of department requirements for a long period, and by advertising at one and the same time general departmental needs for commodities that may be purchased in bulk.

Readjustment in method of payment of clinic costs in the various health units.

Elimination of North Ferry.

Reduced street lighting rates resulting from conferences with public utility officials.

Revising downward allotment schedules for public celebrations.

Marked reduction in appropriations for new library books.

Confining purchases of new equipment to absolute necessities.

Readjustment in travel schedules of employees so as to effect savings in expenditures for car fares.

Extension of U-Dryvit System of motor transportation wherever feasible.

Discontinuance of activities at Rainsford Island.

Repairs to public buildings and departmental property confined to minimum maintenance requirements.

Reduction in compensation of election officials in polling places, owing to the fact the city election to be held this year will not impose upon these officials such a heavy burden as did the functions of 1932.

While, as indicated above, reductions approximating $4,000,000 have been effected in ordinary departmental allotments, the necessity for granting increased allowances for welfare and relief disbursements because of the continuance of the depression, the additional expense occasioned by the heavy snowstorms during the months of February and March, and the increase in the pension rolls of the city resulting from the initial announcement of salary reductions, have reduced the actual savings over the allotments for 1932 to approximately $3,200,000.

The budget herein presented provides for definite and specific appropriations totaling $37,464,640.41. In order that a slight margin of safety may be available in the event of contingencies arising during the year for which no specific provision is included in the budget, such as an election of delegates to the convention for the consideration of the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, it is respectfully requested that an "appropriation limit" of $37,500,000 be authorized for the maintenance of municipal functions and activities during the year 1933.

THE BUDGET FOR 1933.

The budget of the City of Boston is purely a maintenance budget, no appropriations of a capital nature being included. Appropriations as indicated in the schedule immediately following are made under eight main objects of expenditure. These main objects as indicated in Exhibit B are segregated or subdivided into eighty-eight specific items of expenditure.

The following schedule indicates in comparative form the group changes reflected in the budget of the current year as against those of last year.

* Includes contributions already made by city employees for unemployment relief totaling $400,000.
† Increase.

The following explanations are offered in connection with the changes reflected in the various groups listed in the schedule above.

PERSONAL SERVICE.

Pay roll allowances of the various city departments for 1933 are $2,601,752.97 less than similar allowances in 1932. This reduction is spread over the three items in the Personal Service group, as follows:

Permanent employees.....	$2,456,494 64
Temporary employees.....	109,913 77
Overtime and other work.....	35,344 56
	$2,601,752 97

According to Exhibit B appropriations for permanent pay rolls during the current year total $18,068,158. This is the lowest amount to be appropriated for this purpose since 1927, when approximately $18,250,000 was allotted. During the first three and one-half months of the current year city employees have made voluntary pay roll contributions of approximately $400,000, which will be utilized by the Public Welfare Department for the relief of unemployment. While this amount is included in the total shown as being appropriated for the salaries and wages of permanent employees, in a strict sense, because of the actual purpose for which it will be utilized, it should be shown under the heading of welfare disbursements. In other words, the actual appropriations which will be used for permanent pay rolls by city departments during the current year total approximately $17,668,000. In 1926 pay roll appropriations totaled $17,608,000, so that it can be stated the pay rolls of city departments as reflected in the 1933 budget have been reduced to the approximate level which existed seven years ago.

The following table indicates the approximate distribution of the various factors or elements entering into the reduction made this year in the permanent pay rolls of the city:

Salary decreases.....	$1,940,000 00
Vacancies allowed to remain unfilled.....	700,000 00
Anticipated savings (retirements, resignations, etc.).....	30,000 00
Vacancies filled at lower rates.....	20,000 00
Approximate gross savings.....	$2,690,000 00
Overlay from 1932.....	$200,000 00
New positions.....	30,000 00
	230,000 00
Approximate net reduction.....	$2,460,000 00

With the enactment of legislation authorizing the Mayor to put into effect a general reduction in the salaries and wages of all employees receiving compensation from the city treasury, it is planned, beginning April 14, to reduce municipal salaries and wages on a graduated scale, the reductions ranging from 5 per cent to 15 per cent. On a full year basis, it is estimated the contemplated schedule of reductions will effect pay roll savings in city departments of $2,675,000. For the balance of the current year the approximate net reduction in pay roll costs is estimated as shown in the above table to be $1,940,000. I have been consistent throughout the depression in my contention that lowering the purchasing power of the American public will not cure our economic ills. The fact that I am now about to reduce city salaries and wages does not mean that I have abandoned this contention. Notice has been served by the banking interests of the city that unless salaries and wages are reduced no further temporary loans will be granted, and, rather than have the poor and unfortunate suffer because of the inability of the city to make relief disbursements, I have agreed to salary reductions.

For over a year the policy of allowing, wherever possible, vacancies occurring through death, retirement, or other causes, to remain unfilled, has been steadfastly followed by department heads. As indicated in the previous table, it is estimated this policy has resulted in savings closely approximating $700,000. While the bulk of this saving is confined to departments like Police, Fire, Park and Public Works, nevertheless, it may be of interest to point out that the budget of thirty-five departments or divisions reflect savings of this character. The records of the Boston Retirement Board indicate that during the course of 1933, eighty-three employees will be retired under the provisions of the retirement system. While in some cases it will be necessary to fill these vacancies because of the fact they represent key positions in various departments, nevertheless, it is anticipated that savings of approximately $50,000 will be realized, either by allowing vacancies to remain unfilled, or requiring new appointees to take over the duties of the positions at lower rates than those paid to the present incumbents.

As indicated in the previous table, the gross pay roll savings reflected in the budget of 1933 are close to $2,700,000. The savings have been offset in a degree by overlay resulting from pay roll adjustments in 1932, and from the necessity of establishing new positions in certain city departments. The item of overlay listed in the foregoing schedule represents the additional cost for the year 1933 caused by personnel adjustments and the establishment of new positions during the year 1932. These adjustments and new appointments being made during the course of 1932 did not require appropriations on a full year basis. This year, however, full provision is necessary. Since this extra expense is the result of action taken in the previous year, the term "Overlay" is used to indicate the relationship between the additional charge and the budget of 1932.

In the budget of the current year it has been found necessary to establish new positions in four city departments. At the Sanatorium Division of the City Hospital in Mattapan, it has been necessary in order to comply with the regulations of the State Department of Public Health to increase the nursing staff of the institution by four positions. The steamer "Stephen O'Meara," which was formerly used by the Police Department as a police boat, has been transferred this year to the Institutions Department, to replace the steamer "George A. Hibbard," for service between the mainland and Long Island. Alterations are now being made in the boat to provide for an increased passenger carrying capacity. When these alterations have been completed and the boat is ready to be put in service, it will be necessary, under the regulations of the United States Steamboat Inspection Service, to provide an increase of five positions in the crew of the boat. The Boston Public Library has during the last few years experienced a marked impetus to the normal growth in its use in that the economic depression has brought to its doors greater numbers of people than ever before. During the period covered by the years 1930, 1931 and 1932 (the years of the depression) its circulation of books for home use has increased 40 per cent over that for 1929. This great increase in circulation has naturally placed a heavy strain and burden on the staff of the library, which has remained practically constant in so far as numbers and salary rates are concerned for the last three years. In the opinion of the Library Trustees, it is essential, if the efficiency of the library is to be maintained, that an appropriation be provided which will not only permit the employment of an increased number of subordinate workers to meet the peak loads of the increased demands upon the library, but which will also permit the establishment of essential and necessary executive positions. A survey conducted by the trustees of the library organization has disclosed that the staff is sparsely manned at the top, and that as a result those occupying executive positions are burdened with current activities to such a degree that little, if any, time remains available to consider changes or to effect improvements. In order to permit the trustees to carry out their plans for increasing the efficiency of the personnel of the library, an additional appropriation has been provided for this purpose in the library budget. In the central office building of the Public Welfare Department a third assistant engineer's position has been created in order to comply with the regulations of the state pertaining to the personnel of heating and power plants. This additional position will assure a full complement in the heating plant of the building during the three watches of the day.

Appropriations for the services of temporary employees in the 1933 budget reflect a reduction of approximately $110,000 from similar allowances in 1932. The three main factors responsible for this decrease are, first, only one election function will be conducted by the city this year, thus resulting in a considerable saving over 1932, when three functions were held; second, the contemplated closing of the North Ferry on May 1 removes the necessity for the employment of temporary members of the boat crews during vacation periods; and third, expansion in the use of Public Welfare workers in the Park and Public Works Departments will obviate the necessity of employing temporary seasonal workers in these two departments.

Appropriations for the payment of overtime and other departmental work have been reduced approximately $35,000 from similar allowances in 1932. This reduction is a natural result of a policy which has been in effect in the city now for over two years, namely, compensating employees who are obliged to work after regular hours by time off rather than by actual cash payments.

CONTRACTUAL SERVICE.

Appropriations for services rendered to the city by individuals and corporations during 1933 reflect a net decrease of approximately six hundred and fifty thousand dollars from similar appropriations for the previous year. While it has been necessary to make increased allowances in certain items within the group, the total of these increases has been more than offset by savings and reductions effected in other items. As is evident after an examination of the item allowances in this group as indicated in Exhibit B the important increases are to be found in three items. Because of the large number of estates on which taxes remained unpaid at the close of 1932, it is anticipated that the cost of advertising the annual tax sale in 1933 will be considerably higher than in former years. It has also been deemed necessary to provide increased allowances for the hire of motor vehicles to compensate for reduced allowances within departmental budgets for the purchase of new motor equipment. It is also anticipated that the cost of caring for city wards will be materially higher this year, due to the fact that the number of children now under the care of the Child Welfare Division of the Institutions Department is greater than ever before. As against these increases, reductions are reflected in the following items: A lesser number of election functions this year naturally permits a reduction in the allowances for the printing of voting lists and the rental of outside quarters used as polling places; in the matter of reimbursing employees for money expended for car fares while traveling in and around the city on official business, department heads have been instructed to arrange travel schedules and assignments so that this work may be carried on at a lesser expense to the city; lower street lighting costs have been secured by negotiations with the officials of the Edison and Gas Companies; savings have been anticipated in such items as repairs to departmental property and equipment, cleaning of uniforms, catch-basins, etc., because of prevailing low labor costs; this year's budget provides for a single contract charge for the disposal of waste as compared with a double charge in 1932; readjustments have been made in the cost of clinics conducted in various health units; and allowances for repairs to parks, playgrounds and public buildings have been limited to what may be termed absolute necessities.

EQUIPMENT.

A reduction of over 25 per cent has been made in departmental allowances for the purchase of new equipment. Whereas in 1932 in excess of $1,000,000 was allowed for the purchase of equipment, departmental allowances this year approximate $750,000. This reduction has been distributed over the entire group, because an examination of Exhibit B will disclose that in only two of the sixteen items making up this group have increased allowances been made. The item for machinery shows an increase because of an allowance for the purchase of two sewer cleaning machines in the Public Works Department. By the purchase of these machines a greater amount of catch-basin cleaning will be done by department forces, thus resulting in a reduction in the contract cost of performing this work. The increase which is found in the item for office equipment has been occasioned largely because of the necessity of providing, in the Public Welfare Department, a large appropriation for the purchase of modern office appliances and equipment. The abnormal expansion in the business of this department has naturally made necessary the development of an elaborate system of records. To efficiently maintain this system the purchase of equipment, such as typewriters, adding machines and addressographs, is not only desirable but essential. In other items within the group substantial reductions have been made in the allowances for the purchase of new motor vehicles throughout city departments, for the purchase of new books in the Library Department, and for the purchase and replacement of uniforms in the Police and Fire Departments. Savings are also reflected in the items covering the purchase of cable and wire for the signal systems of the Fire and Police Departments, and the replacement of furniture throughout city departments and institutions. In short, city departments during the current year will be limited in the purchase of new equipment to the barest necessities.

SUPPLIES.

Department allotments for the purchase of supplies reflect a reduction of over one-quarter of a million dollars from similar allowances in 1932. Although the increased postal rates, which went into effect in the latter part of last year, have necessitated increased allowances throughout city departments, and the great increase in the number of patients in our hospitals and institutions has made necessary increased allowances for medicinal supplies, nevertheless, by taking advantage of prevailing low market prices, and by the introduction of improved methods of purchasing, it has been possible to make substantial reductions in the appropriations for food stuffs and fuel, and thus show a material reduction in the total group allowance.

MATERIALS.

Appropriations for the purchase of materials used by department forces for the maintenance and repair of departmental property and equipment show a reduction of $42,425 from last year's allotments. This small reduction may be explained by the fact that in reducing allotments for repairs to be performed by outside contractors, it becomes necessary to provide departments with greater facilities for doing repair work with their own forces. As is indicated in Exhibit B an increased allowance has been made this year for the purchase of highway materials to be used in the maintenance and repair of city streets, because it is felt that since no appropriation for the Reconstruction of Streets is included in this year's budget it will be necessary for the Paving Division of the Public Works Department to expend more money in the repair and upkeep of the city pavements.

SPECIAL ITEMS.

The increase of approximately $700,000 which is reflected in the total of this group may be attributed to three specific items, Public Welfare allotments, Soldiers' Relief allowances, and noncontributory pension requirements. The budget as now compiled provides for welfare disbursements by the Public Welfare Department of $9,400,000. This appropriation, supplemented by city, school and county employees' pay roll contributions made during the first three and one-half months of this year, will mean that $10,100,000 will be raised in 1933 by direct taxation for the relief of needy families and individuals. While it is evident from the experience of the first quarter of the current year that this amount will not be sufficient to meet, on the basis of present allotments, the actual requirements of the Public Welfare Department, nevertheless, in the opinion of the financial officers of the city, the amount provided in the budget represents the maximum direct burden which the taxpayers of the city should be called upon to meet in 1933. During the past three years the staggering burden of unemployment relief has been financed, with the exception of contributions received from public-spirited citizens and organizations, by direct taxation. No material financial assistance has been received by the city from any outside source. Boston is practically the only large city in the country that has been required to provide for its needy and unfortunate from taxes and ordinary revenue. In other sections of the country state governments have come to the relief of overburdened cities, either by developing new sources of revenue or by securing grants from the Federal Government. Massachusetts is one of the few states in the Union that has persisted in the theory that unemployment relief is a matter of local concern. The continuance of the depression, and the fact that municipalities have borne without complaint for over three years the heavy financial burdens of the depression, should be sufficient to convince state officials of the wisdom of departing from this theory. The time has now arrived when material assistance should be rendered, either directly or indirectly, by the Commonwealth to its municipalities in order that they may be able to successfully cope with the extraordinary financial problems and burdens imposed upon them by existing conditions. Appropriations for Soldiers' Relief in the budget of the current year are approximately $175,000 in excess of similar appropriations in 1932. Even with this excess appropriation it is highly questionable whether the expenditures of this department can be kept within the amount appropriated. The action of the Federal Government in sharply reducing pension allowances for veterans will undoubtedly result in increasing the burdens which the cities of this Commonwealth will have to bear under the provisions of the Soldiers' Relief Act. Announcement of the possibility of salary reductions influenced a large number of employees who were eligible for pensions under existing statutes to file applications for retirement. As a result appropriations for pensions in the budget of the current year exceed by approximately $75,000 similar appropriations for 1932.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The three items under this group show reductions totaling approximately $40,000. This reduction has been secured mainly by the limitation of special activities carried on in former years under these appropriations. In this respect a marked reduction has been made in the investigational activities of the City Planning Board, since it would appear that for the time being at least, little, if anything, is to be gained through the development of plans looking toward the future development of the city.

SPECIAL APPROPRIATIONS.

Appropriations in this group are approximately $10,000 under similar appropriations for the previous year. The discontinuance of activities at Rainsford Island, curtailment in public celebrations programs, and a marked downward reduction in allotments for conventions, represent some of the factors which have contributed to the savings in this group. The necessity for providing an increased allowance for snow removal has served to offset the total savings reflected in the group.

CONCLUSION.

For the last twelve years the petition of the city relative to fixing the amount to be appropriated for the maintenance of municipal departments has been submitted to the Committee on Municipal Finance on or about the middle of February. This year, due to extraordinary conditions and circumstances, it has been necessary to defer the presentation of the city's request by approximately two months. Because of this unavoidable delay there is a very strong possibility, unless additional legislation is secured, that city departments may be forced within a very short time to practically suspend all major activities.

Under the provisions of chapter 320 of the Acts of 1889 city departments are authorized to expend, prior to the passage of the annual budget, "one-third the entire amount appropriated for the department the previous year." Under this act a period of approximately four months is allowed for the preparation and passage of the budget. In past years this period of time has proven ample, but this year, as is clearly evident, four months of the fiscal year have been devoted solely to the preparation of the city's appropriating policy. There still must be considered the time which will elapse before the budget is finally adopted.

Because of the fact the statutory limit of expenditures prior to the passage of the budget will soon be reached by many departments, it is suggested that in order to prevent a complete estoppel of departmental activities, city departments be granted authority, for the current year only, to expend, prior to the passage of the budget, one-half the amounts appropriated during 1932. The practical effect of the acceptance of this suggestion would be to amend, for 1933 only, chapter 320 of the Acts of 1889 by striking out the compound word "one-third," and substituting in its place the compound word "one-half." Such an amendment would not only assure a continuance of the regular activities of city departments, but would also afford ample and sufficient time to all interested parties for a full consideration of the budget before its final adoption. I respectfully request that this suggestion be incorporated within the provisions of the appropriation limit bill which the Committee on Municipal Finance will report to the Legislature.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

MAYOR PROVIDES FOR VISIT OF MEDICAL MEN TO LONG ISLAND FOR CLINICS.

Mayor Curley, on April 12, received the following communication from Institutions Commissioner Maguire:

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—I know you will give your hearty approval to the visiting of the third-year class of the Harvard Medical School to the Long Island Hospital for two clinics. Half of the class, about sixty men, will visit the hospital on Monday, May 8, and the other half on Tuesday, May 9.

Mr. Henry R. Viets, Secretary of the Visiting Staff of the Hospital, is arranging for the clinics, and other members of the staff will be present. I am cooperating in every way to make the visit a success. It is the first of its kind in the history of the hospital and should be very helpful to the institution.

Sincerely yours,

JAMES E. MAGUIRE,

RAZING AND REMOVING BUILDINGS.

The Mayor has approved the request of the Building Commissioner for permission to remove and raze the following structures as menaces or nuisances:

The building at 17 and 19 Dupont street, Ward 2, was in a dilapidated condition; side wall bulged out about three feet at first floor level; doors and windows broken, the owner, Frank D. Woodbridge of Hartland, Maine, is confined to bed with sickness, and has no money to pay for the razing of the building.

The premises at 125 Prince street, Ward 3, building is in a dangerous condition from missing portions of floor and large holes in walls; gates open and broken easy access to trespass. Also brick wall along Prince street at bend leans into the street about 6 inches at top. The owner of record, James M. Burr of 31 State street and 4 Bulfinch place, Boston, has neglected to remove the cause of complaint. The Isaac Blair & Co., Incorporated, have been ordered to shore and tie the building to secure the walls and roof from collapse and safeguard the pedestrians on the street. The estimated cost of this work is $200.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE OFFICERS PRAISE MAYOR CURLEY AND CITY OFFICIALS FOR COOPERATION.

Mayor Curley, on April 7, received the following communication from the Christian Science Publishing Company, with reference to the new building:

DEAR MAYOR CURLEY,—The new building for the Christian Science Publishing Society in Boston, now nearing completion, owes much for its freedom from serious labor disputes, costly delays and other handicaps, to the splendid cooperation of city officials with the architect and contractors employed in its construction.

This letter is to express in particular our appreciation of the kind and gracious services rendered by yourself, by Mr. Edward W. Roemer, Building Commissioner, and by Mr. Joseph A. Conry, Traffic Commissioner.

By nature of his position, Mr. Roemer has been perhaps more intimately associated with the building operations than any other city official, and we are very much pleased with the cooperation he has shown at all times and the fair decisions he has made. Mr. Conry also was very helpful recently in granting our requests for certain changes in the traffic regulations on Clearway street, which we very much appreciate. We repeat that we are most grateful for all you did for the building at the time of the labor dispute between the bricklayers and ironworkers, and for the many other instances of your cooperation.

We do indeed appreciate all this, and for years to come we believe the citizens of Boston will point with pride to the Christian Science Publishing Society building as one of the most harmoniously constructed edifices ever erected in this city.

With our best wishes,

Sincerely yours,

PUBLISHING HOUSE BUILDING COMMITTEE,
by HELEN J. TRIPP, Corresponding Secretary.

PRAISES HEALTH CENTER WORK DEVELOPMENT IN BOSTON—DR. SHIRLEY W. WYNNE, HEALTH COMMISSIONER OF NEW YORK, MAKES DEDICATORY ADDRESS AT HEALTH UNIT.

The following is the dedicatory address delivered at the Whittier Street Health Unit February 24, 1933, by Dr. Shirley W. Wynne, Health Commissioner, New York City:

It is a rather embarrassing situation to sit by and hear so many complimentary things said about you. I am deeply appreciative of the honor you have paid me by asking me to come to Boston to participate in the dedication of your seventh health center. As I sat here, I could not help but think of how fortunate Boston was that a chain of circumstances made it possible for you to secure these modern health centers.

We who have struggled in New York for so many years realize how fortunate you have been that you had a Mayor who was interested in the public health, who realized that public health was the foundation of prosperity for every individual, family and community, that you had a forward-thinking, energetic Commissioner of Health in Doctor Mahoney, and in Doctor Wilinsky an untiring worker in the field of public health, and that after the meeting in 1915 at Doctor Cabot's home, the various social agencies of the City of Boston conferred regarding the consolidation of forces, examining their work and determining in what way it had failed. And out of that conference came the health center idea. You are fortunate, indeed, that one of your foremost citizens of Boston should have left a fund not specifically for health centers but for the erection of works of public utility and which may best serve the citizens of the city, and your Mayor and members of his staff saw that there could be nothing more beautiful or useful to the City of Boston than a group of health centers.

It is fitting that in Boston the first real health center should have been created. It is quite true that there were baby health centers in New York, the money for which was contributed by Nathan Strauss many years ago. Later we have other stations which were created by the New York Milbank Committee and others established in Milwaukee and in Pittsburgh. But the first health center, conceived with the idea of housing all health and welfare agencies in one building in order to prevent overlapping, in order to consolidate their forces, in order to bring workers in the field of public health together so that they might come to know each other—that has been achieved in Boston and we in New York City have patterned our health centers after yours.

Back in 1925 when the Bellevue-Yorkville Center was opened, a group of us came here to meet with Doctor Mahoney and Doctor Wilinsky to see what you were doing in health center development, and as your chairman has said, Doctor Wilinsky has become known not only throughout the nation but throughout the world because of his work in the development of health centers.

ENVIED BOSTON.

Now it is fitting that this development of health centers should take place in Boston. The earliest health efforts took place in Boston at the time when the Pilgrims landed, in 1620. Many years ago I was connected with the Department of Vital Statistics in New York and we always looked with envy to Boston, Massachusetts, because it had established the first bureau to record births and deaths, which is the foundation of any public health movement. Again your state was the first to organize a State Health Department. In 1797 Boston organized its first Board of Health, and it wasn't until much later, in fact not until 1866, that New York City entrusted its health work to the city inspectors. Your history in the field of public health is enviable, indeed, and it is therefore fitting that this new development have its birthplace in your great city.

It is not amiss at this time to briefly review the history of public health. I am fearful that even we who every day work in the field of public health lose sight or fail to appreciate how much has been accomplished in the last fifty years. Fifty years ago, when the city of New York's death rate mounted to fifty per thousand of its population, which was not unusual in other large cities, especially if they were seaports, you can readily visualize what this meant. Let me state it in another way. If last year in the city of New York the death rate of fifty per thousand had prevailed, there would have been more than 350,000 instead of 60,000 deaths—290,000 lives saved in one year. In those days cholera, yellow fever and typhus fever were epidemics occurring at frequent intervals. It was not uncommon to have these diseases all in the same year. Then we had the era of bacteriology. Prior to that time the health officer was groping in the dark. When men working in laboratories discovered the cause of diphtheria and the means to prevent the spread of same, a very important stride forward was made. Bacteriologists transmitting this knowledge into practical preventive measures made it possible to wipe out these diseases and reduce the death rate in every community throughout the world. Typhus fever has been completely abandoned, cholera we do not hear of, and diphtheria can be definitely avoided.

Typhus fever and cholera existed years ago in every seaport and were serious epidemic diseases. On one occasion word was received that four vessels were on their way to the port of New York, and when many of the inhabitants heard this news, they took their belongings and families and went up to the mountains to escape the dreaded plague, cholera, about which they knew nothing. Through someone's appeal to the Board of Health, money was granted to establish the first municipal diagnostic laboratory. As a result, these vessels were met and every patient and everyone exposed were quarantined and there was not a case of cholera in the entire city of New York. Because of the knowledge given us by laboratory workers, typhus fever has been eliminated completely.

DISEASE ISOLATION.

How different was the picture years ago with the picture we had when the troops began to return from abroad. Thousands of returning soldiers and immigrants came to our various ports—Boston, New York, etc. Because we knew the method by which typhus fever was spread, it was therefore easier to isolate those affected and not one case of typhus fever occurred in one seaport.

We might for a moment recall diseases which have been brought under control. These diseases have been brought under control by the efforts of the health officer, and there are other groups of diseases which can also be brought under control only when each person in the community makes use of the facilities and knowledge available.

Doctor Frankel of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company stated several years ago that if laboratories closed and no further progress was made, and if the people of this nation made full use of the knowledge available today, we could add fourteen years to the expectation of life. That is not to be wondered at. At the beginning of this century, the expectation of life was approximately forty-one years and in 1930 it was extended to fifty-five years. So it is reasonable to presume that we may add fourteen years more to the expectation of life, but the question is how to get that knowledge to the public and how to establish facilities near them so that they will use them in order that their lives may be protected and lengthened.

A happy solution has been found here in Boston in the health centers, and it is strange that this idea did not occur to many of us before. We think of protection in terms of local police and fire stations and I suppose we consider it more important to protect our property rather than our health. Perhaps we did not visualize in what way we could bring these services to the public.

Let us think for a moment of one or two diseases the mortality of which can be further reduced when the people have been educated as to the causes and methods of prevention. Let us take tuberculosis, for example. At the beginning of this century, just thirty-two years ago, the death rate in our city was approximately 170 per 100,000 of the population and I presume that in Boston it was practically the same. Last year our mortality rate was reduced to 68 per 100,000 and in Boston, I believe, your rate was 59. That death rate can be cut in half in the next five years if we can locate every case of tuberculosis, if we can make diagnoses early enough so that patients may be placed under the proper care. The problem to solve is how to get these patients under the proper care. Those engaged in public health work in the field of tuberculosis know that the only way to make an accurate diagnosis is by way of X-ray. No doctor, no matter how expert he may be, can tell you that he is able to make a definite diagnosis of tuberculosis in its incipient stage upon physical examination except by means of X-ray. Why is an early diagnosis of tuberculosis so important? Because it means a readjustment of the family and, in most instances, a complete upheaval of family life. The doctor hesitates, therefore, to make a diagnosis unless he is positive that the patient has tuberculosis. Health centers such as this one provides this service to those unable to pay specialists' fees.

PREVENTIVE SERVICES.

Those who make up the great mass of population cannot afford to pay for the services of specialists. We can afford to pay our family physicians for ordinary services but we cannot afford to pay for the services of specialists. It is for this reason that health departments have established diagnostic stations so that there may be no excuse for anyone not having a diagnosis made promptly. It is sad to think that in our own city the average duration of time is three years before a positive diagnosis is arrived at. It probably costs approximately $2.25 to make an examination, and if a patient can be cured or his condition arrested in six or nine months, or one year at least, what a tremendous saving to the public it would be compared with taking care of the very same patient for five years in a sanatorium, providing for his family during that time, etc.

Diphtheria is a disease against which we can completely immunize every child under ten years of age. How much better can we provide this service in a health center? There are many services, too, which can be rendered in health centers to assist doctors in controlling the chronic diseases. Diabetes has been on the increase in the United States for years. We know that if discovered early by means of a thoroughgoing physical examination, including urine analysis, the patient may be cured or the disease at least may be arrested. On the other hand, if the disease is allowed to progress, the probabilities are that it cannot be cured and patient will have to use insulin for the remainder of his life.

How important it is then that these preventive services be brought to the people? Does it pay? Of course it pays. Realizing the estimated value of life to be $10,000, and if in the city of New York 390,000 lives were saved in one year, visualize the amount of money saved. Discounting even that insurance value, and computing the amount it costs to take care of 390,000 patients in hospitals at anywhere from $5 to $9 per day, the expenditure would be enormous. One of the best investments a community can make is to invest in health centers.

It is rather fitting that these centers have been made possible by one of your citizens who made his fortune in real estate, because without the health work made possible by those great men who preceded us, real estate values would never increase, and the demand for real estate would have been nil.

New York has for many years been patterning its work after that in Boston. We have been less fortunate in that nobody has left us a fortune to erect health centers. We are convinced that they are most useful and we have struggled year after year to acquire the necessary money to erect them. The Milbank Fund gave us one experimental station which was patterned after your health station and it has been operating for the past six years. There have been others established which resemble social organizations rather than real health centers. A committee was appointed by me three or four years ago to study the development of health centers in various localities where the mortality rate was highest. In analyzing the statistics of the various parts of the city in order to determine how many and where to locate them, we were determined upon the policy of building forty health centers, but unfortunately depression came upon us as it did in every other community in the nation and the project had to be postponed.

With the few health stations we are operating we thought we had adequate space, but within six months we have outgrown our capacity and for that reason I am rather glad that our program has been held up and that I have had the opportunity of coming here and seeing your last health unit. Doctor Wilinsky has made provision for rapid growth, so no matter how great the burden may be, it can be handled satisfactorily.

BOSTON'S FORWARD THINKING.

You are to be congratulated on having such forward-thinking officials. You are to be congratulated on having a great citizen who was so far-sighted as to leave his money to a group of public-spirited men to act as trustees for that fund and they, because of their interest in public health, selected health centers as the first project upon which revenue from that fund should be spent. You have set an example to all of us as you have done previously.

On behalf of the people of New York I wish to compliment you and congratulate you. I hope this health center will not be your last one. I am sure that the Board of Trustees such as you have will see to it that if the need is evident for any additional health centers, they will be built in districts where they are needed the most.

There has been a great change occurring in the practice of medicine in the past years. Formerly the health officer was the one who did the preventive work. A private physician interested himself in curative medicine alone and not in preventive medicine. Our paths have been converted in so far as now there is only one path—we are endeavoring to keep out of the curative field and urging the private practitioner to enter the field of preventive medicine.

It is interesting to note that Doctor Wilinsky has not only brought in the private agencies interested in the health and welfare of the community but has secured the cooperation of the medical profession. His performance in this field has been unusual and outstanding. Instead of engaging civil service employees to carry on, he has arranged to buy service from teaching institutions, holding them responsible for the quality of service rendered. He thereby ties in not only the medical profession but the teaching institutions, and, as a result, the younger medical students passing through these medical centers may come to understand the public health and may be imbued with the public health viewpoint so that when they become physicians in any community, they will have an appreciation of the value of preventive medicine. We shall then reach that millennium when we shall die 100 years young.

To you, Mr. Acting Mayor, representing Mayor Curley, Doctor Mahoney and Doctor Wilinsky, I congratulate you and wish you continued success in the splendid work you are carrying on for the people of Boston.

BOSTON AS A TOWN.

From its foundation until 1755, or a period of 125 years, Boston was not only the most outstanding but the most populous town in the American colonies. In 1760, Philadelphia's population was ahead, viz., 18,756, Boston's then being 15,631 and New York's about 14,000. In the last year of town government, viz., 1821, Boston's population was about 45,000 and its public debt $100,000, all incurred for new county buildings.

The history of Boston as a town during a period of nearly two centuries surpasses in civic interest that of Boston as a city because of the untiring zeal and successful efforts of its townsmen to realize more of true democracy than had ever been attained before. Their obligations were held as sacred as their liberties.

There is created in the office of the Property Clerk a Supervisor of Automotive Equipment. Sergt. William M. Donahue is transferred from the Bureau of Traffic to the office of the Property Clerk, and is designated as Supervisor of Automotive Equipment. The Supervisor of Automotive Equipment shall be in charge of the new garage and maintenance shop for automobiles in the basement of Division 4.

On and after April 10, 1933, all department motor vehicles, except motorcycles, will be serviced regularly in this new shop, and the present plan of changing oil and of greasing by wagon drivers will be discontinued. Division commanders shall instruct their wagon drivers to see that the proper amount of oil is kept in the crank cases of all cars in their divisions, that the radiators and batteries are maintained in good order, tires properly inflated, cars cleaned and polished, and minor repairs made as heretofore.

A proper systematic check-up shall be arranged by the Supervisor of Automotive Equipment, under the direction of the Property Clerk, for the inspection of all vehicles in the department repair shop. Division commanders will be notified by the Supervisor of Automotive Equipment when to send their vehicles for oil changes, greasing and check-up. If a department car becomes disabled and cannot run under its own power, the shop shall be notified at once by telephone by the officer in charge of the division. If department vehicles are disabled on the street after five o'clock p. m., on week-days, or at any time during Sundays or holidays, division commanders shall make arrangements with the nearest garage to tow the cars in the same manner as stolen or abandoned cars are handled when found on the street and come into the possession of the police. When this has been done, the department garage shall be notified. The garage at Division 4 shall be open continuously.

Motorcycles, for the present, will continue to be serviced at the motorcycle repair shop in the basement of Division 19. They will be sent for regular inspection and check-up under the same system as will be employed in the inspection and check-up of automobiles.

Parts for minor repairs, namely, tires, tubes, bulbs, etc., will not be furnished on requisition from the Property Clerk's stock. All such articles will be furnished, without requisition, upon application to the Supervisor of Automotive Equipment, who shall keep a proper record and require receipts. Motorcycle parts will be obtained from the Division 19 repair shop as above.

The Supervisor of Automotive Equipment shall visit the various divisions, from time to time, for the purpose of inspecting department vehicles, and division commanders shall be present during this inspection.

The Property Clerk shall require reports to be made to him by the Supervisor of Automotive Equipment regarding any carelessness or neglect in the care of any department vehicles, and these reports shall be forwarded to the Police Commissioner for his consideration.

The assignment of all motor vehicles shall be made by the Supervisor of Automotive Equipment, with the approval of the Property Clerk.

Division commanders shall see that all department vehicles under their direction are kept clean, are well cared for and are properly operated.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

SINKING FUNDS INVESTMENTS.

The following was received:

Finance Commission,
Boston, April 1, 1933.

To the Honorable City Council.

Gentlemen,—The Finance Commission has received a copy of an order adopted by your honorable body at the meeting of March 27 which requested the Finance Commission to furnish the City Council with certain specific information in regard to investments purchased by the Board of Commissioners of Sinking Funds, in the year 1932.

The commission desires to state, in reply, that the Finance Commission has not in its possession the information requested by your honorable body.

Section 7 of the charter amendments of 1909 authorizes the City Council to request from the Mayor specific information on any municipal matter within its jurisdiction. It is, therefore, within the power of the City Council to obtain this information directly from the Mayor.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK A. GOODWIN, Chairman,

JOSEPH A. SHEEHAN,

JOSEPH JOYCE DONAHUE,

CHARLES M. STOREY,

The Finance Commission.

ROBERT E. CUNIFF, Secretary.

Placed on file.

APPOINTMENT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF CONSTRUCTION.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Department of School Buildings,
Boston, March 31, 1933.

City Clerk,

City of Boston.

Dear Sir,—You are hereby notified that at a meeting of the Board of Commissioners of School Buildings of the City of Boston held this thirty-first day of March, 1933, acting under authority of chapter 351 of the Acts of 1929, William W. Drummey of Boston was elected Superintendent of Construction, under and in accordance with the provisions of said act, to take effect at the close of business March 31, 1933.

Very truly yours,

RICHARD J. LANE,

JAMES T. MORIARTY,

Commissioners.

Placed on file.

MANAGER'S SALARY, GEORGE ROBERT WHITE FUND.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested, as chairman of the Trustees of the George Robert White Fund, to confer with the other trustees relative to a cut in the salary of twenty thousand dollars per year paid the manager of this fund, Gen. Edward L. Logan.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, in 1922 a certain philanthropist in Boston, by the name of George Robert White, died, and left the City of Boston an amount close to $5,000,000, invested in the business section of Boston. In the will he left, which is a very simple will, he said:

"The control and management of said fund and the disbursement of the income shall be in the hands of a board of five trustees to consist of the Mayor, who shall be its chairman, the president of the City Council, the city auditor, the president of the Chamber of Commerce, and the president of the Bar Association of the City of Boston."

On the next page he makes this provision:

"The business of the fund shall be transacted through the regular departments of the city, viz., the treasurer, auditor, corporation counsel, etc., and a suitable office or offices for the use of the trustees shall be provided for them by the city in the City Hall or elsewhere."

There is absolutely no provision, Mr. President and members of the Council, for the establishment of a paid manager at a rate of $20,000 a year. In 1922, the now Mayor saw fit to create a job, which I feel is a graft job, and to pay to the particular individual holding it $20,000 a year, twice as much as the Governor of the Commonwealth receives. The Mayor is now taking economy, and still his personal friend, Gen. Edward L. Logan, receives $20,000 per year for, as I understand it, making one visit per month to City Hall. Why, I claim that if this great philanthropist, George Robert White, ever knew that $20,000 a year was being taken from this fund to make payments on this graft job, he would turn over in his grave and revoke the conditions of the will, which left the income of $5,000,000 to be spent for the betterment of the health of the children and women of Boston, through the establishment of White health units. Mr. President, an expenditure of this kind is outrageous. Perhaps less objection might be made if the gentleman who is appointed to this place—without wishing to go into personalities—was not also receiving, as I understand, $4,500 a year salary from the City of Boston as judge of the South Boston court, and if he were not also a practicing lawyer with considerable income, being also connected with certain financial interests in the city and state. To pay out $20,000 a year, under the circumstances, for a job like this, when steps are being taken to reduce the salaries of the city employees, and when many of those employees are already being greatly underpaid—the poor washerwomen in the City Hospital, for example, receiving but $10.60 a week—is an outrageous thing. I say that the first step the Mayor should take, the first thing the president of the Boston Chamber of Commerce should do, is to try to stop just this sort of thing. Mr. Snyder, the president of the Chamber, is one of the trustees of this fund under the will, one of the five, and he is the gentleman who is advocating that the wages paid to these poor washerwomen and others be cut. He is one of the trustees who have selected this manager, at the enormous salary of $20,000 a year, and should be one of the first to say that General Logan should not so take $20,000 a year from this fund. I say it is next to criminal to allow that $20,000 a year to go to an individual who does absolutely no work that entitles him to receive it. The only work in that office is done by a paid servant, George Driscoll, I understand. I have gone into the office fifty times and have never once seen there this $20,000 patriot in attendance. I say it is not right. I say, further, that, as a result of this $20,000 being allowed, Mr. White's sister refused to give any more to the fund from her millions. She knew that the work was being done by the secretary and she objected, and the city therefore got nothing from her when she died awhile ago. I think one of the first things that the Mayor of Boston and Mr. Snyder should do is to cut out this $20,000 a year job and apply the money to relief of the sick of Boston, and God knows they need it. I sincerely trust that the amount paid for this job will at least be very much cut in the near future by these gentlemen who are talking about pay cuts for the ordinary everyday city employee.

The order was referred to the Committee on Rules.

Later in the session, Coun. NORTON said:

Mr. President, I would like to say just a word with regard to statements that have been made regarding the George Robert White Fund.

President McGRATH—Is there any objection?

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, the order has been referred to the Committee on Rules. I don't like to object and have not objected to statements being made upon matters coming before this body by other members, and I will not object at this time if, after the councilor gets through with his remarks, I am given unanimous consent to make a statement.

No objection was expressed.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, as I understand the status of the George Robert White Fund, this money does not come out of the City of Boston but out of the estate, being something over which we have no jurisdiction. I understand that $5,000,000 was set aside by this man, who made most of his money on Sanford's Jamaica Ginger and Cuticura soap. After a life in Boston he left the money to the poor people of Boston, and it has since been used for the George Robert White Health Units for the benefit of the poor of Boston. It is a well known fact, of course, that when $5,000,000 is left as a fund in this way, a certain percentage of it goes to the manager of the fund. I believe any banker in Boston, in the Old Colony Trust or any other such institution, will bear me out when I say that the amount paid for management of such a fund depends on the size of the fund. The colleague also says that in this particular instance the present manager of the George Robert White Fund was objected to by Mrs. Bradbury, the sister of the late George Robert White, and that because of that objection she herself did not leave anything for this work in her will. I do not believe that statement is exactly correct. I interviewed the person who was closest to the late Mrs. Bradbury in regard to this fund, on several occasions. I was interested in it. Mrs. Bradbury had as her manager the late William Hamilton of Malden, whose son runs the Potter Drug Company in Malden. As I understand it, there is a very interesting reason why Mrs. Bradbury did not leave $5,000,000 more to pay for the doctors, nurses and upkeep of the White Units. Her brother left $5,000,000 to build those units, but it cost the city millions more to keep them up, in connection with doctors, nurses, supplies, and so on. The City of Boston was extraordinarily anxious to have the sister also leave $5,000,000 or a large amount for the maintenance of the White Units so philanthropically given to the city. I was greatly interested in the story that the late Mr. Hamilton told me showing why that was not consummated. It seems that Mrs. Bradbury was driven down town one day and examined the statue of her brother, George Robert White. She noticed that a few newspapers had caught fire at the side of the monument, and that the smoke had tarnished the marble. So she had the driver turn the automobile up Beacon street to the office of the Park Commissioners, at No. 33, and asked to see the commissioner. It seems that the commissioner was out on this day, so she failed in her errand. But she finally wrote a letter to see if the statue erected to her brother could not be cleaned up. It seems that, under the law, the city had no money for such an expenditure, or so the sister was advised. Apparently no money was available for such a purpose under the ordinances. And so the sister of George Robert White changed her will, as a result of this little newspaper fire down at the corner of Beacon and Arlington streets, which tarnished one of the marble slabs on her brother's monument. I do not understand at all that the City of Boston lost that money on account of a manager being appointed for that fund. But in any event, this is nothing that is paid by the City of Boston, and it is a matter that should be left to the directorship of that fund. I am as much as anybody in favor of cutting down tremendous salaries, and I have been one of the most urgent in that respect, at a time when to do so was looked upon as branding one with ignominy and shame. But talking about salary cuts now is about the same as talking about beer. I believe this matter should be referred to the Executive Committee. I don't like to see any of our public citizens held up to undeserved scorn.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I shall be very brief. I wish merely to call the attention of the Council to the fact that a certain other philanthropic gentleman, named Parkman, left a fund of about the same amount, and that the Parkman Fund is conducted free of charge by the Mayor and City Council. I would also remind the councilor that anything that concerns the welfare of the children and the sickly people of Boston is the Council's business. It certainly is our business, Mr. President. If not, a great many of the orders continually introduced here would be ruled out of order. There is not a member of the body who has not introduced orders asking that one of the George Robert White units be established in his section of the city. I believe it is certainly our business to look out for money left by such philanthropic gentlemen for the benefit of the poor of our city. Judging his intent by his will—as all wills must be construed, Mr. President—he wanted the fund administered by the five men referred to in the will, free of charge. Therefore, I say that it is our business, regardless of what the Mayor of Boston said yesterday, regardless of what anybody may say, George R. White would certainly want the members of this Council to know what was going on in connection with his fund, and he would certainly not favor $20,000 a year being taken from that fund and spent in any such way as is done in this case.

The order stood referred to the Committee on Rules.

PAINTING OF ELEVATED POSTS.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to have all posts supporting the overhead rapid transit structure painted white, in order to avoid accidents at night.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, it is a very peculiar thing that these posts should not be painted in a way that would attract the attention of drivers in the City of Boston, particularly when we consider that Boston pays 66 per cent of the deficit of the Elevated. In spite of that fact, under the overhead structures on Washington street and Atlantic avenue, absolutely no attention is paid to this important matter. I know of many accidents that have occurred to drivers going along in the night time because of these posts not being daubed over with white paint, and I hope the Mayor will see fit to ask the trustees, and, if necessary, compel them, to paint the posts white in order to avoid such accidents as have taken place in the last few years.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

SINGING TEACHER AT HOUSE OF CORRECTION.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Penal Institutions be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to immediately dispense with the services of the professional singing teacher who has been engaged to teach the inmates at the Suffolk County House of Correction how to sing.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, in these days of economy, when only last week, with a stroke of the pen, 150 men were discharged, and when it is now proposed to cut 5 per cent from the wages of persons getting under $1,000 a year, it is really amusing, laughable, to find out what our administration is doing. Only last Monday this gentleman—I don't care to mention his name, but it can be very easily learned—was hired by the Penal Institutions Department. I assume, with the consent of the Mayor, to go down to Deer Island and teach the inmates there for three hours a day, three days of the week, for which he receives $9 a day or $27 a week. I suppose they are going to learn to sing "Happy Days are Here Again" when 31,000 men and women, with their families, are on the Public Welfare. I say that the Mayor of Boston and the Penal Institutions Commissioner should cut out their kidding. I wonder who in the City of Boston they think they are kidding? Twenty-seven dollars a week for three days, Mr. President. That would keep eight individuals at the present ratio of payment from the Public Welfare fund, and it comes at a time when they are discharging laborers and reducing wages of women getting $500 or $600 a year. But in the same breath they employ a man to go to Deer Island to teach the inmates to sing! Did you ever hear anything so ridiculous? I am calling on the Mayor of Boston to cut out his kidding and to dispense immediately with the services of this professional singer. You won't find him on the pay roll. If you go to the department, they will throw up their hands, don't know anything about it. But he is a professional man and he will send his bill in for professional service.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I understand that the singing instructor was sent down there to teach the officers' children to sing, that they have a school there on the island for the officers' children.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I may add for the information of the councilor from Dorchester that my information has come directly from the Master of the island, and I assume that he knows what he is talking about, when he so informs me. It is this man's duty to teach the inmates to sing "Happy Days are Here Again."

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, I don't think this should be treated as a joking matter. Let us first learn something about this situation before we take action. I think it should be referred to the Executive Committee and that the head of the Penal Institutions Department should be sent for, to be asked to appear before us in executive session this afternoon. I would make that motion.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, in that connection I might say that I understand that the head of the department is off on a two weeks' vacation.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, I still say that there must be somebody there who understands about the matter, on the eighth floor of City Hall Annex. I ask, therefore, that this be referred to Executive, and that some one in authority in that department be asked to give us the desired information today.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

PAYMENTS OF AMOUNTS DEDUCTED DURING BANK HOLIDAY.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:
Ordered, That the Soldiers' Relief Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make back payments of amounts deducted from veterans' aid during the bank holidays, and to immediately proceed to give them the full amount of budget in force before said bank holidays.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I know that the Mayor of Boston has stated to the Overseers and directors of the Public Welfare Department that they should proceed immediately to pay to the recipients of aid the money of which they were deprived during the bank holiday. If that is true in so far as the Overseers of Public Welfare are concerned, a department taking care of at least 35 per cent aliens in the City of Boston, then I say that the veterans are certainly entitled to as much consideration as is being shown by the Overseers of Public Welfare to those whom they are aiding.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

NAMING OF SQUARE AT ANDERSON AND CAMBRIDGE STREETS.

Coun. FITZGERALD offered the following:
Ordered, That the open space at the junction of Anderson and Cambridge streets be named, and hereafter known, as Sergeant Anthony Catalini square, in honor of Anthony Catalini, who died in the service of his country during the World War.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REMOVAL OF ELEVATED STRUCTURE, CHARLESTOWN.

Coun. GREEN offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to confer with his Excellency, Governor Joseph B. Ely, as to the advisability and feasibility of removing the Elevated structure from the North Station to Sullivan square and in place of said structure use the system as outlined in the plan of Representative William P. Prendergast of Charlestown or any other plan that the Metropolitan Transit Commission deems practical and advisable. The money for said removal and substitute system of rapid transit to be taken from Federal grant to Massachusetts or to be borrowed from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SALARIES OF HOSPITAL PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS.

Coun. GREEN offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to consider the advisability of retaining the standards of remuneration paid to the physicians and surgeons in our hospital system. These men have given a lifetime service to the people of Boston at a great financial sacrifice and to retain their professional standing should retain their present rate of salary.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

COMMITTEE ON CONSTABLES.

President McGRATH announced the following Committee on Constables: Coun. Hein, Ruby and Murray.

ADVISABILITY OF INSURING CITY AUTOMOBILES.

Coun. RUBY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to investigate the advisability of insuring all automobiles and trucks owned by the city, and report to the City Council.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, as chairman of the Committee on Claims, I have been astonished to find that for the first two months of this year we have been called upon to pay in the vicinity of $3,000 on claims arising out of injury caused by city employees to automobiles or property of others. I understand the method that has been used in recent years, as a result of legislative enactment, is that if a city employee is sued and judgment is recovered the defendant in the original suit asks that the City of Boston reimburse him for the amount of the judgment. The Corporation Counsel's office has then in every case, if I am correctly informed, asked the City Council to pass an order reimbursing the particular city employee. If that method is going to become general and is to continue, it is barely possible that the City of Boston will be compelled to spend hundreds of thousands a year arising out of such suits against employees because of negligence in the performance of their duties. I believe, with the prospect that we are to be confronted with that situation, we should take steps to prevent an unlimited amount of the city's money being so spent, and that the Council ought to find out what it would cost to insure against this sort of thing. We may in that way compel an employee to be more careful in the performance of his duties. But if we are to continue in the way that we are evidently going, it will mean a serious burden on the city. These matters that have come before us for the first two months of this year indicate a growing expense from this source, and one that should be, if possible, remedied. I trust, therefore, that the Corporation Counsel will make a study of the situation, having in mind possibly the passage of an order or ordinance suitable to the case. I ask for a suspension of the rule.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I see myself in a funny position today. I think if the proper man were asked for an expert opinion, it would be a wonderful order; but I cannot see my way clear to voting to ask a man who, they say, is an attorney, Corporation Counsel Silverman, for an opinion in a matter of this kind—the opinion of a man who is known around the city as a five and ten cent attorney. Certainly, I would not expect an opinion that I would wish to be guided by from such a man. If I am to be guided by an opinion, I would wish to have it given by somebody who knows more than the present $10,000 patriot, Samuel Silverman.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, I have sat here week after week and have listened to this sort of harangue and character assassination of our Corporation Counsel. I hold no brief for the present Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston, but as a public official I am bound to take cognizance of a man's official position and standing in this community. And so I desire to make this statement, without fear of contradiction from the learned councilor from Ward 15 (Coun. Kelly), who not only knows all there is to know about law, but who knows everything else there is to know with reference to the conduct of the city, and who now stands up and says that he will not vote for an order, although it is a good order, because the originator of the order chooses the proper city official to make the proposed investigation. I repeat that I hold no brief for the Corporation Counsel. I differ with him on many occasions. But, so far as his ability is concerned, I bow to the better judgment of those who are superior to me in knowledge, even though they may be less superior to the councilor from Ward 15. Nevertheless, the present Corporation Counsel was appointed to the Law Department by a former Mayor of Boston, Andrew J. Peters, and he has been in that office for fourteen years. He has passed the bar, and since that time has devoted himself ably and conscientiously to his duties in that office, at 11 Beacon street. Simply because I may have a grievance against the Chief Executive of this city is no reason why I should take it out on members of his official family. I have the highest regard for the ability of the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston, and I believe that same feeling will be voiced by the majority of the members of this body. We may not agree with him at all times personally. We may think that some of his judgments are not judgments with which we might agree, because we are on the other side of the fence. Nevertheless, he is the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston, and whenever he has come before our Executive Committee he has been able to give snap judgments on interpretations of law, right on the spur of the moment, which is more than has been done by a good many lawyers who have held this office or who have held inferior offices at 11 Beacon street. It is not fair for us to be sitting here week after week and listening to these harangues on the Chief Executive of the city and his heads of departments. Simply because a member does not like the Mayor, he not only attacks the Mayor but others connected with the administration. General Logan, for example, who has been criticized because he receives $20,000 a year as manager of the George Robert White Fund, is filling a position that was established before the present Mayor became Mayor of Boston. Still he is blamed here, simply because he is considered a member of the Mayor's official family. It is time that we got down to business, Mr. President, and, forgetting animosities, try to do something of value for the taxpayers of Boston, as men who are interested in the poor, unfortunate people of Boston, and who want to have something done so that the unemployed in our districts can get aid and work, if possible. Let the gentlemen help in saving money which can be used to relieve unemployment, which can be used to help out in public welfare, and disregard his personal animus and feeling. Let him consider orders introduced here upon their merits or demerits, not continually indulging in these harangues to which we are continually compelled to listen, because he does not like little Sam Silverman, our Corporation Counsel, who has forgotten, Mr. President, in my opinion, more than the councilor from Ward 15 will ever know.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, of course the councilor who has just spoken, from the neighboring ward, has not been following the taxpayers' fight which has been conducted for the past two or three years, something which I have followed very closely from start to finish; and during that fight I have been able to observe the gentleman who has been given the title of Corporation Counsel in order to supply him with a little dignity. That title was given to him by the Mayor of Boston in 1930, when he was appointed to this office and given $1,000 raise. This is the gentleman, this Corporation Counsel, who goes up to the State House at a public hearing attended by the honest and respectable people of Boston, who pay him his salary, and when they rise in protest against graft and corruption are termed by him guttersnipes, products of the gutter,—this $10,000 patriot. He showed his ignorance when he termed his benefactors guttersnipes, and I think I am treating him very fairly, more fairly than he should be treated, when I term him here Slippery Sam, the sparrow thief and sewer serpent.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, it may seem all right to some members to call names here, but I know of nothing that will do more to finally abolish this body through legislative action than the maligning of individuals in this city, whether we agree or disagree with them.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

REDUCTION OF INTEREST ON MORTGAGE LOANS.

Coun. FISH offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to file a bill in the Massachusetts Legislature reducing the interest rate on mortgage loans to four per cent.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, last week I noticed an editorial in one of the Boston papers recommending that the bankers reduce the rate of interest on mortgage loans to 4 per cent. I thought that was a very good idea. Accordingly, I am calling upon the Mayor of Boston to file a bill in the Legislature to reduce the interest on mortgage loans to 4 per cent.

The order was referred to the Committee on Rules.

STUDY OF PURCHASE OF FIRE APPARATUS.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Mayor be, and hereby is, requested to inform the City Council as to whether the committee appointed by him to study the present practices of purchasing fire apparatus has made its report and that if such report is made it be transmitted to the City Council.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ADVICE FROM TECHNOLOGY IN RE STEAMER "STEPHEN J. O'MEARA."

Coun. NORTON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston consider the advisability of requesting the advice of the Marine Division of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology before spending any money on the steamer "Stephen J. O'Meara."

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I understand that specifications have been drawn up and that bids have been asked for in connection with fixing up the institutions boat, "Stephen O'Meara." I believe the "Stephen O'Meara" to be a total loss and that any additional money spent on her at this time will simply prove a further loss. We have spent $200,000 on a white elephant, which is unable to run, at a time when the city needs money to feed the poor. To spend more money on the "Stephen O'Meara" would be a crime, Mr. President. I believe if the opinion of the Marine Division of the Massachusetts Institute is asked for in this matter, that opinion will bear out the statement I have made.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

INFORMATION FROM CITY TREASURER AS TO INVESTMENTS.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:
Ordered, That the City Treasurer Edmund L. Dolan be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to furnish the City Council with the following information:

A schedule of investments purchased by the City Treasurer in the year 1932, specifying for each purchase (1) date of purchase, (2) person or firm from which purchase was made, (3) name of security purchased, maturity, interest rate and par value, (4) price at which purchase was made, (5) total amount paid.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SYSTEM OF PAY CUTS.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability if he is to put into effect a system of pay cuts, of adopting a system by which a city official receiving say $5,000 a year will receive a cut of five times that given the man receiving $1,000 a year, with a view to giving the lower paid help a smaller pay cut proportionately.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I do not think it is fair to ask a man receiving, say, $20 a week, to take the same proportionate cut as a man receiving, say, $200 a week, and that is the present proposed plan, as I understand it. I believe if the higher salaried man is required to take a larger commensurate cut, we will then be able to take a smaller proportionate pay cut from the lower salaried employees. I am not, however, one of those who believe we can sidestep this question, that we can go on living in a fool's paradise. It is, however, important for us to protect the lower paid employees. Having that in view I have several times introduced a proposed schedule which would protect the smaller paid employees. We have 6,380 employees getting between $2,000 and $2,500; 1,592 getting between $2,500 and $3,000; 1,278 getting from $3,000 to $4,500; 90 getting from $4,500 to $5,000; and 124 receiving $5,000 and up. I believe, Mr. President, that there should be a pro-rated cut so that the man getting $4,500 a year will be cut five times the proportionate amount of the man receiving but $600 a year. If the lower paid employee is being cut 5 per cent, for example, the higher should be cut 25 per cent. In that way, you will find it possible to ease up a little on the smaller paid employee. That is the New York plan in salary cuts. They have a very elaborate scale there prepared on that basis, but carefully planned, however, so as to work out equitably. For example, there would be a maximum 20 per cent cut on men getting up to $4,800 or $5,000 and over $5,000 a 25 per cent cut, but the whole thing so arranged as to work out equitably in the different brackets. We spend between $37,000,000 and $38,000,000 a year in Boston on salaries. We have been given to understand that under the cuts the Mayor suggests, $5,000,000 a year will be eliminated from the Boston pay roll. I am given to understand, however, that the amount will be less than $3,000,000, three months of the year having already gone by. So under the proposed plan the taxpayers are not going to be relieved this year to the extent of $5,000,000. If, however, this whole thing is worked out on a progressive basis, the higher paid employees—for example, those receiving $5,000 a year—being subjected to a proportional cut five times as great as those receiving $1,000 a year—it will be possible to eventually lighten the load of the smaller paid employees.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

OPPOSITION TO PROPOSED SCHEDULE OF PAY CUTS.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:
Resolved, That the Boston City Council go on record against the proposed schedule of reductions in pay of city and county employees as announced by the Mayor of Boston.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, while personally I have been against the cutting of the salaries or wages of employees receiving a small amount, as the matter has been taken out of the hands of the Boston City Council we have no authority and nothing to say. I believe personally that the schedule announced by the Mayor is absolutely unfair, unjust and discriminatory against the average employee of the City of Boston. The State of Massachusetts has taken action making a cut of 10 per cent in the salaries of all employees receiving up to $5,200 and of 15 per cent for those receiving over $5,200. We have in Boston 1,704 employees working for $1,000 a year or less. The Mayor proposes to cut them 5 per cent. We should not cut those employees unless necessary, because of the fact that even taking those figures only $53,000 will be saved, and I say that it is certainly unfair to cut men or women receiving but $500 or $600 a year. The Mayor says, further, that those receiving from $1,000 to $1,600 a year shall be cut 10 per cent. Well, I disagree with him in that, unless he is compelled to do it because of the banking situation in Boston. Then he says that all those receiving over $1,600 and up to $2,100 a year shall be cut 15 per cent. I say that is absolutely unfair and unjust. Why should a man receiving, say $1,700 or $1,800, be cut 15 per cent, where the man receiving $10,000 is only cut 15 per cent? Of those receiving $1,600 to $2,100, there are 6,617; of those receiving $2,100 to $3,000 there are 4,271. I say to the Mayor of Boston that I believe there could be an equitable schedule of 5 per cent cut for those below $1,000, and of 10 per cent from $1,000 to $3,000. That would include firemen and policemen, whom the Mayor now proposes to cut, in the main, 15 per cent. Then, when you come to men getting $3,000 to $5,000, there are now 1,382. Then we come to the men getting $5,000 and over, who number 154. Those 154 are now receiving $1,041,922.46. I want you also to bear this in mind, that of the 154 receiving $5,000 and over, it is safe to assume that 75 per cent are political appointments, without any regard for civil service, and it is safe to assume that 50 per cent of the heads of the Boston departments today know nothing about their particular departments when they first enter. Although they get from $5,000 to $10,000 a year, it is safe to say that 50 per cent of the department heads in City Hall, also, through other connections are making in other ways perhaps as much as their salaries. It is safe to say, also, that some of our department heads have their own relatives connected with their departments, and I think I am conservative in saying that 50 per cent of them also have connections, through people with whom they do business, enabling them to make good amounts in addition to the $5,000, $6,000, $7,000, $8,000, $9,000, $10,000 a year that they receive from the city. But the Mayor simply says, "Cut them 15 per cent." Well, 15 per cent of $1,041,922.46 would be $156,288.30. I say, cut them 25 per cent, which will make $260,480. And what about the men receiving $4,000 to $5,000? The Mayor says, "Cut them 15 per cent," which would mean $755,111.37. I say, cut them 20 per cent, which would mean $1,066,670. Those figures would represent a total of savings of $356,000. I want to protect the men in the city departments getting between $1,600 a year and $3,000 a year, and we have 10,900 of such employees. I say that no man getting under $3,000 a year should be cut more than 10 per cent. I know that the Mayor cannot be shown, that it does not make any difference what we do or say here in the Council Chamber but I am showing the Mayor where he can save on salaries of men getting $3,500 a year and up $356,000. He says that he is going to save $5,000,000. All right, but not this year. Perhaps in a later year he will. Now, under the schedule I have drawn up, making cuts of 5 per cent on employees getting below $1,000 per year, of 10 per cent from $1,000 to $1,600, 10 per cent on $1,600 to $3,000, 20 per cent on $3,000 to $5,000, and 25 per cent on all salaries over $5,000, we will save the city $4,187,592, much more than the Mayor can save this year through his proposed plan. Also, I say that we can probably save $375,000 on temporary employees in the City of Boston. I say further, Mr. President, that we can save $2,000,000 in our Supply Department. I say to these reform organizations which are trying so hard to cut down the standard of living of the laboring men and women that a decrease of 33 1/3 per cent could be made in that department. If they are so anxious to save money, why don't they devote some attention to the Purchasing Department, which spends $5,000,000 of your money, and where 33 1/3 per cent could be saved on every commodity purchased. I say to you, Mr. President and members of the Council, that this proposed plan is absolutely unjust. So far as the City Council is concerned, I know very well that it will take its cut and take it willingly, but I want you to bear in mind that the State Legislature has voted a cut of 10 per cent only on every individual receiving $5,200 a year and under. I say that this proposal here is not fair, Mr. President. If there was no other way out of it, I would say, "All right, Mr. Mayor, it is the only thing to do." But I say to the Mayor, take more, 20 to 25 per cent, out of the men who can well afford it. Every member of the City Council knows that I am telling the truth. Fifty per cent of the department heads, getting from $6,000 to $12,000 a year from the city have rackets outside, have their own families and relatives working in the department. I hope and trust that the Mayor of Boston will take my figures into consideration, and that he will take into consideration the fact that on those getting $3,000 and over, he can save $356,000, which can be used to help out that class of employees receiving from $1,600 to $3,000. We have 18,537 employees of the City of Boston, and in the classes between $1,000 and $3,000 we have over 12,000 employees. It is those 12,000 employees whom we should at least try to protect. Is it right for a man receiving $1,800, $1,900 or $2,000 a year to have to submit to a 15 per cent reduction, where men getting $7,000, $8,000 and $9,000 have only the same reduction? I say to you again, Mr. President, that I consider that the cuts proposed by the Mayor are unfair and unjust, not only to the policemen, but to the firemen and others, men upon whom our citizens are relying for protection, men whose morale should be kept up to the highest point, and when we see what is going on all about us these days, when we see thieves so bold that, as set forth in the paper, last Saturday night they removed a heavy safe from near the corner of Beacon and Tremont streets, it becomes more and more evident to us that one of the extremely important things in this city is to keep up the morale of our protective departments. I certainly trust, therefore, that the Mayor of Boston will review his proposed cuts in the salaries of city employees for this year, will reduce the cuts for the lower paid employees, and will increase to 20 and 25 per cent the cuts on those receiving $4,000, $5,000 and $10,000 a year. Let us protect the average workman, the man getting from $1,600 to $3,000 a year, and I know that all such individual employees of the city will be only too ready and willing then to accept the 10 per cent reduction. But I do consider the proposed reduction of 15 per cent by the Mayor in the case of those employees an improper discrimination.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, do I understand that Councilor Dowd agrees to 10 per cent cuts from $1,000 up to $3,000?

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, the councilor understands correctly.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I did not think the switch on this matter would come so quickly. A few months ago, when I was talking salary cuts, all alone, the weather was very stormy. My attempt was then, as it has always been, to protect the smaller paid employees. Under the plans I have advanced, the smaller paid employees would be protected and the more highly paid employees would bear the greater burden, as I feel that they should do. I feel that there can be no reasonable objections to cuts in the higher brackets to even 30 or 35 per cent, thereby helping out the lower salaried employee. But, Mr. President, the hard part of this whole thing is that two or three contracts given to favored contractors will wipe out all the savings from these salary cuts. Therefore, I respectfully request the councilors present to consider voting only for a month's budget, and then if the Mayor insists on giving these contracts to favored contractors and squandering the money we have voted, we need vote no more money to him. We have the opportunity here to do something, to withhold money from the Mayor. If we vote only one month's budget we can thereby eliminate the favored contractors, the favored sellers to the Purchasing Department of the City of Boston, in dealing with whom money which we have saved by salary cuts will be quickly wasted. No, after listening to the fine address of the councilor from Roxbury (Coun. Dowd), I think we should keep in mind the fact that by holding back on the budget we will have the power to control the expenditure of the city's money.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

BIDS ON SPECIFICATIONS SUBMITTED BY SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON LIGHTING.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:

Ordered, That the Trustees of the Boston City Hospital be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to solicit bids on the specifications which have been submitted to them through the Special Committee on Lighting of the City Council by its consulting engineer.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, the Committee on Municipal Lighting, appointed by the President of the Council, has shown that it is possible to save $100,000 on electricity in the Boston Sanatorium in a period of ten years. The consulting engineer who has been acting with the committee of the Council has gone to the trouble of drawing up specifications which are now in the hands of the trustees, and I am asking the Mayor to have the trustees advertise for bids without any cost to the city, in order that we may make a start on municipal plants, beginning in the Sanatorium. I would like to read just a line from what was said just a few days ago by Arthur Brisbane in the American, about what could be done if "cities, towns and villages knew enough to own their own utilities, light, power, etc. But they don't know enough."

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

REDUCTION IN PUBLIC UTILITY RATES.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to call upon his Excellency the Governor of the Commonwealth to demand that the Public Utilities Commission reduce the rates on gas, electricity and telephone service by twenty per cent immediately.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I think the time has come when cities and towns should no longer be expected to engage counsel to appear before the Department of Public Utilities in these matters, requesting that our rates for light, telephone and gas be investigated with a view to reduction. What we need now is the application of practical horse sense. That is all that is necessary. Is there any individual in Boston who will claim that the telephone company, for instance, is not paying for every commodity it uses from 25 to 50 per cent less than in ordinary times? Their employees are working on 4 and 5 day weeks and have taken three cuts in the last year. But we are still paying the same rate for our telephones. And now the City of Boston has been forced to reduce salaries. The same thing that applies to the telephone company applies to the Edison Company and to the gas company. I say to the Governor of the Commonwealth that he owes a bounden duty to the people of this state. But, so far as the Department of Public Utilities are concerned, they sit there and listen to arguments pro and con, and then nothing is done about it. Isn't it about time that these supposed to be publicly controlled utility corporations, which have been throttling us, should be compelled to come down in their rates? No one questions that their costs and overhead expenses have been reduced anywhere from 25 to 50 per cent. I say to the Governor that there is one thing he can do—not request the public utilities to make a reduction, because that is outside the realm of possibility, but to demand that they do it, and if they do not do it, it should be his bounden duty to fire the commission and appoint men on that Public Utilities Board who will act for the people and not for these corporations.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I filed a bill with the last Legislature asking for power of referendum to handle just such questions as the gentleman from Roxbury is interested in. We will never go forward until the people themselves have a referendum vote upon this matter of municipal electric light, gas and other public utilities.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

ERECTION OF FLAGPOLE, EAST BOSTON.

Coun. BARKER offered the following:
Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to provide for the erection of a flagpole on the American Legion Playground, East Boston.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PROPOSED LOAN FROM RECONSTRUCTION FINANCE CORPORATION.

Coun. GREEN offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor consider the advisability of applying for a loan of eight million dollars from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for the purpose of erecting new houses to replace the dilapidated and unsanitary structures at present existing in the congested sections of our city.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ROPING OFF AREA.

Coun. BRACKMAN offered the following:
Ordered, That the City Messenger be, and he hereby is, authorized to rope off an area in front of Faneuil Hall on April 3, the expense incident thereto to be charged to the appropriation for City Council, Flags, Ropes and Stakes.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

IMPROVEMENTS AT INDEPENDENCE PARK.

Coun. DONOVAN offered the following:
Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make the necessary improvements at Independence Park, such as the installation of granolithic walks, sodding, grading, etc.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

TRAFFIC SIGNALS, WARD 6.

Coun. DONOVAN offered the following:
Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install automatic traffic signals at the junction of D street and Broadway, Ward 6, and L street and Broadway, Ward 6.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CONFERENCES IN RE PAY CUTS.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to arrange for further conferences regarding the proposed wage cuts so that the amount taken from the lower paid employees will be more equitable.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, the councilor from the adjoining ward, Ward 18 (Coun. Norton), made the statement here awhile ago that he was surprised to see the quick switch made by some members of the Council. I happen to be one of the councilors who has been against pay cutting absolutely since the very beginning. If you will recall, on April 13, 1932, when an order was introduced similar to the order recently acted upon, I stood in my place and opposed pay cutting anywhere among the employees of the City of Boston until the Mayor did away with other unnecessary expenditures, and I think the councilor from Ward 18 then agreed with me that it was necessary to stop leaks at that time in the treasury of the City of Boston in connection with the expenditures of the Public Welfare Department, Soldiers' Relief Department, Supply Department and Public Works Department. I believe he was also in accord with me in asking to have work done, instead of by contract, by day labor, and I believe he also agreed with me on the proposition of having the Welfare Department decentralized. I believe he agreed with me, too, that a number of departments and activities of the city now housed outside of City Hall might properly be placed in City Hall, as well as having other economies made which might render unnecessary the proposed pay cut, particularly for the lower paid employees. He knows that the lower paid men suffer the most. In my opinion, if cuts are to take place, those receiving less than $1,600 a year should not be cut one penny, because those poor unfortunate people have been working for the city many years and after long struggles have arrived at a stage where they are getting a living wage. Surely we do not want now to take it away from them. I want to see the City of Boston set up a standard for other organizations, such as the Consolidated Gas Company, the various department stores and corporations, the Edison Company, the New England Telephone and Telegraph, the large banking corporations, all of which have cut their salaries down to the bone and are using the subterfuge resorted to by the National Economy League, that such cuts are necessary. Let us have an investigation first of the First National Bank and of the other banks, and see what has happened to all the millions now tied up in closed banks in the City of Boston. Why hasn't the Industrial Bank of Dorchester and Roxbury been liquidated, and why haven't the people been paid? Why hasn't the Bank Commissioner stepped in and investigated banking conditions in the City of Boston and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts? Why hasn't the First National Bank focused its guns on the National Economy League or on its own organization—an organization charging the City of Boston 6 per cent for loans and paying less than one per cent on the amount it receives on deposits from the City of Boston? It has been stated here that a number of councilors have switched on this question of cutting wages and salaries in the City of Boston. Here is one who has not switched one iota. I agree with everyone here that the expenses of the City of Boston must be cut down, that we must pare the budget to the point where we shall not spend more than we take in. But it is not right to start with cutting city employees first. Savings should be made in other ways and they should come last. After all, the lower paid city employees have only a small amount to keep themselves and their families going. Why not start with the contractors who are getting millions of dollars, with the Supply Department that is spending millions of dollars, with the amount that is being paid to people furnishing the city with food and other supplies? Let us cut down in the School Department budget; let us do away with the vocational department, for which they are spending $70,000 or over. But you don't hear a word about saving in those directions, because you are dealing with political heads. Let us give the employees of the City of Boston the same break as everyone else. So I want it definitely stated here that we are not switching over to the idea of pay cutting, even though some may get that idea from the remarks of the gentleman from Ward 18 (Coun. Norton). I want the Mayor of Boston to take action that will result in more equitable reductions, in savings that can be made in different directions, and not to make pay cuts that will bear improperly on the lower paid employees of the city those receiving less than $1,600 a year. Unless this thing is properly done, the employees will be upset to such an extent that they will not have any organization at all, and outside corporations will use it as a means of reducing wages throughout the city and the state. The result will be that we will find wages reduced to a point where the laboring class will not be able to earn enough to support their families.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

LIQUIDATION OF CLOSED BANKS.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to communicate with the Bank Commissioners of Massachusetts in an effort to expedite the liquidation of closed banks in Boston so that the depositors can have the use of their money.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.
Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a statement in reference to the order just referred to the Rules Committee.

Coun. HEIN—Mr. President, I object.
Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I would ask to have the objection stated.
President McGRATH—It is not necessary.

REPAVING OF WARD 17 STREETS.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave with smooth pavement the following streets in Ward 17:

Rockwell street, Burt street, Fuller street, Bailey street, Richmond street.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, a number of streets out in my ward should be reconstructed, and if the money tied up in the closed banks in the City of Boston was available for that purpose the streets could be reconstructed. We all know that there are millions of dollars tied up in banks in the City of Boston, money belonging to the people of the City of Boston. The order that I introduced has been referred to the Committee on Rules, but I ask that the Mayor compel the Bank Commissioner, if he can possibly do so, to liquidate those banks as rapidly as possible. If that were done we would have money available for the Welfare Department, Soldiers' Relief Department, Hospital Department, and also for the reconstruction of streets.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

AMOUNTS PAID RECIPIENTS OF SOLDIERS' RELIEF.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:
Ordered, That the Soldiers' Relief Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to place all recipients of soldiers' relief on the rolls for the same amount that they were receiving prior to the bank holidays.

President McGRATH—The Chair would state that that order has already been passed once today.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, not an order with the same language as this. There are thousands of aliens who receive aid from the Welfare Department, people not even citizens of the United States. The Welfare Department Commissioners have seen fit to reinstate the cash statements in lieu of the grocery orders, and yet upstairs in this City Hall we have a Soldiers' Relief Department, dealing with soldiers, sailors and marines who fought for these United States, and who receive less than the aliens receive from the Welfare Department. It is about time that our citizens were at least given the same consideration as people who are not citizens. I ask that the order be passed under suspension of the rule.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PAYMENT OF UNION WAGES BY CONTRACTORS.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:
Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston immediately order all contractors doing city work to pay full union wages to their employees as agreed upon in their contracts and which they are not complying with.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, it seems that our old friends, the grafting contractors, headed by Daddy Cummings, are working yet. It seems that this "extra" racket is quite a racket. They have worked it to a fare-thee-well at an expense of millions of dollars of the taxpayers' money—to such an extent, as I stated on the floor of the Council some time ago, that city employees, poor fellows in the ranks, have to pay. Not only do they not live up to the specifications of their contracts, getting out of everything as cheaply as possible, but now, as in the past, they are cutting the pay of their employees so they do not receive the union wages that were specified in the contracts when they were awarded. I say that it is not right. It is time that the Mayor of Boston got on to himself, called in two or three pet contractors and laid down the law, and called the turn on his bag men, so far as collecting during the rest of the term is concerned.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

LOAN FOR WELFARE PURPOSES.

Coun. POWER offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor consider the advisability of petitioning the Legislature to allow the City of Boston to borrow the sum of $15,000,000 for welfare and soldiers' relief purposes.

Coun. POWER—Mr. President, the statement has been made here this afternoon that some of the councilors have shifted their ideas in regard to salary cuts. I am introducing this order to prevent salary cuts of any kind in the City of Boston. I am asking the people of the City of Boston to have faith in the future of Boston, to have faith in the future of the State of Massachusetts. His Honor the Mayor informed us a week ago that, through the pride of the Governor or of the state, we could not go to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for assistance, as forty-one other states in this country have done, borrowing the money to take care of our poor and unfortunate. I don't know why not. I do not understand why we cannot do that. But if we cannot, we can at least go to the Legislature and borrow an amount of money, $15,000,000 to take care of our Welfare and Soldiers' Relief Departments. I am asking the Mayor to do this with two thoughts in mind. One is the main argument against salary cuts in the City of Boston, and the second is relief of the taxpayers. If we go to the Legislature and get $15,000,000 outside the debt limit, there need be no salary cuts of any kind. We don't want a salary cut in this city. Economically, I say it is wrong. That is my opinion. I am not an economist; I admit that I am not an economist. But we have all kinds of economists in this country. One says one thing, and another another thing. They both disagree. In twenty-four hours one is proven to be right and in the next twenty-four hours he is proven to be wrong, and then we have another one come along. So I am not an economist. But I do say this. Everyone knows that we have plenty of goods in this country; everyone also knows that we have more money in this country than there is in any other country. The trouble is, however, that we have not enough purchasing power. The trouble does not lie in over-production, but the real trouble is under-consumption. I said the same thing a year ago as a member of the Appropriations Committee, when I voted against salary cuts, and I say it today. If you take the purchasing power from a great number of men, you have depression; and if you take the purchasing power from your city employees how are you going to help out in overcoming the depression? The Governor, the Legislature, the President, everyone says that this present condition is temporary. The bill before the Legislature is to give the Mayor the power to cut salaries for only a year and a half or two years. All right. We are told that everything will be all right in a year and a half or two years, and I agree. But you say that the city must have some money. All right. Then, why not save this year? You say that the proposed cuts will save $5,000,000. That would mean a saving of about $2.50 on the tax rate. If this $15,000,000 is borrowed, it will mean a saving of $6.50 on the tax rate. Why not do it in that way? Can't we have faith in our people, in this city, in this state? The President of the United States only last week said, "I am going to recommend that Congress give the power to let cities and towns borrow for their welfare and soldiers' relief." If the President recommends that, why should not this power be given by the Legislature to this Commonwealth? A big cry went up a week and a half ago, when the Legislature started in to cut state salaries. They cut two millions off. That came out with big headlines all through the papers, and I noticed myself in small type, set off where few could see it, a statement that leave to withdraw had been granted on the proposed investigation of public utilities. There was a chance to do a good thing, but they simply gave leave to withdraw. When you really get at the men who are behind this sort of thing, who are they? The National Economy League, the Real Estate Exchange, the Municipal Research Bureau, the Chamber of Commerce. They say, "This is a time of depression. Now is the time to cut salaries." Have they ever taken any other position? Can anybody in the Council ever remember when the Chamber of Commerce, the Real Estate Exchange, the Good Government Association, have said in good times, "Now is the time to increase salaries?" No, you never heard them say anything about increasing salaries. But they say the same thing, whether times are good or bad,—cut salaries! It is all the "bunk," all a bluff. That is what we are up against. They are organized. Now, who do they have on their side? The bankers come in and say, "If you don't cut the salaries of the city employees, we will not give you any money." Mr. President, this is a democratic form of government. I read back in my school days the inaugural address of a President who said, "This is a government of the people, for the people and by the people." That was a long time ago, but it still sticks in my mind. But right here in the City of Boston today it is not a government of the people or by the people. It is a government of bankers. The bankers are supposed to be the bright men of our country. But, Mr. President, the bankers are the men responsible for the depression, I say, and they tell us, "If you don't cut salaries we don't care whether crimes are committed, we don't care if your school children are uneducated, we will cut off your funds." There will be no policemen, there will be no firemen, there will be no school teachers. As the Mayor said a week ago, 10,000 banks in this country have failed, but not one city. But those are the people who are telling us what we have to do, not leaving it to us to do what we think best. Well, we have seen something of bank failures in the last few years, and we have a right to question their judgment, and to very seriously question their dictation to us. They say that city bonds will not be any good, but at the same time they have been saying, "Invest in Peruvian bonds, invest in South American bonds." Well, many of our people did so, and what has been the result? They say, "Come to us, and we will show you where to put your money—not in city, state or government bonds, but in Peruvian and South American bonds, so that we can get plenty more!" And these are the people who are telling us what we have to do! I get my authority from the three greatest men in the country that we are at war, Mr. President, that we are at war with depression, a war the same as any other war. My first authority is former President Hoover who in October, 1931, said, "I want a war finance corporation." That is what President Hoover said. Then President Roosevelt in his inaugural said, "Give me the powers that you would give to any war President." And two weeks ago, Alfred E. Smith said, "I have said right along that we are at war with this depression." More damage has been done to the people of this country in the last few years than was ever done in 1917 or 1918. If we are at war, and the bankers are playing with the savings of the people to the extent of millions and millions of dollars, why are they not tried for larceny? Webster defined treason against the United States in times of war. If you aid and abet the common enemy, you are guilty of treason. If we are at war with this depression, if the country is at war at this time, why not try the bankers who are taking the blood out of our people for treason—not simply imposing $5,000 fine, but sending them away for a year? There is a way out of this, Mr. President, without resorting to wage cuts. By doing what I suggest in this order we can save more than $6 in the tax rate and can help out the poor at Hawkins Street and help out all the city's activities. This is a way by which we can raise more than $12,000,000.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I agree with the councilor in his remarks to a very substantial degree. I agree that this city does not represent government of, for and by the people, but government by one man. That is positively the truest phrase that I ever heard the councilor utter on the floor of the Council. Boston is in a peculiar position, Mr. President and fellow members. You don't need me to enlighten you in that regard. We are in the position we are in through no fault of our own—or perhaps through the fault of our own in the municipal election held in November, 1929. The Governor and the State Legislature, I think perhaps rightly, don't want to entrust enormous sums of money to a loose-fingered Mayor.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, I rise to a point of order, that the councilor is not speaking to the order offered by the councilor from Ward 10.

President McGRATH—The point of order is well taken.

(The order was read, at request of Coun. Kelly.)

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I shall try to keep to the order. I think the councilor is more worried about remarks that may be made about his good friend the Mayor than he is about my getting off the order. Of course, I know that the truth hurts, but the councilor knows that what I say is true. But he has to go through his little act, and afterwards he will go down and help himself with the Mayor and perhaps be invited out by him. Now, it is very nice for the state to come to Boston's assistance, very nice for the Federal Government to come to the assistance of Boston. But there is that stumbling block, and, regardless of whom you talk with, experienced legislators will all tell you the same thing. The sooner you get rid of the present Mayor of Boston the sooner they will come to your aid. That is the situation that is confronting the poor taxpayers of Boston, and I say that the greatest favor the honorable President of the United States could do to the people of Boston and of Massachusetts would be to recognize the man who almost lost him the State of Massachusetts by sending him to some small appointive office where he would have nothing to do, and where he could do no harm—some place like the Virgin Islands, for instance, or Siam. The greatest thing the President of the United States could do would be to recognize his biggest enemy in Massachusetts by sending him into exile. (Applause in the galleries.)

President McGRATH—The Chair will state, as he has stated on numerous occasions before, that it is only through the courtesy of the President of the body that our guests are allowed in the gallery. They are very welcome, but under the rules of the Council there can be no demonstrations of any sort. If they continue, we must clear the gallery. Therefore, I will ask our guests to act in orderly fashion.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, I would not refuse an invitation from his Honor the Mayor to have breakfast, lunch or supper with him. But I will say to the councilor from Ward 15 (Coun. Kelly) that I don't think he properly represents the taxpayers of Boston by continually attempting to convey the impression through the Press that ours is not a well-governed city, that we don't know how to spend the taxpayers' money; because, after all, if he was broadminded enough to see the implication of the remarks he makes, he would come to the conclusion that possibly his district has made a mistake in selecting its representative to this body. The City of Boston can well be judged by the men it elects to public office, and we, as members of this body, as well as the Chief Executive of our city, of course are subjected to any bit of propaganda that may be leveled against us by our constituency or by the city as a whole for our acts in the performance of our duty. The people of the City of Boston have a right to criticize us when we come here on a Monday afternoon, as we have been doing, and, because of a nasty—

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. I would like to know whether the gentleman is talking to a point of order, whether he is making a little half-witted political speech, or whether he is talking to the order offered by the councilor from Ward 10?

President McGRATH—The Chair requests the councilor to keep within the scope of the order.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, I believe the councilor from Ward 10 has the same right as any other councilor to introduce such orders as he deems of interest to the city. If any order he introduces is a good one, I have no right to question his purpose in offering it, and a vote for or against the order should not be prejudiced by silly and uneducated remarks.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. I think the gentleman from the neighboring ward, who receives but 30 out of 100 votes when he was sent back to this body, is away out of order, that he is not speaking on the order offered by the councilor from Ward 10.

President McGRATH—The point of order is well taken. The Chair will request the gentleman to keep within the scope of the order.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, I believe if we are to pass upon such orders as this which has been introduced by the gentleman from Ward 10, the orders should not be prejudiced by such remarks from a member of the body as will have a tendency to discredit the gentleman who offers the order.

On motion of Coun. POWER, the rule was suspended and the order was passed.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

Coun. McGRATH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to report on the possibility of making the Savin Hill Bath House available for the coming season by dividing the remaining section of the bath house for temporary use this summer, as no new building started now can be completed in time for the bathing season.

HEALTH UNIT IN CODMAN SQUARE.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:

APPROPRIATION FOR DORCHESTER DAY.

Coun. FISH offered the following:
Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston allot the sum of $2,000 for Dorchester Day.
Passed under suspension of the rule.

POLICE LISTING.

Coun. McGRATH offered the following:
Ordered, That the Police Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to notify all station captains, in connection with the listing now going on by the Police Department, that an extremely careful canvas be made by making additional calls at the houses where people were out to make certain that every resident of Boston is properly listed, as it will have great bearing in determining the residence of all recipients of aid.
Passed under suspension of the rule.

BOSTON SCHOOLBOYS' PARADE.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to consult with the School Committee with a view to having the Boston Schoolboys' Parade, if it is not to take place as usual in June, made a part of the Dorchester Day observance.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, commenting upon that order I may say that only a few hundred dollars would be involved, I understand, anyway, by the conducting of the annual school boy parade, which has been an historical event in this city. I understand that some of the business men in downtown Boston object to it, and there have been objections on the ground that no money should be spent for this sort of thing this year. I wish to say this, however, that if the drill as conducted in the Boston public schools is of sufficient importance to make it a compulsory part of the boys' education in a Boston high school, surely, following out the idea, there might well be one day in the year when the boys could show what they have accomplished in the course of that study and drill. So I would like to say to the Mayor of Boston and to the School Committee that if they do not intend to have this parade on Boston Common and in the downtown streets as usual this year, we would like to have it conducted on Dorchester Day. It could be done at very small expense, and if necessary that expense would be met by Dorchester business men. It would seem to be a very appropriate event to be carried on in the observance of Dorchester Day, the day celebrated by the oldest, largest and most important part of Boston.
The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

Adjourned, on motion of Coun. GREEN, at 5.04 p. m., to meet on Monday, April 10, 1933, at 2 p. m.

JOHN H. L. NOYES PLAYGROUND IMPROVEMENTS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 10, 1933.

To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit to you report from William P. Long, chairman of the Park Commission, relative to your request to enlarge the right field area of the John H. L. Noyes Playground. This is in reply to your order of March 27, 1933.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, March 31, 1933.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.
Dear Sir,—I am in receipt of an order from the City Council that the Park Commission make plans to enlarge the right field area of the John H. L. Noyes Playground in East Boston, and fill in the adjoining creek while the dredging and filling operations are now under way in connection with the construction of a new state highway.

The John H. L. Noyes Playground is one of the most popular playgrounds in East Boston. The right field is shorter by 100 feet. The creek adjacent to right field is very dangerous. Our caretaker has pulled out at least eight or ten children from this creek during the past year.

If the funds were available, it would be very advisable to do this work at the present time while the state operations are going on.

Engineer's estimate of amount of fill required, 80,000 yards. Contractor's price, 24 cents per cubic yard, $19,200.

I regret exceedingly we have no funds available to do this work.

Very respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

Placed on file.

MEMORIAL PARK, HYDE PARK.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 10, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit to you report from William P. Long, chairman of the Park Commission, relative to your request to take over Memorial Park, at the junction of Harvard avenue. This is in reply to your order of March 27, 1933.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, March 31, 1933.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I am in receipt of an order from the City Council, that the Park Commission consider the advisability of having the city take over Memorial Park, at the junction of Harvard avenue and Lincoln street, Hyde Park, and dedicate same to the war veterans.

This matter has been considered a number of times by this department at the request of the Hyde Park Board of Trade, and the result of our studies have been that it was inadvisable, owing to economic conditions, to take over this ledgy area for a memorial park.

No funds are available to do the work that would be necessary to put this place in proper condition for a memorial park, as practically the entire area is solid ledge.

Very respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

APPROACH TO NEW EAST BOSTON TUNNEL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 10, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit to you report from Edward W. Roemer, Building Commissioner, with relation to the removal of old buildings for the approach to the new East Boston Tunnel. This is in reply to your order of March 27, 1933.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Building Department, April 6, 1933.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—In answer to the order of the City Council, passed March 27, that the "Building Commissioner be requested to furnish the City Council with information as to the delay in removing old buildings to make way for the approach to the East Boston vehicular tunnel, Boston side," please be advised as follows:

The records in this office show that on February 23, 1933, applications were filed by the Atlantic Wrecking Company of Lynn to take down twenty-seven (27) buildings in the market district to make way for the Boston approaches to the East Boston vehicular tunnel. These applications were approved on February 25, and permits taken out on February 27, on all these buildings, with the exception of two groups located at 83-101 and 108-122 North street.

Applications for these two groups were approved and permits issued on March 17, with the proviso that necessary precautions and safeguards be provided by the contractor before beginning work.

Four of these buildings are completely razed in the area bounded by Faneuil Hall square, North street and North Market street; twelve buildings are now in process of destruction and are about 50 per cent razed, and there are eleven buildings, the demolition of which has not been started.

I cannot say how many buildings are ultimately to be demolished, or who will do the work, and I would respectfully refer you to the Transit Commission, for whom these buildings are being demolished, for any further information desired.

Respectfully yours,
EDWARD W. ROEMER,
Building Commissioner.

FIVE-CENT FARE IN DORCHESTER.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 10, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit to you report from Edward Dana, General Manager of the Boston Elevated Railway, relative to your request for a five-cent fare in Dorchester. This is in reply to your order of March 27, 1933.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Public Trustees, Boston Elevated Railway,
Boston, March 30, 1933.

Mr. Frank A. Benson,
Secretary to the Mayor.

Dear Mr. Benson,—In reply to your letter of March 23 in regard to five-cent fares in Dorchester, the matter has been presented to the Board of Trustees.

The facts are that the Boston Elevated Railway carried 291,753,825 revenue passengers in 1932. Of this number 220,884,856 were ten-cent passengers, 64,321,902 were five-cent passengers, 6,333,011 were five-cent school passengers, and 206,682 were special car and coach passengers.

If the ten-cent passengers had been five-cent passengers the revenue would have been $11,044-

242.80 less than it was. If sufficient additional passengers had been carried to have kept the revenue the same it would have required additional riders to the extent of 220,844,856, making the total number of revenue passengers 512,638,681.

In view of the fact that in 1917, before the increase of the automobile and the change in economic conditions and in the middle of war time activities, the highest number of revenue passengers carried under a flat five-cent rate was 381,017,338, it can be seen why under existing conditions the Board of Trustees cannot further extend the five-cent fare privilege.

Yours very truly,
EDWARD DANA,

Executive Vice President and General Manager.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit to you report from William P. Long, chairman of the Park Commission, relative to your request of making the Savin Hill Bath House available for the coming season. This is in reply to your order of April 3, 1933.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, April 7, 1933.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I am in receipt of an order from the City Council that the Park Commission be requested to report on the possibility of making the Savin Hill Bath House available for the coming season, by dividing the remaining section of the bath house for temporary use this summer, as no new building started now can be completed in time for the bathing season.

The Park Department engineers, together with the building inspectors, are now at work making an examination of the building. Plans are being prepared for a temporary women's locker room, and the men's section will be divided so as to take care of the boys. It is felt, with these hasty improvements, which will have to be completed before June 15, that the people in Savin Hill can be accommodated for this year.

Very respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

LOAN FOR HOSPITAL BUILDINGS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 3, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—Under date of April 3, 1933, the trustees of the Boston City Hospital advertised for bids for the erection of a new Kitchen Building and the remodeling of the Old Laundry Building.

Ten bids were received ranging from $450,000, in the case of the west bidder, to $567,300, the highest estimate received. Since there is available at the present time, for these two projects, approximately $345,000, it was impossible to award a contract for the two projects. It will be necessary, therefore, to reject all bids and readvertise.

It is evident from the bids received that the amount available is not sufficient to permit the awarding of a contract when new bids are received. In order that sufficient funds may be available, I submit, herewith, two loan orders totaling $160,000, which amount has been determined upon by the architect in charge of the construction as sufficient to meet all possible contingencies.

I, therefore, recommend adoption of these orders by your honorable body.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $120,000 be, and the same hereby is, appropriated, to be expended by the trustees of the Boston City Hospital, for Kitchen Building, etc., and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the City of Boston to said amount.

Ordered, That the sum of $40,000 be, and the same hereby is, appropriated, to be expended by the trustees of the Boston City Hospital, for Old Laundry Building, remodeling, etc., and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue from time to time, on request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the City of Boston to said amount.

Coun. BRACKMAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor be requested to instruct the Park Commission to lay out a baseball diamond for the use of all competitive baseball teams at Franklin Park.

INVESTIGATION OF TELEPHONE RATES.

Coun. ROBERTS offered the following:

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel, through his Honor the Mayor, be instructed to file a complaint with the Public Utilities Commission of the Commonwealth under General Laws, chapter 159, section 24, with respect to the charges made by the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company in the metropolitan district for the use of the so-called "French" phones, extensions and other charges made for service which the said company chooses to classify as additional or special and to request the said commission to investigate the manner in which the said company makes charges for extra and overtime calls in the several exchanges within the city; and to investigate in general the regular and special charges of said company.

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, this order is identical with the one passed by the body November 28, 1932. At that time I called attention to the fact that the telephone company workers had already received one cut and it was anticipated that they would receive another. Since that time, as we all know, the basic raw materials that go into the make-up of these charges have been very greatly reduced in price. Nothing has been done by the Mayor and the Corporation Counsel with reference to the order adopted by the body. I took it upon myself to call up the Corporation Counsel and was informed by him that he was told by the Public Utilities Commission that if such a complaint were filed, in accordance with the provisions of the statute, it would be over a year before a hearing would be obtained upon such complaints. As a matter of fact, in New York State, under date of April 6, the Public Utilities Commission reduced the charge on the French phone from 25 to 15 cents. Having in mind that the charge in the metropolitan area here for use of the phone is 50 cents, it is clear that our charge at this time is more than three times the charge made in New York, and I don't think anybody would claim that the commission in that state has radical tendencies. This means, of course, that the New York Commission is passing over to the people of the state of New York through this reduction a large amount of money, while we are still paying the 50-cent charge here.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, Philip Stockton, the president of the First National Bank, is also a director of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company, and he is backing up the National Economy League in asking for reductions of wages and encouraging wage slashing of municipal employees in general, as well as taking away large amounts from the unfortunate disabled veterans. Certainly, we will get no decrease in cost of telephone service at the hands of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company until some leader of the people steps into the breach and brings them before the proper tribunal. We should bear in mind, however, that the First National Bank and the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company are one and the same organization, each influenced by the other. But until the people bring them up with a round turn they will refuse to reduce charges for service, which are a great deal more than they should be. While they have reduced the wages of their employees, they still continue to pay dividends on stock at the same rate that they have always paid, and to take from the people these same amounts in service charges. The New England Telephone and Telegraph Company should reduce telephone rates 40 per cent, and they seem to forget that if they succeed in having salaries reduced all around, cutting the income of people in the community, most of them will take their telephones out of their homes. They will find that the reaction, so far as their operation is concerned, will be terrific, and that they have made a mistake in reducing salaries and wages, because by so doing they are lowering the standard of living of people and compelling them to economize by cutting out telephones, as well as in other directions.

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, recently hearings were held before a legislative committee at which complaints were made by over five hundred women coming from various walks of life, who spent their valuable time in coming before the committee and setting forth in no uncertain terms the reasons why they were appealing to the Legislature for a fair deal from these companies; and they stated that they could not at the present time obtain fair treatment at the hands of the Commission on Public Utilities, because so much time was taken for hearings and the petitioners were held up to such technical rules that only a few experts in the Commonwealth could properly present a case, at a cost perhaps of hundreds of thousands. We have had an experience of the City of Boston being represented before the department in a case which took years and which cost the city hundreds of thousands. The committee reported on the petition brought before the Legislature, "Ought not to pass." But the Legislature by a very close vote reversed that action. I think if the present procedure, so far as the Department of Public Utilities is concerned, goes on, the whole thing will finally become a campaign issue in this state, Mr. President.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

CONTRACTS WITH MATTHEW CUMMINGS.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor of Boston abrogate the two contracts to Matthew Cummings—namely, building at City Hospital and the new Dorchester High School for Girls at Grove Hall, due to the fact that he is not paying union wages to his employees according to the terms of his contract with the city.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, it was interesting to see in the Boston newspapers at the end of last week how the union officials finally caught the champion of champions, Daddy Cummings, the young man who has taken over $5,000,000 of the money of the taxpayers of the City of Boston in three years. They have finally caught him not paying union wages. It was interesting to hear this professional chiseler at the State House say that he always paid union wages to his help, and seeing him stand up and slander, in the course of his remarks, honest public officials, by whom charges were made against him, stating in regard to a certain speaker that he was going to the District Attorney and have him prosecuted for libel, that he was going to make the speaker vomit certain words that he uttered before the Legislative Committee on Rules. The public of Boston have finally found out that Kelly was once again right when he said that Daddy Cummings, Boston's menace No. 2, has not been paying the poor workingman the union wage that he agreed to pay when he took the contract. But he has now finally been caught by the union officials, and I say that the Mayor of Boston, if he is sincere in the friendly feeling that he proclaims toward the workmen of Boston, should abrogate these contracts. I have had occasion to study the City Record in the last few weeks, and I see that this millionaire contractor has put in considerable bills for extras, and when he puts in bills for extras he makes sure that he is paid for so many hours at the union wage. But he has now finally been tripped up and it has been shown to the public that he is not living up to the terms of his contract. Mr. President, failure to live up to the terms of a contract is ample justification for the Mayor of Boston to immediately rescind the two contracts that are outstanding with the Matthew Cummings concern, making an example of this gentleman, so that in the future no other concern will dare to rob the poor workingmen of Boston. I sincerely trust, therefore, that the order will be passed under suspension of the rule.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, I have no objection to the order offered by the gentleman from the adjoining ward, but I would like more than the say-so of the councilor in this matter. I would like some substantiation of the facts. Therefore I hope this will go to the Executive Committee so that we may get the facts before we vote upon it one way or the other.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I have no objection to its going to the Executive Committee if we can have before that committee somebody in authority, who can tell us whether or not the union officials in Boston have found Matthew Cummings guilty of not complying with the terms of his contract.

President McGRATH—The Chair will refer the order to the Executive Committee and will instruct the City Messenger to get in touch with the School Department and with the City Hospital trustees, in order that representatives of those departments may appear before our committee.

Coun. KELLY—And I trust that there will be a labor representative from the Boston Central Labor Union present, Mr. President.

President McGRATH—The City Messenger will also call up the Boston Central Labor Union and see if they will send a representative down here. The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

RELIEF HOSPITAL, FOREST HILLS.

Coun. MURRAY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Trustees of the Boston City Hospital be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to establish a relief hospital in the vicinity of Forest Hills, and that, pending establishment, arrangements be made with private hospitals in that section to care for emergency cases.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, I might say in regard to that order that anybody acquainted with the situation in Jamaica Plain, Forest Hills, Hyde Park, Readville or West Roxbury, knows that to get a person who is injured to the City Hospital takes from twenty-five minutes to half an hour. They are held up, of course, by the red lights on Centre street and in other places, and no matter how much they may try to hurry, the distance is so great that the life of a person who is injured might ebb away. There are, however, a number of hospitals in the vicinity of Forest Hills, Jamaica Plain and West Roxbury, with which I think arrangements might be made to take care of such persons until money can be raised to build a relief hospital in the neighborhood of Jamaica Plain or Forest Hills to take care of persons injured or maimed in our district or surrounding districts until they can be moved to the City Hospital. In that way undoubtedly, lives will be saved.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RECESS.

The Council voted, at 2.38 p. m., on motion of Coun. DONOVAN, to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The Council reassembled in the Council Chamber and were called to order by President McGRATH at 4.20 p. m.

SIDEWALK ON GORDON STREET.

Coun. HEIN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Gordon street, from Cambridge to North Beacon street, both sides, Ward 21, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

TRANSFER OF EMPLOYEES TO BOSTON LICENSING BOARD.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to arrange for the transfer of a sufficient number of employees from various city departments, for a temporary period of time, to the Boston Licensing Board in order to speed up the work of issuing licenses to sell beer.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I am not criticizing the Licensing Board, as I think they have done a splendid job. But, due to the large influx of applicants for beer licenses, the office up there has got into a very bad condition. Hundreds and hundreds of people have come there and there has not been a sufficient force to take care of them, and many have been forced to stand in line under unsanitary conditions for four or five hours, and in some cases all day. They have been unable to get information or assistance from the clerks, due to the fact that they have been busy on other work. I am, therefore, introducing this order, trusting that the Mayor may be able to send up some temporary officers to assist in this licensing work, so that those who want to do some business in the beer line can get to work right away.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

REDUCTION IN ELECTRIC RATES.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to petition the Public Utilities Commission for an immediate reduction in the rates now charged for electric current.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I am submitting that order so that it may go along at the same time as the New England Telephone and Telegraph order introduced earlier in the meeting. This public utility corporation we have here furnishing electricity is, I believe, overcharging for its service. I believe that it should give a reduction of approximately 40 per cent. At the present time I understand that they are selling electricity to their subsidiaries for three mills per kilowatt hour and charging citizens of Boston 8 and 10 tens per kilowatt hour. So I think it is time that the Department of Public Utilities should make arrangements to give a proper reduction to the home owners of Boston, particularly. I understand that reductions have been given to business concerns and to power plants, and I think they should be given to the users of electricity in the homes.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

WARD 17 IMPROVEMENTS.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave with smooth paving the following streets in Ward 17:

Lyndhurst street, Moultrie street, Milton avenue.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

WARD 6 IMPROVEMENTS.

Coun. DONOVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave with smooth pavement the following streets in Ward 6:

O street, P street.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along O street, entire length, both sides, Ward 6, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PERMIT FOR WHITE FUEL COMPANY.

Coun. DONOVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to reconsider their action in granting a permit for the storage of fuel oil to the White Fuel Company in South Boston.

Coun. DONOVAN—Mr. President, about a month ago the Board of Street Commissioners granted a permit to the White Fuel Company to store a large quantity of fuel oil. This action was taken without the knowledge of the people of the City of Boston, and I believe their rights have been grossly violated by such action. I am requesting the Board of Street Commissioners to now give the people of my district an opportunity to have the matter brought out into the light for free and frank discussion of the whole affair.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

WARD 12 IMPROVEMENTS.

Coun. BRACKMAN offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave with smooth pavement Intervale street, from Warren street to Blue Hill avenue, Ward 12.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave with smooth pavement the following streets in Ward 12:

Edgewood street, Gaston street, Holborn street, Wabeno street, Wabon street.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALK, WARD 14.

Coun. RUBY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Harvard street, east side, Blue Hill avenue to Morton street, Ward 14 in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ROPING OFF STREET.

Coun. POWER and Coun. MURRAY offered the following:

Ordered, That the City Messenger rope off Centre street from Mozart street, Jamaica Plain, in conjunction with the M. J. O'Connell Post, American Legion, road race, on April 19.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

Adjourned, at 4.32 p. m., on motion of Coun. HEIN, to meet on Monday, April 17, 1933, at 2 p. m.

MAYOR CURLEY RECEIVES $2,500 FOR WELFARE RELIEF.

The Welfare Fund was, on April 7, in receipt of another generous contribution from the largest contributor to the relief of the needy of Boston, with the exception of the Sears Roebuck Company. The contribution made this day was by Paul Bowser and his personal counsel, former Lieutenant-Governor Edward P. Barry, who presented his Honor the Mayor for the Welfare Fund a check in the sum of $2,500. This contribution represents a total of $8,200 received from the promoters of wrestling in Boston. Of the total amount received, $7,500 was contributed by Paul Bowser, $2,500 of which was turned over to the Volunteers of America for the purchase of equipment necessary for the Penny Lunch established in the old Marston Restaurant on Brattle street and which is now furnishing food to 13,000 persons each week at an average cost of five cents a meal. The remaining $2,500 of the original contribution was utilized for the purchase of stockings and shoes for the children of the poor of Boston.

The $2,500 received today will be utilized as additional payments by the Public Welfare Department to large families in which some child is undernourished.

There is no aid that can be given the needy of Boston that is of greater value than assistance of this character which it is beyond the power of the city to provide.

I have been assured by Mr. Bowser that at a later exhibition an additional contribution, in the sum of $2,500, may be expected, making a grand total contribution by Mr. Bowser of $10,000 to the relief of the needy of Boston.

The example set by this man—in the light of his generosity and consideration for the children and the needy poor of Boston—is most admirable, and might well be followed by other individuals in the city, of standing and wealth, whose contributions to the present time have been conversation or criticism.

THE SUPPLY HOUSE OF NEW HAVEN CITY DEPARTMENTS.

The Supply House of the city of New Haven, Conn., is located on Water street on a plot of about four acres of land, running down to the city dock. It consists of one main three-story brick building, which is used as an office building; one large two-story garage where all autos attached to the various city departments are housed; three large sheds and the dog pound.

All city employees report here for work. The working organization of the various city departments at present comprises about nine hundred men. Practically all the tools and tractors, road rollers, snow-plows and a snow loader and all other mechanical equipment and auto trucks, as well as construction materials of all kinds, are stored here. The Supply House also contains a blacksmith shop, an auto and tire repair shop, and a paint shop and traffic sign department.

The offices of the Superintendent of Streets, Sewers, Bridges, and Trees, the Chief Inspector of Garbage Collections, the Employment Bureau and the Pay Roll Department, are all located in the three-story office building.

ANNEXATIONS OF BOSTON.

East Boston in 1637; South Boston in 1804, being set off from Dorchester; Roxbury in 1868, a city of Norfolk County since March, 1846; Dorchester in 1870, a town since September, 1630; Charlestown in 1874, a city of Middlesex County since February, 1847; Brighton in 1874, set off from Cambridge and incorporated as a town of Middlesex County in February, 1807; West Roxbury in 1874, set off from Roxbury and incorporated as a town of Norfolk County in May, 1851; Hyde Park in 1912, a town of Norfolk County since April, 1868.

These annexations, which added 24,312 acres of land to the original land of Boston, were by area as follows: East Boston, 1,435 acres; South Boston, 795; Roxbury, 2,450; Dorchester, 5,600; West Roxbury, 8,075; Brighton, 2,664; Charlestown, 424; Hyde Park, 2,869. Filled land increased the area later by 1,396 acres. In 1875 the annexed territory had a population of 201,250, or 58.86 per cent of city's total; in 1910 its population had increased to 477,311, or 71.18 per cent, Hyde Park not included. By 1915 the total was 549,139, or 73.67 per cent of city. By 1925 the total was 607,519, or 77.92 per cent.

SAND, CINDERS AND SALT IN DULUTH.

About 385 miles of sidewalk are sanded every year and about 250 miles of streets are snow-plowed and sanded. Ordinarily, flat grades are not sanded, this work being confined to steep grades where dangerous ice conditions exist. During the past season the maintenance department used about 500 cubic yards of cinders, 500 cubic yards of sand, and 5 tons of calcium chloride on the streets.

The use of salt, or sodium chloride, has been discontinued entirely, because of its injurious effect on concrete walks and pavements. The action of salt is not clearly understood, but it is much more active during cold weather than in summer, and is apparently due to the formation of crystals after penetrating the surface, the force of which disintegrates the concrete. Calcium chloride does not seem to be entirely free from this difficulty, but is much less active than sodium chloride.

MUNICIPAL CREDIT PLAN.

Rochester's Municipal Credit Plan proposal of Mayor Owen, introduced in the State Senate on February 11, has caused considerable comment in financial and governmental circles. As stated in section 1 of the bill, its purpose is for the alleviation of an emergency created by a strained economic depression. It is well known that the credit of municipalities, generally, is strained as a result of increased expenditures for welfare purposes, paralleled by a marked decrease in the value of taxable property. The buyers of municipal securities look askance upon the balance sheets of cities.

Mayor Owen's proposal is that a state agency be created by the Legislature, to be known as "The Public Credit and Sinking Fund Corporation of the State of New York." This corporation shall have the power "to invest in, purchase and sell obligations of the state and obligations of any municipal corporation or public district or agency of the state" with limitations. After April 1, 1933, no obligations maturing subsequent to April 1, 1933, shall be purchased. All municipal securities shall yield 5 per cent at maturity.

CHICAGO TRAFFIC POLICE IN YEAR-LONG DRIVE.

Chicago traffic experts have promised a 50 per cent decrease in deaths from motor-car accidents, as a result of a week-by-week drive now in operation by Commissioner Russell of the Police Department to enforce the city traffic code. The drive, an outgrowth of the National Safety Congress and Chicago Safety Week recently held in Chicago, is expected to prove a valuable educational feature for drivers, pedestrians and policemen.

NEW INCINERATOR IN OPERATION IN MONTREAL.

In the past summer Montreal, Que., completed a new garbage incinerator in the west end of the city, which marks another step forward in the removal and destruction of this kind of waste material. This is the second incinerator built within a year and carries into effect the original plan of having two incinerators, one at the east end of the city and the other at the west end. The total cost of the Sterling type incinerator, which was installed by Bartlett and Snow of Canada, Limited, was $400,000, including all equipment. The contractors were the St. George Construction Company of Montreal.

The incinerator has a capacity of three hundred tons of garbage a day of twenty-four hours. It will do away with the large garbage dump on the river front, the noxious odors from which have been the cause of many complaints.

NO-PARKING ZONES FOR SCHOOLS REDUCE PEDESTRIAN HAZARD.

Minneapolis has passed an ordinance which establishes all streets on sides adjacent to schools as no-parking zones from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. This is particularly significant since records have shown that a large per cent of child accidents have been due to children stepping out from behind parked cars.

These zones are painted yellow and serve to attract the attention of the motorist as well as to give him a clear vision while passing the school.

Last day for filing applications, Wednesday, June 14, 1933, at 5 p. m.

This is the regular examination for the stenographic service of the state and of all cities and of such towns in the state as are classified under civil service. On June 10, the examination will be held in various centrally located cities. On June 24, the examination will be held in Boston, and all persons who reside within commuting distance will be notified for examination on this day.

Persons qualifying in the examination may have their names placed on the state list as well as on the list for the city or town in which they reside.

Applicants must be not less than sixteen years of age at the time of filing application.

The subjects of examination with their respective weights will be as follows: Training and experience, 2; spelling, 2; arithmetic, 2; grammar, 2; filing, 1; word knowledge, 1; stenography, 10; total, 20.

The dictation is given at the following rates of speed: 80, 100 and 120, the dictation at each rate of speed consisting of a letter of about 300 words in length. Each applicant may select any two of the three speed tests for transcription. The transcription is marked for both speed and accuracy. Applicants are required to obtain at least 70 per cent in accuracy of transcription of one speed test.

Applicants will also be required to obtain at least 65 per cent in spelling, at least 50 per cent in each of the other subjects, and at least 70 per cent in general average in order to become eligible.

LIBRARY PACKED AS DEPRESSION CONTINUES.

As the curve of business goes down, the curve of reading goes up! To those cities tempted to chop off the budgetary appropriation for libraries as the first move in a program of economy, this report from the American Library Association Bulletin may be interesting:

More than a million new readers have found their way into libraries in cities of over 200,000 population in the last two years, and the number of books borrowed from them has reached the unprecedented high of 157,000,000—more than 26,000,000 over figures for 1929.

While these figures are indicative of the increase in reading throughout the country, they do not tell the whole story, for they represent only 44 libraries. Reports received by the American Library Association indicate that the per capita demand for books is equally great in smaller libraries.

Expenditures for library service in the cities noted increased 5 per cent during the two-year period; the number of books available increased 10 per cent; the number of registered readers, 19 per cent; and the number of books borrowed, 20 per cent.

KANSAS CITY WINS POLICE HOME RULE.

The Supreme Court of Missouri has given Kansas City control of its police department.

For years those who wanted the city to operate and control its own police department had been going to the Legislature regularly with bills which would end state control. But conditions were never just right. The city raised the question of the constitutionality of the law under which the department has operated, and the Court held the law unconstitutional in a five-to-two opinion.

The police department of Kansas City had been under the control of the state since 1874. Under the law as it has existed in recent years, the department was administered by a commission of three members, two appointed by the governor and the mayor, ex officio.

The city attacked the law on the ground that it delegated legislative powers to an administrative board. In this contention the city was upheld, the court holding that the limitations in the law were not sufficiently definite to prevent the commissioners from making almost unlimited demands on the city treasury.

CHICAGO POLICE REORGANIZED.

Many improvements have recently taken place in the organization and administration of the Police Department of Chicago, Ill.

Although the numerical strength of the force has been reduced in the last two years approximately from 6,700 to 6,000, the number of men on foot patrol has been increased 150 per cent, being now about 1,900. The efficiency of the department has been further increased by adding to the number of patrol cars and by placing in operation an extensive police radio system. There are now some 100 small patrol cars and fifty large high-powered ones equipped with radio. Furthermore, 20 per cent of the present force constitutes new blood in the department. The average age has been lowered, and a greater proportion of young men will be encouraged by the reduction of the admission age to a range of twenty-one to twenty-nine years, from the former limits of twenty-three to thirty-five, approximately. Civil service methods in disciplining new policemen are better, and a more thorough check-up on the character of those examined is made.

UNITED STATES TO HAVE TENTH MUNICIPAL UNIVERSITY.

The tenth municipal university in the United States is being planned by Omaha, Neb., whose citizens have approved plans for the establishment of a four-year university, to be supported by a mill tax. The following are the nine municipal universities or colleges known to exist at the present time in the United States, in order of their establishment on the municipal basis: College of Charleston (South Carolina), 1837; University of Louisville (Kentucky), 1837; College of the City of New York, 1847; Hunter College of the City of New York, 1870; University of the City of Cincinnati (Ohio), 1871; University of Toledo (Ohio), 1884; University of Akron (Ohio), 1913; University of the City of Detroit (Michigan), 1923; Municipal University of Wichita (Kansas), 1926.

MASSACHUSETTS BAY COLONY.

The first chartered colony in New England, charter granted by Charles I on March 4, 1629. About a year before, a patent had been granted to six prominent men of Dorchester, west of England, among whom was Capt. John Endicott. He sailed in June, 1628, with a party of fifty or sixty persons, arriving in September and settling at Naumkeag, afterward named Salem. In the spring of 1629, the Bay Company fitted out three ships conveying about four hundred persons and arriving at Salem in June. Endicott sent a small party to effect a settlement on the Bay in Mishawum, afterward named by the settlers Charlestown, the first town in New England to assume the town polity, Plymouth and Salem being governed by a governor and council. Endicott was appointed in London as the first resident governor on April 30, 1629. The Massachusetts Bay Company was reorganized in London on October 20, 1629, when John Winthrop was chosen as governor. He arrived at Salem on June 12, 1630, soon proceeded to Charlestown with a large following and finding that place unsuitable, finally settled in Boston. Winthrop served thirteen years as governor in four different periods ending in 1649 and Endicott fifteen years at various times ending in 1665. Other governors were Thomas Dudley, Richard Bellingham, John Haynes, Henry Vane, John Leverett and Simon Bradstreet, the latter serving twelve years until 1692 when the Bay Colony and the Plymouth Colony were merged, becoming the Royal Province of Massachusetts Bay, which existed eighty-two years to 1774, the governors being appointed by the King.

The name, Massachusetts, is Indian and signifies "near the big hills."

FAILURE TO MAINTAIN CITY STREETS IS FALSE ECONOMY.

Money now saved by failure to maintain city streets, in response to the clamor of citizens for tax reduction, represents a trivial economy in comparison with the enormous outlay that will be required to rebuild such thoroughfares later. Taxpayers in some municipalities, determined to reduce public expenditures, have gone so far as to insist upon elimination of funds sorely needed for the maintenance of existing streets. In other places, even though money for street maintenance is available, powerful minority groups are demanding that it be not spent under present conditions.—The American City.

METHODS OF ELIMINATING GRADE-CROSSING ACCIDENTS.

Five suggestions aimed at the elimination of grade-crossing accidents are offered in the monthly report of the Street Traffic Committee of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce.

It is estimated that curing the grade-crossing evil would reduce traffic accidents by 10 per cent in a very short time, and the Committee presents the following five points for discussion:

1. Do away with those grade crossings which have the heaviest traffic.
2. Place warning signs not less than 500 feet back from the railroad tracks.
3. Take down all signs from obsolete trackage.
4. Use traffic-light signals (operated by trains) instead of signs, if there are fewer than five trains per day.
5. Consider scrapping all railroad signs in favor of signals for use only when train is approaching.

"The last two points merit consideration first, because, though they are new doctrines, they seem the least expensive and most practical of application."

THE POLICE OFFICER AND THE CITIZEN.

The importance of the police as conspicuous representatives of the municipal government, and the qualities desirable in such a relationship, were pointed out by City Manager Willard F. Day of Staunton, Va., in addressing the recent convention of the Virginia Police Executives' Association. He said in part:

"It is unquestionably true that the man on the street, the public, the visitor and the home citizen alike, form first and in many cases lasting impressions of the local government by contacts with the police."

FALSE ECONOMIC PROPOSALS.

Danger to both the immediate and the long-run efficiency of fire departments and to the security of the community itself lies in many if not most of the proposals of taxpayers' representatives attacking the budgetary provisions for municipal fire protection. The gravity of this menace was emphasized by Jay W. Stevens, California State Fire Marshal and Executive Secretary of the International Association of Fire Chiefs, in an address on "Maintaining Fire Department Efficiency," given before the recent convention of that organization.

OUR DUTY TO RESTORE FAITH, REVIVE HOPE AND CREATE OPPORTUNITY FOR FELLOW CITIZENS AND TO SUPPORT PRESENT GREAT LEADER IN BATTLE BEING WAGED TO THAT END—MAYOR CURLEY DELIVERS ADDRESS AT KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS STATE BANQUET IN OBSERVATION OF BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY OF THOMAS JEFFERSON, FOUNDER OF DEMOCRACY.

Mayor Curley, speaking at the Knights of Columbus state banquet held at the Copley-Plaza Hotel on April 19, said in part:

It is customary in Boston to observe two notable events during the month of April, one, the anniversary of the birth of the founder of Democracy, Thomas Jefferson, and the other the anniversary of the Battle of Concord and Lexington by the colonists.

The character and philosophy of Jefferson is epitomized in the inscription which he requested be placed upon the memorial marking his last resting place:

HERE LIES BURIED
THOMAS JEFFERSON
AUTHOR OF THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE AND THE STATUTES OF VIRGINIA FOR RELIGIOUS FREEDOM AND FATHER OF THE UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA

In this modest summary is to be found a record of enduring and glorious achievement for mankind unequalled in the past eighteen centuries. It constituted a challenge, not only to the divine right theory in government and to religious intolerance, but an eternal indictment against a system of proscription in the matter of education.

The guarantees of the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness without regard to race, creed or color, as initiated in the Declaration by Jefferson, was unquestionably the lodestone that drew to the shores of America, in ever-increasing numbers, the pure womanhood and hardy manhood of every land, seeking refuge from oppression, intolerance and serfdom.

The preachments of Jefferson, if followed honorably and unselfishly would unquestionably have prevented, not only the intolerable industrial conditions that have obtained in the past four years, but the too frequent periods of religious intolerance that are recorded in the history of our country.

Jeffersonian Utopia Distant.

It has long been the sincere wish of succeeding generations of Americans that the time would arrive in the life of America when the only essentials to preferment in any line of honor or endeavor would be character, capacity and loyalty to the institutions of our country. It must be apparent, however, to every thoughtful man familiar with the events that have taken place, in even the last decade, that in addition to organized effort, a half century or possibly a century more may be necessary before the Utopia for which Jefferson labored may become a reality. It must be apparent to thoughtful men that spiritual and intellectual enlightenment over a long period of years will be necessary before the dream of real equality regardless of race, creed or color is realized. The failure of its realization constitutes a challenge to our Americanism which cannot be disregarded and which must be met. The preservation of our own self-respect and the duty we owe to posterity require that the fight go on in the cause of equity for all men of all races and of all creeds if America is to fulfill her glorious vision and if the ideals for which the founders in their day sacrificed are to be fulfilled. It constitutes one of the remaining strongholds of the doctrine for which good men risked their all on that April day in 1775.

Divine right was challenged at Concord and Lexington one hundred and fifty-seven years ago, but it is still vile and verile in our day. The courage of the few against the multitude upon that day has inspired humanity in every land since, and the contest must continue until reason and justice replace force and injustice.

In retrospect we marvel at the audacious courage of the minutemen which appeared to border on madness until we examine their pronouncements as contained in the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States; then amazement gives way to admiration most profound. It marked an epoch in the long and apparently hopeless battle against superior numbers and an even greater force, the superstitious belief that a certain few were divinely designated to rule and the great mass of people to continue in subjection of serfdom.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.

BOSTON'S CITY-WIDE EMERGENCY COMMITTEE'S WORK IN AID OF UNEMPLOYED AND EFFORTS BEING MADE TO BRIGHTEN LIVES OF THOSE WITH SELF-SUPPORTING LABOR ABLY DESCRIBED IN RADIO BROADCAST BY WALTER V. MCCARTHY, SECRETARY OF DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WELFARE FOR BOSTON—RECREATION MEETING GREAT NEED AND PLAYING BIG PART IN LIVES OF CITIZENS.

In the radio broadcast through the City Wide Emergency Committee on Health and Recreation, over Station WLOE, Hotel Bellevue, on Saturday, April 15, Walter V. McCarthy, secretary of the Public Welfare Department of the City of Boston, spoke in part as follows:

Through the cooperation of a group of outstanding citizens of our Commonwealth, banded together and known as the City Wide Emergency Committee on Health and Recreation, the life of the unemployed man and woman has lost a great deal of its drabness. Thanks to an elaborate program of various activities sponsored by this committee, the man or woman seeking employment now has at his disposal hitherto unheard of facilities for improving himself physically and mentally during breathing spells between intervals of job hunting.

On many sides employers report that idle professional and clerical workers rapidly become "unemployable" because of the mental state into which they drift during continued idleness. Months of inactivity and discouragement leave them either sluggish and unwilling to work or else, in the opposite extreme, so nervous and worried for fear of failure that they are indifferent.

The need in Boston to provide means of mental relief for such people has demanded concerted action on the part of city officials and leading private citizens in making it possible for the unemployed people not only to better utilize their time but also to build for the future. There are in the metropolitan area fourteen municipal buildings which, although they have been heated, equipped and manned by the public, have for over a decade been by no means used to capacity.

UNIVERSITY COURSES.

On January 23, the first of the activities of the City-Wide Emergency Committee on Health and Recreation opened with the Cooperative University Courses. These were organized for the first time last year under the State Department Unemployment Committee, of which our present Under Secretary of State, Hon. William Phillips, was chairman, and were carried on through the volunteer assistance of professors and lecturers from schools, colleges and universities. These lecture courses met with such success that there was a great demand for their repetition and this responsibility has been undertaken by this municipal emergency committee of which Mr. Phillips is vice-chairman.

Nine courses were arranged in this year's schedule, covering a period of twelve weeks. Two courses are given every afternoon, except Saturday, at the Old South Meeting House. There is no registration fee and they are open to all adults who have had a high school education or its equivalent. To date many hundreds of men and women are taking advantage of this phase of the work and have signed for several or all of the courses. A. F. Whittem, associate professor of romance languages at Harvard University, is chairman of this education committee helping to make these courses possible. Each course is under the individual chairmanship, the course chairmen giving the lectures themselves or securing other lecturers to assist.

In regard to the physical activities which have been planned, eleven of the fourteen municipal buildings in the city are equipped with gymnasiums, and two have swimming pools. For about twelve years these buildings, except the pools, have been closed mornings to the public, their hours being from two to four in the afternoon. Through the efforts of the City Wide Emergency Committee these gymnasiums have been opened on a new schedule, which offers free, a varied physical program from ten in the morning to two in the afternoon. Courses in swimming and life saving under the supervision of the Red Cross and with trained instructors are in operation. Boxing under the direction of Eddie Shevlin is given daily at Curtis Hall in Jamaica Plain. Wrestling, handball, volleyball, basketball and other gym competitive games are carried on under trained leadership. William M. Mullin, director of competitive sports for the Park Department is in charge of this extended gymnasium schedule. William J. Bingham, director of physical education and athletics at Harvard University is also assisting Mr. Mullin. Mondays and Thursdays have been set aside for the women when they may indulge in swimming and other athletic activities, together with tap and folk dancing which have gained favor with a large group of them.

If none of these projects interest the job hunter seeking respite from his weary rounds, he may drop into a free reading room at any one of the eleven municipal buildings. Here he may spend some of his leisure moments reading the newspapers or magazines, or perhaps putting together a jig-saw puzzle or playing chess or checkers. Nor have those with musical talent been overlooked. Under the chairmanship of Arthur Fiedler, the well-known musician and pop concert director, orchestral and choral classes have been formed.

Mr. Milton E. Lord, director of the Boston Public Library, is chairman and organized a committee which has undertaken the task of equipping the reading rooms, so that each room is well provided with various types of literature.

UTILIZING SPARE TIME.

While the problem of idleness is worldwide, a special feature of it here is the proverbial American inability to know what to do with spare time, and the question in the United States is not so much whether the means can be afforded to provide educational and recreational activities free to the general public as whether we as a people can afford to get along with them. The Emergency Committee on Health and Recreation feels that it has enlarged the sphere of adult education into a far-reaching social experiment in mental hygiene.

The City Wide Emergency Committee believes that to give a man a part-time job is no solution of the problem unless there are chances for him to fill in his time with interesting recreation. To offer play without work is equally futile, and the week should be taken up with self-respecting work and attractive entertainment. A special concern of the Emergency Committee is to supply each person with the work for which he is best fitted. For instance, a white collared man is not given a pick and shovel, but as often as possible is made a supervisor, a member of a subcommittee or the like. Improved morale is immediately evident in those who take part in the activities offered, and many come back as voluntary workers.

Before closing, in behalf of the City Wide Emergency Committee on Health and Recreation, I wish to thank the radio station for generously giving this time to tell about their work. I would urge all who can to join the many hundreds who are taking advantage of the opportunities offered. Further information may be received at the Headquarters, which is at the Community Service of Boston, 739 Boylston street.

I thank you.

FINANCING SEWAGE WORKS BY SPECIAL ASSESSMENT IN IOWA.

The cost of constructing sewage disposal plants in a number of states, and in Iowa in particular, may be levied against the various lots, parts of lots or parcels of ground draining to, or susceptible to drainage to, the site of the disposal plant. Such assessments must be in proportion to the benefits to each property and must not, in any case, exceed one-fourth of the fair value of the property in question. These special assessments are payable in the same manner as other municipal improvement costs; that is, in ten annual equal installments, paid at the same time and place as the March 1 installment of ordinary taxes in Iowa. Any property owner may pay off the unpaid portion of such tax at any time. Interest on the deferred payments must not exceed 6 per cent.

ADDRESS OF MAYOR CURLEY.

CHANGE IN GOVERNMENTS.

The staggering blow given the divine right theory as a consequence of the establishment of the American Republic was speedily reflected by the later establishment of the French Republic and a general movement throughout the world for similar governmental changes.

The Civil War was a natural development or outgrowth of the doctrine of the right of the individual to liberty and equality, and the fact that it required four years of civil strife to determine the issue was abundant proof that divine right theory was not dead—only slumbering.

With the new vista which liberty unfolded for the individual man it was but natural that he seek a larger return for his labor and a fuller measure of the good things of life for his dependents. Again he was confronted with the divine right of capital, which insisted upon a wage insufficient to maintain his family and not in keeping with the underlying principles of a Republican form of government whose cornerstones were equality and liberty.

Capital was entrenched; men paid a wage insufficient to provide for their needs, and the agencies for the distribution of information muzzled or openly hostile to labor. When the movement for the betterment of conditions appeared most hopeless a despairing world was cheered and comforted by a message of hope from the sacred precincts of the Vatican in the Encyclical of Pope Leo XIII. Hope was kindled in the hearts of the workers; organization fostered, and a new era in keeping with Constitutional guarantees unfolded.

It was a long and weary struggle for the leaders and followers of organized labor in legislative assemblies and in courts to secure the enactment of laws from venal Legislature and to overcome hostile and unlawful decisions handed down by corrupt judges. The fact remains that substantially every humane law, both Federal and State, has originated in the ranks of organized labor and in nearly every case notwithstanding the opposition of organized capital.

The Encyclical of Pope Leo XIII paved the way for a higher moral and economic order without which life for the worker would be dismal, desolate and despairing, and without which democratic government might well give way to bolshevism.

Students of government the world over have during the past four years regarded with amazement the solidarity, the patience and the patriotism of the people of the American nation. They could not understand the failure of the seeds of communism to fructify in fields so promising of discontent and revolution. Every argument necessary to sway men from duty and devotion to country has been in evidence in America during the past four years; every single article necessary to the existence and the comfort of the individual and his family to be found in abundance and yet bread lines and soup kitchens and despair on every hand and officialdom, nationally, feeble, futile and impotent; and the sound policies which in the past had provided serenity and safety discredited for the policies recommended by the new rulers of America, the banking fraternity, whose recommendations, notwithstanding the failure in their own particular line of activity, colossal in character, adopted them without protest.

TEN THOUSAND BANK FAILURES.

The record of ten thousand banking failures in the United States from 1920 to 1930 with their toll of misery and despair to millions of thrifty families in America was disregarded and the dole was substituted as a measure of sound economy for work and wages. The total unemployment which in 1930 represented three million men, the majority of whom were heads of families, mounted in 1933 to thirteen million men unemployed. A peaceful revolution occurred in America and with the slogan of Lincoln, a government of and for and by the people was substituted for a government of the bankers by the bankers and for the bankers and there is every indication that the spiritual and economic program as enunciated by Pope Leo XIII and Pope Pius XI will shortly become the accepted economic doctrine for the emancipation of the workers in America and for the restoration of a higher order of justice and a return to the citizenship of the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness under the present great leader of the American people, Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

His inaugural address was notable in that it was a direct appeal to Almighty God not only for guidance in the conduct of his office but for the well-being of the people of the nation. It marked a recognition of the fact that without God nothing is possible and with God nothing is impossible. The road ahead may contain roses but each rose will have its quota of thorns. There is opportunity for service for all Americans and an organization that has rendered such notable service, both in time of peace and in time of crisis, such as has been rendered by the Knights of Columbus will have abundant opportunity to measure up to the highest and noblest attributes of the organization and American citizenship. America in the past four years has indeed been the land of ruin, despairing women and men, blasted hopes and empty prospects.

It is our duty to restore faith, to revive hope and create opportunity, and this can best be done by supporting the present great leader of the American people in the courageous battle he is waging for the restoration of equality and life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness for all the American people. It has been truly said that out of evil cometh good, and if out of the evils of the past we can plan and create a more glorious future for posterity then we should rejoice regardless of our sufferings in the part which we are permitted to play in the great work of restoration and reconstruction.

Father Ryan once wrote, speaking of his own land, in his poem, entitled "A Land Without Ruin": "A land without ruin is a land without memories—a land without memories is a land without history. A land that wears a laurel crown may be fair to see; but twine a few sad cypress leaves around the brow of any land and be that land barren, beautiful and bleak, it becomes lovely in its consecrated coronet of sorrow, and it wins the sympathy of the heart and of history. Crowns of roses fade—crowns of thorns endure. Calvaries and crucifixions take deepest hold of humanity—the triumphs of might are transient—they pass and are forgotten—the sufferings of right are graven deepest on the chronicles of nations."

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF ARSON OFTEN OVERLOOKED.

"Incendiary fires play a considerable part in the amount that each citizen must pay for the insurance protection which is so essential for him to have on his home or other property," A. Bruce Bielaski, assistant to the General Manager of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, told members of the National Fire Waste Council at their recent conference in Washington. "The rates paid for insurance must of necessity be sufficient to cover losses of all characters and, if possible, to leave for the insurance company a reasonable return for the service it renders. It will pay the individual citizen in dollars and cents to take a real interest in the detection and prosecution of those responsible for incendiary fires."

MAYOR CURLEY SEES NOTHING NEW OR VALUABLE IN FINANCE COMMISSION'S REPORT AND RECOMMENDATIONS.

Mayor Curley, on April 20, forwarded the following communication to the Corporation Counsel:

DEAR SIR,—Regarding a reply to the Finance Commission's report to the Committee on Municipal Finance, I beg to say that there is nothing new or of value in the report. I have, as a matter of courtesy, requested each department head to reply categorically to the statements that have been made relative to each department in the municipality.

Since 1930 the policy has been in operation of not filling vacancies, of not granting sliding scale increases, and the adoption of rational and sound economy in the conduct of every department in the city.

As a consequence of this policy now in operation, entering the fourth year, it has been possible to effect a reduction in permanent employees in this period of time of about 2 per cent each year, or a total of 8 per cent, and it is my purpose that this policy be continued.

No direct benefit would result to the municipality through the discharge of permanent employees; it would simply mean a shifting of the load from the municipal departments where the individuals are employed, and where they are rendering full-time service, to the Welfare Department, where the city would be required to support the individual and his family, and receive but a limited amount of work, if any, in return.

It is purely a question of a matter of policy and I adhere to my original belief that the only answer to unemployment is "Work and wages."

I am opposed, absolutely, to the dole system, and the recommendations as submitted by the Finance Commission, if put in effect, would simply mean the extension of the dole system.

It may be interesting to the Committee on Municipal Finance to know that at a recent hearing before the Senate Committee on Banking, at Washington, the question was asked of Mayor Hoan of Milwaukee, "How do you account for the fact that there were only two large cities in the United States that might be regarded solvent, namely, Milwaukee and Boston?" The reply of Mayor Hoan was interesting and illuminating. He said that so far as he had been able to observe in his own city, and he believed it was true of Boston, that the reason was his refusal to accept the recommendation or advice of bankers, or of experts in the employ of banks.

Very truly yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

MAYOR CURLEY TO JOIN CONFERENCE OF MAYORS ON FINANCING CITIES.

Mayor Curley, on April 18, received the following telegram from Paul V. Betters, Secretary of the United States Conference of Mayors, Chicago, Illinois:

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

Members of Executive Committee of Mayors' Conference have suggested meeting in Washington next Monday or Tuesday to first fill vacancies on Board, and second to press for immediate enactment of proposals passed at Conference in February, particularly loans on tax anticipation warrants. Would this be convenient for you? You will automatically become president with Mayor Murphy leaving. Wire answer via Western Union.

PAUL V. BETTERS,
Secretary.

To which Mayor Curley replied:

It would be advisable to hold the meeting in Washington on Tuesday, provided a hearing can be arranged with Senate Committee on Finance and possibly with the President upon that date. Wire me at once if this arrangement can be made and I shall be present at the Mayflower for a conference prior to hearing, prepared to present the case in behalf of the organization.

JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.General Order No. 190.

A trial board consisting of Captains McKinnon, Lewis and Fallon, having heard by reference a complaint made by Mathew Killen, captain, Division 12, against Jerome A. Crowley, patrolman, Division 12, for alleged violations of the Rules and Regulations of the Police Department, to wit:

Charge 1: Neglect of duty.

Specification: In that on the 1st day of April, 1933, the said Patrolman Jerome A.

Crowley, failed to pull his "on duty calls" from 5.15 p. m. to 1 a. m., a period of seven and three-quarters hours.

Charge 2: Conduct unbecoming an officer.

Specification: In that on the 1st day of April, 1933, the said Patrolman Jerome A. Crowley, while on duty and in uniform, was under the influence of intoxicating liquor to such an extent that he was unfit to perform police duty if called upon so to do,— has submitted the following finding and recommendation:

The Board having heard and carefully considered all the evidence presented accepts the plea of guilty of the said Patrolman Jerome A. Crowley to Charges 1 and 2 and specifications thereunder.

The Board, while accepting the plea of guilty of Patrolman Crowley, desires it understood that they realize that any failure to pull "on duty calls" is an offence which seriously impairs the efficiency of the service. In this case the neglect of duty, while great, was not as serious as the written charge would indicate. As Patrolman Crowley was on listing duty, his failure to pull "on duty calls" up to 10 o'clock p. m. could be explained and might not have been a subject for charges, but his failure from that time on was inexcusable.

It is apparent in this case that Patrolman Crowley after a long day of hard work listing, feeling fatigued, in a thoughtless moment resorted to a stimulant of intoxicating liquor with the result which usually follows the disregarding of the strict departmental rule forbidding the use of intoxicating liquor,—he was overcome. The high regard in which he had been held by his commanding officer has been materially lessened and his good record in the department impaired.

The Board after considering all the facts in this case, respectfully recommends that the said Patrolman Jerome A. Crowley be ordered to perform 210 hours of punishment duty.

The commissioner accepts the finding and recommendation of the trial board and it is hereby ordered that the said Patrolman Jerome A. Crowley perform 210 hours of punishment duty.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

ARMY CURTAILS PARTICIPATION IN AIRPORT OPENINGS.

The many calls upon the Army Air Corps for cooperation and participation in airport opening celebrations has made it necessary for Assistant Secretary F. Trubee Davison to curtail this activity. Consequently, the announcement was recently made that Air Corps airplanes would no longer participate in municipal airport dedications in cities of less than 50,000 population. Mr. Davison stated that he regretted taking this step but that airport dedications had become so numerous that the Army found itself unable to meet the demands for airplanes and pilots for exhibition flights. "If we did not put a brake on this activity," he said, "the military usefulness of our pilots, would be impaired and the Air Corps would be transformed into a flying circus."

APPROPRIATION FOR ALTERATIONS AND REPAIRS.

The following communication was received:

City of Boston—Department of School Buildings

April 3, 1933

School Committee of the City of Boston,
15 Beacon Street,
Boston, Mass.
Gentlemen:

Under date of April 3rd, 1933, the School Committee forwarded to the Department of School Buildings the following proposed order:

ORDERED, That to provide for the cost of alterations and repairs of school buildings, and for furniture, fixtures, and means of escape in case of fire, and for fire protection for existing buildings, and for improving existing school yards, during the financial year Jan. 1 to Dec. 31, 1933, the sum of $850,000.00 is hereby appropriated.

It is understood that the estimated cost for general alterations and repairs shall be spread upon the records, though the amount specified for individual items shall not be binding as they do not constitute a part of the order.

The amount that this department believes it should receive this year for the alteration and repair of school buildings has been the subject of several conferences with the School Committee and its representatives. As pointed out at these conferences the amount thus allocated for the repairs and alterations of school buildings is in the opinion of the Commissioners of School Buildings entirely inadequate to keep the school buildings in the condition they should be kept in. As the Chairman of this Board has pointed out the amount thus allocated for repairs is much less than two percent of the assessed value of these buildings to say nothing of the necessary expense involved in keeping school yards in proper condition for the children. We, therefore, want it understood that in approving this order thus transmitted to us, that we do not wish it understood that it can in any way be considered as a precedent for the items necessary for alterations and repairs in subsequent years.

We are approving the order only because of the financial condition of the City and believing that all departments including our own should this year carry on as best we can, with due appreciation of the responsibility in our charge to maintain existing school buildings and thus protect the citizens' property.

We also are passing this order with the understanding that a subsequent order is to be transmitted to us to provide for the cost of administration expenses of this department, which is not included in the order which you forwarded to us.

The Board of Commissioners of School Buildings has voted for reasons herein above stated to approve the proposed order transmitted to us.

Very truly yours,
Board of Commissioners of School Buildings.

By Richard J. Lane, Chairman.
Placed on file.

Chairman: It should be stated here that the 1932 budget for alterations and repairs was substantially less than that of 1931, and this year's budget is substantially less than that of 1932. This is the first section of our budget of the year and will show material savings over our expenditures of last year. This indicates the sincere desire of the School Committee to effect retrenchment.

Mr. Hurley: I cannot allow to pass unchallenged the statement in that communication—that it is the opinion of the Commissioners of School Buildings that $850,000 is inadequate to maintain the physical structure. I think we should place on record these facts: In addition to that $850,000 we will have to appropriate approximately $150,000 for administration expenses, so that the $850,000 is the net for alterations and repairs; and, further, at our conferences our engineer, Mr. Mahar, who has been a member of the Schoolhouse Commission and has had abundant experience, was present and advised us, and we acted largely on his advice that $850,000 is sufficient to maintain the physical plant in proper operating condition.

The following was offered:

ORDERED, That to provide for the cost of alterations and repairs of school buildings, and for furniture, fixtures, and means of escape in case of fire, and for fire protection for existing buildings, and for improving existing schoolyards, during the financial year January 1 to December 31, 1933, the sum of $850,000.00 is hereby appropriated.

REPORT ON ORGANIZATION OF BUSINESS MANAGER'S OFFICE

Chairman: The Chair is in receipt of a communication from the auditors of the school accounts. It should be stated that this is the first time such a communication has been received by the School Committee from the auditors upon whom rests a great deal of responsibility, because the auditors' task, as assigned by the School Committee, is to discover whatever discrepancies or errors may appear in the offices of the Business Manager.

It seems to me that such a communication should be given prominence in view of the customary and frequent investigations and attacks that have been made upon the School Department, and sometimes upon the Business Manager's office. I hope that it will give encouragement to those who are endeavoring to carry on the city's affairs through its employees and through its officers.

Mr. Hurley: At the risk of being guilty of lese majesty, I would point out that this is not an original declaration. Previous auditors, Patterson, Teele, and Dennis; Grimes, Clarkson, and Company; and others, in their formal reports, have expressed substantially the same encomiums upon the conduct of the Business Manager's office.

The communication referred to is as follows:

P. J. Moynihan and Company.

March 25, 1933.

School Committee of the City of Boston
15 Beacon Street
Boston, Massachusetts
Gentlemen:

As authorized under the terms of our contract, we submit herewith a report on the system and methods in operation in the business manager's office supplementary to our quarterly reports on expenditures.

There is a high standard of efficiency in the business office. The forms and record books in the various departments are well adapted for the particular needs of your organization. The accounting system is free from cumbersome and unessential forms. There is no duplication or overlapping of records.

Department reports are well coordinated under the control of the business manager. A close supervision of all activities is exercised assuring efficient operation. There is a definite segregation of responsibility by departments under responsible division heads.

The payrolls are carefully prepared. Clerical errors are few in spite of the numerous computations necessary for leaves, absences, promotions, etc.

The system of purchasing supplies assures the highest quality material at lowest available prices. Supplies which can be made the subject of competitive bidding are all purchased on this basis. Related materials are grouped and bids invited on the basis of individual items. Lump sum bids are not accepted.

In addition to the public advertising required under the terms of the charter the business manager mails a special notice to all reputable suppliers inviting bids and directing their attention to the advertised requirements. This provides more extensive competition.

There is on file in the business manager's office a number of unsolicited letters from various supply houses commending the form of specifications in use and the method of securing bids.

In the determination of awards the samples submitted by the lowest bidders are first tested. When rejected the reasons are put in writing and kept on file. These reasons are submitted by advisory chemists or by special experts in the school service and are open to all inquirers.

Supplies that can be made the subject of chemical analysis such as paper, soap, oils, and coal are carefully tested and frequent tests are made for compliance with specifications.

Supplies that can be stored without deterioration are purchased in quantity lots. Science supplies, electrical supplies, hardware and such items go directly to the schools and are purchased on the basis of estimated requirements.

The policy of buying close to immediate needs is uniformly adopted. Frequency in re-ordering is encouraged and only a minimum stock is kept on hand.

Books are ordered as needed and are delivered to the supply room for labeling only. No new books are on inventory. As a result of this well ordered program there has been a steady reduction in supply investment during the past four years.

In settling for obligations cash discounts are taken advantage of wherever possible.

Every possible economy consistent with efficiency is evidenced in the purchasing of supplies and equipment. The interests of the taxpayers are being effectively safe guarded by the procedure and methods in operation in the departments under control of the business manager.

Yours very truly,

P. J. MOYNIHAN & CO.,

Certified Public Accountants.

GOVERNMENT IN BUSINESS.

For many years we have heard innumerable bankers, business men and professional men talk about too much government in business. But these same people are constantly before legislatures asking government to do something to protect their selfish interests. The doctor, the lawyer, the dentist, and each profession is always asking the government to make the entrance to their unions more difficult not with the idea of protecting the people but with the hope of stopping or reducing competition. The local merchant is always asking the council, the state and the nation to prohibit competition by peddlers and transient merchants. When the winds of depleted deposits began to whirl about the banks the government was asked to bear the burden, and if official authority is to be believed the government and the politicians saved the banks and not the high-browed presidents and directors of the banks. The real truth is that we do not want government to interfere with us in our desires, but do ask government to enter business in any and every conceivable way that we think will help us make a little more money of the realm.

LIBRARY PACKED AS DEPRESSION CONTINUES.

As the curve of business goes down, the curve of reading goes up! To those cities tempted to chop off the budgetary appropriation for libraries as the first move in a program of economy, this report from the American Library Association Bulletin may be interesting:

More than a million new readers have found their way into libraries in cities of over 200,000 population in the last two years, and the number of books borrowed from them has reached the unprecedented high of 157,000,000—more than 26,000,000 over figures for 1929.

While these figures are indicative of the increase in reading throughout the country, they do not tell the whole story, for they represent only 44 libraries. Reports received by the American Library Association indicate that the per capita demand for books is equally great in smaller libraries.

Expenditures for library service in the cities noted increased 5 per cent during the two-year period; the number of books available increased 10 per cent; the number of registered readers, 19 per cent; and the number of books borrowed, 20 per cent.

BOSTON AS A TOWN.

From its foundation until 1755, or a period of 125 years, Boston was not only the most outstanding but the most populous town in the American colonies. In 1760, Philadelphia's population was ahead, viz., 18,756, Boston's then being 15,631 and New York's about 14,000. In the last year of town government, viz., 1821, Boston's population was about 45,000 and its public debt $100,000, all incurred for new county buildings.

The history of Boston as a town during a period of nearly two centuries surpasses in civic interest that of Boston as a city because of the untiring zeal and successful efforts of its townsmen to realize more of true democracy than had ever been attained before. Their obligations were held as sacred as their liberties.

TO REMOVE ICE AND SNOW EASILY.

In certain special emergency cases, as in traffic areas, it may be desirable to entirely remove thick, heavy accumulations of ice and hardened snow which, because they usually become badly rutted, are a cause of dangerous traffic conditions. In such cases the application of flake calcium chloride by means of a mechanical spreader at the rate of three quarters to one pound per square yard will soon loosen the entire ice coating, permitting its removal from the pavement by hand or mechanical means.

For this purpose, a solution containing from 25 to 30 per cent of calcium chloride, which figures 2.85 to 3.75 pounds per gallon of solution, may be employed. Such solutions, especially if made up with warm water and applied by a street flusher equipped with nozzles which throw a finely divided high-pressure spray, have proved highly efficient for this purpose. As soon as the ice has become loosened from the pavement surface, it should be removed and an extremely light treatment of coarse sand applied to the surface.

"STOP-CURLEY" MOVEMENT FIZZLES OUT—ARTICLE IN SUNDAY "POST" EXPOSES TO PUBLIC GAZE DESPERATE PLOTTINGS THAT HAVE FAILED IGNOMINIOUSLY—CLOSING CHAPTER AND FINAL CONTRIBUTION PRESENTED IN REPORT OF FINANCE COMMISSION CHARACTERIZED BY MAYOR CURLEY AS STANDING "AS MOST UNTRUTHFUL, ILLOGICAL AND STUPID DOCUMENT EVER PRESENTED BY PRESUMABLY INTELLIGENT MEN TO THE GENERAL COURT."

In the Boston Post, Sunday edition of April 23d, in a special article, the veteran Washington staff correspondent, Robert Norton, has taken the public into his confidence and has presented a most startling array of facts that for gripping interest read like a work of fiction worthy of a Dumas. The ramifications of an intrigue worthy of the Borgias is presented in the story of the "stop-Curley" movement—as presented by the Boston Post.

The movement was by a union of blueblood and blackleg representation in state and city governments in intrigue ranging from continuous character assassination by small errand-boy members of the City Council to antics of scolds and scandalmongers before the Legislature, which suddenly ended a promised sensational investigation when the Poland portfolio was declined.

It seems incredible that such a gigantic plot, without basis, could be planned and executed to destroy one man and deceive so many intelligent citizens. I have never had any doubt as to the final outcome and my belief that "truth would triumph in the end" has been abundantly vindicated. The closing chapter in the plot is the report of the Finance Commission as drafted by Mr. Storey, representing the tax-dodging brigade of the Municipal Research Bureau.

The article in the Sunday Post read as follows:

CURLEY FOES COST HIM JOB.

JAMES ROOSEVELT LOOMS AS PARTY BOSS IN BAY STATE, TO CONSTERNATION OF OLD POLITICAL LEADERS.

BY ROBERT L. NORTON.

Whether in or out of public office, the doings of Mayor Curley will continue to be of interest to the people of Boston and Massachusetts. Neither is it any exaggeration to state that the Mayor attracts national attention. He possesses rare physical and mental vigor, a fine talent for public life, exceptional power of expression and withal is a masterful publicist.

ADMIRE FIGHTING ABILITY.

With his dynamic energy, love of politics and splendid administrative gifts, it is impossible to conceive of Curley retiring from the arena when his term of office expires this year. A great many people are interested in the future of Curley or else there would not be so much talk about it.

Perhaps the most admirable quality of the Mayor is his fighting ability, and this in a city where a large percentage of the population prides itself on the fact that they come from a fighting race.

Boston loves controversy. Its people entertain positive views. They are, I think, the most argumentative people in the country.

This being the case it naturally follows that a two-fisted fighter like Curley makes plenty of enemies. And, conversely, he has his quota of admirers. The Mayor is the kind of a man that people are either for or against.

There was, quite recently, an intense public interest in the recognition which would be accorded the Mayor by President Roosevelt for his activities in the campaign. He was suggested for many places. Many wild stories were circulated, most of them untrue, and not a few spiced with malice.

Colonel House Gave Luncheon.

The inside of the whole series of episodes which led Mayor Curley to decline the post in Poland makes a fascinating political chapter and has many ramifications. Some background is necessary to its understanding.

Late in the summer of 1931 Colonel House gave a luncheon at his home on the North Shore to Roosevelt. It was not originally intended to be a political affair. The gathering was mixed and included some personal friends of Roosevelt as well as a number of stalwart supporters of President Hoover.

Comes Out for Roosevelt.

Senator Walsh was invited and accepted. Governor Ely did not accept the invitation. There was no discussion of presidential candidacies at the meeting, a fact which I can vouch for, since I happened to be one of the guests. The break between Smith and Roosevelt had not then developed. Roosevelt was not an avowed candidate.

When the luncheon was over and the guests stepped out on the lawn for a group picture the Mayor made a neat little speech to the newspapermen, declaring for Roosevelt for the nomination for President. Senator Walsh said nothing.

Daring Course for Curley.

The following day, with characteristic energy Curley started out to organize a national movement for Roosevelt. It was at the request of the candidate that he led the Roosevelt ticket for delegates to the national convention. Roosevelt had decided to fight Smith in Massachusetts, not with any hope of defeating him, but for the effect it would have on the remainder of the country. He feared that any compromise would be a sign of weakness.

Under the circumstances it was a daring course for Curley to pursue in Massachusetts. Smith was the idol of the Democracy here. It meant that the Mayor took his political life in his hands.

Mayor Felt Offended.

With the exception of a few mayors of the small cities he had no assistance, and against him were the two strongest leaders in the Democratic party of the state, Senator Walsh and Governor Ely.

The Mayor organized for Roosevelt, much as he had for Smith in the 1928 campaign. He felt at the time that Smith could not be nominated and that, even if he were the choice of the party, his election would be doubtful with the same factors operating against him as in 1928. There was a personal angle, too. The Mayor felt somewhat offended because Smith had never acknowledged or otherwise shown his appreciation of the efforts made in behalf of his candidacy in that campaign.

Spent $100,000 for Roosevelt.

After the Chicago convention the Mayor made a 2,000-mile trip across the country. He paid his own expenses,

From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

BOSTON'S FINANCIAL STANDING BEST OF LEADING CITIES OF COUNTRY — SHOWING AS TO UNCOLLECTED TAXES MAKES ITS RATING COMPARED WITH OTHERS VERY COMMENDABLE — MAYOR CURLEY PREPARES BROCHURE BY WHICH NEWS WILL BE BROADCAST OVER COUNTRY TO OFFSET VICIOUS PROPAGANDA.

Upon April 25 the Mayor issued the following statement:

Under date of April 1, 1933, there is published a list of the uncollected taxes of the eleven largest cities in Massachusetts and the list is both informative and illuminating. In view of the percentage of uncollected taxes, as here presented, in which schedule Boston makes the most enviable showing, it might be advisable for the Municipal Research Bureau if it desires to render a real service to the public to transfer its activities and its energies even though it be a decadent and defunct organization to some other municipality in Massachusetts. The full statement follows:

FINANCIAL FACTS AND FIGURES CONCERNING THE CITY OF BOSTON.

The facts contained herein are presented for the purpose of informing the public relative to the financial status of Boston both present and past.

The City of Boston was chartered in 1822 and during a period of 111 years has met every financial and humanitarian obligation.

In 1910 a serial system for the retirement of debt was adopted and during the period from 1910 to 1933, inclusive, or a period of 23 years, the total increase in the net debt of the city, exclusive of Rapid Transit and Traffic Tunnel requirements, has been about $10,000,000. Within this period, or from 1916 to 1932, inclusive, a total of $40,000,000 was expended for school lands and buildings financed entirely out of taxes, or an amount four times as great as the total net debt increase during this 23-year period.

A policy of rigid economy conducted along sound lines has been in operation since the beginning of the present industrial depression in 1930, and this has rendered it possible, notwithstanding the entire financing of Public Welfare and Soldiers' Relief within the tax levy, to keep the rate within reasonable limitations, without a bond issue either for Public Welfare or Soldiers' Relief requirements, and without recourse to Federal or State assistance.

The budget allowances for city, county and school departments and pension system requirements for the year 1932 totaled $64,003,954.43, and the estimated allowances for the same items during the current year total $56,770,000, or a total decrease for the year 1933 as against 1932 of $7,233,954.43.

There is pending before the General Court at the present time a bill providing for a transfer from accumulated Cemetery Funds of $600,000 and there is every indication that this measure will receive favorable consideration and in such event the grand total of reduction in allowances for the year 1933 over the year 1932 will be $7,833,954.43. In conformity with the provisions of chapter 121 of the acts of 1933 salary reductions have been made with a minimum of 5 per cent and a maximum of 15 per cent, effective until December 31st of the current year and extending beyond that date if conditions warrant.

There is pending before the legislature at the present time a program submitted by his Excellency the Governor providing for additional sources of revenue estimated at $30,000,000. In the event that this legislative program as submitted by his Excellency the Governor is approved by the legislature, since the apportionment is based upon the method of distributing the state tax, the indications are that the allotment for Boston would be 26 per cent, or a total in excess of $7,000,000.

There is pending at the present time in Congress a measure providing for an allotment, without obligation for repayment, to the states of $500,000,000. To the present time some forty-one states of the Union have been aided directly from the Federal treasury in connection with public welfare expenditures, under the $300,000,000 allotment in 1932. In the event that the Federal legislation making provision for the expenditure of $500,000,000 is approved, since Massachusetts will be required to pay its proportionate share of the cost in the form of Federal taxes, it would appear but reasonable to anticipate that the Commonwealth would requisition for its proportionate share and in such event the allotment for Boston would be about $4,000,000 for the year.

In the event that the Governor's recommendations for the development of new sources of revenue for the relief of the home owner are enacted, the actual relief in the tax levy would be in the vicinity of $15,000,000, even though no Federal aid is received and provided that there is no appreciable increase in state tax and assessments and no considerable falling off in municipal revenue. It is not however unreasonable to anticipate an increase in state tax and assessments, and it is not unreasonable likewise to anticipate a shrinkage in ordinary municipal revenues, but every reasonable effort is being made by both the state and the city to prevent the shrinkage from being greater in the year 1933 than it was in the year 1932.

The collection of taxes for the year 1932 in the City of Boston has been most gratifying, as contrasted with other cities in the United States. The total tax levy for the year 1932 was $67,582,640, on which there is outstanding uncollected at the present time $13,700,000, or about 20 per cent, as against a general uncollected average in the major cities in the United States of about 25 per cent.

The following table, taken from the Boston "News Bureau" of April 25, 1933, shows clearly the excellent record of Boston in the matter of tax collections when compared with ten of the largest cities in the Commonwealth.

The schedule is as follows:

CITIES.	Uncollected 1932 Taxes April 1, 1933.	Per Cent Uncollected April 1, 1933.
Boston.....	$14,454,047	21.39
Cambridge.....	1,640,218	22.84
Fall River.....	1,293,308	27.90
Lawrence.....	1,000,615	24.64
Lowell.....	1,406,121	28.32
Lynn.....	1,327,611	26.81
New Bedford.....	1,287,021	24.21
Newton.....	921,089	22.09
Somerville.....	1,502,653	30.01
Springfield.....	2,706,512	27.90
Worcester.....	3,780,844	32.74

The City of Boston has never resorted to the expediency of refunding its temporary borrowings and its notes have always been paid when due, a most enviable record, which it is the purpose of those in charge of the conduct of the affairs of the municipality to maintain.

NEW CRUISES OUT OF PORT OF BOSTON.

Mayor Curley, on April 27, received the following communication from Charles E. Ware, Jr., of the Boston Port Authority:

DEAR MAYOR CURLEY,—You will remember that in October you very kindly thoroughly indorsed the program of the Cunard Line to have a series of cruises from Boston to the West Indies. I know that you will be interested to hear that the showing made by Boston and New England passengers was such that the Cunard Line have authorized a complete new set of cruises from Boston this summer. In this case they will sail to the Saguenay River and Quebec, calling on the way back at Bermuda. The Port Authority has made every effort during the past two years to get one of the transatlantic lines to put in just such a service, and we are very much pleased that Cunard have made this decision this year.

We will be grateful if you will again give them your indorsement.

Yours very truly,

BOSTON PORT AUTHORITY,
CHARLES E. WARE, JR.,
Member.

To which Mayor Curley replied:

MY DEAR MR. WARE,—I beg to acknowledge receipt of your communication directing my attention to the fact that the Cunard Line have decided to install a passenger service series of cruises from Boston to the Saguenay River and Quebec and a return call at Bermuda to be operated during the present year.

It is very gratifying to know that their West Indies cruises inaugurated during the past winter have been so successful as to warrant the establishment of this most inviting and interesting series of cruises for the coming summer months. I trust you will convey to the Cunard Line officials in person my sincere appreciation for their interest in Boston and my congratulations on the success of the winter cruises which they have conducted from the Port of Boston.

Sincerely,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

STATEMENT OF MAYOR.

which is worthy of note, since this is a rare occurrence in politics. Altogether, Curley estimates that he spent $100,000 in the Roosevelt campaign, part of which he raised by placing a mortgage on his home.

After the election the Mayor sat back and waited for news from the throne. He had expected to succeed Charles Francis Adams as Secretary of the Navy. At about this time, and in fact directly after the election, a vicious campaign was set on foot to discredit the Mayor.

Stabbing in the Dark.

Literally thousands of letters were sent to Roosevelt protesting against recognition. With these letters went newspaper clippings which raked up the entire political career of the Mayor, some of them going back thirty years.

Curley was helpless against these tactics. He could not meet unseen enemies stabbing in the dark. Whatever else may be said about the Mayor, it is characteristic of him to take his fights out in the open.

At the same time a resolution was framed by Republican opponents in the Legislature calling for an investigation of his administration.

Roosevelt was warned that such an investigation was certain to be launched and that it would make the Seabury probe in New York look tame by comparison.

Could Not Defend Himself.

Certain people who were very close to Roosevelt and who did not want the Mayor in the Cabinet urged the proposed investigation as a reason for not giving Curley an important place in the administration. The Mayor was put in a position where he could not defend himself. He simply had to lie down and take it.

The threat of a legislative investigation was used as an effective club over Curley in Washington. Contrary to the general practice, no report was made on the resolution in the legislative committee. For weeks it hung in the air.

And it was not until the day after the Mayor had declined the ambassadorship to Poland that leave to withdraw was reported on the bill.

Looked for Cabinet Post.

In the first place Curley felt that he rated a Cabinet place. But with the Cabinet settled, his next choice was the ambassadorship to Rome. He told his friends that Roosevelt had given him a definite assurance of this place.

As the Italian post began to fade out of the picture Curley indicated that the appointment of Governor-General of the Philippines would be acceptable. The objection raised to this was that the administration felt it inadvisable to name the Mayor because of his religious persuasion. At least this is the version of the Mayor's friends, but a few weeks later Mayor Frank Murphy of Detroit was appointed to the post.

Procedure Most Unusual.

Again it was indicated that the Mayor would accept the assistant secretaryship of war. But this place went to ex-Governor Woodring of Kansas.

The first news that Mayor Curley had of the intention of the President to name him to Poland came when the City Hall representative of the Post called him on the telephone. It was not until the day after the nomination went to the Senate when he received a personal letter from President Roosevelt, delivered by his son, James, that the Mayor had any official notification of the appointment to Poland. This procedure was most unusual.

The Polish post was not considered attractive by the Mayor. Therefore he went to Washington with a statement in his pocket declining the appointment. The Washington meeting was perfectly cordial and the President urged Curley to reconsider.

Before the Mayor left Roosevelt he indicated that after finishing out his term of office he would like to offer his services in some administrative capacity in Washington. And there the situation was left.

There can be no doubt of the general satisfaction in Boston over the Mayor's decision to finish out his term, because of the unsettled condition of the city's finances and the necessity for radical retrenchment in expenses.

Curley Stronger Than Ever.

Thousands of letters testify to this. And the Mayor derives no little amusement from the fact that some of his most bitter enemies have now switched around and are inclined to be critical of the administration for "tossing him around." This is a reflection of local pride and perfectly typical of Boston.

Politically speaking the odds are that Curley is stronger today than ever before. Whether he will win final recognition in Washington in some place which he finds commensurate with his services to the party in the last campaign is a question which cannot be answered now.

There will be some big jobs in the reorganization of the government fully as important as cabinet places, as, for instance, the proposed department of communication which will take over control of radio, air lines, telephone and telegraph.

It must not be assumed that Mayor Curley feels any soreness against President Roosevelt. There is no diminution in his loyalty to the President. Their relations are cordial. It is but human, however, that the Mayor discovers in his own image some resemblance to "the forgotten man" which ironically enough was the theme of all his speeches on the trans-continental trip.

Not Mentioned to Walsh.

The one elective office to which Curley has always aspired is that of United States Senator. But the term of Senator Coolidge does not run out until 1936 and it is not to be assumed that the Mayor would contest for the nomination with Senator Walsh. It is not at all unlikely that Curley will be the Democratic nominee for Governor to succeed Governor Ely who will not be a candidate for a third term.

One of the interesting ramifications of the whole episode is that at no time did President Roosevelt approach either Senators Walsh or Coolidge about the appointment of the Mayor. The subject was never mentioned at the several conferences which the senior Senator had at the White House on the reforestation bill.

James Gets Letters.

Gentlemen who have an eye to the loaves and fishes are beginning to wonder who is to be the patronage dispenser. Some weeks ago Mayor Curley turned over some four hundred letters applying for jobs to that personable young man, James Roosevelt. At the time he expressed the opinion that the President's son would hand out the jobs when the time came for their distribution.

In the meanwhile, Senators Walsh and Coolidge are swamped with letters requesting jobs. But they have yet to be consulted and the same thing is true of the Democratic Congressmen.

Ely Keeps Hands Off.

Those who are wise to the ways of politics are cultivating James Roosevelt and there are some who claim to have promises of minor places through his influence. If it turns out that Roosevelt will have the say in the matter of patronage, certainly an interesting political situation will be created in this state. It would naturally be resented by Senators Walsh and Coolidge and many of the old-timers in the Democratic party hereabouts.

Governor Ely is following a policy of noninterference in federal patronage. If Chairman "Jim" Farley is to be taken strictly at his word there are lean times ahead for most of the Massachusetts Democrats. He is quoted as saying that those Democrats who were with Roosevelt in the primary fight, all things considered, will get first whack at the jobs. With the exception of a few mayors whipped into line by Mayor Curley in the preconvention campaign, practically every Democrat in Massachusetts was "hollering his head off" for Smith.

Was Smith Stronghold.

The situation in Massachusetts is unique therefore so far as patronage is concerned, since this state was the chief Smith stronghold in the country.

The scramble for jobs has its amusing aspects. And what a shock it would be to our dignified United States Senators to learn that James Roosevelt was behind the pie counter. That would come near making him the political boss of the Democratic party in the state in these times.

THE BOSTON FINANCE COMMISSION MAKES THE FINAL CONTRIBUTION TO THE "STOP-CURLEY" MOVEMENT.

In reply to the Finance Commission report, Mayor Curley issued the following statement:

The Boston Finance Commission in its report submitted to the Committee on Municipal Finance of the Legislature, under date of April 18, 1933, furnished convincing proof, if any were necessary, that as a helpful adjunct to the proper conduct of municipal activities in Boston it has not only forfeited the right to serious consideration but has provided abundant reasons for its abolition, both as a measure of economy and as a means of preserving the good name of the city.

This organization since its organization has expended upwards of one million dollars of the taxpayers' money, and, until within the past three years, when a cooperative spirit has been displayed, it may be said to have been a pure waste of municipal funds.

The recent report displays an absolute lack of knowledge of municipal requirements and a total disregard of the public weal, in addition to presenting a program the adoption of which could not be other than destructive to the city and its people.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT.

Its criticisms and comments on the Health Department activities can best be answered by a recognized authority on public health, Dr. Charles F. Wilinsky, and I beg to present his narration.

I have read with great amusement and much surprise the proposed recommendations for economies in the Health Department contained in the report of the Finance Commission. It is, indeed, full of inconsistencies and illogic and reflects an absolute lack of understanding of the size and obligations of Health Department practice.

In one paragraph the report states that the "Health Department is efficiently administered and that the citizens of Boston receive health services worthy the money expended," and "The Finance Commission does not feel that it is sufficiently expert to point out the relative value of each operation of the Health Department . . . the way in which the curtailment should be made, however, being left to the discretion of the Health Commissioner." Then, in another paragraph the commission, in contradiction, proceeds to evaluate the function of the health units, the dental work, tuberculosis clinics, baby clinics, etc., classifying them as "extra-municipal" and representing them as "non-essential" services and suggesting that the city could function without them.

Another paragraph in the report calls attention to the fact that since "Health units are now an additional service which have not been enjoyed by the city until recent years, it would seem logical, therefore, that they should be among the first of the activities which should be diminished." These suggestions place a penalty upon the improvements of mankind; in other words, we should go back to the horse and buggy because it is cheaper to maintain them than the automobile. We should go back to candle light and the kerosene lamp if they can be maintained more economically than the incandescent.

The World War taught us the value of united effort and left its impression of the significance and importance of coordination upon the American people. It taught us that team work was essential in almost every form of human effort and it has been found extremely essential in health and welfare development. This is just what the health units of Boston typify because of the inter-relation of the program of the health and welfare departments with the similar aspirations of the private agencies housed in the units. They stand for the best in the coordination of activities and the promotion of efficiency, economy and dispatch in the conduct of health and welfare work. They serve as models for similar developments in all parts of the world and have aroused admiration and envy in other municipalities. To regard them as a luxury displays a lack of knowledge of their intent and purpose as well as accomplishments.

It would have required very little effort by the commission to ascertain the opinions of the public at large who are the beneficiaries of the programs maintained, or of the many agencies housed in the units. This group are indeed the ones to pass judgment upon the efficiency of this institution in the promotion of public health and the maintenance of relief.

OTHER FINANCE COMMISSION SUGGESTIONS.

Permit me to briefly comment on the other specific services suggested for abandonment by the commission:

The most vital public health work is the care of the baby and growing child. The enormous loss of life among the young from preventable causes has been aptly designated as the "Slaughter of the Innocents" and it has been tritely said that the infant mortality rate of any community is an index of its intelligence. We have reduced the infant mortality rate in Boston enormously and thousands of lives have been saved because of the establishment and maintenance of a justifiable number of baby clinics. To lessen or abandon them is uncivilized and a great step backwards. Practically every municipality is maintaining an infant welfare program and there again Boston has been praised for the quality and content of its child health work.

Tuberculosis was responsible for over fifteen hundred deaths annually in Boston. This has been gratifyingly reduced to less than five hundred. Adequate facilities have been developed in all of our health units, not only for the detection but for the control of this enemy of mankind, made possible by the early detection of the disease and the examination of all who have been exposed to it. This is the modern method of combatting this vital problem and every municipality recognizes its obligation to maintain an adequate service in this field.

The commission has commented on the dental work. Examination of school children years ago, as well as of the men who appeared before draft boards when America entered the war, revealed glaring and enormous dental defects, resulting in the appreciation of an increasing need of a program to cope with this problem. This resulted in an extension of dental work all over the United States, under the direction and maintenance of health departments and divisions of school hygiene. The City of Boston spent approximately $42,000 in 1932 for its dental program, treating about 60,000 children who made 160,000 visits for dental service at a cost of about 72 cents for the complete treatment of a child. Most of the budget for dental work this year will be paid for by the Unemployment Fund, which realized the value and significance of this service and agreed to support it when approached by representatives of the city.

Adequate health service has been accepted as a definite responsibility of government, and the health needs of children, particularly, have been acknowledged to be of very great importance, since the children of today are the citizens of tomorrow. The citizens of Boston have a right, indeed, to be very proud of their Health Department program, as is even admitted in the statement contained in the report of the Finance Commission.

I call attention again to the lack of appreciation of the value and importance of the work carried on in our health units, which maintain a district service for a definite element of the population. The same logic applies to the development of decentralized headquarters for health work as motivates the planning of a local church, a meeting house, a school and a police station. Our units are local headquarters for the expression of the best methods for the practice of good health and welfare work, making possible the avoidance of confusion, overlapping and duplication. Logically, too, as economic conditions have grown worse, the demands upon our health units have increased. More people have been obliged to seek free health service at our units, and the relief agencies, too, have been able to be of greater and more intimate service because of proximity to those who need their assistance.

CHALLENGES ADVICE.

Life is a real possession and it is to the interest of the state to do everything to preserve it. The prevention of disease is of economic value to any community, and health work has evolved to the point where it may be easily justified as a primary essential, taking its place with education and adequate police protection, and I challenge the judgment of those who consider this "extra-municipal" and "non-essential."

I quote from the "New England Journal of Medicine," Volume 208, No. 1:

"BOSTON'S LEADERSHIP IN PREVENTIVE MEDICINE."

"During the years 1901 to 1905 the average infant mortality rate of the City of Boston was 1,378. During the years 1906 to 1910 it was 1,327. In 1920 it was 100.8; in 1931 it was 60.7 and when the deaths are subtracted of those infants brought from outside the city for hospitalization it was below 60. What are the causes of this significant drop? Obviously improved water supply and sanitation, pasteurization and sterilization of milk, better housing conditions and a better appreciation of hygiene and infant feeding played their part. There has been another factor, however, in recent years, which must be understood to be appreciated. That factor has been the close, expert supervision, voluntary in nature, which a city wise in health protection has provided for its youngest generation.

"To evaluate properly this steadily growing and constantly improving oversight, a bird's-eye view might be taken of its evolution. The Baby Hygiene Association, a private agency, began in 1910 to conduct infant welfare stations. In 1922 it merged with the District Nursing Association to form the Community Health Association. The Division of Child Hygiene of the Boston Health Department was also inaugurated in 1910, conducting no clinics but sending nurses into the homes to weigh babies and supervise their care. Immediately a duplication of work by two agencies which could have been performed by one came into existence. In 1916 the Blossom Street Health Unit was opened by the city under the able direction of Dr. Wilinsky, and side by side, in the same clinic, the Department of Health and the Community Health Association showed their willingness and their ability to cooperate on the same problems. As a result of this mutual understanding, in 1924 and 1925 the Health Department gradually took over the active clinical program, the deans of the three Class A medical schools were interested in the movement, the clinics were staffed by pediatricians, and the seventeen stations were utilized by the schools for the teaching of preventive pediatrics.

"The success of this new venture into public health can be partly measured by the fact that in 1931 65,000 visits were made, with a total enrolment of over 10,000 infants and children of pre-school age. Part of the technique of securing this enrolment consists of a visit by a health department nurse to the home of every new-born infant in all of the less affluent sections of the city.

"Aside from the infant clinics, although closely associated with them and under the same able direction, has been the amazing development of Boston's Health Units. Made possible by the wisdom of an able city administration and the generosity of a notable philanthropist George Robert White, these units, soon to be eight in number, have served as models for the entire world. Substantially, the health center, a development of the last twenty years, furnishes physical headquarters for all agencies interested in health and welfare work. It is a decentralization of health departmental activities, under a full-time district health officer bringing to the doors of the people opportunity for health which was formerly secured only with difficulty and with duplication of effort.

"The health center is more than this; it is an institution promoting better relationship and inter-relationship between public and private agencies, the latter of which maintain their own autonomy. Thus we have under—or on—one roof, baby clinics, pre-school clinics, dental and tuberculosis clinics and solaria; classes for mothers, educational lectures, Red Cross classes, habit clinics, headquarters for the Community Health Association, a visiting physician for the poor, public welfare, Family Welfare, the Catholic Charitable Bureau, the Jewish Charities, a meeting place for the local medical profession and local headquarters for the Health Department.

"As might be expected, the other side of the shield has been and often will be again discussed with heat and vigor. The widening activities of public health and preventive medicine, in their relationship to private practice breed dangerous ground. No change, however beneficent, can come without the travail of readjustment. This much can be said with certainty. Health protection, in a democracy, so far as it can be obtained, is as much the right of the taxpayer as is police protection and fire protection. Whether you like it or not, you live in a democracy, and whether you like it or not, in a democracy the people are going to get what they believe is their due. If the medical profession cannot or will not supply health protection at a reasonable cost, the layman will see that he gets it where he can, as soon as his eyes have been opened to its advantages.

"The physician of tomorrow will have his work to do—plenty of it—but if he does not see his own opportunities he will follow where he should lead; he will be the servant of this so-called state medicine, benevolent as it may be, instead of its master."

LIBRARY DEPARTMENT.

It has recommended not only a reduction in the hours of operation of branch libraries but a limitation in the operation of others and the closing of the Central Library on Sundays and in the evenings of week days.

It is the character of report that one might anticipate from a cloistered mind that has never enjoyed contact with his fellow men, and that has always lived not only in a "holier than thou" atmosphere but in a "better than thou" atmosphere from which all thoughts of human sympathy or regard for the right of the common man have been excluded.

It overlooks the all-important fact that the workers, to the number of thirty million without employment and with limited prospects of employment until recently, with their families have been the unfortunate victims of an economic condition for which the ignorance and the stupidity of men who move in a circle with Mr. Storey have been responsible.

During the period of the depression the libraries of Boston have enjoyed a patronage more than 200 per cent greater than at any previous period in the history of the city. The libraries have proven a solace and refuge of those whose bodies were undernourished in consequence of long unemployment, and whose minds are in many cases gradually becoming weak as a consequence of constant thought as to how they might find a way out of the abysmal conditions confronting them. Mental solace and sanity has been possible because of the library facilities afforded by the city, and only one callous of heart and shallow of mind would favor withholding this bounty from its beneficiaries—the unemployed and the needy of our city.

The recommendation for the closing of bathing beaches is so stupid in character as to make a reply unnecessary, but in order that Dictator Storey, of the Finance Commission, may be saved from future errors that unquestionably would cause him to lose caste and become known as the laughing stock of the community, I beg to say that free public baths outdoors have been operated in Boston for sixty-five years and indoor baths for forty years; so that they cannot be, as he terms them, an unnecessary innovation.

The charge that the Park Department is over-manned is not borne out by an examination of the pay rolls of the department, and cannot be classified as other than a deliberate falsehood, since the number of employees for the year 1933 is 189 less than for the year 1923, despite the fact that during this period of time the work of the department has greatly increased through the addition of the airport and some twenty playgrounds with other enlarged facilities for outdoor bathing and recreation.

The contention that the elimination of what he terms "functions" would not prove a handicap to the citizens is not borne out by the facts. It is a perfectly natural assumption for a scion of aristocracy who can journey from the heated confines of the city to the cooling north or south shore during the summer months when those who because of their financial limitations are obliged to remain within the city during the summer months. These "functions" are a necessity which the people require both for health and recreation.

It is impossible to definitely determine the thousands of lives that are saved through the use of the bathing establishments and park conveniences during the extreme heat of the three midsummer months, but when consideration is given to the attendance at these bathing beaches during this period, when more than five million men, women and children are provided opportunity for sunlight and salt water bathing, it is not a difficult task to arrive at the conclusion that what he terms are unnecessary "functions" are actually a necessity.

To abandon these outdoor recreational facilities at a time when the morale of the people should be maintained is too obvious to require further comment on this subject.

The proposal that the zoo, the aquarium, and the rose gardens be abandoned is the character of recommendation which one might expect to be made by an inmate of a psychopathic institution or by a present-day Brahmin-type of bourgeois.

It is needless to say that these inane, innocuous and indecent recommendations will be disregarded by me while I continue in the present office.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

The recommendations with reference to the Public Works Department are equally stupid. The suggestion that the ferry service to East Boston be abandoned in consequence of the construction of the tunnel overlooks the all-important fact that no provision is made for pedestrians in the tunnel. It is a traffic tunnel, and provided the city were to abandon the ferries it would be necessary for persons living in East Boston to swim across to and from their work each day.

The recommendation that a contract system be installed in the Public Works Department and the claim that the installation of such a system would result in an enormous saving overlooks the all-important fact that the first consideration of the municipality is service. The substitution of a contract system would result in an absence of real service and the transfer to the public welfare roll of employees who have given the best years of their lives to the work of this department and who are entitled to a reasonable measure of protection.

The adoption of a contract system would mean the substitution for fair wages of a starvation and padrone system which would end the pension and retirement allowances necessary for the protection of the dependents of the workers, decreased efficiency and general demoralization.

These savings effected in the Public Works Department during the past three years have been $1,157,325. As vacancies have occurred, because of retirement, resignation or death, the positions have not been filled, and the men already in the service have been required to perform a greater amount of work to offset the vacancies, and it is my purpose that this policy shall continue.

The number of permanent men at the present time upon the rolls of the Public Works Department is less than the number employed in that department in 1929.

So that a criticism levelled at the department indicates either ignorance or a deliberate attempt to falsify.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The Fire Department has been singled out as a particular target by the Finance Commission, notwithstanding the fact that the appropriation for the Fire Department for the year 1933 is $600,000 less than was allowed for the year 1932.

The Fire Department was organized for the protection of the lives and property of the people of Boston, and a further drastic reduction in the allotment for the conduct of this department would in my opinion be destructive.

For a period of two years the policy has been in operation of permitting vacancies to remain unfilled and likewise the abandonment of sliding scale increases. The vacancies at the present time existing in the department number 47 officers and 53 privates, or a total of 100 men less than were in the department in 1930.

The recommendation that no replacement of fire apparatus be made during the year 1933 fails to take into consideration the fact that certain pieces of apparatus have been in use for a period of fourteen years, while ten years is a reasonable time for the operation of movable apparatus; and unless replacements are made, this most important branch of service deteriorates and life and property are denied the protection which would thus be afforded.

Only recently the insurance organizations of the city expressed alarm at the prospect of a further reduction in the fire-fighting forces, and certainly these men whose livelihood depends upon the efficiency of the department and the success of whose business is likewise dependent upon an adequate fire-fighting force are more competent to determine the needs of the department than one whose knowledge of fires is confined to the glow of an open fireplace in a luxurious library.

I cannot believe that anyone of ordinary intelligence would be guilty of the suggestion with reference to uniforms that has been made by the boss of the Finance Commission, Mr. Storey, namely, that by a change in regulation the use of firemen's uniforms could be materially curtailed and a saving effected. Does Mr. Storey seriously insist that the firemen wear their uniforms only when on duty and wear their street clothes at all other times? If he does, it would be an innovation and yet one that would not be helpful, since it is the common practice of members of the Fire Department even when off duty to respond to an alarm when in their opinion their services would be of value.

CITY COUNCIL.

The comment on the City Council is cunningly worded to give the impression that the number of attaches for the present Council is greater than was the case for the Common Council of seventy-five members and the Board of Aldermen of thirteen members. It lists for the present Council seven employees and an official reporter of proceedings. As a matter of fact, in 1909, the final year of the old City Council, the employees numbered fourteen and an official reporter of proceedings.

However, as the present attack on the budget estimates bears the same earmarks as the persistent and unwarranted attacks on my administration by certain members of the City Council, it would perhaps be advisable to allow this particular criticism to be adjusted between those who make it and those members of the Council who serve as their mouthpieces.

PUBLIC WELFARE DEPARTMENT.

On the basis of present expenditures for relief, and having in mind the natural moderate decreases expected during the coming months, it is estimated that the requirements of the Public Welfare Department for 1933 will approximate thirteen millions of dollars. Extraordinary expenditures for relief are not peculiar to Boston, Mr. Storey and his associates to the contrary.

During the past three and one-half years every community in America has been confronted with the problem of caring for the needy and unemployed. It is an acknowledged fact that Boston has steadfastly maintained a scale of payments in excess of those allowed in most large cities, and it is my purpose that this scale be maintained.

The inevitable result of reducing relief expenditures below a certain minimum has always resulted in a considerable increase in illness and premature deaths. The savings in the first instance are expended over and over again in the future by municipal hospitals, clinics and sanitariums. The city has ever been cognizant of the necessity of maintaining a scale of payments which would insure a decent standard of living for those members of the community who, through no fault of their own, have been forced to seek aid and relief. Apparently Mr. Storey is desirous that Boston adopt the Fall River plan as a means of saving money.

Under the Fall River plan oleomargarine has taken the place of butter, and oxygen has been substituted for meat. Every individual is required to apply at a commissary to carry to the home the food which is received there. The individual is pointed out in the streets as a pauper as he appears with his basket; he is held up to ridicule and scorn; he is obliged to suffer the loss of self-respect; and, all through no fault of his own, merely because of his inability to secure employment.

The diet lists as compiled by the Massachusetts Department of Public Health are most animating. The restricted diets for emergency use for a family of two persons for one full week make provision for the substantial portion of food to the extent of one and one-half pounds of meat, and one and one-half pounds of fish, five loaves of black bread, with other articles of diet, representing a total cost of $2.54 for the entire week. It is specifically stated, in connection with the diet lists that these diets are inadequate over a long period of time. They are to be used only during the present emergency.

If I interpret the English language correctly, this is equivalent to saying that it may be possible to starve for a short period of time upon one of these diets, but it will be an extremely short period of time and, if my conclusion is correct, the diet lists as compiled are the work of an undertaker rather than a competent dietitian; certainly some individual in whose system there is to be found none of the milk of human kindness.

I have no means of determining the duration of the present depression, but there is one thing absolutely certain, and that is, that neither the scientific diet system shall be put in operation to increase the miseries of the needy and the poor nor the debasing and degrading carry system, regardless of the recommendations of Mr. Storey or his calloused crowd.

PORT AUTHORITIES.

The recommendation that the appropriation for the Port Authorities be reduced to the point where it will be impossible for this important organization to function is a recommendation which unquestionably is predicated on the desire for the continuance of a dole system in our city. The reply of the chairman of the Boston Port Authorities is most illuminating and is worthy of the serious thought of every citizen of Boston.

Quotations: The suggestion of the Boston Finance Commission that an appropriation of about fifteen thousand dollars will permit this Board to maintain a skeleton staff and keep in touch with conditions would, if carried out, completely destroy the comprehensive and far-reaching program we have undertaken. Our present 1933 budget allowance, as tentatively approved, amounts to $35,226, and even this amount is hardly enough to enable us to continue projects of immediate necessity. It is a matter of fact we ought to have twice as much money as this to make our work effective. The amount of money expended under the jurisdiction of the Boston Port Authority for the Port of Boston is small in comparison with sums spent by rival ports, and unless we are to be completely submerged and have no chance at all in competition with these ports we must keep up a continued struggle to secure for ourselves rates which are not discriminatory and to put a stop to unjust and unlawful practices, particularly at the Port of New York. The Port of New York Authority has expended in each of the several years just passed for engineering and legal work alone the sum of $200,000 annually, which is five or six times our total appropriation for all purposes.

In 1931 the Port Authority initiated and took part in two cases before the Interstate Commerce Commission, one of which, of great and far-reaching importance, was the so-called Lighterage Case, a decision in favor of Boston in which has recently been recommended to the Interstate Commerce Commission by the attorney examiner hearing the case. In 1932 we took part in nine cases before the Interstate Commerce Commission and won before the Shipping Board. Decisions in three of the Interstate Commerce Commission cases and in the Shipping Board case have been handed down and were all favorable to Boston. At this moment we have in process before the Interstate Commerce Commission five cases and before the Shipping Board three cases.

There is no time like the present for advancing Boston's interests because at last we have been able to get a lever under certain situations which, if we can continue our work on them, ought eventually to swing our way. Keeping "in touch with conditions," or in other words, sitting on the sidelines, will not get us anywhere and we must proceed vigorously now or the chance of a lifetime for this port and this community is gone for good and all.

It should be borne in mind that the Port Authority spends nothing for rent; that the members of this Board work without salary; and that every cent made available is carefully expended in line with a pre-determined program to bring about both immediate and future benefits for this port.

We earnestly request that our budget, as now drawn and filed, to the amount of $35,226, be allowed to stand, otherwise this port and this city will be dealt a blow with effects so disastrous that those of us who are following the situation closely can only contemplate it with the utmost dismay. Quotations.

I might continue to indicate further lapses of memory and intelligence as well as reversion to falsehoods by Mr. Storey, but it would be largely a matter of repetition.

It is clearly evident from a study of the report submitted by the Finance Commission to the Committee on Municipal Finance with reference to the appropriation limit request of the city, that the primary and practically the sole method suggested by the commission in support of its recommendation is the discharge and laying off of the municipal employees.

In making such a recommendation the commission utterly ignores the fundamental conception of a municipality. Because private business has cut its costs by cutting production and decreasing its operations, it does not mean that governmental units can do the same. During a period like the present the demands upon municipalities for service and relief are augmented. Never before were we so dependent upon the instrument we call government as we are today. Government is the one agency or organization which has kept moving forward during the present crisis. Today it stands between the people and utter chaos. To demand that government cut production and retrench in its necessary and essential services is indicative of a complete misunderstanding of current conditions.

The closing of the avenues and opportunities for employment by private business has resulted solely in increasing the amounts disbursed by governmental agencies for public welfare and relief. By depriving the individual worker of "work and wages," we have set up in this country a dole system which will remain with us for many years after the return of normal conditions. To force the city at this time to discharge and lay off employees will not afford the relief to the community which is pictured in the report of the Finance Commission. The initial savings which might result from the adoption of the policy recommended would soon be dissipated through the increase which would take place in the rolls of the relief department of the city through the influx of applicants who, deprived of their only means of support, must turn to the one remaining agency which may afford them the bare necessities of life.

The Finance Commission attempts to support this radical and illogical recommendation by painting a dismal picture of the financial structure of the city. In so doing the commission, consciously or unconsciously, augments the vicious propaganda which has been circulated in recent months by certain individuals and organizations in the community. Until this propaganda was started, the credit of the city stood among the highest of the large municipalities of the country. By misleading statements and by innuendo, the impression that our city was in a serious financial condition has been widely broadcast. Despite the fact that our city has always been, and is today, in a sound financial condition, this false and vicious propaganda has resulted in undermining the confidence of investors in all sections of the country, and has made it increasingly difficult for the city to secure the temporary finances necessary for the conduct of its essential activities. The four pages devoted in the report of the Finance Commission to the subject of municipal borrowings is but another chapter in what appears to be a deliberate attempt to besmirch the financial record of the city.

The Finance Commission endeavors to create the impression that no evidence of curtailment or retrenchment of municipal expenditures is to be found in the 1933 budget. That such a charge is absolutely unfounded is readily apparent when the policies and practices followed in the preparation of this year's budget are reviewed.

Some of these are enumerated in the following table:

Reductions ranging from 5 per cent to 15 per cent in the salaries and wages of departmental employees.

Voluntary contributions for unemployment relief, during first three and a half months of the year, by city, school and county employees.

Permitting vacancies through death or retirements to remain unfilled, or if this is impossible, requiring new appointees to take over the duties of the positions at a lower rate than that paid to the former incumbents.

Use of Public Welfare workers in place of seasonal temporary employees in the Park and Public Works Departments.

Granting compensatory time off rather than making cash payments to employees required to work overtime.

Covering of seasonal needs for additional clerical help in Assessing, Collecting, and Election Departments by temporary assignment of clerical workers from other departments.

Use of Parkman Fund for maintenance expenses.

Marked reduction in city planning activities.

Taking advantage of prevailing low market prices through anticipation of department requirements for a long period, and by advertising at one and the same time general departmental needs for commodities that may be purchased in bulk.

Readjustment in method of payment of clinic costs in the various health units. Elimination of the North Ferry.

Reduced street lighting rates resulting from conferences with Public Utilities Officials.

Revising downward allotment schedule for public celebrations.

Marked reduction in appropriations for new library books.

Confining purchases of new equipment to absolute necessities.

Readjustment in travel schedules of employees so as to effect savings in expenditures for carfares.

Extension of U-Drive-It system of motor transportation wherever feasible.

Discontinuance of activities at Rainsford Island.

Repairs to public buildings and departmental property confined to minimum maintenance requirements.

Reduction in compensation of election officials in polling places, owing to the fact the city election to be held this year will not impose upon these officials such a heavy burden as did the functions of 1932.

FINANCE COMMISSION REFUTED.

The twenty policies enumerated in the foregoing schedule represent some of the positive steps taken by the present administration to reduce the cost of government in Boston. A much longer list might readily be compiled, but any unbiased thinking citizen will agree that the items enumerated are sufficient to confound the charge of the Finance Commission.

The Finance Commission contends in its report that no consideration was given this year "to the elimination of all unnecessary positions." In support of this contention the claim is made that department heads admitted this had not been done and that "the Budget Commissioner admitted that he had accepted the existing conditions." The Budget Commissioner appeared at one hearing of the Finance Commission. This hearing was held prior to the examination of department heads. The budgets considered at this hearing included all those falling within the alphabetical division represented by the letters A to E, inclusive. In short, the only budgets considered at this meeting were those ranging from the Art Department to the Election Department. Specific questions were asked of the Budget Commissioner by two members of the commission relative to the necessity of the positions of second assistant assessors in the Assessing Department, and the investigators in the Boston Traffic Commission. The Budget Commissioner explained how he had discussed these groups with the heads of the respective departments and had been satisfied by the statements of duties and responsibilities advanced by the heads of the departments that the positions should be retained. As is evident from the list of city departments falling within the alphabetical classification of A to E, inclusive, none of the large departments of the city where material personnel savings have been secured by allowing vacancies to remain unfilled or filling key positions at lower rates, were discussed. Under the circumstances, the broad and general statement of the Finance Commission relative to the budget is not warranted by the actual facts in the case, and the report stands as the most untruthful, illogical and stupid document ever presented by presumably intelligent men to the General Court.

CIRCULAR LETTER NO. 19.

CITY OF BOSTON,
OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,
April 21, 1933.

To All Department Heads.

GENTLEMEN,—I beg to submit executive order providing for salary reductions, in conformity with chapter 121 of the Acts of the year 1933, and effective as of this date.

EXECUTIVE ORDER.

By virtue of the authority granted to me by the provisions of chapter one hundred and twenty-one of the Acts of the year nineteen hundred and thirty-three, I, as Mayor of the City of Boston, do hereby order and direct that the salary of every office and position, the salary of which is paid from the treasury of the City of Boston in whole or in part, and whether such salary is fixed by statute, city ordinance or otherwise, and whether or not such office or position is subject to civil service or classified under the civil service rules or under the county classification plan, except the members of the City Council, and its employees, the officers and employees of the Police Department, the School Department, the Department of School Buildings, the Licensing Board, the Finance Commission, the Boston Port Authority and scrubwomen, be and hereby is reduced for the period beginning on Friday, April twenty-first, nineteen hundred and thirty-three, and ending December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and thirty-three, in accordance with the following schedule:

1. For every office and position the salary of which on an annual basis is less than $1,000 a reduction of 5 per cent shall be made.

2. For every office and position the salary of which on an annual basis falls within the range of $1,000 to $1,600, both inclusive, a reduction of 10 per cent shall be made, but no salary in this group shall be reduced below $950.

3. For every office and position the salary of which on an annual basis is in excess of $1,600, a reduction of 15 per cent shall be made, but no salary in this group shall be reduced below $1,440.

In connection with the schedule of reductions contained in the above executive order, department heads, with the exception of the Fire, Police, Hospital and Institutions Departments, are instructed to adopt, where such adoption will not conflict with legal requirements or seriously interfere with the conduct of departmental business, a Five-Day Service Week.

So far as practicable, the day on which officers and employees shall not be re-
